Die!—At his residence in Opel-ousas, Wednesday, September 11, after a long illness, Jules L.
Chabere, aged 57 years, 7 months and 7 days. Deceased was an invaluable member of a large family and had occupied several positions of honor and trust in this community.

Wednesday night the young men gave a hop at Sandoz Opera house which was, despite the warm weather, a very pleasant affair. It had been several weeks since there was a dance of any kind in town, hence this one was well attended, and all reports, greatly enjoyed by all participants.

Mr. C. W. Owen, the courteous agent of the S. P. R. R. at Ope-last evening. Immediately after the regular meeting, Foreman Harris called a special meeting to organize the H. H. & L. Social club, which has for its purpose the amusement of all kinds of amusements among its members. The club was organized by electing Mr.

W. H. Wilson, president, and Mr. MacBride secretary. The club will occupy the spacious upper hall of the new building, which is fitted with lights, water and other modern conveniences. A motion was passed to sit same up with book-cases, bric-a-brac, etc., and requesting the people who are interested in the above articles: Any willing to donate anything will be forwarded same to the president of the club.

Board of Trade.

At a meeting of this body held on the 6th inst. the committee appointed to make arrangements for a fair to be held in the latter part of October reported progress and was granted further time to prepare a complete report.

A motion to petition the Board of Aldermen to reduce the rate of taxation from 10 to 5 mills for the general fund failed to prevail, it having been objected that the Board would probably need the extra five mills for the purpose of building sidewalks and sustaining the town school.

The following resolutions were unanimously adopted: Whereas, the continuous bad condition of the public road leading from Ville Plate to Opelousas during the season for marketing the crop has been the cause of diverting much trade from Ope-lousas to other points; and, Whereas, it is charged and believed that the almost impassable condition of said road for a long period each year is due to the neglect of the Road Overseers appointed to have said road kept in repair; therefore,

Be it resolved, That the Secretary of this Board is hereby instructed to obtain the names of the Overseers on the said road from the Clerk of the Police Jury and that they be notified that unless they proceed without delay to fulfill the duties of their office on said road this Board will take steps to have them prosecuted criminally under Section number 3381 of the Revised Statutes, which provides a penalty of a fine of not less than $100 nor exceeding $500 against each Road Overseer who fails or neglects to perform his duty; and,
Be it further Resolved, That the Secretary give the said notice by publishing these resolutions in the parish papers and by causing a copy of them to be delivered to each of said Road Overseers.

The Committee on Highways was requested to report at the next meeting on the condition of other roads leading into town. This committee consists of Messrs. J.
O. Chabere, A. C. Skiles and
Jno. A. Haas.

A committee consisting of Messrs. Louis Desmarais, J. G.
Lawler, and F. L. Sandoz was appointed to take proper steps to have a pavilion erected on the public square.

Three excellent gentlemen and progressive citizens, Messrs. Thos.
H. Lewis, J. M. Sanders and A.
C. Crouchet, were proposed for membership.

This is surely good work, and next week we hope to see more of it bravely carried on.

The special report of the Grand Jury on the violation of the Sunday law, published in another column, by which this august body, charged with the most solemn responsibilities, deliberately condones the open violation of a law they were sworn to enforce is a distressing sign of the times. Distressing, because such action breeds a contempt for all law. It is all the more distressing, too, in that it points unmistakably to the fact that the demoralization existing in official circles in this parish—evidences of which we have from time to time brought to the attention of the people, and some of which were incidentally alluded to by Mr. Stokes in the Clarion last week—has permeated to the body of the people and is attacking their very virtues. When a grand inquest, composed as this one is of men of more than average intelligence, can obtain their own consent to the formulating of such a report, it is time to call a halt, to pause and reflect upon the situation. Well has it been said that the people—sometimes aptly called "the fool people"—are under our form of government directly responsible for all the misgovernment of which they may be victims.

The attention of our readers is directed to the card of Ogden & Sandoz, lawyers, appearing in another column. Any business entrusted to these young attorneys will have prompt and faithful attention. Mr. Ogden has had several years' experience in the practice of law while associated with his father, Jno. N. Ogden, Esq., and Mr. Sandoz was recently admitted to the bar after several years' study supplemented by a course at Tulane University, and was highly complimented by the examining board for having passed a most creditable examination.
They are sober, reliable and earnest, and will give their earnest attention to any business that may be entrusted to them.

Washington, D. C., News.

From our Regular Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, SEPT. 9, 1901.
The terrible calamity which has befallen President McKinley has been almost the sole topic of conversation in Washington since Friday night. The news came just as people employed in the departments were going home to dinner, and just before the shops closed for the night. There were some hundreds of people who did not go home for dinner at all.
They stood about in front of the bulletin boards watching for the latest report and discussing the news. The three great newspaper offices, the Times, the Post and the Star, all occupy buildings on Pennsylvania avenue within four blocks of each other, and that part of the great thoroughfare was blocked with people.
To one standing in front of the Treasury and looking toward the Capital it might have seemed that an actual shadow had fallen across the pathway which has been twice traversed by Mr. McKinley on his way to take the oath of inauguration. These crowds were not mere curiosity-impelled sensation-hunters. They felt a sense of personal affliction, for there has been no more popular President in the White House since its erection than Mr. McKinley has been, so far as his private character is concerned. His enemies are made by his public acts and by the party to which he belongs; his personal friends are found in all parties.

The lesson taught by this tragic event was pointed out immediately. As an energetic person put it, in discussing the first bulletin, "This means 'Round up the Reds!'" While to the masses of the people the tragedy was unexpected and unaccountable, it was not so to many astute observers of public events in this city and elsewhere. The assassinations of the Empress Elisabeth and King Humbert foreshadowed only too plainly the selection of another victim in the near future, and the United States, as yet untouched by anarchistic plots of this kind, was the field most likely to be selected for the next coup. President McKinley owed his misfortune to the fact that he happened to be president at this particular time, not to anything whatever that he may have done.

This is fortunate, since it relieves all his antagonists from the fearful odium of having suggested or encouraged any crazy fanatic to commit such a crime. The matter had been carefully arranged and planned by a society of anarchists, and the man selected to do the deed calmly did as he was told. The question is, how such things can be prevented in the future. It is futile to expect to prevent them by guarding all public men. The network of police in Russia does not protect the Czar. There is no way of shutting out immigrants which will absolutely nullify the danger.
The suggestion of a morning paper the day after the event, that restriction of immigration be the lesson which it teaches, became absurd when it was found that the assassin was born in this country. The remedy seems to be strict police supervision of such dangerous societies. They are against the law, as much as a burglars' association or a murder club would be; in fact, they are murder clubs. They should be compelled either to hold their meetings in public, with understanding that incendiary speeches will not be tolerated, or they should be suppressed, imprisoned and deported. It will not do to tolerate such epidemics any more than to let smallpox go unquar-antined.

Base Ball.
Tomorrow (Sunday) a game will be played at Haas' Park between Dietlein's clerks and the Saizan building aggregation, the proceeds to be devoted to the public square pavilion fund. Of course this will be a "hot" game—with the score something like "seven to forty-11." Both sides are confident of winning, and we suppose they will. This game promises to be very funny, and as it is for a good cause, you should not miss it. Admission: men, 25 cents; boys, 15c; Ladies, free.

The latest news from President McKinley, who was shot by an assassin at the Buffalo Exposition on the 6th inst., is very favorable, and there is every indication of his recovery. It is said that Leon Czol-goz, the assassin, has confessed that he was the tool of an anarchist plot, and several arrests have been made.

Later dispatches indicate that Mc-Kinley has suddenly grown worse.

A SPECIAL REPORT OF THE
GRAND JURY.

To the Hon. E. T. Lewis, Judge of the 16th Judicial District Court of Louisiana:—

Your Grand Jury beg leave to submit that in the matter of the violation of the Sunday law within the town of Opelousas, they find, that as a rule, the law has been strictly obeyed. The several saloons in this town on one Sunday, and one on another Sunday, were opened under circumstances which, though not justifying the act, greatly mitigated the offense. We find that on those occasions, there were large numbers of excursionists in the town and that no provision had been made to receive them, in fact, there was no provision to supply them with ordinary drinking water. Considering these conditions and the fact that the law has been strictly obeyed in all other respects, and that there is no wanton violation thereof, we have not seen fit to return a bill against these parties.

Respectfully submitted,
LOUIS MAYER,
Foreman Grand Jury.

FINAL REPORT.
To the Hon. E. T. Lewis, Judge of the 16th Judicial District of Louisiana:—

Your Grand Jury beg leave to submit this, their final report:

We have carefully examined all cases presented to us, attempting to be impartial in every instance, presenting bills only in such instances where the facts justified the course.

We have experienced much difficulty in unraveling the facts surrounding some cases, because of the covert intentions of the parties witnessing the occurrence, to shield the guilty ones. In our opinion, if the cases were investigated at once, by the officers of the ward where the offenses occurred, and the persons present interrogated as to the facts, these facts later in the interest of some guilty companion.

We have had laid before us a complaint against certain parties in the town of Melville for retailing spirituous liquors without first having obtained a license from the authorities of the parish so to do. As a result of our investigation, we find that there are two establishments in the said town where a certain beverage known as "Wietzburger" is being freely dispensed to the thirsty wayfarer. Whether or not this is a non-alcoholic drink, we have been unable to definitely ascertain. We would respectfully suggest that some action be taken to ascertain the nature of the beverage, to the end that the parties dispensing it may be compelled to take out a license from the parish, or cease such traffic. An analysis, by the proper authorities, can easily develop this fact.

We have examined into the condition of the public buildings. In examining the Clerk's office, we find that there are many of the conveyance records in need of immediate recopying and rebinding. Their present condition is a menace to the titles there recorded and may prove of incalculable injury at some future date.
We would respectfully suggest that some steps be taken to guard against this impending injury.

The Court House we find in a good condition generally and well kept, but we would suggest that the ceiling in both the court room and clerk's office should be at once repaired. The court house square should be kept clean and free from trash, and in our opinion, this could be done by the labor of the inmates of the jail.

We have been informed that it was useless for us to make any report on the condition of the jail, as this has been the special theme of each preceding report of this body; and perhaps under ordinary circumstances, we might have accepted this advice, but this is no ordinary circumstance, and we hope that our recommendation will find a careful hearing before the police jury.

We could not suggest any repairs that could possibly make this building any more comfortable and hospitable. It is unfit for occupancy, insecure and a disgrace and eyesore to our parish, scarce sufficient to retain the prisoners who would but express the desire to escape. We have consulted both the coroner and the president of the Board of Health as to its sanitary condition, and by both has it been condemned, as will be seen by the subjoined communications of the latter. We are told that for two months and up to very recently, the terrible spectacle could be seen of a young white girl scarce 18 years of age, suffering from some mental trouble, wandering about the jail yard and brought in contact with the vilest criminals.

Such conditions are unparadisaic in an enlightened and Christian community. We would ask that every effort be used to induce our police jury to ameliorate this condition by building a new jail, that the inmates thereof, whether prisoners or insane, awaiting transportation to Jackson, might receive humane treatment.

We would suggest that all persons incarcerated in the parish prison under sentence of the court should be worked on the public roads. We are informed that the Court, in passing judgment, can so order and the police jury can provide the means to carry the same into effect. We earnestly recommend that such be done.

We desire to extend our thanks to the officers of the court and especially to the sheriff and his corps of deputies for the uniform courtesy received at their hands.
Having completed our labors, we beg to be discharged until such time as your Honor may see fit to reconvolve us.

Respectfully submitted,
LOUIS MAYER,
Foreman Grand Jury.

DON'T BUY A WAGON

Until you have investigated the merits of the famous Fish Bros. Wagon

FOR SALE BY
FRED L. SANDOZ.

Here is what the manufacturers claim to be their wagon.
We use only thoroughly seasoned lumber of the very best quality—white oak for bolts, nuts and hinges, white oak—red and white oak poles.
Our axles are made of the very best selected hickory.
Our wagon is thoroughly ironed in every particular. Our axles are unusually heavy, and both front and hind axles have double braces.
