

THE COURIER.

OPPELOUSAS.

SATURDAY, - - - - - JAN. 16, 1875.

A NEW YEAR'S GIFT FOR OUR DEPTORST- Persons indebted to us for subscription, advertising or job work are respectfully informed that if they will call at our office and settle their indebtedness before the 1st of February, we will allow them a discount of 10 per cent. We are in pressing need of money, and therefore make this offer, which we hope will be generally accepted, as after that date we will be compelled to place our accounts in the hands of a collector.

Opelousas Grange No 96 meets every Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, at their new Hall, "Artistic" building, Main street, Opelousas.

The American Sardinia Co.'s Boneless Sardines, are much better, and less than half the cost of imported Sardines.

Young gentlemen contemplating matrimony can get their wedding cards, &c., printed at this office in the latest style and at New Orleans prices.

For fresh garden seeds and various varieties of fresh potatoes, go to Julien Claude's at the Hotel on Main street.

Who's afraid? Phil Sheridan says he isn't; but the gallant leader of Pagan women and children has been lying so voluminously and continuously since he reached Louisiana that nobody believes him.

Mr. Wm. Herr requests us to announce that he will be absent for a few days, and in consequence his Barber Shop will necessarily be closed until his return.

WORTH WHILE.—It is worth while to call at this office and see the great family paper, the Star Spangled Banner, Ledger size, only $1 a year, and a choice of twelve elegant Chromos, Albums, Books, &c., to each subscriber. We receive subscribers at only $1, which secures the paper a year and premiums, all sent free, or we will club it with the Courier and supply both for only $3.50. Call and see the paper.

The Conservative members of the Legislature hold daily caucuses in their new quarters, the Deutsche Courthouse, but beyond discussion on the situation nothing is done, all seeming to be awaiting the action at Washington. The Picayune of the 12th says:

The Conservatives were in caucus a greater part of the day yesterday. It may be stated that they are acting as a unit, and that whatever course they may see fit to adopt, there will be no clashing or discord. One thing is absolutely sure, they do not intend, in any way whatever, to recognize or to support the Kellogg Legislature. Whatever else they intend to do will be unfolded in due time.

Among the Republican newspapers in Louisiana honest enough to denounce the infamous treachery of the will more infamously than any other, are Blackwell's Home, The Monitor, Intelligence, the Louisiana State Register, and the Sugar Planter.—Tribune Sentinel.

But the Opelousas Journal is not "honest enough" to utter even one word of protest or condemnation. And yet some well-meaning people hereabout are good enough to tolerate this course, which has neither the inclination nor the smallness (if it had the inclination) to raise its finger in defence of its stolen liberties! Who, on 1 when will this people ever be able to do anything in giving their consent to the corrupt tools of tyranny and usurpation, they are but riveting the chains more firmly upon their already mangled limbs!

The New Orleans Picayune of a recent date, referring in a very brief notice to the indignation meeting held here at the Court House on the 31st ult., to express in appropriate resolutions the disapprobation of the Conservative people of this parish of the infamous course pursued by the Returning Board, expresses some surprise that such proceedings should be had in "Senator Anderson's own parish."

The Picayune betrays an incommensurable degree of ignorance in regard to the public feeling toward Senator Tom Anderson in this parish. The columns of this paper have often, within the past three years, contained articles on the subject of the illustrious Senator's public career that should have given the Picayune some idea that there were some people—many people in St. Landry who condemned the course pursued by "the General" in and out of the halls of the Legislature.

For the benefit of the Picayune we now state that a large majority of the white Conservative people and a goodly number of black people condemned the Senator's course in 1872, by their votes in his district, and that it is an easy matter to get up at any time, in this parish, such a meeting as the one alluded to, and for the same purpose. The Democrats and Conservatives of St. Landry have been a faithful representative. He was elected to the position he now holds in this country. He was taken up in 1868 and elected to the Senate by the Democrats and Conservatives of the 10th district. It was not long before many, very many of them had come to regret the part they had taken in his elevation to a place of such high public trust. Signs of a betrayal of trust began soon after the election of the 10th district. In 1872, he dared not seek at the hands of the Democrats and Conservatives a renunciation. None knew better than he that he could not obtain it, for he knew better than he how little he deserved it. He therefore announced himself as a candidate, without stating to which party he intended to appeal for support. He was a favorite with Warmoth, and had been from his moment he began to desert the Democrats. He was supported by many Fusionists to that campaign, on the ground that they feared that he alone could defeat the colored Republican candidate—Blair—who had been openly opposed to his aims, and now join in a strenuous condemnation of the man.

We do not deny that Anderson, by the manner in which he has controlled Executive patronage in this and some other parishes of his district, has created a number of friends who will appear to be, greatly attached to him, and his fortune. This is too patent to deny. It is among these people and others on whom he has conferred personal favors that his warm advocates are to be found in this parish. It was through this potent spell that he succeeded in having, for several years past, an office in this town—a paper at his disposal and the "rights to the polls." Perhaps the most insidious is indebted to the columns of this paper for the suggestion of Mr. Anderson's standing in St. Landry and of the feelings of the people toward him.

OUR REPRESENTATIVES.—We are happy to be able to say that the representatives from this parish, recently elected to the Legislature, have without exception responded to the feeling of their constituents as manifested at the meeting held at the Court House on the 31st ult. All elected as Democrats, the course pursued by them since their arrival in New Orleans, and particularly since the body of which they were members was dissolved and dispersed by the military power of the United States, is just such as we of St. Landry and the people of the State had a right to expect of them. To have acted otherwise, to have submitted tamely to the outrage upon the liberties of their constituents, and accepted and acquiesced in the violent and revolutionary acts of the usurper Kellogg, his party, and his cold, selfish and ignominious co-conspirator against the liberties of the country who disgraced the presidential chair, would have been to have betrayed the high trust with which their constituents had clothed them. We can give them every assurance that their conduct so far is highly approved, and unobscuredly endorsed by all good citizens of this parish who have the good of the country at heart and no unpatrician, selfish and dishonest ends to subserve. We feel proud of them, that they have united their fortunes and those of their constituents to the fortunes of the patriots that followed the lead of that gallant, firm and honest gentleman who, as the lawfully elected Speaker of the House, vindicated by his firmness, moderation and courage, the sovereignty of a State of the Union, in the very teeth of a military despotism ready and eager to obey the behests of an usurper and a tyrant, and to crush under foot the rights and liberties of the people and their defenders. They, together with their noble leader, have justly earned the approbation and lasting gratitude of those whom they represent.

THE REVERBERATION.

Echo of the Federal Footsteps in the Legislative Hall of Louisiana.

Grant's Heroic Deed—The Medicine Working—What the American People Think About It.

We give up much of our space this week to extracts from the Northern and Western press and dispatches from various parts of the country, telling of the effect that the interference of the Federal troops in New Orleans, on the 4th inst., has had on the people of the entire Union. It is confidently predicted that Dr. Grant's "heroic deed," so eagerly administered by "Little Phil," will effectually kill off the Republican party, instead of the helpless patriot whom it was intended to finish. It would appear that other States begin to fear that the same dose might be administered to them some day, and hence they cry out at last in no uncertain key.

New York, Jan. 5.—The Evening Post, in a leader headed "Grant's Heroic Deed," says the employment of the Federal army yesterday in the organization of the Louisiana Legislature appears absolutely unjustifiable, unnecessary, illegal and unwarranted. It was no specific request for military aid and there was no danger of fighting in the legislative chamber. Acquiescence or assistance, if rendered by the Federal troops, would be a violation of the State's right of self-government, will be fatal to the existence of any political party, and unless Congress compel the Federal troops to get out of their steps, the Republican party is doomed to ruin.

The Express calls the act a bloodless revolution, but some of our countrymen are better satisfied upon martial law or a return to a territorial dependence than such scenes of despotism. Louisiana is where a great spectacle and the partisan rage which deplore the spectacle and the partisan rage which deplore the spectacle.

The main points to the sad state of affairs in Louisiana and the course which the President has pursued in Louisiana, is not only a violation of the State's right of self-government, but a violation of the State's right of self-government.

Who was that unsophisticated party who insisted at the meeting of the 31st of December that the Journal should be permitted to publish the proceedings of that meeting? Did he for one moment imagine that that paper would be independent enough to re-echo the thunders of the people and their defenders? They, together with their noble leader, have justly earned the approbation and lasting gratitude of those whom they represent.

Let them be firm and persevere in their most opposition to the schemes of the conspirators and tyrants, and the page of history that will record their deeds will be one of the brightest that we have written.

Who was that unsophisticated party who insisted at the meeting of the 31st of December that the Journal should be permitted to publish the proceedings of that meeting? Did he for one moment imagine that that paper would be independent enough to re-echo the thunders of the people and their defenders? They, together with their noble leader, have justly earned the approbation and lasting gratitude of those whom they represent.

The Report of the SUB-COMMITTEE OF LOUISIANA.—Washington, Jan. 11.—The statement telegraphed from the Republicans of Louisiana, which was published in the Tribune, is not only a violation of the State's right of self-government, but a violation of the State's right of self-government.

The Board submits to the Legislature and people of this State the result of their investigation, with a consciousness that they have properly discharged their trust.

The above is a sentence which the infamous Returning Board uses in its address to the world in defence of the manner in which they have trampled the voice of the people of Louisiana under foot.

The Board meets to-day for the consideration of the special message on Louisiana affairs; but that that is not the world's business, and the world is not interested in the matter. The message will be considered in the regular Cabinet meeting to-morrow.

The Board meets to-day for the consideration of the special message on Louisiana affairs; but that that is not the world's business, and the world is not interested in the matter. The message will be considered in the regular Cabinet meeting to-morrow.

The Board meets to-day for the consideration of the special message on Louisiana affairs; but that that is not the world's business, and the world is not interested in the matter. The message will be considered in the regular Cabinet meeting to-morrow.

The Board meets to-day for the consideration of the special message on Louisiana affairs; but that that is not the world's business, and the world is not interested in the matter. The message will be considered in the regular Cabinet meeting to-morrow.

The Board meets to-day for the consideration of the special message on Louisiana affairs; but that that is not the world's business, and the world is not interested in the matter. The message will be considered in the regular Cabinet meeting to-morrow.

The Board meets to-day for the consideration of the special message on Louisiana affairs; but that that is not the world's business, and the world is not interested in the matter. The message will be considered in the regular Cabinet meeting to-morrow.

The Board meets to-day for the consideration of the special message on Louisiana affairs; but that that is not the world's business, and the world is not interested in the matter. The message will be considered in the regular Cabinet meeting to-morrow.

The Board meets to-day for the consideration of the special message on Louisiana affairs; but that that is not the world's business, and the world is not interested in the matter. The message will be considered in the regular Cabinet meeting to-morrow.

The Board meets to-day for the consideration of the special message on Louisiana affairs; but that that is not the world's business, and the world is not interested in the matter. The message will be considered in the regular Cabinet meeting to-morrow.

The Board meets to-day for the consideration of the special message on Louisiana affairs; but that that is not the world's business, and the world is not interested in the matter. The message will be considered in the regular Cabinet meeting to-morrow.

The Board meets to-day for the consideration of the special message on Louisiana affairs; but that that is not the world's business, and the world is not interested in the matter. The message will be considered in the regular Cabinet meeting to-morrow.

The Board meets to-day for the consideration of the special message on Louisiana affairs; but that that is not the world's business, and the world is not interested in the matter. The message will be considered in the regular Cabinet meeting to-morrow.

The Board meets to-day for the consideration of the special message on Louisiana affairs; but that that is not the world's business, and the world is not interested in the matter. The message will be considered in the regular Cabinet meeting to-morrow.

The Board meets to-day for the consideration of the special message on Louisiana affairs; but that that is not the world's business, and the world is not interested in the matter. The message will be considered in the regular Cabinet meeting to-morrow.

The Board meets to-day for the consideration of the special message on Louisiana affairs; but that that is not the world's business, and the world is not interested in the matter. The message will be considered in the regular Cabinet meeting to-morrow.

The Board meets to-day for the consideration of the special message on Louisiana affairs; but that that is not the world's business, and the world is not interested in the matter. The message will be considered in the regular Cabinet meeting to-morrow.

THE REVERBERATION.

Echo of the Federal Footsteps in the Legislative Hall of Louisiana.

Grant's Heroic Deed—The Medicine Working—What the American People Think About It.

We give up much of our space this week to extracts from the Northern and Western press and dispatches from various parts of the country, telling of the effect that the interference of the Federal troops in New Orleans, on the 4th inst., has had on the people of the entire Union. It is confidently predicted that Dr. Grant's "heroic deed," so eagerly administered by "Little Phil," will effectually kill off the Republican party, instead of the helpless patriot whom it was intended to finish. It would appear that other States begin to fear that the same dose might be administered to them some day, and hence they cry out at last in no uncertain key.

New York, Jan. 5.—The Evening Post, in a leader headed "Grant's Heroic Deed," says the employment of the Federal army yesterday in the organization of the Louisiana Legislature appears absolutely unjustifiable, unnecessary, illegal and unwarranted. It was no specific request for military aid and there was no danger of fighting in the legislative chamber. Acquiescence or assistance, if rendered by the Federal troops, would be a violation of the State's right of self-government, will be fatal to the existence of any political party, and unless Congress compel the Federal troops to get out of their steps, the Republican party is doomed to ruin.

The Express calls the act a bloodless revolution, but some of our countrymen are better satisfied upon martial law or a return to a territorial dependence than such scenes of despotism. Louisiana is where a great spectacle and the partisan rage which deplore the spectacle and the partisan rage which deplore the spectacle.

The main points to the sad state of affairs in Louisiana and the course which the President has pursued in Louisiana, is not only a violation of the State's right of self-government, but a violation of the State's right of self-government.

Who was that unsophisticated party who insisted at the meeting of the 31st of December that the Journal should be permitted to publish the proceedings of that meeting? Did he for one moment imagine that that paper would be independent enough to re-echo the thunders of the people and their defenders? They, together with their noble leader, have justly earned the approbation and lasting gratitude of those whom they represent.

Let them be firm and persevere in their most opposition to the schemes of the conspirators and tyrants, and the page of history that will record their deeds will be one of the brightest that we have written.

Who was that unsophisticated party who insisted at the meeting of the 31st of December that the Journal should be permitted to publish the proceedings of that meeting? Did he for one moment imagine that that paper would be independent enough to re-echo the thunders of the people and their defenders? They, together with their noble leader, have justly earned the approbation and lasting gratitude of those whom they represent.

The Report of the SUB-COMMITTEE OF LOUISIANA.—Washington, Jan. 11.—The statement telegraphed from the Republicans of Louisiana, which was published in the Tribune, is not only a violation of the State's right of self-government, but a violation of the State's right of self-government.

The Board submits to the Legislature and people of this State the result of their investigation, with a consciousness that they have properly discharged their trust.

The above is a sentence which the infamous Returning Board uses in its address to the world in defence of the manner in which they have trampled the voice of the people of Louisiana under foot.

The Board meets to-day for the consideration of the special message on Louisiana affairs; but that that is not the world's business, and the world is not interested in the matter. The message will be considered in the regular Cabinet meeting to-morrow.

The Board meets to-day for the consideration of the special message on Louisiana affairs; but that that is not the world's business, and the world is not interested in the matter. The message will be considered in the regular Cabinet meeting to-morrow.

The Board meets to-day for the consideration of the special message on Louisiana affairs; but that that is not the world's business, and the world is not interested in the matter. The message will be considered in the regular Cabinet meeting to-morrow.

The Board meets to-day for the consideration of the special message on Louisiana affairs; but that that is not the world's business, and the world is not interested in the matter. The message will be considered in the regular Cabinet meeting to-morrow.

The Board meets to-day for the consideration of the special message on Louisiana affairs; but that that is not the world's business, and the world is not interested in the matter. The message will be considered in the regular Cabinet meeting to-morrow.

The Board meets to-day for the consideration of the special message on Louisiana affairs; but that that is not the world's business, and the world is not interested in the matter. The message will be considered in the regular Cabinet meeting to-morrow.

The Board meets to-day for the consideration of the special message on Louisiana affairs; but that that is not the world's business, and the world is not interested in the matter. The message will be considered in the regular Cabinet meeting to-morrow.

The Board meets to-day for the consideration of the special message on Louisiana affairs; but that that is not the world's business, and the world is not interested in the matter. The message will be considered in the regular Cabinet meeting to-morrow.

The Board meets to-day for the consideration of the special message on Louisiana affairs; but that that is not the world's business, and the world is not interested in the matter. The message will be considered in the regular Cabinet meeting to-morrow.

The Board meets to-day for the consideration of the special message on Louisiana affairs; but that that is not the world's business, and the world is not interested in the matter. The message will be considered in the regular Cabinet meeting to-morrow.

The Board meets to-day for the consideration of the special message on Louisiana affairs; but that that is not the world's business, and the world is not interested in the matter. The message will be considered in the regular Cabinet meeting to-morrow.

The Board meets to-day for the consideration of the special message on Louisiana affairs; but that that is not the world's business, and the world is not interested in the matter. The message will be considered in the regular Cabinet meeting to-morrow.

The Board meets to-day for the consideration of the special message on Louisiana affairs; but that that is not the world's business, and the world is not interested in the matter. The message will be considered in the regular Cabinet meeting to-morrow.

The Board meets to-day for the consideration of the special message on Louisiana affairs; but that that is not the world's business, and the world is not interested in the matter. The message will be considered in the regular Cabinet meeting to-morrow.

The Board meets to-day for the consideration of the special message on Louisiana affairs; but that that is not the world's business, and the world is not interested in the matter. The message will be considered in the regular Cabinet meeting to-morrow.

The Board meets to-day for the consideration of the special message on Louisiana affairs; but that that is not the world's business, and the world is not interested in the matter. The message will be considered in the regular Cabinet meeting to-morrow.

THE REVERBERATION.

Echo of the Federal Footsteps in the Legislative Hall of Louisiana.

Grant's Heroic Deed—The Medicine Working—What the American People Think About It.

We give up much of our space this week to extracts from the Northern and Western press and dispatches from various parts of the country, telling of the effect that the interference of the Federal troops in New Orleans, on the 4th inst., has had on the people of the entire Union. It is confidently predicted that Dr. Grant's "heroic deed," so eagerly administered by "Little Phil," will effectually kill off the Republican party, instead of the helpless patriot whom it was intended to finish. It would appear that other States begin to fear that the same dose might be administered to them some day, and hence they cry out at last in no uncertain key.

New York, Jan. 5.—The Evening Post, in a leader headed "Grant's Heroic Deed," says the employment of the Federal army yesterday in the organization of the Louisiana Legislature appears absolutely unjustifiable, unnecessary, illegal and unwarranted. It was no specific request for military aid and there was no danger of fighting in the legislative chamber. Acquiescence or assistance, if rendered by the Federal troops, would be a violation of the State's right of self-government, will be fatal to the existence of any political party, and unless Congress compel the Federal troops to get out of their steps, the Republican party is doomed to ruin.

The Express calls the act a bloodless revolution, but some of our countrymen are better satisfied upon martial law or a return to a territorial dependence than such scenes of despotism. Louisiana is where a great spectacle and the partisan rage which deplore the spectacle and the partisan rage which deplore the spectacle.

The main points to the sad state of affairs in Louisiana and the course which the President has pursued in Louisiana, is not only a violation of the State's right of self-government, but a violation of the State's right of self-government.

Who was that unsophisticated party who insisted at the meeting of the 31st of December that the Journal should be permitted to publish the proceedings of that meeting? Did he for one moment imagine that that paper would be independent enough to re-echo the thunders of the people and their defenders? They, together with their noble leader, have justly earned the approbation and lasting gratitude of those whom they represent.

Let them be firm and persevere in their most opposition to the schemes of the conspirators and tyrants, and the page of history that will record their deeds will be one of the brightest that we have written.

Who was that unsophisticated party who insisted at the meeting of the 31st of December that the Journal should be permitted to publish the proceedings of that meeting? Did he for one moment imagine that that paper would be independent enough to re-echo the thunders of the people and their defenders? They, together with their noble leader, have justly earned the approbation and lasting gratitude of those whom they represent.

The Report of the SUB-COMMITTEE OF LOUISIANA.—Washington, Jan. 11.—The statement telegraphed from the Republicans of Louisiana, which was published in the Tribune, is not only a violation of the State's right of self-government, but a violation of the State's right of self-government.

The Board submits to the Legislature and people of this State the result of their investigation, with a consciousness that they have properly discharged their trust.

The above is a sentence which the infamous Returning Board uses in its address to the world in defence of the manner in which they have trampled the voice of the people of Louisiana under foot.

The Board meets to-day for the consideration of the special message on Louisiana affairs; but that that is not the world's business, and the world is not interested in the matter. The message will be considered in the regular Cabinet meeting to-morrow.

The Board meets to-day for the consideration of the special message on Louisiana affairs; but that that is not the world's business, and the world is not interested in the matter. The message will be considered in the regular Cabinet meeting to-morrow.

The Board meets to-day for the consideration of the special message on Louisiana affairs; but that that is not the world's business, and the world is not interested in the matter. The message will be considered in the regular Cabinet meeting to-morrow.

The Board meets to-day for the consideration of the special message on Louisiana affairs; but that that is not the world's business, and the world is not interested in the matter. The message will be considered in the regular Cabinet meeting to-morrow.

The Board meets to-day for the consideration of the special message on Louisiana affairs; but that that is not the world's business, and the world is not interested in the matter. The message will be considered in the regular Cabinet meeting to-morrow.

The Board meets to-day for the consideration of the special message on Louisiana affairs; but that that is not the world's business, and the world is not interested in the matter. The message will be considered in the regular Cabinet meeting to-morrow.

The Board meets to-day for the consideration of the special message on Louisiana affairs; but that that is not the world's business, and the world is not interested in the matter. The message will be considered in the regular Cabinet meeting to-morrow.

The Board meets to-day for the consideration of the special message on Louisiana affairs; but that that is not the world's business, and the world is not interested in the matter. The message will be considered in the regular Cabinet meeting to-morrow.

The Board meets to-day for the consideration of the special message on Louisiana affairs; but that that is not the world's business, and the world is not interested in the matter. The message will be considered in the regular Cabinet meeting to-morrow.

The Board meets to-day for the consideration of the special message on Louisiana affairs; but that that is not the world's business, and the world is not interested in the matter. The message will be considered in the regular Cabinet meeting to-morrow.

The Board meets to-day for the consideration of the special message on Louisiana affairs; but that that is not the world's business, and the world is not interested in the matter. The message will be considered in the regular Cabinet meeting to-morrow.

The Board meets to-day for the consideration of the special message on Louisiana affairs; but that that is not the world's business, and the world is not interested in the matter. The message will be considered in the regular Cabinet meeting to-morrow.

The Board meets to-day for the consideration of the special message on Louisiana affairs; but that that is not the world's business, and the world is not interested in the matter. The message will be considered in the regular Cabinet meeting to-morrow.

The Board meets to-day for the consideration of the special message on Louisiana affairs; but that that is not the world's business, and the world is not interested in the matter. The message will be considered in the regular Cabinet meeting to-morrow.

The Board meets to-day for the consideration of the special message on Louisiana affairs; but that that is not the world's business, and the world is not interested in the matter. The message will be considered in the regular Cabinet meeting to-morrow.

The Board meets to-day for the consideration of the special message on Louisiana affairs; but that that is not the world's business, and the world is not interested in the matter. The message will be considered in the regular Cabinet meeting to-morrow.

THE REVERBERATION.

Echo of the Federal Footsteps in the Legislative Hall of Louisiana.

Grant's Heroic Deed—The Medicine Working—What the American People Think About It.

We give up much of our space this week to extracts from the Northern and Western press and dispatches from various parts of the country, telling of the effect that the interference of the Federal troops in New Orleans, on the 4th inst., has had on the people of the entire Union. It is confidently predicted that Dr. Grant's "heroic deed," so eagerly administered by "Little Phil," will effectually kill off the Republican party, instead of the helpless patriot whom it was intended to finish. It would appear that other States begin to fear that the same dose might be administered to them some day, and hence they cry out at last in no uncertain key.

New York, Jan. 5.—The Evening Post, in a leader headed "Grant's Heroic Deed," says the employment of the Federal army yesterday in the organization of the Louisiana Legislature appears absolutely unjustifiable, unnecessary, illegal and unwarranted. It was no specific request for military aid and there was no danger of fighting in the legislative chamber. Acquiescence or assistance, if rendered by the Federal troops, would be a violation of the State's right of self-government, will be fatal to the existence of any political party, and unless Congress compel the Federal troops to get out of their steps, the Republican party is doomed to ruin.

The Express calls the act a bloodless revolution, but some of our countrymen are better satisfied upon martial law or a return to a territorial dependence than such scenes of despotism. Louisiana is where a great spectacle and the partisan rage which deplore the spectacle and the partisan rage which deplore the spectacle.

The main points to the sad state of affairs in Louisiana and the course which the President has pursued in Louisiana, is not only a violation of the State's right of self-government, but a violation of the State's right of self-government.

Who was that unsophisticated party who insisted at the meeting of the 31st of December that the Journal should be permitted to publish the proceedings of that meeting? Did he for one moment imagine that that paper would be independent enough to re-echo the thunders of the people and their defenders? They, together with their noble leader, have justly earned the approbation and lasting gratitude of those whom they represent.

Let them be firm and persevere in their most opposition to the schemes of the conspirators and tyrants, and the page of history that will record their deeds will be one of the brightest that we have written.

Who was that unsophisticated party who insisted at the meeting of the 31st of December that the Journal should be permitted to publish the proceedings of that meeting? Did he for one moment imagine that that paper would be independent enough to re-echo the thunders of the people and their defenders? They, together with their noble leader, have justly earned the approbation and lasting gratitude of those whom they represent.

The Report of the SUB-COMMITTEE OF LOUISIANA.—Washington, Jan. 11.—The statement telegraphed from the Republicans of Louisiana, which was published in the Tribune, is not only a violation of the State's right of self-government, but a violation of the State's right of self-government.

The Board submits to the Legislature and people of this State the result of their investigation, with a consciousness that they have properly discharged their trust.

The above is a sentence which the infamous Returning Board uses in its address to the world in defence of the manner in which they have trampled the voice of the people of Louisiana under foot.

The Board meets to-day for the consideration of the special message on Louisiana affairs; but that that is not the world's business, and the world is not interested in the matter. The message will be considered in the regular Cabinet meeting to-morrow.

The Board meets to-day for the consideration of the special message on Louisiana affairs; but that that is not the world's business, and the world is not interested in the matter. The message will be considered in the regular Cabinet meeting to-morrow.

The Board meets to-day for the consideration of the special message on Louisiana affairs; but that that is not the world's business, and the world is not interested in the matter. The message will be considered in the regular Cabinet meeting to-morrow.

The Board meets to-day for the consideration of the special message on Louisiana affairs; but that that is not the world's business, and the world is not interested in the matter. The message will be considered in the regular Cabinet meeting to-morrow.

The Board meets to-day for the consideration of the special message on Louisiana affairs; but that that is not the world's business, and the world is not interested in the matter. The message will be considered in the regular Cabinet meeting to-morrow.

The Board meets to-day for the consideration of the special message on Louisiana affairs; but that that is not the world's business, and the world is not interested in the matter. The message will be considered in the regular Cabinet meeting to-morrow.

The Board meets to-day for the consideration of the special message on Louisiana affairs; but that that is not the world's business, and the world is not interested in the matter. The message will be considered in the regular Cabinet meeting to-morrow.

The Board meets to-day for the consideration of the special message on Louisiana affairs; but that that is not the world's business, and the world is not interested in the matter. The message will be considered in the regular Cabinet meeting to-morrow.

The Board meets to-day for the consideration of the special message on Louisiana affairs; but that that is not the world's business, and the world is not interested in the matter. The message will be considered in the regular Cabinet meeting to-morrow.

The Board meets to-day for the consideration of the special message on Louisiana affairs; but that that is not the world's business, and the world is not interested in the matter. The message will be considered in the regular Cabinet meeting to-morrow.

The Board meets to-day for the consideration of the special message on Louisiana affairs; but that that is not the world's business, and the world is not interested in the matter. The message will be considered in the regular Cabinet meeting to-morrow.

The Board meets to-day for the consideration of the special message on Louisiana affairs; but that that is not the world's business, and the world is not interested in the matter. The message will be considered in the regular Cabinet meeting to-morrow.

The Board meets to-day for the consideration of the special message on Louisiana affairs; but that that is not the world's business, and the world is not interested in the matter. The message will be considered in the regular Cabinet meeting to-morrow.

The Board meets to-day for the consideration of the special message on Louisiana affairs; but that that is not the world