OBITUARY NOTICES, not exceeding three or four lines, will be cheerfully inserted without charge, but those of greater length will be considered as advertisements.
CORRECTIONS.—It is informed that no notice whatsoever will be taken of any communication intended for insertion, unless accompanied by the name and address of the writer—not necessary for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith.
The Law of Newspapers.
1. Publishers who do not give express notice to the contrary, are considered as wishing to continue their subscription.
2. If subscribers order the discontinuance of their newspapers, the publisher may continue to send them until all arrearages are paid.
3. If subscribers neglect or refuse to take their newspapers from the office, or removing them, they are held responsible for the same until they have settled their bills and ordered their discontinuance.
4. The Courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers from the office, or removing them, does not constitute a breach of contract.
5. The United States Courts have also repeatedly decided that a Postmaster, who neglects to give reasonable notice, as required by the Post Office Department, of the suspension or refusal of a paper to take from the office, is liable to the publisher for the subscription price.

A Victim of Intemperance.
POOR CHARLES.—Charles was found frozen to death in the street this morning. The deceased was seen intoxicated at a late hour last night.
M—Advertiser, Nov. 5.
Poor Charles.—I knew him well. Five years ago he came to M—, a fine, promising young man. The bloom of health was on his cheek, and energy and intelligence beamed from his fine dark eye. He engaged in business, and was gaining golden opinions from the inhabitants of M—, by his application to business, and quiet, gentlemanly deportment. But, in an unlucky moment he commenced drinking. "Moderate drinking will do no harm," he used to say, when he was warned against the dangerous habit he was forming; but the taste for liquor grew on him until at last, like the ill-starred mariner, whose bark once enters the rim of the fatal Malstrom, there was no escape, and every moment plunged him deeper and deeper in the vortex of dissipation.
He neglected his business, lost his situation, and his friends dropped off until he had but few, amongst which was a noble Newfoundland dog, which was ever near him—taking, without resistance, the kicks and blows which his master, in his drunken moments, showered on him with no sparing hand; and who, when his master fell in the street, kept by his side and guarded him from harm, with a solicitude almost human, until once, in a drunken paroxysm, when the faithful animal stood over him to guard him from harm, Charlie drew a knife and stabbed him to the heart. The noble brute, faithful even in death, fell, and with his last expiring effort licked the hand that slew him. The scene for the moment sobered Charlie, and he shed bitter tears over the poor dog.
The next day he came to me soberer than I had seen him for many weeks, and asked me to accompany him to his room. I complied. When we got there, he led me to one side of the apartment, and paused before two pictures, over which were draped thick folds of black crape. He drew the crape aside from one of the pictures, and exhibited a fine steel engraving, representing a wild mountain glen, a rude grave, and a dog stretched on it. Beneath it was written, "The Shepherd's Last Friend and Chief Mourner!" "I had," said he, "such a friend, and he died by my hand." He here gave way to an uncontrollable burst of anguish. When a little composed, he drew the veil from the other picture, and revealed an exquisitely executed portrait of a beautiful woman; apparently about eighteen years old. Her sunny hair clustered over her marble brow, her eyes were large, lustrous and darkly blue; a smile of happiness slightly curved her finely formed lips. "That," he gasped, "is the portrait of her I was to have married to-day." Two months ago she died broken hearted by my conduct.
After this he drank deeper than ever, until in a state of intoxication, he slept in the street one fearful night, and was found dead the next morning. Young men, beware of the tempter! Take warning from the fate of poor Charlie.

Fashionable Tailoring.
Elegant Winter Styles.
Frederick would most respectfully remind his friends and patrons, that he has just received a superior lot of fashionable fabrics, suitable for making pants, &c., for this season of the year. He is now ready to accommodate all who stand in need of his services. [May 15]

A Perfumed Breath.
What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disagreeable breath when by using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers" as a dentifrice would not only render it sweet but leave the teeth white as alabaster? Many persons do not know their breath is bad, and the subject is so delicate their friends will never mention it. Pour a single drop of the "Balm" on your toothbrush and wash the teeth night and morning. A fifty cent bottle will last a year.
A Beautiful Complexion may easily be acquired by using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers." It will remove tan, pimples, and freckles from the skin, leaving it of a soft and rosy hue. Wet a towel, pour on two or three drops, and wash the face night and morning.
Shaving Made Easy.—Wet your shaving-brush in either warm or cold water, pour on two or three drops of "Balm of a Thousand Flowers," rub the beard wet and it will make a beautiful soft lather, much facilitating the operation of shaving. Price only fifty cents.
For sale at the HOUMA DRUG STORE.

H. BONNABEL'S
BI-SULPHITE OF LIME.
NEW ORLEANS, September 20th, 1856.
THE UNDERSIGNED are now manufacturing and preparing to supply, pure and genuine Bi-Sulphite of Lime, which exceeds in quality and strength any that has been heretofore manufactured.
It is almost unnecessary to remind the planters, as they are a ready aware of the fact, that this Bi-Sulphite of Lime when properly used, serves to produce a beautiful white and yellow crystallized sugar, that always commands the highest price in this market, and the very best recommendation it can have with Western and other buyers is the fact of its having been made with Bonnabel's Bi-Sulphite, as they consider that a guarantee against any loss in weight, and are always willing to pay a higher price for it. The high repute and favor in which the planters generally hold this Bi-Sulphite is so much a matter of notoriety that it is quite unnecessary to publish here any of the many flattering testimonials received daily from those who have used it, and invariably exceeded beyond their most sanguine expectations in not only making the best sugar ever previously made by them, but also in realizing the highest prices with less loss in weight than by any other process. The many benefits and important advantages to be derived from its use are now too well established in need any further comment; but it may be well to remark that this Bi-Sulphite also possesses that strength and the qualities necessary to insure success to the planter.
The many orders already received this year from those who have used this Bi-Sulphite, without in a single instance failing, is the best of evidence, if any were wanting, in its favor. The undersigned—alone possesses all the facilities to make a pure article, guaranteed to be several degrees stronger than any other in use. There being no other manufactory in the South equal to the New Orleans Chemical Works, of which can in any way bear comparison with them, any quantity of Bi-Sulphite can be supplied at the shortest possible notice.
Very excellent barrels have been secured this season to ship the Bi-Sulphite of Lime in; they are guaranteed not to leak, and when returned they will be re-filled and the same returned to the undersigned at fifty cents per barrel. Planters who order through their merchants must be particular to instruct them to buy none but H. Bonnabel's Bi-Sulphite, and all orders must invariably be addressed to
H. BONNABEL,
Corner of Natchez and Thibodaux streets.
Barrels returned to be re-filled will be taken from the boys free of charge, and will be re-shipped at no additional expense to the planter, except drayage. 11-Jan

THE BLIND BOY AT PLAY.
BY ELIZA COOL.
The blind boy's been at play, mother,
And merry games we had;
We let him on his way, mother,
And every step we glad;
But when we found a starchy flower,
And pressed it varied hue,
A new cause trembling down his cheek,
Just like a drop of dew.
We took him to the mill, mother,
Where flowing waters made
A rainbow o'er the mill, mother,
As golden sun-rays played;
But when we started at the scene,
And hailed the clear, blue sky,
He stood quiet still upon the bank,
And breathed a long, long sigh.
We asked him why he wept, mother,
When o'er we found the spots
Where periwinkles creep, mother,
Or will forget me-not?
"No," he said, while tears ran down
"It is because I cannot see
The shining and the flowers."
We asked this poor, sightless boy, mother,
Has taught me that I'm best;
But I can look with joy, mother,
On all I love the best;
And when I see the dancing stream,
And quiver red and white,
I level upon the meadow-land,
And thank my God for sight.

How to Write for the Newspapers.
—As a general rule, short pieces are best liked. A gentleman in a bank once told us, when we asked him to subscribe for a certain Quarterly Review: "Read a review! why, I never read anything longer than a telegraph despatch!" But I will take it, and send it to my brother, who is a minister in the country." The public like a short article, when it is a condensation. This introduces a second idea. An article to be printed should absolutely have something in it. If professed argument, it should be conclusive; if pathetic, it should moisten the eyes; if an anecdote, it should have a sharp point; if philosophy, it should go to the primitive rock; if practical, it should go like an arrow to its work; if spiritual, it should awe the soul that reads it. A good newspaper style is not as easy as it seems. Its Scylla lies on the side of attempting a popular manner, and succeeded only in being more familiar than a man ought to be at his own table, or degenerating into slang, or becoming very childish. Its Charybdis yawns for those who, assuming Scylla, are determined to have real thought, pathos, and value in their writing, and so become too learned, or too fancy, or too imaginative, or philosophical, or fancy too scholarly, or cultivated people.

PROSPECTUS
SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN!
TWELFTH YEAR.

The most extensively circulated, the most interesting, reliable, attractive, and cheapest publication of its kind is the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN! It has, by far, the largest circulation, and stands by common consent, at the head of all other scientific papers in the world. Its contributors and Editors are PRACTICAL, EXPERIENCED, and ENLIGHTENED MEN, whose constant endeavor is to extend the area of knowledge, by presenting it to the mind, in a simple, attractive, and readable form.
The SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN! is printed once a week, in convenient quarto form for binding, and presents an elegant typographical appearance. Every number contains Eight Large Pages of reading, abundantly illustrated with ORIGINAL ENGRAVINGS.
At the most valuable scientific and literary stores are delineated and described in the paper, so that, as respects usefulness, it may be justly regarded as an ILLUSTRATED REPERTORY, where the inventor may learn what has been done before him, and where he may bring to the world a KNOWLEDGE of his own achievements.
REPRINTS OF D. S. SUTTON'S granted are also published every week, including official copies of all the PATENT CLAIMS. These Claims are published in the Scientific American in advance of all other papers.
Mechanics, Inventors, Engineers, Chemists, Manufacturers, Agriculturists, and People of every Profession to life, will find the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN! to be of great value to their respective callings.
"Its contents and suggestions will save them hundreds of dollars annually, besides affording them a continual source of knowledge, the experience of which is beyond pecuniary estimate."

Notice to the Public.
To counteract the slanderous reports circulated during the last few days, in regard to the quality of the BI-SULPHITE OF LIME manufactured by us in the town of Thibodaux, the following certificates have been voluntarily offered. SCUDDAY & EWING.
LAFOURCHE, November 12, 1856.
I have been told in the neighborhood within the last few days that I had stated that the Bi-Sulphite of Lime manufactured in Thibodaux by Scudday & Ewing was not good, I hereby declare the report false, and further that the article is of excellent quality. P. LORIO.
LAFOURCHE, November 12, 1856.
It affords me pleasure to state that having used several barrels of the Bi-Sulphite of Lime manufactured by Messrs. Scudday & Ewing in Thibodaux, I have found it to be of excellent quality. GEO. S. GUION.
LAFOURCHE, November 12, 1856.
I certify that I have been using the Bi-Sulphite of Lime made in Thibodaux by Scudday & Ewing during the last five days, and pronounce it a good article; the sugar made with it being very fine. R. G. DARDEN.

BI-SULPHITE OF LIME.
The undersigned having established a BI-SULPHATE OF LIME MANUFACTORY in the City of New Orleans, take pleasure in stating to the Planters generally, that they are prepared through the assistance of an experienced and successful chemist to supply a superior article. SMITH, McLEOD & CO.

AMERICAN AND ORIGINAL!
The Knickerbocker Magazine.
Edited by LOUIS GAYLORD CLARK.
THE number of January, 1857, begins the forty-eighth volume of the Knickerbocker Magazine.

Since the price of subscription has been reduced from FIVE to THREE DOLLARS a year, the circulation of the KNICKERBOCKER has been increased nearly four to one. In many places ten are sold where there was but one before, and through the year it has been steadily increasing. It is now offered as cheap as any of the Magazines, all things considered. Instead of making new and prodigious profits, we submit to our subscribers from modest and conservative views, which we might extend to a number of pages:
"The Knickerbocker has been and will be a fact of its own; a genuine living thing, all the more desirable now that the new crop of Magazines, filled with articles printed from English authors, makes fresh home created by more complete and welcome."—[N. Y. Christian Enquirer.
Rev. W. F. SHELLON, Author of Letters from the Up the River, etc., will be a regular contributor.
"The best talent in the country will be enlisted, and no expense or effort spared to make the KNICKERBOCKER more than ever deserving of the first position among our original American Magazines."
TERMS:
Three dollars a year, strictly in advance—there will be no deviation from this condition. Two copies for $5; Five copies and upwards, $3 each. Booksellers and Postmasters are requested to act as Agents. Those who will undertake to procure subscribers, will receive a variable number of late numbers, which will be sent gratis on application, post paid.
"The Knickerbocker and Harper's Patnam's, Graham's, or Godley's Lady's Book will be sent one year for FIVE DOLLARS."
The Knickerbocker and Home Journal, for FOUR DOLLARS a year.
Books of Two cents per number prepaid at the office where the work is delivered, quarterly in advance.
All remittances and all business communications must be addressed, post-paid, to

AYER'S PILLS,
A new and singularly successful remedy for the cure of all Bilious diseases—Costiveness, Indigestion, Jaundice, Dropsy, Rheumatism, Fevers, Gout, Humors, Nervousness, Irritability, Inflammations, Headache, Pains in the Breast, Side, Back, and Limbs, Female Complaints, &c. &c. Indeed, very few are the diseases in which a Purgative Medicine is not more or less required, and much sickness and suffering might be prevented, if a harmless but effectual Cathartic were more generally used. No person can feel well while a costive habit of body prevails; besides, it soon generates serious and often fatal diseases, which might have been avoided by the timely and judicious use of a good purgative. This is alike true of Colds, Feversish symptoms, and Bilious derangements. They all tend to become or produce the deep seated and formidable distempers which load the bowels all over the land. Hence a reliable family physic is of the first importance to the public health, and this Pill has been perfected with consummate skill to meet that demand. An extensive trial of its virtues by Physicians, Professors, and Patients, has shown results surpassing any thing hitherto known of any medicine. Cures have been effected beyond belief, where they not substantiated by persons of such exalted position and character as to forbid the suspicion of untruth.
Among the many eminent gentlemen who have testified in favor of these Pills, we may mention:
Prof. J. M. LOCKE, Analytical Chemist, of Cincinnati, whose high professional character is endorsed by JOHN McLEAN, Judge of the Supreme Court of the United States.
THOS. CORWEN, Secretary of the Treasury.
Hon. J. M. WADSWORTH, Governor of Indiana.
W. LONGWORTH, great wine grower of the West.
Also, DR. J. B. CHILTON, Practical Chemist, of New York City, endorsed by Hon. W. L. MARCY, Secretary of State.
Wm. B. ASTOR, the richest man in America.
S. LELAND & Co., Prop'r of the Metropolitan Hotel, and many others.
Did space permit, we could give many hundred certificates, from all parts where the Pills have been used, but evidence even more convincing than the experience of eminent public men is found in their effects upon trial.
These Pills, the result of long investigation and study, are offered to the public as the best and most complete which the present state of medical science can afford. They are compounded not of the drugs themselves, but of the medicinal virtues only of Vegetable remedies, extracted by chemical process in a state of purity, and combined together in such a manner as to insure the best results. This system of composition for medicines has been found in the Cherry Pectoral and Pills both, to produce a more efficient remedy than has hitherto been obtained by any process. The reason is perfectly obvious. While by the old mode of composition, every medicine is burdened with more or less of acrimonious and injurious qualities, by this each individual virtue only that is desired for the curative effect is present. All the inert and obnoxious qualities of each substance employed are left behind, the curative virtues only being retained. Hence it is self-evident the effects should prove, as they have proved, more purely remedial, and the Pills a surer, more powerful antidote to disease than any other medicine known to the world.
As it is frequently expedient that my medicine should be taken under the counsel of an attending Physician, and as he could not properly judge of a remedy without knowing its composition, I have supplied the accurate Formula by which both my Pectoral and Pills are made to the whole body of Practitioners in the United States and British American Provinces. If, however, there should be any one who has not received them, they will be promptly forwarded by mail to his request.
Of all the Patent Medicines that are offered, how few would be taken if their composition was known! Their life consists in their mystery. I have no mysteries.
The composition of my preparations is laid open to all men, and all who are competent to judge on the subject freely acknowledge their convictions of their intrinsic merits. The Cherry Pectoral was pronounced by scientific men to be a wonderful medicine before its effects were known. Many eminent Physicians have declared the same thing of my Pills, and even more confidently, and are willing to certify that their anticipations were more than realized by their effects upon trial.
They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action—remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease.
Being sugar-wrapped, they are pleasant to take, and being purely vegetable, no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.
For minute directions, see wrapper on the Box.
