

THE OHIO ELECTION.

THE VARIOUS EXPLANATIONS GIVEN OF THE RESULT OF THE OHIO ELECTION.

The Probability of a Return of the Republicans to Their Ancient Principles, With Grant as Their Candidate for President in 1880.

[Special Correspondence of the Democrat.] WASHINGTON, October 11, 1877. "Many men of many minds" have expressed to me their several interpretations of the result in Ohio, within the last two days, and to sum up all I have heard, I should say that there never was an election result in this country in which so many diverse elements claim to have succeeded, or in which so many partisans of such various views find, or profess to find, "vindication."

"It will show Hayes, Matthews & Co. that Republican voters must have Republican principles to vote for or else they will stay at home," said one of the "stalwart" crowd to me, with evident gloze.

"It will teach the Bourbons of our party," said one of Mr. Hayes' conciliators, "that it is better to bend prejudices than break the party."

THE OPPONENTS OF THE HAYES POLICY say that the result in Ohio will force the President to abandon his present attitude and return to the ancient Radical fold.

The supporters of the Administration declare that it is their duty to follow and sustain Hayes in order to prevent a national Democratic victory in 1880.

The official returns show that from 50,000 to 60,000 voters staid at home. As

THE STAY-AT-HOME ELEMENT is the heaviest in the blindest Radical counties on the Western Reserve, there need be no doubt that most of the non-voters are Republicans, and it is safe to assume that of 300,000 naturally Republican voters in the State, 50,000 refused to come to the polls this year.

This calculation in round numbers will be found sufficiently accurate for present purposes. The conclusion is, therefore, that, so far as the President's policy was an issue in the canvass, one-sixth of the Republicans of Ohio have condemned it. Examining the returns by counties, we shall find that the most pronounced condemnation proceeded from the strongest Radical counties—mainly those of the Western Reserve, whose leading characteristics have frequently been set forth in this correspondence. We all know what this means and what it amounts to viewed from an Administration point of view.

The more violent elements of the party, the raw-head and bloody-shirt Radicals who have so absolutely controlled the party and used the machinery of its power are really a small minority in its ranks. But they are strong enough to defeat it by the use of their vote, or madly, and according to law, at the door of the court-house of said parish of Pointe Coupee, Louisiana, on the following described property depending on said succession, viz—

1. A SUGAR PLANTATION, situated in said parish of Pointe Coupee, State of Louisiana, on the right bank of the Mississippi river, measuring on said river a front of fourteen and one-eighth arpents, more or less, by a depth of sixty-five arpents, more or less, on the lower line, and seventy-five arpents, more or less, on the upper line; said plantation being bounded above by lands formerly belonging to the succession of Zenon Poreba and below by lands belonging to Mrs. Fanny Richer; and extending back to the lands hereinafter secondly described, and containing about 700 acres in area. The same to be sold together with all the mules thereon (about twenty-four) and all the farming utensils, seed cane and stubble cane, and all the buildings and improvements on said plantation, comprising a sugar-house and purgery with engine, machinery, kettles, etc., two dwelling-houses and outhouses, a stable, a barn, a carriage house, a cane shed and thirteen double cabins.

2. A TRACT OF LAND, also situated in said parish of Pointe Coupee, on False river, measuring on said river a front of eight arpents, more or less, by a depth of about forty arpents, bounded on the upper line by lands belonging to the succession of Zenon Poreba and on the lower line by lands belonging to Michel Michel and Dr. L. L. Ladrault; the said land extending back to the lands above firstly described, and containing about 300 acres in area. The same to be sold together with all the appurtenances and improvements thereon, consisting of a one-story and a two-story dwelling-house, outhouses, fences, etc.

The said two tracts or plantations to be offered and sold separately and in the order aforesaid, at public auction, on the 11th day of November, 1877, at 12 o'clock m., at the residence of the undersigned, in the town of False river, Louisiana, in the following order, to-wit:—

Terms and Conditions—One-third of the purchase price cash, the balance in three equal annual instalments, payable at one, two and three years from the day of sale; the purchaser, for said credit balance of the purchase price, to furnish his notes drawn by him to his own order and by him indorsed; said notes to bear interest at the rate of eight per cent per annum from said day of sale till final payment, and to be secured by special mortgage and vendor's privilege on the property aforesaid; the act of mortgage to contain all the usual clauses, such as the pact de non alienando, five per cent attorney's fees in case of judicial proceedings, the insurance of said sugar house on said plantation and the transfer of the policy thereof to the executor of said succession and all other customary clauses. With the privilege to the purchaser of paying in cash the whole or any part of said balance over one-third, at his own option.

Southern Shoe Factory OF JOHN HANSEN 22 and 24 Canal street, New Orleans. TO ALL SOUTHERN CITIZENS, I am of the same opinion as yourselves any one determined to help build up the manufacturing interest of our native State in order to help the laboring classes and keep the money, which would otherwise go to the North, at home, would do well to start a factory, and by using the best material and paying my hands promptly, I have been enabled to extend my business and support 300 women and children and have otherwise helped the State. In order still to increase my factory, I earnestly call upon the merchants, not only of the city, but of the whole country, to give me their aid and encouragement. G. H. WANT FOR PRESIDENT IN 1880. In the name breath they tell us that Matthews is trying to reconcile the party. But how are you to reconcile these hopes with the facts that the scheme of Matthews was at one time a source of Democratic disquietude, and that Democratic children of tender years are now being taught to pray for the reelection of Grant on the old six-act platform?

I have used the name of Stanley Matthews in the above survey for the reason that he was the real author of a scheme—a strategic change of base by the Republican party—which at one time threatened to cut the Democratic line of battle in two and otherwise to trip things up. This scheme has been followed not more because the Democrats fought well than because the Radicals of the Western Reserve threw down their arms, stole what camp equipments they could carry off—in accordance with the spirit of their ancient creed—and deserted the field.

Matthews saw the desperate attitude of his party; he sought to imitate the strategy of Wellington, to fall back, to draw the Democracy into a crusade against the really enlightened policy of Hayes, as Wellington drew the French into the defiles of Busaco, and then crush them. Had he been cordially supported by the whole Republican party there are chances that he might have succeeded—provided the Democratic leaders could have been out-generaled as Massena was.

The Radicals of the Western Reserve can have the satisfaction of knowing, now that it is too late to mend the matter, that in multishy sacrificing

THE SCHEME OF STANLEY MATTHEWS on the altar of their own benighted hates, they have blocked the only strategy which far-sighted Democrats were afraid of. They have the gratitude of the Democracy. It is the only time in their worthless lives when they ever deserved the gratitude of civilized mankind in any respect. A. C. BULL.
