

THE OUTLOOK FOR 1880.

CONFLICTING OPINIONS FOR AND AGAINST TILDEN.

Political Opinions in Albany... Two Widely Different Conclusions.

ALBANY, Feb. 17.—The presidential election of 1880 begins to engage the attention of the politicians here.

One leader, whose standing is high, but whose hostility to Mr. Tilden is pronounced, says: "It is too early to settle a presidential candidate at present."

Because it does not lie within the possibilities of politics for any man to repeat the game which Tilden played in 1876.

He called around him a lot of upstart men, and he called around him a lot of upstart men, and he called around him a lot of upstart men.

"But he ran well." "No, it was not he who ran, but the Democracy. The man was infinitely weaker than the party."

"Do you think he was fairly elected?" "Of course he was. But he was too much of a coward to assert his rights and take the office."

The gentleman who thus emphatically expressed his opinion seemed to be perfectly confident that he was correct in his conclusions; but subsequently he casually confessed that the Tildenites had captured the Democratic organization in his county and would probably hold it.

"There will be a great fight in Ohio in October, with the prospects favoring Republican success. If the Democrats should carry that State, then they might make a combination with the South for the Presidency and leave New York out of their calculations."

There is a great fight in Ohio in October, with the prospects favoring Republican success. If the Democrats should carry that State, then they might make a combination with the South for the Presidency and leave New York out of their calculations.

What Uncle Bill would call it. "The boast of the Americans that this country is the refuge of the oppressed of all nations seems to be what Old Bill Allen would call a 'd-d barren ideal'."

THE PLAGUE IN EUROPE.

THE PROBABILITY OF ITS VISITING THE UNITED STATES.

Letter from Dr. Woodbury to the Yellow Fever Commission.

By recent advices we are informed that the plague has broken out in Europe. Our knowledge of this dreadful and fatal disease is extremely vague and unsatisfactory.

Our knowledge of this dreaded disease, as derived from medical works, is exceedingly limited. Dr. Attkins, in his comprehensive treatise on practice, devotes but eight pages to this subject.

A specific malignant fever which has prevailed at different times and places epidemically; attended with an eruption of a complex nature, composed of buboes, or swelling of the inguinal or other lymphatic glands, and occasionally with carbuncles, pustules, spots and patches of various colors, and distributed in different parts of the body.

The last epidemic of plague in England, termed the "Great Plague," occurred in 1665. This epidemic spread with such intolerable rapidity that in a few days it had reached London.

The epidemic now prevailing in Russia is exceedingly violent, a typical mortality in many districts amounting to 50 per cent. The latest accounts prove that the disease is rapidly spreading, and Europe may well be alarmed.

Yes. All positive men make enemies. Policies which attract the people and promote the general welfare are always carried out at the sacrifice of individuals.

One of the most important as well as most difficult duties of the coming convention will be to establish a judiciary system for the country parishes, which will supply the wants of the people.

We would like to see judges appointed by the Governor, with the advice and consent of the Senate, and for long terms, or during good behavior.

The arrest and indictment of a number of leading citizens of Caldo, Texas and Natchitoches parishes is regarded as a great outrage and calamity.

No finer relief ever was enclosed—shadines.

THE PRINCE OF WALES AS A BOSTON MILITIAMAN.

(N. Y. Evening Post.)

It should much astonish the shades of those who got up the Boston tea-party to know that a Prince of Wales is enrolled among the citizen soldiery of the three-hilled city.

It is an atrocious scandal upon this community to intimate that this city owes its growth and greatness to the Manchu, not one thousand men belong to the Chinese.

It is an atrocious scandal upon this community to intimate that this city owes its growth and greatness to the Manchu, not one thousand men belong to the Chinese.

It is an atrocious scandal upon this community to intimate that this city owes its growth and greatness to the Manchu, not one thousand men belong to the Chinese.

It is an atrocious scandal upon this community to intimate that this city owes its growth and greatness to the Manchu, not one thousand men belong to the Chinese.

It is an atrocious scandal upon this community to intimate that this city owes its growth and greatness to the Manchu, not one thousand men belong to the Chinese.

It is an atrocious scandal upon this community to intimate that this city owes its growth and greatness to the Manchu, not one thousand men belong to the Chinese.

It is an atrocious scandal upon this community to intimate that this city owes its growth and greatness to the Manchu, not one thousand men belong to the Chinese.

It is an atrocious scandal upon this community to intimate that this city owes its growth and greatness to the Manchu, not one thousand men belong to the Chinese.

It is an atrocious scandal upon this community to intimate that this city owes its growth and greatness to the Manchu, not one thousand men belong to the Chinese.

CASABIANCA.

The story told with less poetry and more truth.

A lad named Casabianca stood on the burning deck of the Orient, after everybody else had played the great act and deserted her.

He called aloud: "Say, father, say if yet my task be done, for if I don't get out of this pretty quick I'll be done myself, and done brown, too, and don't you forget it."

He called aloud: "Say, father, say if yet my task be done, for if I don't get out of this pretty quick I'll be done myself, and done brown, too, and don't you forget it."

He called aloud: "Say, father, say if yet my task be done, for if I don't get out of this pretty quick I'll be done myself, and done brown, too, and don't you forget it."

He called aloud: "Say, father, say if yet my task be done, for if I don't get out of this pretty quick I'll be done myself, and done brown, too, and don't you forget it."

He called aloud: "Say, father, say if yet my task be done, for if I don't get out of this pretty quick I'll be done myself, and done brown, too, and don't you forget it."

He called aloud: "Say, father, say if yet my task be done, for if I don't get out of this pretty quick I'll be done myself, and done brown, too, and don't you forget it."

He called aloud: "Say, father, say if yet my task be done, for if I don't get out of this pretty quick I'll be done myself, and done brown, too, and don't you forget it."

He called aloud: "Say, father, say if yet my task be done, for if I don't get out of this pretty quick I'll be done myself, and done brown, too, and don't you forget it."

He called aloud: "Say, father, say if yet my task be done, for if I don't get out of this pretty quick I'll be done myself, and done brown, too, and don't you forget it."

1879 SHADINES 1879

NINTH SEASON.

Our season's catch, now ready, is the finest we have ever produced.

The delicacy with which a luncheon or meal can be obtained (requiring no cooking or preparation) before always ready to be used, renders them peculiarly acceptable to travelers, picnic and excursion parties, or for general use.

HOWE & ODELL, 147 Reade street, N. Y.

SOLD BY ALL WHOLESALE AND RETAIL GROCERS.

A BAD FIT. A GOOD FIT. PARISIAN SHIRT MANUFACTORY.

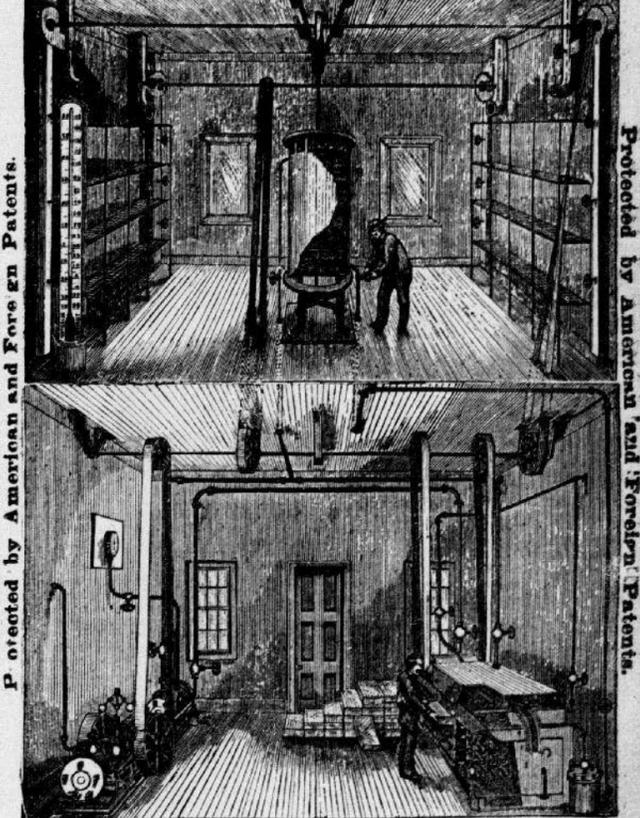

F. Gueble-Nippert, No. 20 St. Charles Street. Factory, 70 St. Louis street, New Orleans.

E. FIXARY'S Air Cooling Apparatus.

The Quickest and Most Practical Method for COOLING AIR in Buildings, Cellars, Breweries, Ships, Cars, Meat-Packing Establishments, Etc.

The freezing upon the coils of the condensed gases being constantly swept off, does away with the dampness and foul air created by the fermentation of vegetable matter or any other substance.

AIR COOLING APPARATUS.

CENTENNIAL ICE MACHINE.

Transparent ice is made by a constant mechanical extraction of the air from the freezing box and from the water contained therein, notwithstanding which, the freezing is accomplished in a few hours.

Air Cooling Apparatus & Ice Machines of from 500 to 10,000 pounds daily capacity, and are now prepared to take orders and furnish them with the fullest guarantee of their successful operation.

LEEDS & CO., Corner of Delord and Foucher streets, New Orleans, CONSTRUCTORS.

Edw. Fixary, Postoffice Box 350, New Orleans.

Full information furnished on application to Edw. Fixary, Postoffice Box 350, New Orleans.