The game law went into effect on the 1st of April, but there are still enough of the migratory birds not protected by the statute, to make hunting still interesting. The blue winged teal, papabottes and many birds of the plover family are quite abundant in our prairie.

One of our young limbs of the law says he has recently learned of a "sure cure" for mange in hogs, viz.—rub the animal with a corn cobbler dipped in salt water until the itch disappears—or the skin comes off. He does not claim being the discoverer, but generously concedes the credit to a friend residing at Leonville.

Last Tuesday morning a fire, supposed to be the work of an incendiary, destroyed the court house of Abbeville, Vermon parish. All of the records in the Clerk's, Sheriff's and Assessor's offices were lost, together with the paraphernalia of the Masonic Lodge, which was in the upper story of the court house.

Since the last heavy freshet we may now expect our streams to be well filled with fish. This is the season for them to run up to deposit their spawn, and as the warm weather of spring has fairly opened, the fluky tribe should take the bait well at this season. So, all of you disciples of Isack Walton get your fishing tackle ready and organize for a good, old fashioned fish fry, at an early day.

STORM.—On last Tuesday evening about 4 o'clock a violent wind and rain storm sprang up from the Northwest, and although lasting but a few minutes, did much damage, by prostrating fencing, trees, and several outbuildings in different sections of the parish. As yet, we have not heard of any serious accidents to life, but from the severity of the gale, we fear that further intelligence will show worse casualties in some localities. We had a severe gale from the same direction the previous evening, at about the same hour.

Last Thursday night sheriff Mouton and deputy sheriff Wm. Campbell, of Lafayette parish, in obedience to a bench warrant of the District Court of Lafayette, called upon deputy sheriff Alexis Moreau of our parish with the object of securing the arrest of one Martin Lamb, accused of wife murder about a year ago in Lafayette, and who had so far eluded the officers of the law. Mr. Moreau, with commendable promptness and zeal, responded to the call, and on the next day at 3 p. m. had Martin in custody, having captured him near Churchville.

An excursion over the Morgan road left Alexandria for New Orleans last Sunday morning, returning Wednesday evening, at very low rates—about one cent per mile or less; but owing to the short notice and the excursion not having been advertised through the press, the number who took advantage of the occasion was less than 200. Had the excursion been advertised through the press along the route, at an expense of a few dollars the Company would have found it a paying investment, as we have no doubt the train would have been filled notwithstanding the hard times; and although two days to see the Exposition is entirely too short, still many would have taken advantage of the low rates, and perhaps taken another trip on the same terms before the Exposition closed, who would not go at all if they had to pay the high rates that have been charged on and now.

On last Monday a strong wind blew all day from the south, when about midnight the clouds began to mass in the northwest. Soon electricity was seen playing about this dark spot, which increased in lanky sobriety with maturing thunder rolling its warning detonations that a tempest was gathering in the heavens. The lightning grew more vivid, the thunder peals came with a crash and in fearful rapidity, and about 9 o'clock upon the fury of mentioned winds, a heavy rain fell in torrents, and for a few seconds only hailstones rained an accompaniment to the din of the boisterous weather. We have heard of but little damage to crops or scenery. Yet at one time the hail threatened to destroy all of the growing crops and vegetation.

Mr. T. J. Lacy, of Washington, La., and Miss Mary C. Smith, daughter of Geo. C. Smith, of Echo Landing, were married on Thursday last, at the residence of the bride's father—Alexandria Democrat, April 8.

Mrs. Delia Garrigues, nee Webb, relict of the late Judge A. Garrigues, departed this life at 1:15 o'clock a. m. on Thursday last, aged 72 years, 4 months, and 9 days. The deceased had been an invalid for the past twenty years, and during that long period had suffered, at intervals, great bodily pain, which she ever bore with a christian fortitude and resignation. She was conscious to the last supreme moment and passed away as calmly as an infant going to sleep. Death had no terrors for her, and life no attractions to hold her longer on earth, except the great love she had for her children whom she loved with an affection bordering on idolatry. Only five short weeks have elapsed since Judge Garrigues passed away, and since that sad period it was plain to be seen his invalid wife, who had always listened for his fainting footfall, his loving, kindly greeting which daily asked: "Ma, is there anything you want to-day? How do you feel to-day?" would soon follow her aged and devoted companion to the land of rest. Unmurmuring, cheerful, and with a kindly word for the many friends who daily visited her, she became weaker and weaker until the lamp of life went out as if from the breath of zephyr.

The virtues of this estimable, christian lady are too well known for a full recital in this brief and incomplete tribute. Her three-score years and ten made up a life marked by every attribute which enables the human heart or shows the pure divinity of the human soul. In the family circle, she was a model wife and a paragon mother; in society she was the embodiment of hospitality, a firm friend, and a pleasant acquaintance; and as a christian woman she fully illustrated the import of the crowning religious graces of faith, hope, and charity. Her friends were innumerable, and her enemies, not one. In her last few weeks on earth, since the "old home" was broken up, she has been with her daughter, Mrs. C. B. Andrus, whose filial love and devoted attention anticipated every want and desire of the beloved mother. Besides, her other children have been constant to her, cheering her last moments by their warm and idolizing affection, and many friends called daily to see her. She lived to a ripe old age, fulfilled a christian destiny, and enjoys the happy rest and reward of the just and faithful. A large concourse of friends followed her remains to their last resting-place yesterday at 3 p. m.

In another column will be found an interesting article about the exhibition and trial of a decorticating machine at the Exposition a few days ago. As the late and rare plants grown well in Louisiana, the invention of economical machinery for preparing the fibre of these plants for the market will open a new and remunerative industry to our planters in the near future. It does not require half the labor to cultivate jute and ramie as required by the cotton plant, and the yield per acre of the fibre of the former is much greater than in the list of the latter. Cotton will not be King much longer. If this decorticating machine proves to be a success in its work—and economical in price—

MARRIED.—On Thursday, April 2nd, 1885, by the Rev. A. P. Scofield, T. Jay Lacy of Washington, La., to Miss Mary C. Smith, daughter of Geo. Smith, of Echo, La.

The Alexandria Town Talk of the 7th gives our friend and his bride the following neat "send off":

The wedding took place at the residence of the bride's father, and was pleasant and enjoyable. On the following day, the happy pair took the steamer Yvonne Valley for Alexandria, where they arrived at 6 o'clock P. M., and were met by numerous friends with congratulations and good wishes. In the evening, they were serenaded by Professor Schmalzick's brass band.

Mr. Lacy is the well known proprietor of the Mount Hope Nursery and his fair bride is the florist of Echo Garden. We think the parties admirably adapted to each other and that Mount Hope will be improved by the union.

Long life and prosperity to the happy pair.

Hon. Warren Easton has issued a circular to presidents of parish school boards, in which he requests them to grant one week's leave of absence to teachers that they may attend the proposed lecture institutes at Shreveport, Alexandria, Opelousas, Lake Charles, New Iberia and Thibodaux. He has also written a special letter to parish superintendents of schools at the places named above to make suitable arrangements for the accommodation and welfare of teachers and delegates, and take steps through their local papers and otherwise to get up suitable meetings to hear the lectures of the gentlemen selected to address them on the days set apart for that purpose. Arrangements have been made with the Vicksburg, Shreveport and Pacific Railroad to sell round trip tickets to teachers and delegates for one price from Vicksburg and intermediate points to Shreveport.

General Notes.

The English Government is still engaged in active preparations for war. Ex-Secretary of State Frelinghuysen is still dangerously ill. His wife is getting better.

Gen. Negrier, so badly wounded at the battle of Lang Son, is said to be in a fair way of recovery.

An armistice is reported to have been signed between France and China, the latter having agreed to evacuate Tonquin.

It is thought in the City of Mexico, that President Diaz will soon accede to the request of San Salvador and declare war against Guatemala.

Riel, the half-breed, who has been kicking up a lively shindy in the Western portion of the Dominion of Canada, still continues at his devilment, and a strong force is being sent to quiet him down.

The announcement that Mexico will declare war against Guatemala and Honduras does not "consist" with the reported death of Barrios. It would hardly be "the thing" to wage a war against a dead man. If he is dead, that ends, for the present at least, the revolutionary movement of which he is the "head and front," and Mexico need worry no more about it.

Barthold telegraphs that the status of Liberty will leave France about the 8th of May, in the Government transport. The delivery of the Dominion of work of art on Bedloe's Island about the last of the month may be expected. The pedestal will not be ready by that time. Still the World is doing bravely. It has raised in two weeks nearly $10,000, or one tenth of the sum needed.

The Democrats in the State election, of Michigan, have carried the day, electing the head of the ticket by 20,000 majority. In Chicago, too, Carter Harrison, the popular Mayor, was re-elected. The fight in St. Louis was an exciting and close one, but resulted in a sweeping victory for the Democrats, who elected all of their candidates but one by good majorities. This election redeems St. Louis from Republican rule and puts the city in line with the State and Federal Administration.

The long-talked-of marriage of Mrs. Gen. Tom Thumb and the Count Magri took place yesterday in Trinity Church, New York. The ceremony was witnessed by a large number of persons, among them some of the most noted people of the city. Mrs. Paron Stevens was there, so were representatives of the Belmont, the Astor and Vanderbilt families. The brilliant count and countess now will fulfill their engagement with Barnum, after which they will go to Italy, where Prince Magni owns an estate.—N. O. States, 5th.

The British Government continues rapidly arming fast ocean steamships, as though for important expeditions requiring sea transport, and the Russians are pushing forward the strengthening of the fortifications of Kronstadt. Of the situation in the disputed territory between Metz and Herat, little is allowed to be known; the contradiction of a rumored attack by Afghans from Pendjoh upon Russians at Pul-Khishi possesses a little interest, because the two places are only six miles apart. Public feeling is again becoming excited in England, and in India war preparations are prosecuted with enthusiasm.

HAASVILLE, La., April 7, 1885. I send you this morning a few of our latest local items: Yesterday, between the hours of one and two p. m., it began to rain; slow at first, but by three o'clock it was coming down in torrents; the clouds seemed to come from every quarter of the compass—the rain continued, at intermissions pretty much all night. This morning the fields are flooded with water, and it will be several days before any plowing can be done. Some cotton has been planted; many farmers had high hopes of getting through with cotton planting this week, but will not now—it is too wet for any use. Corn that is up looks moderately well; oats do not look so promising, or at least, the oats that have come to my view. Our gardens are coming out slow; and prospects fair; but we don't despair. Yours, ILLINOIS.

The French Republic has had twenty-one cabinets during the fifteen years of its existence. The Ferry ministry has lasted a little over two years, which, as things go over there, is a long life for a French minister. The usual term of existence ranges from ten days to a few weeks. If the French don't like a ministry they are not slow in voting it out of power; and they will probably keep on trying one ministry after another in rapid succession without finding any whose course will secure it a very long lease of life.

McCalla will be in command of the supplementary force of marines, subject to the orders of Admiral Jonett. Lieut. Mason will be in command of the artillery. With the arrival of the Tennessee at Aspinwall the fleet will consist of five vessels, including the Tennessee—the flagship of the North Atlantic Station, with twenty-two guns; the Yantic, with four guns; the Galena, with eight guns; the Swatara, with eight guns, and the Alliance, with six guns.
