BADGERING A DEACON. —Extraordinary Scene at a Prayer Meeting.

The Troy Times says:—A prayer meeting at North Argyle last week was interrupted by a singular disturbance. A year or two ago Daniel McGowan took a boy who is known as "Billy" from the county-house to bring up. Billy did not get along very well, and recently he was sent back. Mr. McGowan was accused of not using the boy in a proper manner, and at the prayer meeting last week he, as his custom, led in the exercises. While engaged he was frequently interrupted by a number of persons with the request to "put in a word for Billy," at the same time ridiculing and mocking him in a most disgraceful manner. Patience was no longer a virtue with Mr. McG., and after he had concluded his devotions he resorted to James Lester, who he supposed had interrupted him, (the boy never not proving to be the one,) with the remark that "if he had done wrong with Billy, he had never pulled a girl out of the cutter or shot at any one." This brought Lester to his feet to reply. At this point the chairman and others interceded for Mr. McGowan, and order was partially restored until the meeting was dismissed, when a general hubbub ensued, angry words were indulged in, and but for the timely interference of the women there might have been blows.

—A Cleveland dentist, in want of a good job, endeavored to persuade a young lady who called to have a back tooth that she ought to part with all her front teeth and have a new set. The lady refused to gratify him. As she now alleges, he put her under the influence of gas, and when she was brought back to consciousness she was evidently intending to make a clean job of it.
