A CENTRAL BUREAU.

PLAN SUGGESTED BY CONGRESSMAN FOR THE RELIEF OF THE DISTRICT.

Number of the Needy Who Cry for Daily Bread—The One Practical Question.

(N. Y. Herald.)

Mr. Ellis was found in his hotel last evening, and at the request of a Herald reporter outlined his views as far as it was deemed wise for the present. He said, "We find a natural hesitancy in many minds about giving a little. They are not able to give more, and don't know how to give what we really need."

"Such as what?"

"Well, such as flour, hams, butter, dry goods, cheese, wine, liquors, in fact, supplies of all sorts and kinds, such as we all have when we are well provided. In Cincinnati and Chicago for instance, men who have not money, but have flour, wheat, produce of any sort, can give it and have it sent by the car load or ship load to New Orleans and from there it can be distributed. Now our idea is to make New York the great centre here, and then forward everything to New Orleans because boat and car communication with the infected places is easy."

"About how many people are in literal need of daily help now?"

"There are not less than 25,000 or 30,000 poor men, laborers and so on, who are out of work and depend upon their daily labor for their daily bread. At a low calculation they represent families of four persons each. I think there must be about 150,000 persons who need constant care and attention not only for the actual relief, but for the bearing of the disease and the medicines, clothing and little comforts of the sick room."

"Oh, yes, and I feel greatly encouraged by the generous response to the appeal of the people. I spent some time at the Chamber of Commerce to-day. In fact, I have just come from there. The president and several men of means and influence approved the idea of our Central Bureau, and we shall arrange for it at once."

"On what basis do you work?"

"We telegraphed this afternoon to the Howards in New Orleans, Memphis and St. Louis for exact information as to the needs of the sick and the needy. We shall doubtless hear to-morrow, and then, with the facts before us, we shall issue an appeal which will be endorsed by the Chamber of Commerce, and I don't doubt, will get what we need. The Howards will probably do the same."

"Have you any idea of the sum in money needed?"

"Roughly, we put it at $1,000,000, and even that, you see, doesn't give any individual a great deal. It is a colossal sum."

"Has anything been said about public meetings or theatrical benefits of any kind?"

"Yes, I expect the managers of Booth's Theatre here every minute. He is now, and he has been, in the city, and he has explained what he comes."

"Do you believe the Southern people will learn any sanitary lessons from this scourge?"

"It is a different problem to solve. The fact is that cleanliness or dirt has apparently but little to do with the intensity of the fever this year. I have never seen New Orleans in a more filthy condition than it is now, and Grenada is a small town, and there is a sluggish stream running through it, on either side of which is a swamp, virtually an open sewer. There the death-rate is 90 per cent. It is simply impossible to theorize about the matter. We are faced with sickness and death; destitution and suffering follow in their train, and there is but one practical way in which we can do to help the people in their misery."

"Do you believe the coming Congress will do anything?"

"The difficulty is that we need help now; this very week, in fact, a special hour. That is the reason of the urgency of our appeal. We are not looking ahead to the winter and its troubles, but are standing in the presence and the sick chambers of poor creatures who cry for their daily bread to-day."

HAVING IT LITTLE DAY.

(Chicago Tribune, Reg.)

The new lunacy will have its little day and run its course like all other crazes. They may elect here and there a member of Congress by combinations with the Democracy in close districts, but the Elector College will not have long enough to affect the next presidential election. It will have its run like the yellow fever, and it will kill off common sense wherever it rages as completely as the fever kills its victims.

We have had a special hour. That is the reason of the urgency of our appeal. We are not looking ahead to the winter and its troubles, but are standing in the presence and the sick chambers of poor creatures who cry for their daily bread to-day."

THE SECRET OF ITS SUCCESS.

(N. Y. Times.)

The news from Maine falls flat upon the public ear. Its suggestiveness is unappreciated. Its loud noise of warning attracts no more attention than an everyday partisan squabble. This general indifference is the danger of the Greenback movement is one secret of its success.
