The location is one easily found, and we cheerfully recommend to our readers with friend Victor and the excellent work with which he has cast his former premises.

WEATHER NOTES.—The past week has been one of continued bad weather, not so cold as the previous two weeks, but more rain, and cold enough to make it quite disagreeable to man and very severe upon the stock running in the prairies.
From the present outlook, there will be a great loss in cattle between this and spring time. The severity of the weather will make them very poor, and the tender grass of early spring will be unable to sustain them. Weasels, which their enfeebled condition cannot resist. Beysars are very high here, but hereafter the home market will be so dear that but few persons will be able to stand the prices. Weasels will sell cheaper, and doubtless will rule the market.

A KNOTTY PROBLEM.—For several weeks past there has been almost a war between an account of organized bodies cutting the wire pasture fencing, and the large cattle owners. The trouble originally began by the wealthy cattle raiser, and he has been cutting and enclosing the pastures of those owning only a few head, and then demanding of them to pay for the wire. Several persons on the other side have been killed, and in some counties the militia had to be called out to restore peace and order. Much sympathy was felt for the fence cutters at first, but as in most other cases where people take the law in their own hands, they carried things too far. The Legislature is now trying to settle the knotty problem.

Condition of the Highways.

No. 2.

In our article of last week, under the above caption, we called attention to the bad condition of two of our main public roads; the Bellevue road leading south, and the Mallet, Plaquemine Ridge and Church Point roads, converging into one in Garland's Lane, west of town. We promised our readers to touch upon the subject again; but little did we think the subject would be as pressing as the last few days of continued bad weather has made it. Since then we have been informed that the Washington road, the Ville Plate road and the Prairie Basse road, leading east from town, are all getting into a terrible condition. From these accumulated reports, it would seem that there has been a general neglect and dereliction of duty of road-oversers and of road inspectors all around. Most assuredly these thoroughfares of travel would not have become so bad, within a few days' time, if they had been properly worked and drained. Having been neglected for so long a time, the ditches, which should have drained the water off, all become filled up, and the water stood in the road-beds where the track of animals and vehicles were cutting them into bog-holes, more and more, each day. In the past few days this condition of things has grown rapidly worse, and we are now confronted with a peril which will virtually put a stop to all travel in wagons or buggies. The country people will, in a few days more, be unable to come into town with their produce, on account of the roads. As a necessary consequence, this will stop all business in Opelousas. We are not exaggerating things at all, and any one that has traveled a mile from town will recognize our statements as facts. If the roads are not worked or drained immediately, travel will stop within ten days.
Where is the money levied for public improvements? Why are not the roads worked? If road-oversers are derelict, cannot they be punished? If the road inspector has not performed his duty, is there no penalty against him? Who is to move in this momentous question? Will, or can nothing be done to repair these thoroughfares? Are our merchants prepared to see business closed until dry weather will evaporate the water from the bog holes? We pause for a reply.

Murder.

Constable David M. Bull shot and instantly killed a negro by the name of John P. Mouton, at Rayne Station, on the Louisiana Western Road on last Saturday morning.
From all we could learn the negro was drunk and had taken possession of a saloon and was defying everybody. Having shot a man at Vermillionville about a year ago, and bearing the reputation of a desperado, he was feared by every one. Constable Bull went to arrest him, when Mouton resisted and advanced to strike, when Bull fired the fatal shot. Bull surrendered to the authorities the next day, and was admitted to bail in the sum of $3000 by Judge Hudspeth, on the charge of manslaughter.

Our usually level-headed conferees, the Lake Charles Commercial, complain because "the avowed administration papers are alone allowed the extraordinary privilege of publishing the proposed constitutional amendments," calls for "fair play" in the matter, and indulges in some talk about the disruption of the party, etc. Now, if our contemporary had not overlooked the fact that these amendments "are required to be published in two papers in the parish of Orleans, and in one paper in each other parish," it would probably not talk that way. Or, if it is cognizant of this fact, it must have a very queer idea of fair play to suppose that the anti-administration papers should be favored with this "extraordinary privilege," to the exclusion of the friends of the administration. Besides, in Iberia, Assumption, St. Mary, Ascension, and probably other parishes, anti-administration papers are publishing the amendments; and to this extent the Commercial is incorrect in the statement on which it bases its complaint.

PERSONAL.—Mr. Henry Roy, formerly of this place, but now of Lake Charles, reached town the latter part of the past week.
We were pleased to receive a call on Wednesday last from Mr. Joseph M. Wallior, a former resident of Opelousas but now of New Orleans. He was "fat and sassy" and gave a glowing account of himself in a new sphere—the marriage state. Good luck to you, "Moncayo."

Washington Irving.

The writings of the most honored of American authors are at last made accessible to all readers, in such varied and beautiful forms as to delight the most fastidious taste, and at prices so low as to be an astonishment to book-buyers, and a consternation to booksellers, of whom the "Literary Revolution" makes no account. As examples, we have "The Legend of Sleepy Hollow" for three cents, "Wolfert's Roost" ten cents, "The Sketchbook" twenty cents, these in "per binding" but large type, in neat & elegant cloth or half Russia bind, etc. His "Choice Works" are published at prices varying from thirty to forty cents, and his complete works (excepting "Life of Washington") in the superb CAXTON EDITION, six volumes, over 5,000 pages, choice typography, elegant binding, for only $4. Specimen pages or large descriptive catalogue are sent to any applicant on request, and are paid for $5 in amount are fitted to be paid for after arrival and examination, on reasonable evidence of good faith being given. Minutes of Democratic Parish Convention.

The Parish Democratic Convention was called to order Thursday, Dec. 6th, 1883, 11 o'clock by Hon. H. L. Garland, President of the Parish Democratic Executive Committee, and in the absence of Secretary Jno. M. Macfarland, Mr. D. M. Dunbar, Parish Secretary and Jos. Barry assistant Secretary.
On motion of Hon. T. S. Fontenot, Hon. H. L. Garland was elected temporary Chairman, and Mr. D. M. Dunbar, Parish Secretary and Jos. Barry Assistant Secretary. Mr. Fontenot offered a resolution that the committee on credentials be dispensed with, and that the delegates present and those represented by proxy be recognized, and that the two delegations from Lower Bayou Beu be on a half vote each, which was carried.
On motion of E. D. Estillette, duly seconded, Hon. M. D. Kavanagh was unanimously elected as permanent Chairman of the Convention.
On motion of Louis Stagg, H. M. Dunbar was elected Secretary and Jos. Barry Assistant Secretary.
On motion of H. L. Garland it was resolved that the Convention be held at the election of eighteen delegates to the State Convention to be held at Baton Rouge, and the election of the Parish Executive Committee.
The following resolutions were offered by Mr. Garland:
Resolved, That Democrats of St. Landry are so on account of principle, and that in nominating candidates for the party, they take in view, not the interests of any one man, but those of their party alone.
Resolved, That by reason of that motive, they instruct their delegates to the Baton Rouge State Convention to be held on the 18th inst., to vote on the nomination of candidates for such men as will best unite the different elements of our party throughout the State.
Resolved, That the delegates from this parish shall be instructed to vote the majority of the delegates present, personally or by proxy, casting the vote of the parish on all matters in question which may be presented to the said convention, and that the delegates on any question or matter, they each delegate to vote as he thinks proper.
Resolved, That none but delegates from St. Landry can act as delegates from absent delegates from the parish.
The following resolutions were offered by Mr. T. S. Fontenot:
Resolved, That the question of the validity of the election of the State Delegate Convention was pending in the Supreme Court of the United States, and at a time when the people had just reason to believe and expect that said Court would decide in favor of the State, and against the bondholders, Gov. S. D. McEnery did, in a special message to the Legislature, recommend and propose an amendment to the Constitution by which, if adopted, the debt settlement made by the present Constitution should be changed in the interest of the bondholders, and, in witness whereof, the Governor's recommendation and the proposed amendment would, if accepted, impose a tax upon the people of the State of about one hundred and twenty thousand dollars annually, for the next five years, making a total exaction of about one million eight hundred thousand dollars to be paid to the bondholders, under the terms of a settlement of the public debt question, and
Resolved, That the State debt question has been finally settled, first by the State Convention which has been decided in favor of the people, secondly, by the Supreme Court of the United States, in a decision rendered since the adjournment of the Legislature, to the effect that the Federal Court is not to interfere with said settlement; and
Resolved, That we can discern no justice in said proposed recommendation, and no purpose to be accomplished by the vote of the people, secondly, by the Supreme Court of the United States, in a decision rendered since the adjournment of the Legislature, to the effect that the Federal Court is not to interfere with said settlement; and
Resolved, That we can discern no justice in said proposed recommendation, and no purpose to be accomplished by the vote of the people, secondly, by the Supreme Court of the United States, in a decision rendered since the adjournment of the Legislature, to the effect that the Federal Court is not to interfere with said settlement; and
Resolved, That we can discern no justice in said proposed recommendation, and no purpose to be accomplished by the vote of the people, secondly, by the Supreme Court of the United States, in a decision rendered since the adjournment of the Legislature, to the effect that the Federal Court is not to interfere with said settlement; and
