OPELOUSAS,
SATURDAY, OCTOBER 31, 1891.

To our Friends and Patrons.

We wish to call the attention of the friends and patrons of the COURIER to the necessity of their being on the alert, in the matter of judicial publications, (sheriff's sales especially), as a neglect on their part to give positive instructions as to where they desire such advertisements published, is apt to result in their being deprived of the patronage that would otherwise be given to us. The sheriff of this parish has been making himself especially zealous in the matter of securing sheriff's sales for the paper of which he is director and stockholder, and several publications of that nature have appeared in that paper which the parties interested would have selected to be done in the COURIER, had they been consulted; and others have been diverted from us at the special solicitation of the sheriff or his deputies serving the papers in the matter of notices.

To those who prefer to patronize any other paper in this parish we have no desire to interfere with their preferences, but our friends are earnestly requested to see that the proper officers are instructed to have the publications done in the COURIER, and that no special award against allowing themselves to be induced to consent that the advertisements should be done in some other paper.

FOR GOVERNOR.
SAMUEL D. McENERY, OF OCACHITA.

District Court adjourns to-day.

The Police Jury meets next Monday.

Wanted—a good painter. Apply at once at this office.

It is impossible to offer goods cheaper than do the firm of J. K. Sandoz & Bro.

Regular meals, and hot coffee at all hours at Mrs. Perrault's restaurant.

Latest designs in fancy cards, envelopes, etc., just received at this office.

A criminal term of the District Court begins in Crowley next Monday, Nov. 2d.

Postmaster Eaton of New Orleans was here on official business this week.

Oyster gambo every Wednesday, Saturday and Sunday evenings at Mrs. Perrault's.

A criminal term of the District Court begins here on the 24th of November next.

Fresh oysters in every style at all hours at M. Finberg's oyster saloon, opposite the Court House.

Pittsburg coal at lowest market rates delivered promptly at domicile by leaving your orders with J. B. Sandoz.

Barry Skavenley who killed Oscar Brown, (both colored) on Waxia recently, has been arrested and jailed in our parish jail.

The rash (that came, first served) still continues for dry goods, clothing, shoes and groceries at J. K. Sandoz & Bro.

Contractor Stewart will begin laying the foundations for the two-story drug store and opera house for Dr. R. M. Little, on Main street, next week.

There is a new arrival in the household of our young friend Alfred Dupre, in the shape of a sweet girl baby. Mother and child doing well—and father as well as could be expected under the circumstances.

Lost recently, in Opelousas or vicinity, a black morocco pocket case of surgical instruments, marked inside "A. S. Aloe & Co., St. Louis, Mo." A suitable reward will be paid for its return to Dr. Jas. O. Ray, Opelousas.

Messrs. Jos. A. Gil and J. Adolpho Gil, announce to their friends and the public in general that they have opened a bakery at Paterforks old stand under the name of Gil & Gil. See advertisement in another column.

The races to come off at Washington, La., on the 21st of November, will undoubtedly be the grandest event of the kind attempted in St. Landry. See advertisement for particulars.

At one time the exciting game of Raquette was quite popular in our parish, but it has been many years since it has been played about Opelousas. On Sunday, Nov. 8th, a game will be played to which the public is invited, as will be seen by the advertisement in another column.

Mr. Wm. Dejean's store on Plaquemine Ridge, about 9 miles from town, was burned to the ground last Wednesday night at about midnight. It is said to have been the work of an incendiary as the fire can be accounted for in no other way. This is the third country store that has burned in this vicinity within the last few weeks—Landry's, Luchapelle's and Dejean's—all supposed to have been the work of incendiaries.

BURGLARY.—C. B. Andrus' store was broken open last Thursday night and the safe broken open and robbed of about $150.00. No goods were missed except half a bottle of good whiskey, and the valuable papers in the safe were left scattered on the floor. The job was evidently the work of experts, as a hole was drilled in the safe and the door blown open with gunpowder or some other explosive.

Three suspicious looking white men were seen around Wednesday, and had been in the store several times during the day drinking beer, and have since disappeared. The job was so skillfully done that none of the neighbors' suspicions were aroused.

The McEnery Procession.

The mammoth Democratic parade in New Orleans last Tuesday night was the grandest affair of the kind that New Orleans has ever seen. Fifteen thousand people were in line, forming a solid column nearly five miles in length. The entire city was ablaze with bonfires and fireworks, and the proteche display is said to have been the finest ever known in the history of the Crescent city. Our city exchanges are filled with glowing accounts of the grand event, occupying several columns. The Times-Democrat, in its editorial comments, says: "No one could look at the parade and doubt how New Orleans stands on this question; it has not been so wrought up and unanimous since the glorious days of 1876, when it swept Packard and his horde of negroes out of power. The glare of lanterns and of the fireworks, the music of the bands, the march of thousands of men, were all impressive and must have had their effect on the hundred thousand people and more who watched the procession; but far more impressive to every man who has the future of Louisiana at heart was the enthusiasm, earnestness and determination shown by the white Democrats of New Orleans, which render it certain that the vote of New Orleans will be cast solidly for Samuel Douglas McEnery, as it has never before been cast for any candidate for Governor. We are united and unanimous here. Let us hope our country brethren will come similarly together and sweep all heresies, third parties, dickers and pollywogs from the scene, and return to true Democracy. If McEnery is our candidate there will be no Republican ticket in the field, and there will be no danger to Democracy."

The procession was more than thirty times the size of the Antis blow out, hence it may be concluded that the vote at the polls will stand thirty to one. As for the enthusiasm it cannot be estimated, beyond saying that the good old Democratic earnestness was the first time in many years, and the opponents of true Democracy, third parties and all, know what that means. We do not think any sane man can misunderstand the meaning of last night's procession—that New Orleans will send a solid delegation to the Baton Rouge convention in favor of McEnery. This must have an important effect over the State, for it will bring before the people the necessity of armistice in the ranks, and the dropping of all dissensions caused by alien secret organizations. New Orleans calls upon the parishes to join it in reclaiming that old Democratic harmony which won success of old and redeemed the State.

Last Sunday night, shortly after 7 o'clock, a dastardly outrage was committed in a thickly settled part of town and the perpetrator of the crime has fled. It has escaped detection. These are the circumstances, as far as we have been enabled to gather them from different sources: Mrs. Clerville Gouir, the victim, is a respectable young married woman, the mother of several children, who resides with her husband nearly opposite the residence of the late Judge Overton, in the eastern part of town. On Sunday night, her husband being unwell, she left his room to go to the kitchen, a few yards distant from the house, to get some water to speak from the fullness of their hearts and the depths of their experience the people of Louisiana will listen and heed.—Gib Item.

The anti-lottery faction claims to be able to carry the parish of Plaquemine in the primaries. Their meetings ignore the alliance, which has no existence there, and the intention evidently is to elect an anti-Adams delegation as a nucleus for opposition to his candidacy in the convention. There will be speaking of the same kind of delegates from other parishes, and if these hold the balance of power in the convention they will prove when the time comes that the sullen silence of the New Delta means dark and damning treachery to the Lafayette agreement. Adams is wasting his time toying with the gubernatorial nomination. It was simply a tub thrown to the alliance while the anti-lottery politicians got their harpoons ready for the slaughter.

Stockmen and others owning horses can find a very valuable treatise on that animal by Dr. Kendall, at this office, giving a full description of their ailments and manner of successfully treating same. Price 25cts. We can furnish this excellent book in either English, French or German at same price.

The State constitution declares gambling to be a vice and yet charters a lottery. The Bible declares drunkenness to be not only a vice but an actual sin, and yet the State licenses grog shops. Quer, aint it?

The Southern is a new illustrated journal published in New Orleans. Its typographical appearance is elegant and its illustrations are amusing and attractive.

A special invitation is extended to the public to sample the extra coffee extracted from the automatic steam drip, at W. E. Gil's coffee stand at the Market House.

Wanted—At Stewart's lumber yard—1000 bushels of corn, for which all description of lumber will be given in exchange at cash figures.

The Thin Doodles of the Antis.

The anti press has been recently resorting to this thin subterfuge of trying to make it appear that the Lottery managers have been offering signs of money to induce people to sign certificates to the effect that they have won much larger sums. Not being able to cite any case near home they go up to the State of New York and pretend to find a case there. It is not much more reasonable to believe that some anti-lottery fanatics pay persons to make such statements. In their great and dire distress they are resorting to the most disgraceful methods to try to uphold their cause. Will they dare to say that Dist. Atty., Sinton, an anti was paid to say that he had won $75,000? Will they say that Mr. Noley Devilliers of this parish was paid to say that he recently won a prize? Will they say that Wm. Campbell was paid to say that he won $100,000? The anti press had better get off on some other track, or else cork up their demijohns.

A "Saint" Unmasked.

One by one the pretended Saints are leaving their visors torn from their faces, exposing their infernal hypocrisy. How are the mighty fallen! F. P. Stubbs, the man who posed recently before the State Committee, and talked about carrying the Baton Rouge convention even at the risk of wading knee-deep in the blood of his countrymen, is the same man who has been shown up by the United States Supreme Court in a role so unenviable that unless he has the brass of a tinkling cymbal he will never show his face at the Baton Rouge Convention.

One by one these great moralists will be exposed, and our people will shrink back with horror at the idea of submitting the destinies of our State into such hands as F. P. Stubbs & Co.

In view of the COURIER's recent experience with the typographical tourist, we can sympathize with our Colfax confere, and appreciate the following pen picture in a recent issue of the Chronicle:

For a month past the Chronicle has been visited by the help of Mr. Forrest Bibb, a typical printer of the "preaching variety." He is "union" to the backbone, knows his business, and is reliable and rapid when sober, but when his master is in the line of wading knee-deep in the blood of his countrymen, he is the same man who has been shown up by the United States Supreme Court in a role so unenviable that unless he has the brass of a tinkling cymbal he will never show his face at the Baton Rouge Convention.

That venerable and honored patriot, Hon. H. L. Garland, Sr., of St. Landry, like most men of genius, is over-moderate. He writes to the McEnery Campaign Committee as follows:

"I am honored by the appointment as one of the campaign committee to favor the nomination by the State Democratic Convention of Samuel D. McEnery, as the Governor of our State. I am heartily in this movement, as we need no unwavering men to lead us on in maintenance of our party organization. But on account of ill health I can do no work in the cause."

But Mr. Garland is doing noble work, both by example and precept. When the honored patriarch of Democracy speak from the fullness of their hearts and the depths of their experience the people of Louisiana will listen and heed.—Gib Item.

Resolved, That we deplore and condemn the political compact known as the Lafayette agreement, and request our deluded fellow-citizens of the Farmers' Alliance and improve our erring anti-lottery friends who have abandoned the cause of true Democracy, to sever all connection with the said agreement, and all those who now blindly favor the same to recede from such an unwholesome and suicidal alliance and do battle for the true Democracy and the Federal Constitution.

This is "straight goods," and the Democrat who does not repudiate such a compact which danger threatens the autonomy of his party, had better go over, body, boots and baggage, to the enemy.

All the men, and the young ones in particular, will be pleased to learn that J. K. Sandoz & Bro. have made arrangements with the famous house of M. Pokorny of New Orleans for handling his celebrated hand-made shoes. You can now procure them in Opelousas at same price you would pay them in New Orleans. Beware of imitations—none genuine unless stamped with his name.

Samuel Douglas McEnery.

The soul of Mr. Justice McEnery must be deeply stirred by the spontaneous ovations which parishes after parishes of Louisiana are offering to his beloved name at every one of the series of mass meetings which were started last August in order to arouse and rally the Democratic party against the insidious attacks upon his integrity at the hands of the notorious Lafayette politicians and outlandish secret societies of deluded and heretical farmers.

The States has heretofore made it a labor of love to chronicle the well nigh unanimous determination of the straight Democracy of Louisiana to call Mr. Justice McEnery away from his present exalted post of calm dignity and judicial labors, to raise him upon their benches to be their chief once again, to lead them in the battle for the Democratic supremacy under Democratic rule.

The States, proud of its record of steadfast friendship and untiring support of ex-Governor McEnery, finds it a very easy transition from the role of chronicler of his latest honors to that of an enthusiastic adherent to, and participant in, the Democratic party's call upon him which is reverberating over the parishes of Orleans, Tensas, Lafourche, Madison, Lafayette, Concordia, Iberia, Carroll, St. Martin, Pointe Coupee, Iberville, Baton Rouge, Terrebonne, until, indeed, that call has become a voice of the State itself, nominating for its next Governor, Samuel Douglas McEnery, one of the "Parish of Onachita," but now of the "State of Louisiana at large."

In thus adhering to his nomination for Governor the States is moved by the strongest devotion to straight, swayback Democracy, for which the name of S. D. McEnery is a synonym.

The States hopes to see the question of the Lottery eliminated in the next Convention which it was in the last two Congressional District Conventions held last year, in New Orleans.

The Pro and the Anti-Lottery factions must remit their differences directly to the White Democracy of Louisiana, either at a special primary or at the General Election and the State Democratic nominating convention, must, in the interest of party unity, refuse to subject its nominees to a Procrustean mode of silent treatment which the designing and ambitious leaders of the Anti-Lottery League would vainly impose, even at the imminent risk of splitting the Democratic party for the benefit of the Ocala faction of rural carter, or worse still, at the risk of opening the way for Republican and negro rule.

S. D. McEnery, then should be nominated neither as a Pro nor as an Anti, because the white people of Louisiana, who demand his services so unanimously, would be made to feel that they were being asked to support a man who had been branded as a champion of pure Democracy and of White Supremacy.

While the States cannot assert that he will accept even such a nomination when lead-red him, yet judging of the future by the past, we are very confident, that the deep sense of duty which always has governed his public course, will force McEnery to the sacrifice of self in order to save the Democratic party from the manifold dangers which beset it on all sides just now.—States.

Mr. Eugene F. Garcia, the paying teller of the Louisiana National Bank, is short of $190,000 in his accounts.
Gen. W. H. F. Lee, second son of Gen. Robert E. Lee, died at Alexandria, Va., the 15th, at the age of 54 years.
A five year old child of Mr. E. L. Dupuy, of West Baton Rouge, was attacked by scrofulous worms, several of which were removed from a sore on its ear.
The elections of 1891 which the country is looking forward to with especial interest are those which occur in Iowa, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Maryland, New York and Massachusetts. In each of these States except Pennsylvania a Governor is to be chosen.

Sugar Planter.—The Republicans of this State held a secret convocation in New Orleans a few days ago, at which it was determined to reorganize the party throughout Louisiana, in the hope that the Democratic party will split on the lottery question and thus permit the election of a Republican ticket.
A colored girl living in the suburbs of Natchez brought to light a monstrous child in the shape of a two headed child last Tuesday night. The body was that of a well developed female child, while one of the two heads supported by the same neck was decidedly masculine in characteristics. It lived but a short while after birth. The mother refused to turn over the baby to the doctors and photographs of the remains were taken.

Alexandria Times: The Washington correspondent of the City Item says that the Post of that city thinks the three cornered fight in Louisiana is likely to make things lively, as the Republicans have determined to take advantage of the split in the Democratic ranks and put out a full ticket of their own. The Post is of opinion that Coleman will be the Republican, McEnery the Democratic, and some one name not suggested, the Ocala wing of the Alliance candidate for governor.
Some men have such strong prejudices that they do not want to be enlightened. A man certainly cannot escape error unless he reads both sides of a question, and as circumstances change, we can often change our own views to meet the wants or demands of a change of circumstances without being at all corrupt or insincere. A man might at one time have been opposed to the lottery, but, seeing the necessities of our schools, our levees, hospitals, asylums, etc., can consistently change his views of licensing the lottery in order to promote a greater revenue for the State.—Crowley Signal.

B. R. Advocate.—The State committee has adjourned. It was not exactly a love-feast of democrats, but it was a union that will tend to harmonize the factions. A notable feature of the five days' meeting is that no mention of Candidate Adams was made by any of his anti-lottery allies. He was evidently not "in it," but seems to have been "lost in the shuffle." Another notable feature was the absence of all reference to the Lafayette combine, except when the wicked pro called attention to the delinquency. In response to one of these allusions, Ex-Artorney General Custer said he "had rather belong to the Lafayette combine, than to a committee with the lottery and the city bosses." That was a sort of "damning with faint praise," with the praise left out, and Candidate Adams was in no better favor than the "combine."
