SMALL TALK.

Rev. George W. Lee will soon effect a brand new automobile.

Mrs. A. F. Hilyer's story of a trip to Paris is as interesting as a book.

Lawyer W. G. Smith of the Pension Bureau wishes to deny the rumor that he is about to resign.

All honor to that greatest and grandest living Anglo-Saxon Justice Harlan of the Supreme Court.

Dr. F. J. Webb must be sawin' some kind of wood as he certainly aint sayin' nothin' these days.

Jolly Billy Mayes! No man who has ever been his guest can say that there is nothing worth living for.

Miss Roper, a victim of the Galveston flood has been appointed to a position in Freedmen's Hospital.

It is pleasing to note that Mr. Houston is able to be about again after quite a serious and protracted illness.

Wilberforce graduates living in the city recently met at Mr. Joiner's on S street and formed an organization.

The White Ribboners had possession of the city last week. This is a great field for their labors. Plenty doin' here.

Dr. W. H. Conner and Dr. Albert Stevens set the pace as Sunday-school Superintendents—all others simply follow.

Dr. J. J. Chilcoat's recent flight into the etheral realm of poetry is another evidence of the versatility of his attainments.

It is a positive shame that there is not energy enough in all the churches of Washington to maintain a decent Y. M. C. A.

Mrs. Luella Crouse of Metropolis, Del., returned to the city recently to join her husband who is employed in the Post Office here.

Miss Mason, one of Birmingham, Alabama's most estimable young ladies is the guest of Mrs. Kelly, Langdon Terrace, 6th street, n. w.

Mr. Richard Chapman, a bright young citizen of Springfield, Ohio, is in the city, the guest of his uncle, Dr. J. G. Clayton, 1810 10th street.

Mr. H. W. Cornell and his interesting family have left the classic precincts of 16th street and are now most pleasantly situated at 1742 K st., n. w.

Dr. W. A. Warfield, assistant surgeon-in-chief of Freedmen's Hospital has purchased the elegant property at 11th and T sts., n. w., northeast corner.

As the Negro race will hardly have another colored Congressman for many years it is right up to Congressman White to distinguish himself here and now.

The lion and the lamb are strangely reposing in peace these days. Reference is had to Hon. Chas. R. Douglass and Dr. J. N. Johnson. Why is this thusly? Is the country safe?

Now is a good time to form a sort of a pair with the enemy who intends to give you a Christmas present in order to get something more valuable in return. It always happens thus.

Dr. M. A. Dumas, who resigned his position in the Pension Office some time ago has just returned to the city after a pleasant visit to his brother who is practicing medicine in Louisiana.

The arrangements for the colored inaugural ball are now on, an enthusiastic meeting to that end having been held at Hon. Dan'l Murray's last Wednesday evening to project the matter.

The average republican appointee may still be caught casting furtive but fond sheep's eyes at his McKinley button and humming softly, 'I don't know why I love you but I do—oo-oo.

None of the colored Pension Office clerks were implicated in the celebrated "Boozer's Graft." This speaks well for the morals of those young men. It is sometimes better to be right than white.

Miss Luella Brown of the Garnett Night School is making a splendid record as a teacher. The Board of Education could go a long ways and then not find half her equal for a regular position in the day schools.

That is an interesting coterie what eats around the big ice chest at the Pension Office at noons. Every phase of every question is thoroughly winnowed right there. The Jim Crow car decision holds the boards this week.

Mr. L. Pulies was recently "resigned" from the Pension Office where he had only been employed for a few months. The cause appears to have been some alleged irregularity on his part when practicing before the Bureau as a pension attorney some years ago.

One magnificent feature about the Jim Crow car law is that wherever it is strictly enforced it will secure some mighty nice people, immunity from contact with that large class of poor white trash which infects vehicles of travel where the separate system exists.

Rev. J. S. Johnson, assistant pastor of the Metropolitan A. M. E. church is a shining example to the average young man in the consistency with which he discharges his duty to the church and Sunday-school. It is sad to think how few young men can be found in such work.

Bill Pledger and Mars Bill McKinley.

One of the most jubilant men who anticipate receiving some office from the hands of Mars Bill McKinley is Hon. W. A. Pledger, who never had an idea bigger than a pea about anything involving the rights, privileges and manhood of his race. He has been after us with a sharp stick for riding in the street cars when the democrats had drawn a line of discrimination, but he appeared to be ignorant of the fact that a republican Supreme Court authorized the democrats to do it. He has no more sense than to battle with the dog's tail when the mouth and teeth did the biting. The democrats we grant, are no friends to the manhood rights of the Negro, but when they persecute, they are simply obeying the command of the republicans, and we will give Pledger five hundred dollars if he will shows us how the democrats could make these abominable laws, which they have enacted without receiving authority from the republicans or from the republican Supreme Court about which four white republicans, out of sixty million white people, have uttered a word of protest. Pledger has a respectable smattering of an education, but he knows no more about logic, or he has no more conception of first principles than a horse has of a spelling book. Pledger is a good fellow, and he means to be a man, in deed, he means to rank among scholars, and is quite a potentiality among those who know no more than he does. We have given him credit for being a man of respectable attainments, but his vapors of late have destroyed that conception, and we shall hereafter regard him as a man of very ordinary attainments.—Voice of Missions (Atlanta,) Dec. 1.
