Quite a number of improvements are going on in town and country.

The field trials of the Gun Club begin here on the 11th inst.

Now is the time to advertise your holiday goods in the COURIER.

There is a large amount of through cotton freight over the Morgan road at this time. The local shipments, however, are very limited.

Our quondam fellow-townsmen, Mr. John Posey, has again taken up his residence in Opelousas. We welcome back our esteemed friend among us.

We received four quinces out of twelve that grew upon one limb, which were raised at the residence of Miss Modeste Guidry, in this town. The specimens averaged 1 1/2 pounds each.

Our merchants who have received their holiday goods, or have special inducements to offer, will find it to their interest to make that known through the columns of the COURIER.

November, noted for its dullness in business, has passed away; but with the advent of December we hope to chronicle better times in our town and parish. Cotton will certainly come in during this month.

The business card of Messrs. Terrou & Pugh, cotton and sugar factors, No. 75 Carondelet street, New Orleans, appears in another column. Give them a trial, and you will be pleased with their manner of doing business.

Mr. F. M. Boutte brought us a few days ago a mustard leaf which is something of a curiosity, on account of its immense size and remarkable crispness and tenderness. It shows what may be done by proper fertilization and careful and intelligent cultivation.

The finishing touches have been given to the new Presbyterian Church by those accomplished knights of the brush, Messrs. Badd and Dejean. and it now presents a very attractive appearance. Services will be held in it for the first time to-morrow at 11 a. m.

We have been requested to state that a meeting of the Immigration Association will take place at the Courthouse on next Wednesday night, at 7 o'clock. Several persons will address the meeting, among the number our old German citizen—Jacob Muller. Let everybody in town and country attend this meeting.

The receipts of cotton were light again this week, and as a consequence business has been quite dull. We fear if the staple continues to be held back for better prices, that the anticipated rise in prices will come too late to avert the impending disasters to our whole business system. Our commerce cannot bear this stagnation a month longer without the most serious results.

Simon Bloch, Esq., cotton and sugar factor and general commission merchant, at No. 43 Union street, New Orleans, solicits consignments of cotton, sugar, rice, and other country produce, upon which he makes liberal cash advances. His card will be found in another column; and he will at all times be pleased to serve his numerous friends and acquaintances in St. Landry with promptness and punctuality.

The statement of the State and parish tax collector, made to the Police Jury, on the 13th ult., showed that he had collected, of parish taxes and licenses, during the months of September and October, the sum of $5,347.89, of this amount he turned over to the parish treasurer the sum of $4,780.51, having paid $300 for advertising tax sales, and retaining $267.38 as his commission. The next meeting of the Police Jury will be held on Monday, Dec. 11.

HYMNICAL.—An unusual press of business prevented us from noticing last week the nuptials of Mr. B. F. Megley of our town to Miss Lena M. Fontenot of Washington, on Wednesday, the 22d ult. Our young friend was so quiet about his frequent visits to our adjoining town, that most of us thought he was attending to his clerical duties connected with our courts; but this subsequent and most interesting event proved that he was engaged in a suit in a more important jurisdiction that involved the decree of a prize of far more value to him than any verdict in our ordinary tribunals. Happy, triumphant Ben, we most heartily congratulate you. The beautiful wife you have won is the brightest jewel in the diadem of your earthly happiness; and may the lustre of her love ever illumine your pathway with genuine felicity.

The Press Association.

The Louisiana Press Association met in New Orleans on Monday, Nov. 20th. The following members were present: Messrs. L. Jastranski, of the B. Rouge Capitolian Advocate, and L. E. Bentley, of the Donaldsonville Chief; Mrs. A. H. Hildenbrand and Mr. Jona C. White, of the Gretna Courier; Mrs. M. R. Field, of the N. O. Picayune; and Messrs. Page M. Baker, of the N. O. Times-Democrat; H. J. Hyams, of the West Baton Rouge Sugar Planter; H. C. Goodwin, of the Colfax Chronicle; E. Maurin, of the St. James Creole Firebrand; W. R. Read, of the Amite City Independent; J. W. Bryan, of the Lake Charles Echo; W. A. Bryan, Iberville South; J. M. Keating and H. F. Brunot, Ascension Democrat; H. C. Leake, West Feliciana Sentinel; and J. Y. Gilmore, New Iberia Sugar-Bowl.

The Secretary, Mr. L. E. Bentley, reported a balance of $142.02 in the treasury, and the addition of Miss Addie McGrath and Rev. A. J. Witherspoon to the honorary list.

Gen. L. Jastranski was elected President, Maj. E. A. Burke First Vice-President, Mrs. A. H. Hildenbrand Second Vice-President, and L. E. Bentley, Esq., Secretary. Two prizes, of $50 each, in money or medals, open to the competition of all writers in the State, were offered for the best essay on Industrial Development and the best literary production. Essays must be forwarded to the Secretary at least fifteen days before the next meeting of the Association, to take place in New Orleans Feb. 5, 1883.

Thanksgiving.

In pursuance of the proclamations of the President of the United States and the Governor of Louisiana, thanksgiving services were held at the Methodist Church under the joint sanction of the Methodist, Presbyterian, and Baptist denominations. The Rev. T. J. Hough, pastor of the Methodist Church, opened the services by reading an appropriate chapter from the Bible, and reading a judicious hymn for the occasion. The Rev. F. W. Lewis, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, preached a most interesting thanksgiving sermon, demonstrating clearly that it was not only the religious duty of christian people to hold these public services, but that the omission of them was ingratitude and a sin. That the United States were under the deepest obligations to be grateful for the great boon of peace, for bountiful harvests, for exemption from pestilence and epidemics, and more especially for religious freedom and liberty. We are sorry that a larger congregation did not hear him; and we are sorry that so few observed the day. The Rev. Mr. Schuffeld of the Baptist Church, closed the services by prayer. The Rev. Mr. Davis pronounced the benediction.

Louisiana Biographies.

We have had a call from Mr. A. Meynier, Jr., publisher of Louisiana Biographies, New Orleans, La. We have examined part I of this new journalistic venture, containing interesting and succinct sketches of all the Governors of Louisiana, Paul Murphy (the chess player) and Lafitte, the pirate. These biographies are well written, and embrace all the salient features in each public personage forming the subject matter of their contents; they are printed in large, clear type, on excellent white paper, and present a very handsome typographical appearance. Mr. Meynier will make Opelousas his headquarters for several days to come, canvassing in the interest of his valuable publication. Complete in four parts, the work will contain 300 pages. Every intelligent Louisianian who desires to be familiar with a history of the prominent men of his State should subscribe for the "Louisiana Biographies." Prices $3, $4 and $5, according to the binding.

Death of Major Herron.

A telegram was received here on Tuesday evening last announcing the sudden death, on the night previous, of the Hon. A. S. Herron, member elect to Congress from this Congressional District. We consider the loss of Maj. Herron as a calamity to the Democratic party and to the State of Louisiana. Possessing in an eminent degree all of those characteristics which make a valuable and useful professional man and citizen; uniting in a conspicuous manner all of those qualifications and talents of head and heart which were necessary as an able and faithful representative of our people in the council chamber of the national government, his untimely and deplorable death becomes a misfortune to his friends and fellow countrymen. His mantle Congress will have to fall upon some one, and we hope whoever may be chosen, as his successor will be a man as worthy, as trusted and as true as Maj. Herron was in his public career.

Preaching in the new Presbyterian Church to-morrow (Sunday) at 11 a. m. and at night, by Rev. F. W. Lewis.

Death of Hon. A. S. Herron.

Special to the Times-Democrat.
BATON ROUGE, Nov. 28.—This community was shocked this morning to hear of the death of Gen. Andrew S. Herron, Congressman-elect of the 6th Congressional District, which had occurred at his residence at 12 o'clock last night. He had attended his ordinary avocations yesterday, and after spending a while in pleasant conversation with several friends, had gone home and retired at his usual time in apparent good health. At 11 o'clock an alarm of fire was sounded, and Gen. Herron arose, and walked a square, or two toward the fire; after a short absence, he returned home and again retired. Shortly after he again arose and walked out to the street, where he was met by his step daughter, started by his loud respiration, found him reclining in an arm chair. Alarmed at his condition, she told him she was going to send for a physician, when he asked her not to become excited. He spoke a few words, but ere his grief-stricken relatives and friends had gathered around him he had ceased to live. The cause of his death was heart disease.

HAABVILLE (Avoyelles), Nov. 27 '82. EDITORS OF THE COURIER:
There has been a great deal of wet and sloppy weather lately. There is no use saying anything about cotton, for everybody knows or thinks he knows that there is either a good crop, too much, or not enough cotton for the very low price it is selling at. In regard to cane and sugar, that seems to be turning out reasonably fair.

I see you published Mr. Furman's interesting letter, or, as you put it, "astounding revelations," which I happened to get soon after it was first published, and read with great interest. Now, let me ask, are there many farmers in this country going to try Mr. Furman's plan for making their lands produce better paying crops year after year? Will they do so? Some may, but not many. It's "book-larin'." Well, what of it? That is the main-spring of every country. If you take a trip North, or over the great West, Mr. Editor, you will find the successful farmer is that man who reads and studies. On his desk are various farm journals, published in every section of the Union, besides the political papers, and his home, family and religious periodicals. More books and more papers to read and less whisky, should be our motto.

Permit me to give you a short letter that reached me a few weeks ago from a fourteen-year-old boy living on a Western farm:

DEAR SIR—I must tell you we had just a splendid crop this year, but we worked hard to make it. Only think—three of us boys, and we have threshed out 800 bushels of wheat. You should see our corn. I tell you, we'll have hog and hominy this winter, and red apples to throw in for a dessert. While I guess you have only rice and crawfish to suck, we have cabbage, potatoes, etc.

Messrs. Editors, I know this young garson (don't mind my Irish); he means just what he says; and what I want you to tell me is, don't you think this country would be better off if there was more "hog and hominy" to eat?

Yours, ILLINOIS.
A copy of the American Newspaper Annual for 1882, published by Messrs. N. W. Ayer & Son, the well known Philadelphia advertising agents, has reached us, and we take pleasure in saying that the work is still more comprehensive and complete than any of its predecessors. The volume contains a carefully prepared list of all the newspapers and periodicals in the United States and Canada, giving the name, size, circulation and advertising rates of each publication; and the population of the United States and of each State, Territory, county and county seat, the chief cities and towns and nearly every place where a paper is published, both in this country and Canada; the political majorities and the Greenback vote of States and counties at the presidential election of 1880; a description of every county in the United States and province in Canada, comprising their mineral deposits, chief agricultural products, principal manufactures, nature of the surface and soil, location, area, etc., together with much other valuable and interesting data. In fact, this work is a model of its kind and there is no other within our knowledge that contains information of such varied use and value for general business purposes. Prices per volume, only $3. Address Messrs. N. W. Ayer & Son, Times building, Philadelphia, Pa.

Proceedings of the Board of Police of the Town of Opelousas.

At a meeting of the Board of Police of the Town of Opelousas this day held, were present: James Ray, President; B. Martin, A. B. Chachere, L. Brette, Emie Pfefferkorn and Felix Leoussier.
On motion of Mr. Martin, Resolved that Dr. J. K. Key, President of the Board of Police of the town of Opelousas, be and is hereby authorized to appear before a Notary Public of the town of Opelousas, and to sign an Act of Exchange, which will be binding upon the Board of Police of the town of Opelousas, by and according to which he will cede and transfer to John N. Ogden the street known as the continuation of Railroad street, from Cherry to St. Matthews street, and the present street known as St. Matthews street, with their width and boundaries, which is now authorized to lay out the said Board to attempt to open a street to the north of Ogden's fence running east and west; and the said John N. Ogden, as the President of said Board, fifty-four feet of land, on the western portion of his land, running from Cherry street to the back line of Ogden's fence, which is now authorized to lay out the said Board to attempt to open a street to the north of the railroad, it being understood that the fifty-four feet transferred by Ogden to the Board of Police, shall be in lieu of the amount of land dedicated to the Morgan Railroad.
On motion of Mr. Martin, Resolved that V. Bourgeois be authorized to retain the room now occupied by Opelousas Fire Co. No. 1, for the reception of the steam fire engine recently purchased by said Company, and that Fire Engine No. 1, with its appurtenances, be retained, be turned over to the members of Opelousas Fire Co. Section 8. Be it further ordained, etc., that on all drummers, selling by sample or otherwise, the license shall be based on the annual license of $10.00 shall be levied; and all street hawkers, or vendors of jewelry, stationery, prize packages, etc., by auction or otherwise, shall pay a license of five dollars per day.

Section 9. Be it further ordained, etc., that whenever any person shall apply for a license to pursue and follow any of the trades, professions or occupations which are taxed by this ordinance, for a less period than one year, said license shall be issued in the following proportion, viz: for nine months, four-fifths of the annual license; for six months, three-fifths of the annual license; for three months, two-fifths of the annual license.

We further recommend that the unpaid licenses be placed in the hands of the town attorney for collection, and that immediate payment of the same be enforced according to law.
On motion the Board adjourned.
JAMES RAY, President.
Attest: C. MATO, Clerk.

A Difficult Problem Solved.

The desire for stimulants is becoming a monstrous evil, and how to overcome it is a serious question with reformers. Parker's Ginger Tonic fairly solves the difficult problem. It invigorates body and mind without intoxicating, and has brought health and happiness to many desolate homes. Enquire.
