FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

There is quite a lively demand for loans to-day, and the freedom with which money is advanced on call and discount indicates a supply equal to current wants, and full confidence in the stability of the market. Speculative borrowers are operating extensively, and there seems to be no distrust among buyers, notwithstanding the rapid advance in prices during the past week. We quote call loans at 5 1/2 @ 6 1/2 per cent, according to collateral, and discounts at 7 @ 8 per cent. Commercial paper is offering rather more liberally than for several days past.
