OPELOUSAS:

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 24, 1888.

"Dad's Girl."

The above title is a name given to the popular melo-drama to be interpreted next Monday evening at the Social Club Hall by the Basye-Davis Ideal Company. The drama has a fine plot, and has won praise and laurels wherever it has been produced. Miss Annie Burton appears in the title role of "Mum" the adopted daughter of an old man who calls her "Dad's Girl," and her love towards him wins love and admiration from all the audience. Remember tickets are now on sale at Bailey's drug store without extra charge for reserved seats.

See election notice in another column.

See notice under head of "Fruit Trees from Nashville, Tenn." in another column.

There will be a Candy Pulling at the residence of Rev. F. W. Lewis, Thanksgiving night, next Thursday, the 29th inst.

They pay car passed over the Morgan road on Tuesday last, and the railroad boys once more knew what money looks like.

A Thanksgiving sermon will be preached at the Presbyterian Church, Opelousas, next Thursday at 11 o'clock a. m.

Black & Morris, real estate and insurance agents, have removed their offices to the corner of Landry and Market streets.

Cards are out announcing the marriage, on Dec. 4th, of Mr. Gus. Munzschneider, formerly of this town, and Miss Duffie F. Kilheimer, of Hamilton, Ohio.

The sweetest little girl we have heard of lately, is the charming creature who dipped herself in a cane juice tank, at one of our neighboring sugar mills a few days ago.

A colored man named Robert Springer residing near Washington, was arrested a few days since, charged with having more "better halves" than the law allows. He was released on giving bond for his appearance before the District Court, where a jury of his peers will settle his case.

Read "A Night Message from Santa Claus" in another column, and if you call around at Posey's and see the beautiful stock of Holiday Goods just received—a stock that ought to please all tastes, old and young, and to appreciate it you must see it, so call at Posey's and judge for yourself.

The Opelousas Social Club will give a grand fancy dress ball at its hall on Monday night, Dec. 3d, to celebrate the fifth anniversary of its organization. A number of fancy dress costumes for gentlemen may be procured for that night on application to the Secretary, Lucius G. Dupré, Esq. at J. Meyers & Co.'s.

The attention of our readers in general, and more particularly, that of sections upon the lands in our parish, commonly known as "Railroad Lands," is called to the article upon "Railroad Lands—Indemnity limits," which appears on our 3d page. The author, Maj. Geo. O. Elms, who has for years made a study of the status of these lands, his conclusions in any matter relating to them.

A special to the Playbills from the National seat of government says— "The designs for the public buildings in Monroe and Opelousas are in course of preparation, and an agent will be sent down in a few weeks to select the sites." Would it not be proper for our residents to meet and take some action in relation to this matter, that the "Agent," when he arrives, can have plain sailing in the premises, and act in accord with the wishes of the community?

On her last weeks trip from Washington, the steamer Hornet landed at New Orleans 634 bales cotton, 345 sacks cotton seed, 84 sacks rice, 15 bbls molasses and various sundries.

The steamer Warren, which left Washington on Saturday last, had the largest freight list of the season. She landed at New Orleans with 917 bales cotton, 1783 sacks rice, 428 bbls. molasses, 30 boxes sugar, 129 hides, 3 bbls. peanuts and sundry merchandise.

Our lady readers who may be in search of something recherché in the millinery line, are referred to Mrs. D. Laas, whose advertisement will be found in another column. Mrs. Laas' good taste, judgment and experience is a guarantee of the elegance and reliability of the magnificent stock she has on hand, a short enumeration of which will be found in her advertisement.

"SUNSET ROUTE."—We call the attention of the traveling public to the advertisement of the Southern Pacific Railway Company in another column. The many advantages and splendid accommodations afforded by this route especially recommend it to travelers between New Orleans and all points on the Pacific coast—Texas, Mexico, New Mexico, Arizona, California, &c. We also recommend the "Sunset Route" as being special advantages in speed, safety and comfort. Mr. W. C. Watson, the General Passenger and Ticket Agent, New Orleans.

Basye-Davis Ideals.

Again the COURIER is pleased to chronicle the fact that the citizens of Opelousas are to be favored with a comedy and drama by the famous Basye-Davis Ideal Dramatic Company with Miss Annie Burton as star. It will be remembered that this company favored the amusement going people with one performance last year, on which occasion they interpreted Hugh Conway's celebrated novel "Called Back," which gave unusual satisfaction. The opening bill for Monday night will be "Dad's Girl" and will be produced intact, with particular attention paid to the smaller details, and it is safe to say that everybody attending their entertainments will be pleased beyond limit. Below we reprint the complimentary notice of the opening piece that appeared in the "Opelousas" of recent date.

"Dad's Girl" with Miss Annie Burton in the title role, was produced at the Avenue last night to a packed house by the Basye-Davis Ideal Company; the piece itself displays originality which proves it successful. Miss Burton, however, in her portrayal of the orphan girl "Mum" is quite artistic, and in the tender parts wherein she reveals the absorbing love towards her foster father and the sweet cajolery by which she endeavors to hide the shame of her "dad's" criminal son is most charmingly gentle and natural with a winning gentleness that is quite captivating to behold.

Remember the seats will be sold at Bailey's drug store and those desiring to witness this grand bill should buy seats early, and avoid the rush at the box office.

Through the courtesy of Sheriff Fontenot, we have been furnished with the following list of prisoners now confined in our Parish Jail, with the charges under which they are held—Borze Peterson, convicted of murder, and sentenced to be hanged; John W. Sealey, convicted of murder, and sentenced for life in the Penitentiary; these two cases go to the Supreme Court on bills of exception; Riviere Richardson, convicted of murder, new trial granted. John Gay, Joseph Johnson, John Hardey, Reuben Washington, and Ernest Williams charged with murder; Joseph Tolliver and Emile Lartigue, charged with attempt at rape, Ernest Dupluchin, Laurent Jacques, Prosper Johnson, and Dennis Adams charged with attempt to kill, and Tom Springer, Alfred Brown, and Pete Saunders charged with larceny; Willis Brown, charged with carrying concealed weapons, are held in detainer, awaiting trial. Albert Taylor, convicted of assault with intent to kill, and Lawrence Winfred, convicted of larceny, and sentenced to short terms in jail, are serving out their respective sentences. All the parties named are colored, excepting Sealey who is white.

A large number, charged with minor offenses, are at large, being under bond for their appearance at the next criminal term of the District Court, and as our executive officers are constantly adding to the numbers under arrest, by "taking in" all known violators of law, it is probable that the term of Court referred to will be a most busy and exciting one.

The Inter-State Immigration Convention called to meet in Montgomery, Alabama, December 12th 1888, is a matter of great importance to the whole South. It had its origin in Texas, whose Commissioner of Immigration, acting with those of other States, called the convention at Montgomery as a central point easily reached from every part of the South. The Governors of the several States, and the Commissioners of Immigration, have appointed full lists of delegates and the attendance already promises to be large. The citizens of Montgomery have appointed local committees, and are doing all in their power to make a success of the undertaking.

Reduced rates have been secured of one fare for the round trip from all points in the South, tickets being on sale December 10, and good until Jan. 5, 1889.

A most delightful Leap Year Ball was given on Wednesday, Nov. 21st, at Perserverance Hall, Washington, which was numerously attended. The ladies are deserving of much credit for the admirable manner in which the same was conducted. Beautiful decorations, flowers and pictures adorned the walls of the spacious hall, and with the exquisite costumes worn by the ladies, made up a realistic scene of fairyland. The following were prominent in the management: Misses Mary Winn, Helen Derbann, M. L. Dupré, Eleanor Roy, Maude Winn, Lizzie Prescott, Lou Dupré, Sue Pickett, Minna Winkler, C. Taylor, Bertha Schmidt, and Ida Dupré.

In another column will be found the card of Mr. H. J. Fisher, carpenter and builder; Mr. Fisher is well known to many of our readers as the former manager of the Pointe-aux-Loups and Bell-Cheney springs, and is a first-class, reliable workman, fully competent to do any job in his line. His motto is honest work at honest prices, and if you need the services of a No. 1 carpenter give him a call and he will be sure to give you satisfaction.

"Are you going?" "Where?" "Basye-Davis Ideal Drama Company next week, are you aware of it?" "You bet I am, and my four sisters have heard of the popularity of Miss Burton in 'Dad's Girl' and I am on my way to Bailey's drug store to get tickets before they are all gone." "That's right old boy, patronize a good thing when you have an opportunity."

Our confere of the St. Mary Review, will have a jolly time in contesting the right of Hon. E. J. Gay to a seat in the 51st Congress from the 3d Congressional District. Should his contest prove successful, he would not only be Jolly, but Gay.

Blank forms for use of merchants, notaries, Justices of the Peace, etc., for sale at this office.

Personal.

Leon Wolff, the genial proprietor of the Washington Red Store visited our town on Wednesday last.

Dan. Emmons of Waxia was in town on business on Tuesday last.

J. J. Thompson of Barbeck put in an appearance on our streets in the early part of the week.

A. B. Anderson of Washington favored our city with a call on Saturday last.

Thomas O. Hardey, who has a ten days leave of absence from his employers at Franklin was in town on Saturday last. He was en route to Chataignier, where he will spend his short vacation.

Our junior editor, accompanied by his daughter, Miss Ada, left last Monday, to attend the meeting of the National Editorial Association at San Antonio, Tex., on the 21st, after which they are to make a tour through the principal cities and points of interest in Texas, and wind up with an excursion to the city of Mexico, the capital of the Mexican Republic.

Mr. Morton Dason returned to Opelousas from Alabama on Wednesday.

Messrs. Oscar Dupré and Devalcourt, of New Iberia and Messrs. Geo. Bailey and Bienville, of Lafayette, passed up on Wednesday's train to attend the Leap Year Ball at Washington, that night.

Miss Rosa Perrodin spent several days among friends at St. Martinsville this week.

Mr. Lee Garland left the beginning of the week for New Orleans.

We had a pleasant call yesterday from Mr. W. W. Cole, representing the favorite Basye-Davis Ideal Co. which performs here next week.

If the sidewalk in our town were a fair criterion of the thrift of our residents, we would fall far behind the general average of mankind. In our rambles around town, we have found them in many places in a most deplorable condition, scarcely navigable to the average pedestrian, and positively dangerous to the festive and inebriated individual. If there is no municipal ordinance requiring property holders to keep their banquettes in safe and proper condition for public use, one should at once be passed and promulgated; and if there is such an ordinance, the proper authorities should see that it is enforced and our walks put in proper condition for use.

In this connection we would call attention to the fact that most of our street crossings are sadly in need of attention, being almost impassable, especially to ladies and children, in wet weather. We hope to see our town authorities take cognizance of this matter, and inaugurate such measures as will remedy this wide-spread and growing evil.

At West Melville on Friday evening of last week, while a social dance was in progress at the residence of Dick Hetherton, a swamper, named James Long, and who has the reputation of being a dangerous character when under the influence of benzine, entered, and brandishing a pistol, threatened to clean out the premises. Deputy Sheriff Dave Frame was sent for and soon arrived, when the intruder was disarmed and ejected from the house. Frame then returned, and while seated watching the merry dances, was suddenly attacked by Long, who had quietly re-armed, and who recaptured his pistol. He was forced from the room by Frame and others, and while on the gallery opened fire with his pistol on the deputy, who returned it. Both men fell to the floor, and the ladies and children lost no time in leaving their homes. On examination it was found that Long had received a shot in the left thigh, which is considered dangerous, while Frame was shot in the calf of the right leg, inflicting an ugly wound. Both parties have been taken to the hospital at New Orleans for treatment.

President Cleveland has designated Thursday, Nov. 29th, as a National Thanksgiving day, and Gov. Nichols, not to be outdone, has issued his proclamation naming the same day as a State Thanksgiving day. Turkeys and chickens are now in order, and those having a surplus are reminded that the printer is mortal, and has, especially on Thanksgiving day, a liking for the wherewithal to make a good dinner.

Adjutant General Burt has issued a general order to the commanders of the military forces of the state to cause their commands to be mustered and inspected, in service uniform, between the 1st and 15th of December, and to forward to him at Baton Rouge on or before the date last named copies of the muster rolls, showing the attendance and number of drills since last muster, with the roster of brigade and district staff.

We are under obligations to the management for an elaborately gotten up invitation to a Grand Fancy Dress Ball, to be given by the Opelousas Social Club, on Monday evening, Dec. 3d. The entertainments given by this Club are invariably recherché in every respect, and we bespeak for them a large attendance and an enjoyable evenings entertainment.

"Are you going?" "Where?" "Basye-Davis Ideal Drama Company next week, are you aware of it?" "You bet I am, and my four sisters have heard of the popularity of Miss Burton in 'Dad's Girl' and I am on my way to Bailey's drug store to get tickets before they are all gone." "That's right old boy, patronize a good thing when you have an opportunity."

Whiskey and Hogs.

Whiskey and hogs have well-nigh ruined our country. Whiskey has so demoralized labor, that not half crops are being made, and the planting and every other interest, material as well as social, is suffering and going to ruin. Of what little crops that are made, a very large and regretful proportion goes to pay not only for the whiskey that occasioned the pinching shortage in the crop, but for the prosecution of the crimes that resulted from the drinking of it! And, after taking out the money that had been worse than thrown away for whiskey, and the taxes to pay the cost of criminal courts which said whiskey had crowded with criminals, if anything be left it is wasted in trying to fence against a few worthless hogs.

It is a fact that there are entirely too few trifling hogs in the country to justify the expense and trouble of trying to fence against them; for, in spite of everything, they waste a great deal more than they are worth, besides creating hard-feelings and troubles among neighbors. And at last, if the slab-sided, razor-backed, long-nosed set of bone chances to escape disease and death, and roots under or squences through some hard-working, honest man's fence and steals a living it could not find outside, very likely some lazy, hungry thief will gobble it up before the owner thinks it fit to be eaten! and thus ends that "clapper of accidents."

It is very gratifying however, that such men as Sam Haas, Ozémé Fontenot, Alain Vidrine, Paul and Alfred Stagg, H. Deshotel, the Robertis, Cyrien Delafosse, and I believe every merchant in Ville Platte, Ertellus and Ertemon Lafleur, Louis Dave Young, Joseph Vidrine, our Sheriff, and nearly every body else have seen so much evil and so good—absolutely nothing but evil resulting from the sale of intoxicating liquors, that now they are in favor of prohibiting it. And it is to be hoped that ere long our parish will be rid of that dreadful scourge.

But it is wonderful, and to be regretted that so many men yet fail to see the mistake and folly of letting hogs run at large, at such a cost and damage. (To be continued.) D. W. FOSTER. Plaisance, Nov. 15, 1888.

General Notes.

Welsh Cresset: The rice crop of Calcasieu parish will this year average twelve barrels per acre, and is now being marketed for a cash price of $9.25 per barrel. Compute this if you wish to know whether rice pays.

New Iberia Enterprise, Nov. 8: We understand Mr. Milmo, of the firm of Milmo, Stokes & Co., has fallen heir to his uncle's estate in New York City, to the amount of nearly half a million of dollars. Mr. M. left for New York City this morning on business connected with the estate.

The Wilmington (N. C.) Star says: "It has been discovered that rice is an excellent substitute for pop-corn. Rice in the hull, when heated in a popper like pop-corn, bursts open just like the latter, and not only has the flavor of the real pop-corn, but is crispier and much more delicious to the taste. Try it."

Baton Rouge Truth: The long looked for shell road is ours at last, and will extend from the river to the National Cemetery, on Florida street. Sealed proposals are advertised for by E. B. Kirk, Major and Quartermaster U. S. Army. Work will begin at an early day and ere long we will be walking along on as handsome a turnpike as any in the country.

B. R. Capital Item: Among the important industries of the South are the cultivation of ramie and jute. It is said that a test of the productions of these plants in Louisiana shows that a profit of $69 per acre can be made on ramie and $56 on jute. The exhibit of ramie at the State Fair by Mr. Soulat of Jefferson gave a very good idea of what the plant is.

A Washington special to the New Orleans States of November 8th says: "Already the scramble for the spoils has begun. Louisiana Republicans are looking up the offices and the amounts they pay and each is making up his mind what he shall grab for. The 'blue book' is in demand, and the prediction is made that within six months the Louisiana Democrats will be walking and the Republicans in their places."

The Secretary of the Interior has rendered a decision in the case of Olibe Manuel vs. Jean Miller, which is a controversy over a certain section of land in the New Orleans land district situated in this Parish. The Secretary has ordered the Commissioner of the General Land Office to direct the local officer to fix a day for the rehearing of the case. He has further denied the application filed by J. L. Bradford, Esq., attorney for Miller, asking that he, the Secretary, direct the Commissioner to decide the appeal from the Louisiana officers on the merits.

MARRIED—At Opelousas, Monday, Nov. 19, 1888, by the Rev. J. F. Raymond, Mr. CHAS. M. THOMPSON to Mrs. VIRGINIA ANDERSON, nee Garland.

DIED—At Belair Cove in this parish, on Monday, Nov. 19, 1888, ESTELLE GUILLOU, wife of Ereluce T. Lafleur, aged 44 years.

Deceased, who belonged to one of the oldest Creole families of the parish, was beloved by all who knew her. She died in the faith of her fathers, having received all the sacraments of the Catholic Church. A devoted wife and mother, a sincere friend and an exemplary Christian, her death leaves a void that will be impossible to fill, and an anguish which time alone can assuage. To the bereaved husband and family we extend our sincere condolences.

N. O. Times-Democrat and Piasynne please copy.

DIED—At West Melville, on Wednesday, Nov. 14th, E. C. MURRAY a prominent and highly esteemed resident of that place, aged 49 years, and 4 months.
