

Dinner Given in Honor of Booker T. Washington, at Carnegie Hall. From a Photograph taken by C. M. Battey.

LOCAL.

Carriages at two a. m., May 16th, after the Amphions reception.

Hear them sing, "He is my friend, from my Home!" It is a side-splitter.

Mrs. M. A. Williams, of 2331 Ontario ave., has gone to Hagerstown, Md., for the summer.

THE AMPHIONS! THE AMPHIONS! THE AMPHIONS! MAY FESTIVAL! GRAND ARMY HALL! MAY 15!!!

My, my, my, I wish it was on now. I am so excited that I can scarcely wait until the day comes. May 15th, May 15th!!!

Hamilton orchestra has prepared a complete program of catchy dance music; so that there will be nothing but fun at Grand Army Hall, May 15th.

If you want to enjoy the concert, May 15th, be in your seat at 7.45. No one will be seated during the concert. So you had better be on hand early.

Grand Master, W. H. J. Malvin, of the local Masons sets a fine example of dignified private life. He holds his office in high estimation.

Charlie Champ has made a new verse to the "Jonah Man," and when he gets it off you imagine you see the whale. My, it's funny.

Mr. Alonzo E. Wheeler who has been in the newspaper business for a number of years has, it is reported, acquired quite a competence by his strict attention to business.

Mr. R. C. Hall, one of our enterprising young business men, is having a large trade as a milk dealer. He states the race are supporting him loyally in his business.

This year the Amphions give us an innovation by presenting a program of popular songs. All the latest songs will be sung as they only can sing them.

"How to spell, spell chicken" is another selection which we all delight to hear. This will be sung by the Amphions in their thirty minutes of popular songs.

It is contradicted that Mr. George W. Scott, of the Insular Bureau of the War Department, contemplates accepting a permanent civil service position in the Philippine Islands.

Mr. C. M. Brown, Jr., a well-known stenographer and typewriter of Harrisburg, Pa., was in town recently as manager of the R. Henri Strange Concert at St. Luke's Church, May 1st.

St. Augustine's Catholic Church seems to have had new life infused into it since its new organ was installed. Father Griffin and his assistants are indefatigable.

Rev. Mr. Mitchell, of St. Mary's Chapel, finds a most acceptable lay reader in Mr. Samuel Tatum, who will be remembered as one of the beneficiaries of the will of the late Nathaniel McKay.

Mr. John W. A. Smith for years an efficient clerk in the service of the District Board of Education is showing by his many premature gray hairs, the weight of official responsibility, but most certainly not of age.

Mr. Henry Johnson, of the U. S. Marshall's office, has found the fabled Fountain of Youth. He has never yet ceased to be interested in our public school system in the creation of which he was such a potential factor.

The beautiful gowns of our best girls will make a handsome contrast to the full dressed gentlemen and bea-brummels. Somehow or other these affairs by the Amphion are irresistible.

Just the thing that we have been waiting for; some place to go where we would meet lots of friends whom we wish to see and enjoy ourselves as only the Amphions are capable of providing for.

Mr. Green Slade, one of the city's leading blacksmiths, is a firm believer in industrial education. He and his two sons are all masters of their trade do a large business and are a united family.

Mr. Thomas Withers, of the War Department, for whose health much concern was felt some time ago, is now fully restored and is again living his former life of usefulness in church and fraternal work.
