South American revolutions are rocking along nicely, with both sides winning.

The Grand Jury meets here Monday, Sept. 2d. A session of the criminal court begins on the 16th and will last two weeks.

Persons having land for sale with Cypress or Pine on it, will find purchasers by applying to Ben Bloomfield, Opelousas.

People make the town, the town doesn't make the people. If we want a good town we must "push the good things along."

We were visited by a wind and rain storm last Wednesday night which did some damage to fences, trees, telephone and electric light wires.

For Sale—A thoroughbred Jersey Bull, young and large, subject to registration. Apply to Jno. M. Ware, Dixie Grove Plantation, Shuteston P. O., La.

For Rent—A commodious residence in Opelousas, with ample grounds—lot, garden and shaded yard. Possession given immediately. Apply at this office.

Our young friend Lieut. Fritz L. Sandoz, U. S. Navy, now on duty in the Philippines on board the U. S. S. Princeton, has favored us with recent copies of the Manila papers.

Up to Thursday morning there had been 610 witnesses cited to appear before the Grand Jury next Monday for the criminal term of the District Court which commences on the 16th.

While we hear complaints of poor crops in a few sections of our parish, the majority reports are favorable and in some places more than an average crop will be made both in cotton and corn.

The mother of Gov. Heard died at Shiloh, La., last Tuesday, aged 91 years. She had been a resident of that place for a number of years and was highly esteemed by all who knew her.

James White, Bryantville, Ind., says DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve healed running sores on both legs. He had suffered 6 years. Doctors failed to help him. Get DeWitt's. Accept no imitations. Opera House Drug Store.

Mr. J. Morgan Sandoz has secured the agency for the famous Singer Sewing Machine for this parish, and will take pleasure in supplying all who may be in need of a first-class machine at the lowest price and on the most favorable terms.

It is said that the water in the wells on the western outskirts of town has a coal oil flavor; but it is not claimed that it is owing to the presence of a gusher in that neighborhood, but is supposed to be caused by the leakage from the oil tanks where oil is used as fuel to run the engines in that vicinity.

An elegant reception was tendered Miss May Norcross, of Patterson, at the Opelousas Institute Thursday evening, by her former class-mates and the pupils of that institution. A splendid musical program was rendered, and delicious refreshments were served. A large number were present and a most enjoyable evening was spent by all.

The Catholic Knights met in regular session Sunday forenoon. Applications of two candidates for membership were received. The committee on by-laws, appointed at the last meeting, reported, and after some discussion their report was adopted, with slight modifications. As soon as the society can arrange for permanent quarters, it is proposed to establish reading rooms.

Preparations for the October fair are well under way and the prospects for a grand display are growing brighter every day. Full particulars will be given soon, and in the meantime exhibitors are carefully grooming their horses and cattle, fattening their pigs, and selecting the best and finest specimens among the products of their farms to enter in the competition.

The Killing at Morrow.

We have tried to get a correct account of the killing which took place at Morrow last Saturday night, but find that the reports are so conflicting that it is impossible to get at the truth. The following telegram from the N. O. Picayune gives the two versions of the unfortunate affair, but the most extraordinary part of this matter lies in the finding of the coroner's jury which says that young Morrow "came to his death by a gunshot wound inflicted by an unknown party," whereas Ed. Hudspeth and several of his friends who came to Opelousas on the 11 o'clock train Sunday morning all stated that Ernest Morrow was killed by Ed. Hudspeth, and we have failed to find anyone yet who knows anything about the matter who expresses a different opinion.

"The trouble took place about 9:30 o'clock Saturday night, and resulted in the killing of Ernest J. Morrow and severe injuries to R. C. Morrow and Willie Hudspeth, about the head, the effects of blows received during the fight. It appears that the trouble started at R. C. Morrow's stable, between the two Hudspeth boys and a negro hand at the stable, where they had gone to get a horse and buggy. The negro ran towards R. C. Morrow's house, the Hudspeths following, where they met Morrow, with his rifle, in the yard. A scuffle took place between them for possession of the rifle, when so Mr. Morrow says, he was struck by Willie Hudspeth with the butt of his revolver, felling him to the ground. Mrs. Morrow came up and begged for possession of the rifle, which was given her after the balls had been removed, when just at this time Morrow again appeared upon the scene with a pistol. Several shots were exchanged, none taking effect, though as to this the details are conflicting. Willie Hudspeth claiming to have been struck twice in the forehead. The Hudspeths then retreated to Harvard's saloon, where Ednes Morrow and another son followed, and the conflict was renewed, during which Ned Hudspeth shot Ernest J. Morrow through the neck with a large caliber pistol, killing him almost instantly. The Morrrows claim that the wounds on Willie Hudspeth's head resulted from blows from Ednes Morrow's stick, while he was trying to prevent Hudspeth from shooting R. C. Morrow, and that while the scuffle was going on between them that Ned Hudspeth came up and shot Ernest Morrow. The Hudspeths, on the other hand, claim that Willie Hudspeth was shot before he went to the saloon, and that Ernest Morrow went to where he was standing and renewed the fight by striking him with the butt of a pistol, when Ned Hudspeth fired the fatal shot. The two versions of the affair differ so much that it is difficult to get at the facts. However, the coroner's jury rendered a verdict that Ernest Morrow came to his death from a gunshot wound inflicted by an unknown party."

Mrs. Fritz L. Sandoz.

This estimable lady, one of the best known and universally beloved in the community, died here yesterday at 1 p. m., aged 76 years and 2 months.

Her illness was brief, but all that the love of children and grand children could suggest and all that the skill of the most eminent physicians could accomplish was powerless to stay the hand of the Great Reaper, and she, who had long been prepared, by a life of piety and good deeds, to answer to the dread summons, peacefully and with unshaken faith resigned her soul into the hands of her Maker. She was the oldest of the large and influential family that bears her name. Her maiden name was Clarisse Ney, and her only brother, Benoit, was associated many years ago with Edmond C. Dupre in the mercantile business under the firm name of Ney & Dupre, their store being at Mr. Blackaker's present stand. That name has long since been extinct.

The funeral will take place from the Catholic church this morning at 10 o'clock.

Mr. P. Mistic, a prominent citizen of Leonville, gave our office an appreciated call Tuesday. Mr. M. reports the crops in his section, especially cotton and corn to be in splendid condition.

We find the following paragraph under the head of "Naval Notes" in the N. O. Picayune of the 28th, which will be gratifying news to the many friends of Lieut. Sandoz in Opelousas, where Fritz was born and reared:

Several changes will soon be made in the navy through the retirement and consequent advancement of certain officers. Many of the retirements are due to advancements made for gallant service in the late war. Rear Admiral W. S. Schley will be among the retired officers, and among those to be promoted is Lieutenant Commander F. L. Sandoz, who served in this city some time in charge of the hydrographic office.

When you take your prescription to the Opera House Drugstore you run no risk. It will be filled by a registered pharmacist.

Rayville, Richland parish, was voted "wet" recently by six majority.

Euchre Party.

On Monday evening last Mr. and Mrs. Miller Anderson entertained at a most enjoyable euchre party in honor of their charming guest, Miss Cora Richard, of Algiers, and the birthday of their lovely daughter, Miss Georgie.

Because of the warm weather the games were played on the gallery. Numerous Chinese lanterns were suspended along the gallery and under these the tables were arranged. Twelve games were played, and at their conclusion it was found that the ladies' first prize, a beautiful manicure set, had been captured by Miss Nina Sandoz, and the ladies' booby, a purse, by Miss Cleve Dupre; that the gentlemen's first, a fountain pen was "won in a walk" by Mr. Jonas Jacobs, and that the gent's booby, a pack of "Home Run," would supply Mr. L. Malone with cigarettes for several days. During and after the games refreshments were served, which were highly enjoyed by the guests. Those present were:

Misses Cora Richard, Jugie and Lucille Anderson, Cleve Dupre, Fannie Dupre, Martha Andrus, Constance Meginley, Daisy Edwards, Aline and Louise Delarue, George and Flossie Anderson; Messrs. J. J. Perrodin, Eddie Dejean, J. B. Meginley, James Shute, Austin Perkins, Jonas Jacobs, Percy Ogden, L. Malone, Fred Hollier, Beauchamp Anderson, George Edwards, Claudie Sandoz.

Book Exchange Prices.

The State superintendent of education is sending out to all parish superintendents in the State a list of the books recently adopted by the State board of education and the market price and the exchange price. The following is the exchange price on the books to be used next year:

Spellers, three parts, 14 cents; C. Speller and definer, 15; graded literature, 21c; for five books Hyde's Com. in English 11 and 20c; Henshall's School History 20 and 30c; Nicholson's Arithmetic 7, 10, 20 and 25c; Murray's Elementary Geography 20 and 25c; drawing 10, 15 and 20c; University copy books 5c; Bailey's Botany 6c; Binns' "How to Keep Well" 20c; Huxley's Physics 50c; Gay's Book-keeping 30, 2c; Chardonal's First French 50c, 50c; the Modern Music Series 13, 24, 30c.

This includes all of the books in both the common and high school courses.

Last Monday morning an armed man was arrested in the Vatican gardens through which the pope passes each morning. He was discovered by one of the Swiss guards and a frightful struggle ensued, which attracted the attention of others near the scene and the man was finally overpowered. He admitted that he intended to kill the pope and also exposed a plot which had been hatched out by anarchists for that purpose. The man was armed with a large cavalry revolver and a dagger.

Of the 600 school teachers who crossed on the transport Thomas to take charge of schools in the Philippines, sixty were married at Honolulu. Though several couples wanted to be married aboard ship, the Captain steeled his heart against their persistent requests and would permit no ceremony. When the Thomas reached Honolulu a boat was chartered and thirty couples went ashore and were married, one clergyman officiating at the unique ceremony.

The police jury of Rapides has contracted with the American Bridge Co. of New York to build a steel bridge across bayou Rapides, in Alexandria. The bridge will be 172 feet in length and will cost $2606. In a few years we hope to see several such in St. Landry. Our progressive Board of Aldermen ought to build one or two in Opelousas to serve as object lessons to our police jury.

Washington, D. C., News.

From our Regular Correspondent.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 26, 1901.

Admiral Schley no longer has the slightest doubt that the whole official power of the Navy Department is being used against him. His letter protesting against Hackett's action in construing his request that a copy of an objectionable newspaper interview with Rear Admiral Howison be forwarded to that officer, in order to give him an opportunity to say whether he was correctly reported, into a challenge of Howison's right to sit on the court, was manly and straight-forward and made Hackett feel as small as all unprejudiced persons think he is, but it did not make him change his ruling. There seems very little doubt that Howison did use the language quoted—the reporter swears that he did—and that he was selected as a member of the court of inquiry by Hackett with the full knowledge that he was a Sampson partisan. That is why Hackett did not wish to ask him about the interview. These men are playing with fire and are smirching the good name of the American Navy as a whole as it was never smirched before, and all for the dastardly and cowardly purpose of ruining a brave man as ever commanded a ship. But there is a day of reckoning ahead. It will take place before the court of inquiry, if there is fair play and if the officers who sit on that court have the moral courage to do their duty, regardless of the wishes of the clique that is now running the Navy Department; if not, the fight will be transferred to the halls of Congress, and if the power of the administration over a partisan majority be strong enough to prevent justice there, the case will be taken to the highest court we know in this country—the people—and then it will be settled right.

This seems to be a bad year for Perry Heath's friends, whether they be manipulating the funds of national banks or utilizing public office to get rich quick. Another man that he placed on Uncle Sam's pay roll is in trouble for crookedness. This time it is W. F. Hoy, who like Neely hails from Muncie, Ind., and who owes his appointment to be collector of customs at Nogales, Ariz., to Perry Heath's pull with the administration, who has been arrested for carrying on a wholesale business for smuggling Chinamen to the U. S. from Mexico at from $200 to $300 a head. The joke in the case is that Perry Heath specially recommended Hoy to Secretary Gage as a man whose sterling integrity especially fitted him to take a position from which another man had just been removed, about a year and a half ago, on account of irregularities in his office. According to reports on file in the Treasury Department Hoy hardly waited until he got warm in the office before he started his scheme to get rich by smuggling Chinamen across the border from Mexico. It remains to be seen whether Perry Heath's pull can do as much for this crook as it has done for Neely who robbed the Cuban postal funds and is still untried.

A stock company, with $250,000 capital, has been organized to repair and furnish the famous old Royal Hotel in New Orleans, which will open on November 1st. WAGON
Until you have investigated the merits of the famous
Fish Bros. Wagon
FOR SALE BY
FRED L. SANDOZ.

Here is what the manufacturers claim for their wagons.

We use only thoroughly air-dried lumber of the very best quality, using white oak for the hubs and spokes, white oak for the spokes and hubs, and white oak for the spokes and hubs.

Our axles are made of the very best selected steel.

Our wagon is thoroughly rigid in every particular. Our iron axles are unusually heavy, and both front and hind ends have double braces. Our skid plates of the pattern known as the Holmes Patent straight bearing skid, which is considered by wagon men to be the standard running on the market.

We use white oak hubs, white oak spokes and such axles as are made of the very best selected steel.

Our wheel is thoroughly dried. The hubs are explained by steel. The spokes are driven in by a power hammer, making the hub and spoke one solid piece of timber. Every wheel is soaked in boiling linseed oil, rendering them impervious to moisture. The tires are always tight.

Our wagon is painted with three coats of paint, striped and varnished. We did nothing in buying the original and popular Fish Wagon but to secure that the quality and workmanship are the best, and you are getting the best wagon on the market.

When you want a wagon please remember the above facts, and also that we guarantee and stand back of everything that we claim. Our wagons give you the best satisfaction or else we do not want you to have them.

JUDICIAL ADVERTISEMENTS.

CHARTER
OF THE
Ennice Deep Well Company, Ltd.

STATE OF LOUISIANA,
Parish of St. Landry.

On this twenty-sixth day of the month of July, A. D. 1901, before me, John B. Lewis, a Notary Public in and for the parish and state of Louisiana, personally appeared and acknowledged before me the following named persons, to-wit: Louis Mayer, James J. Lewis, Dr. M. D. Lewis, Alf. Bacchion, Edwin Gozney and J. Edgar Dejean, residents of the parish and state aforesaid, who severally declared that they do hereby form and organize themselves into a corporation for a period of thirty years, to be known as the ENNICE DEEP WELL COMPANY, LIMITED, the domicile whereof is fixed in the town of Opelousas, Louisiana, parish of St. Landry, and its objects and purposes and business being to dig, drill or sink deep wells for the purpose of procuring water, gas, oil, kerosene, petroleum, or any other mineral or machinery for the operation of the same. Citation shall be served on the President, or if his absence on the Secretary.

The capital stock of this corporation is hereby fixed at the sum of Ten Thousand Dollars, to be divided into Five Hundred shares at a par value of Fifty Dollars per share, payable fifty per cent when subscribed for, and the Board of Directors may see fit. This corporation is authorized to do business when fifty per cent of the capital stock is subscribed for and one-half thereof paid into the Treasury.

The affairs of this corporation shall be managed by a Board of Directors, to be composed of seven members, to be elected by the stockholders annually on the first Monday in August, at a meeting of the stockholders called for that purpose, after ten days' notice shall have been given thereof by the Secretary. Each share of stock shall be entitled to one vote. Said Board shall have the right to make all by-laws for their government, and change and alter the same.

The first Board of Directors shall consist of the following named persons: Gustave Fissler, Edouard Dejean, Dr. M. D. Lewis, James J. Lewis, James P. Butt, Louis Mayer and Edwin Gozney, and shall hold office until the first Monday in August next, when the stockholders in office are elected, with the following named members as alternate: Edouard Dejean, Gustave Fissler, James J. Lewis, Secretary and Treasurer.

The Board of Directors shall elect one Field Manager to manage the operations, and shall fix his compensation.

No stockholder shall be held liable or responsible for the debts or debts of this corporation in any further sum than the unpaid balance due on the stock of such stockholder.
