NOTICE—Wants, for Rent and for Sale advertisements inserted in the Democrat at Fifty Cents (50) per square, each insertion.

Thursday, April 26, 1877.

The office of the New Orleans DEMOCRAT has been removed from 74 Camp street to 108 Gravier street.

The Only Authorized Selling Agents of the Democrat for the City are Messrs. H. H. BAKER and P. O. DEVEZIN.

TO OUR FRIENDS. The DEMOCRAT has just added to its office a new and complete Steam Job Printing Department.

We call attention to the meeting of the Democratic and Conservative Parish Committee advertised in another column.

The motion for a new trial in the case recently decided by Judge Billings, involving the rights of Mrs. Gaines to a large property in this city, was heard by Judge Billings in chambers day before yesterday.

The recent city election in Joliet, Ill., seems to have ended altogether unsatisfactorily, in consequence of a very proper provision of a State statute.

It is now discovered that all the aldermen elected at the last election were thus in arrears for taxes, and, in consequence, their election null and void.

Hon. John O. Moncure, who was elected State Treasurer of this State in 1874, and who is now the only man entitled to the position, arrived in the city yesterday morning with a view, we presume, of taking the legal steps necessary to establish his right to that important office.

The case of the teachers in the public schools of this city is a very hard one. The salaries of the teachers at best were small and the Board of Directors have deemed it necessary to suddenly and, at one fell swoop, lop off forty per cent of their pittance.

EQUALITY UNDER THE LAW.

We do not adopt the doctrine of the absolute equality of men with which the demagogue captivates the fancy of the ignorant and unthinking and too often excites their passions to the serious detriment of society.

We can conceive of nothing more detrimental to society than the prevalence of the belief in the saying of Anacharsis, that "laws are like cobwebs, in which the small flies are entangled, but wasps and hornets break through."

It attacks the moral sense of men and destroys that confidence in the administration of justice which is the strongest muniment of society. The conscience of every correct thinking man must recoil from the practice which confers immunity upon men in an inverse proportion to their guilt.

What this community especially needs for its purification is the exposure and, so far as it can be done consistently with the principles of law, the punishment of those who have been engaged in speculations upon the public treasury.

Among other encouraging signs of a revival of enterprise and of the spirit of progress in our city, we are gratified to announce the intention of Mr. David McCann to put in early operation the Louisiana cotton factory in the Third District, recently purchased by him.

It is to a dereliction of this character that we now call the attention of the Attorney General, upon whom devolves the duty of enforcing the law. If the criminal prosecution of the parties is no longer feasible, though some of them are probably still liable even to that, they may yet undoubtedly be required to refund to the public treasury the money which they have unlawfully withdrawn from it.

The constitution is either a superior, paramount law, unchangeable by ordinary means, or it is on a level with ordinary legislative acts, and like other acts, is alterable when the Legislature shall please to alter it.

Here, then, we have as near a demonstration as the nature of the subject admits, of the principle that the Legislature cannot change the constitution, and that any act having that effect is not law but utterly null and void.

Who are the men who have been thus false to an exalted trust and cast this deep shame upon Louisiana? John T. Ludeling, J. G. Tallaferrro, R. K. Howell, W. G. Wily, W. W. Howe and F. H. Morgan, have occupied the Supreme Bench during the existence of the illegal statute and are presumed to have drawn the money in excess of their constitutional salaries granted by it.

We have no desire to make an issue with the directors, but the cause of the teachers deserves the sympathy of us all, and we trust that the board will endeavor to find some means of restoring to them their salaries.

this matter, they owe it to themselves and to the people to take prompt and early steps to clear their reputations of the dark suspicion which rests upon them, for the guilty will be brought to justice, or at least exposed, and their future career through life can only be attended by the scorn of those who appreciate the importance of virtue in public officials and a just pride in the good name of Louisiana.

We have shown that this statute is not law and can furnish no warrant for the payment of money from the public treasury. He, then, to whom such payment has been made has received that which was not due to him.

to effect a politician's compromise of our differences by securing the election of a Republican Senator. Meeting with no better success in this than in their other schemes, they finally concluded, what every man of sense knew must be the case, namely, that the whole question must be left to settle itself through the quiet operation of the centrifugal force of the firmly established Nicholls government, and when this was done, they quietly stole away. Having achieved nothing, they are naturally disappointed and we are glad of it. Their loss is our gain.

On Saturday last there were sixteen building contracts signed in this city for the erection of new buildings. Contractors are now busily engaged in looking up mechanics and laborers. Alas, as one of the most deplorable results of the long reign of bad government, oppressive taxation and general insecurity, it has been discovered that a large number of these have been driven, by poverty and lack of employment, to Northern communities or into the country.

The city authorities are vigorously organizing the new police force, and it will be on duty, we presume, in a very few days. This is a matter of the greatest importance, and we have no doubt that special regard will be had to economy, efficiency, and the good character of the men.
