

A FAIR BOSTONIAN.

Brilliant Social Function by Judge and Mrs. Robert H. Terrell, in Honor of Miss Therese Lee.—
Guests Who Paid Their Respects.

The most beautiful social function of the season was given at the spacious home of Judge and Mrs. Robert H. Terrell, on Tuesday night of last week, in honor of Miss Therese Lee, of Boston, recently appointed instructor of physical culture in the High School of this city. No where could there be gathered together under one roof so many beautiful young women, handsome young men, and older men and women of sterling character in a social manner, as greeted Judge and Mrs. Terrell and their guest of honor on this occasion. Fully three hundred persons came and went during the evening. The cards read "From 6 to 8," and a great many had gone when the hand on the Ionic clock in the sitting room pointed to the V and three I's," but there were a large number of young people who stayed until eleven, and tripped "the light fantastic," under the soft red lights, as Mrs. John H. Cork, played the sweet strains of the classical waltz and the popular two-step. These had remained in order to more informally enjoy the company of the guest of honor who, herself engaged in the fanciful step.

MARY CHURCH TERRELL.

The repast, and it was bountiful, was served in the dining hall to the guests of the evening. Sandwiches, oysters, cream, cake and chocolate were the menu. The table was exquisitely decorated.

The receiving party, consisting of Mrs. Terrell, Miss Therese Lee, Miss Mary Williamson, Miss Eva Cheek, of Detroit; Miss Edith Wormley, Mrs. Lottie Piper Neill, Miss Mamie Shepherd and Miss May Tyson, stood in the beautiful parlor, decorated with the works of artists who have made the world famous. There was no array of flowers, but standing at the end of the room was a beautiful Norfolk pine, majestic and serene, which added much to the appearance of the room and lent its own dignity to the occasion.

The ushers were, Dr. C. Sumner Wormley, Mr. Berkeley C. Waller, Mr. Albert Bradford, Mr. Roscoe Simmons.

Among those who were present were Mr. Bob Cole and Mr. Rosamond Johnson, the actor and composer, who were playing at Chase's Theatre. Mr. Cole and Mr. Johnson sang a number of their own compositions, to the delight of the company present.

A complete list of the guests cannot be given, but among those present were: Governor P. B. S. Pinchback, Messrs. Walter and Bismarck and Miss Pinchback; Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Tyson and Miss Tyson; Dr. John R. and Mrs. Francis; Dr. and Mrs. A. M. Curtis; Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Couter; Mr. and Mrs. John Hyman; Mr. C. F. Adams, Mr. Whitfield McKinley, Mr. John C. Dancy, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. A. Wormley, Clarence Wormley, the Misses Wormley, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Cooper, Dr. F. J. Cordozo, Mr. Robert Harlan, Miss Montague, Mayor and Mrs. Douglass, Mr. Joseph Douglass, Mr. Archibald H. Grimke and Miss Grimke, Mr. Wyatt Archer, Mr.

Robert F. Douglass, Mr. Berkeley C. Waller, Miss Mamie Shepherd, Miss Lulu Love, Mrs. Susie I. Fisher, Miss Smallwood, Mr. W. T. Ferguson, Miss Ross, the Misses Howard, the Misses Smith, Mr. Geo. H. White, Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Barber, Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Craig, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Hall, Mrs. Neal, Mr. Roscoe Simmons, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Menard, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Hershaw, Dr. and Mrs. W. Bruce Evans, Major and Mrs. Fleetwood, Mr. Clarence C. White, Miss Beatrice Warrick, Miss Johnson, Lieut. F. W. Cheek and Miss Cheek, Dr. C. S. Wormley, Dr. W. S. Lofton, Dr. C. S. Harrison, Mr. Madden, Mrs. Shepherd, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis H. Douglass, Mr. and Mrs. Judson W. Lyons, Major and Mrs. Arthur Brooks, Mr. Benjamin Washington, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Pendleton, Mrs. Maud McKinley, Mr. Lloyd G. Curly, Mr. Harry Cordozo, Prof. and Mrs. Geo. W. Cork, the Misses Wormley, and a hundred or more guests who contributed to the most beautiful social function of the year, given in honor of Miss Lee, on the 11th anniversary of the wedding of Robert H. Terrell to Mary Eliza Church, at Memphis, Penn. The honeymoon was spent at Auburndale, Mass., at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lee, and Therese, the guest of the evening, looked like this—and it was a doll. This was the placard which hung down from the mantel near where the receiving party stood. And it was historical as well as amusing—and all read as they ran,—and smiled.

CARRIED THEIR POINT.

Courageous Colored Women Place Great Temperance Convention on Record for Human Rights—Maine's Hospitality.

The 29th annual convention of the W. C. T. U., was held in Portland, Me., October 17 to 22. There was the usual large attendance of about five hundred delegates, and the intensity of their enthusiasm was in no sense abated. There were but six women representing work among the colored people, present, viz.; Mrs. F. E. W. Harper, Mrs. Frances Preston, of Mich.; Miss M. A. Lynch, Mrs. R. C. Beardon, Mrs. M. J. Hunt, of N. C., and Mrs. Rosetta E. Lawson, of the District of Columbia, national organizer.

These women were in evidence on Demonstration Night; through excellent reports rendered at stated times on program, and in open debate on the convention floor when the Committee on Resolutions reported; one having presented an amendment condemning lawlessness as manifested in various sections of our land through mob violence and anarchy, committing the convention to the assertion that no man should be deprived of life or liberty without due process of law; while another ably supported it by a ringing speech, and after prolonged discussion a third moved the previous question and the amendment was carried.

This was no slight feat in a convention composed of the best disciplined women in open debate in the world, and our women are to be congratulated for the courage of mingling their voices among those of the nation's womanhood in defense of human treatment for all.

Miss Mary A. Lynch, of Livingston College, was elected Secretary of the Press Department; Mrs. Preston recited Paul Lawrence Dunbar's ode to Ethiopia, in a way which elicited great applause, and when the time limit expired on the National Organizer's report, with one voice the audience cried, "Go on, go on!" the time occupied to finish which occupied about two minutes. The hospitality of the citizens was unbounded.

Miss Dow, daughter of Neal Dew, held a reception at the old homestead, Saturday evening; Mrs. Stevens, president of the National W. C. T. U., held open house by proxy at the beautiful home at Strondwater, three miles out from Portland, Mr. Michael Stevens, her charming husband, acting as host at the home while his wife did the honors in the city. On the day before

Grand Charity Star Concert

By the Vermont Avenue Baptist Church for the Benefit of the Baptist Home, Hamilton Road, District of Columbia,

WEDNESDAY, NOV. 19, 1902

AT THE

VERMONT AVE. BAPTIST CHURCH,

(Vermont Avenue Between Q and R Sts., N. W.)

REV. GEORGE W. LEE, D. D., Pastor.

Our Famous Violinist, JOSEPH DOUGLASS,
PROF. WM. BRAXTON, Organist Metropolitan A. M. E. Church,

The Famous Amphion Glee Club,

IN CLUB SONGS, SOLOS AND QUARTETS
Under the direction of their Accomplished Leader,

Prof. J. Henry Lewis

PROF. J. HENRY LEWIS.

Miss Addie Wormley, Washington's Leading Elocutionist in Selections From PAUL LAURENCE DUNBAR,

AND OTHER TALENT—Trustees Baptist Home, Rev. Geo. W. Lee, D. D., Rev. Walter H. Brooks, D. D., Rev. W. J. Howard, D. D., Rev. Robert Johnson, D. D., Rev. J. A. Taylor, D. D., Rev. Wm. P. Gibbons, Ph. D., and Rev. I. Toltver, D. D., Wm. L. Pollard, Esq., President Board of Managers Baptist Home.

Admission

25 Cents

Including Admission to the Church Fair now going on in the basement of the Church.

DOORS OPEN AT 7 P. M., CONCERT 8 P. M.

Tickets on sale at the Law Office of Wm. L. Pollard, 609 F Street, N. W., and by Members of the Committee. See hand bills.

convention closed he had served over six hundred lunches. Since Maine is a Prohibition State, this was the only suggestion of a "free lunch" anywhere, as no signs advertisements in papers, or any other method of dealing in alcoholic beverages are allowed.

The colored ladies of Portland tendered Mrs. Harper a grand reception, to which the other ladies were invited, and at which Mrs. Lawson made an excellent address. Mrs. Corbin Smith was lavish in her hospitality; besides entertaining one of the delegates, she had the whole party and a number of local friends to dinner Sunday.

They all say, "Long Live the State and spirit of Neal Dew!" May we soon be invited there again.

In Princeton Parade.

Continued from first page.

pleasure at the opportunity of meeting him. No visitor to the exercises attracted more attention than this representative of our people. Most of the distinguished guests were honored with invitations to lunch by members of the faculty and other wealthy residents of Princeton. Dr. Washington was invited by Mr. and Mrs. Marquand, donors of the magnificent Marquand Chapel, at Princeton, to have luncheon with them. At this luncheon many of the notable guests named above were present.

Just before leaving the University campus, Dr. Washington was notified of his election as a member of the American Whig Society, the oldest of Princeton's societies, and was requested to return at the first convenient period for initiation.

E. J. S.

SNUB FOR A SNOB.

English Tourists—Aw—that butter-milk was very nice, my dear. What payment do you expect for it?

Cottage Girl—We wouldn't be after asking any payment. Sure, we give it to the pigs!—Punch.

The Inexhaustible Diversion.
Man ranges, lest his life grow tame,
Through sports of every clime;
But Cupid plays just one old game
And wins it every time.
—Detroit Free Press.

Philosophy of the Young.
Little Johnny (after his auntie's wedding)—I know why they ain't no marriages in Heaven.

His Mamma—Why, dear?
Little Johnny—'Cause they ain't no stores up there where folks could buy weddin' presents.—Chicago Record-Herald.