

A DELEGATE TO BOSTON.

Mr. William Moseley, Editor of "The Republican Leader" Passed Through the City Enroute to Boston.

Mr. William L. Moseley, editor of The Republican Leader, an influential weekly newspaper in Atlanta, Ga., passed through the city this week enroute to the Business Men's League called in that city by Prof. Booker T. Washington. He goes as a delegate from Atlanta. Mr. Moseley is one of the progressive, self made young men of the South. He is a native of Georgia, but has spent a good many years in the East, particularly in New York. While not having the advantage of a collegiate education, yet by perseverance and industry he has fitted himself to fill almost any position. As the editor of The Leader he holds a high place in the esteem and confidence of the people of Georgia. He speaks in a most hopeful strain of the outlook of the South and says that if the race will pay more attention to business and less to politics that the solution of the so called race problem is at hand. In addition to his newspaper work he is Deputy Collector of Internal Revenue under Col. H. A. Rucker, and fills that position to the satisfaction of all.

WHITE SULPHUR LETTER

White Sulphur, W. Va., Special-Rev. Lowry, of Virginia Seminary and College, gave a projectoscopic exhibition at the Baptist church last Thursday night. While we were not able to see the great drama, from all reports, we are safe in stating that it was quite an instructive exhibition. We are informed that he will show here again on his return from the West.

Mr. Richard Graves is still confined to his room with neuralgia.

Meets. Edward Wood and Walter Payte who have been somewhat indisposed for the past few days are out again.

Mr. Fred Syphax who has been confined to his bed with the rheumatism is now slowly recovering.

Mr. C. H. Bullock who was the agent for The Colored American here, left last Wednesday evening for his home in Charlottesville, Va., where he will be when the Negro Conference convenes.

Dr. Wm. Naylor and family who have been summering here with his relatives will leave here to-morrow for Washington, D. C. The White Sulphur literary will have its final meeting next week; a special program will be prepared for the occasion. Out of so much good material hewed from some of our most prominent educational institutions, a far advanced program is expected. This organization has been a source of intellectual amusement for both those who come to visit their friends who reside here and those who are employed on these premises.

The White Sulphur Springs Utopian Literary Society met at the M. E. church last Wednesday evening with President R. B. Barcus in the chair. Long before the hour appointed for the exercises to begin, crowds of literary admirers could be seen wending their way to the beautiful chapel which is situated on the right side of the C. & O. railroad just beyond Prospect Hill. At 9.15 o'clock the house being called to order by the president, the devotional exercises having been conducted, each member responded promptly with adequate and applicable quotations from the most prominent authors both of modern and ancient periods which were listened to very attentively. After the reading of the minutes of last week's meeting by the secretary, Miss Tena Whippo, a program was rendered so arduous in its nature, so inspiring in its embodiment that it will be worth while to mention some of the features. Mr. H. R. Carrington favored the audience with an oration "Intellectual and moral development of the Negro" as the only mediums by which the race could rise from its present condition. Mr. Carrington presented his argument in a very forceful manner. After a charming song by the moonshine quartette, Miss Lulu Crawford of Huntington, West Virginia, rendered a recitation on "The Bridge-keeper's Store" with such grace and imitative powers that she was the recipient of many encomiums and commendations. Mr. Vernon Ward, one of the leading tenor songsters of Charlottesville, Va., became celebrated in Greenbrier county by singing the "Blue and the Gray." Mr. Clarence Lewis, the giant soloist, besides whom all other songsters are but mere pigmies, fully came up to the expectation of his auditors when he appeared on that occasion. Mr. N. Wiley read a very thoughtful paper on "The Essential Education for the Negro." The most important feature of the program was a discussion—Higher Education versus Industrial Education. Mr. Fred Syphax represented the higher training, as Mr. W. D. Brooks was somewhat indisposed and was not present; the negative side was given to volunteers, who responded timely in the defense of industrial training. The reading of the "Greenbrier News" by editor James Payne was a striking feature of the program. Prof. Scott of the Douglas High School of West Virginia also spoke at the literary last week. His remarks were quite timely. He seemed to have been deeply impressed with the manner in which the exercises were conducted, and said in substance that literary work was one of the levers that would lift the race from its present condition.

Mr. S. H. White, our professional card writer has so much work on hand until he does not think that he will be able to supply his customers as many will leave this week. He informs us though that he will send the work to them by mail. Mr. White does writing for many of the guests as well as those who are employed here. Prof. P. Sims, of Bluefield Institute is here visiting his friends on Dry Creek. The American can be obtained every week at No. 1, Paradise Row. The season here has about reached its acme and within about one week many who are now here will be at their respective homes. We are glad to state that there has been less trouble here this season than there has been for many years. This is due to the men being so very well disciplined. The chief dining room disciplinarian is Mr. J. H. Dickinson, the second Mr. Clarence Martin. The White Sulphur "Jokers" inform us that there will be a game of baseball this week between the boys who have worked faithfully and those who have worked nonfaithfully. The game will begin just about two hours before No. 2 east-bound train is due here. It is very strange to us but we are told that the contest will take place during the night; umpire, Mr. J. H. Dickinson. The "Jokers" say that you will know the rest. CLOSE OBSERVER.
