

It is not as if it has no other method. According to the Republican press the principal qualification for the high office of Secretary of State consists in the fact that he is selected by me for a lesser or subordinate office for which the Republican Senate refused to confirm him. The opposition are welcome to whatever consolation or argument they can derive from that circumstance. The Democrats will wish this fall because the honest, bona fide workmen of the State will vote their ticket. They realize that whatever beneficial legislation has been had in the past has been secured mainly through the efforts of Democrats and usually against the opposition of the Republicans. The records of the Legislature prove this fact. Nearly every distinctive labor measure receives the united Democratic vote and passes with the aid of a very few Republicans, the main body of them, however, voting in opposition. Every laboring man who has watched the proceedings of the Legislature for several years past knows this to be the truth. The various third parties which have suddenly sprung up are not engaged by genuine workingmen, but by ambitious politicians, ministers, priests, lawyers and other professional men. The Knights of Labor and other bona fide and republic labor organizations have no political movements. The laboring man wants practical measures of relief, not mere theories which will take a convulsion to enter and in the Legislature of the past year the Democratic platform this fall.

DIMES FOR ANTI-POVERTY.

ENTHUSIASM CONTINUES AT THE FAIR WITHOUT THE RAFFLES.

Dr. McGlynn's Friends to Present His Portrait to Father Relly as a Testimonial—Exciting Voting Contests—Mrs. George's Bustan Hen Lays an Egg—A Financial Success and Numerous Prizes Awarded.

The action of the police authorities regarding the sale of "chances" on various articles, and the announcement that the law concerning lotteries would be rigidly enforced hereafter, have forced the management of the Anti-Poverty fair at Madison Square Garden to alter the program in many particulars. But the fair will not be brought to an untimely end. A circular issued to-day sets forth the facts and states that the goods put up for distribution by lot will be sold at auction and the proceeds divided pro rata among those who hold tickets. If the proceeds of the sale of any article exceed the aggregate paid for chances the surplus will go into the society fund. There are hundreds of articles, representing thousands of dollars in value, which were to be raffled off on Saturday next.

Five weeks ago nobody had thought of an Anti-Poverty fair. It was an idea born in one moment and carried into execution the next. The fair begins its third week to-day. Each day since its opening has added to its attractions, till the great pavilion is a wilderness of things beautiful and things picturesque. The old days when the merchants of the West and South used to make their semi-annual trips to New York to purchase goods of the great wholesale houses. The Merchants' Hotel was in those days a much larger and more pretentious hostelry than it now is, and covered the two lots next adjoining on the side toward the city. These were the days before the man with saws came into existence and went surveying through the country, selling to country retailers more goods than they wanted through the medium of his persuasive eloquence, and breaking the hearts of the chambermaids and dining-room girls right and left.

BEARS CAPTURE THE MARKET

MASTER DALLAS'S READING REPORT

IF His Decision Is Carried Out Reading Will Have the North Pennsylvania and Bound Brook at Its Mercy—Bennett's Return From Europe Starts Reports of a Cable War—Geatsy on the Street.

WALL STREET, S. P. M. The market to-day the bear again succeeded in working down the prices of leading stocks materially. First it was Erie and then the Vanderbilts, the Commodore-Bauman party making a particularly savage drive against Lake Shore. Reading and Western Union served to stiffen prices at intervals, but the spells of firmness were of short duration.

The great event of the day was the announcement that Special Master Dallas of the Reading had filed his report, in which he finds that the First Series mortgage covers the North Pennsylvania lease, confirming the position of the Wharton-Kennedy syndicate. The market reaction was carried out, however, the Reading proper would have the North Pennsylvania and Bound Brook line at its mercy and consequently it is thought that the contesting parties will come to a compromise.

THE OLD MERCHANTS' HOTEL.

A Favorite Resort Years Before the Astor House was Built.

The announcement of the sale of the old Merchants' Hotel, Nos. 39 and 41 Cortlandt street, recurred the old days when the merchants of the West and South used to make their semi-annual trips to New York to purchase goods of the great wholesale houses. The Merchants' Hotel was in those days a much larger and more pretentious hostelry than it now is, and covered the two lots next adjoining on the side toward the city. These were the days before the man with saws came into existence and went surveying through the country, selling to country retailers more goods than they wanted through the medium of his persuasive eloquence, and breaking the hearts of the chambermaids and dining-room girls right and left.

THE PETROLEUM MARKET.

The early cable from Liverpool this morning reported a firm market, with a good demand for the speculative lines, the sales at opening being 15,000 barrels for speculation and 5,000 for export, and the receipts 1,400 barrels, all of which was American. The quotations in the Liverpool spot market were 1 1/2 for middling upland and 1 1/2 for low middling. The foreign market closed for spot at an advance of 1-16 for Orleans and future sales of 4000 barrels closed steadily at the early advance, with no tenders.

A DAYS' NEWS AT A GLANCE.

Local and Suburban. The Theatre is ready to sail away to Scotland. Robert Garrett departed with his family for Baltimore. Harry Hill's steamboat Maitland is sunk at Riker's Island. The post-office at Bound Brook, N. J., was destroyed last night by fire. The wholesale removal of incompetent Customs House clerks is under way. The demands of the book and job printers have generally been granted by the employers. The Anti-Poverty Fair continues to be a big success, even the raffles are no longer allowed. Nathaniel L. McCready, the well-known merchant of this city, died at sea on the steamship Euribia. The Avonmore, the only organ of the colored people in this city, has suspended for lack of support. Policeman Smith's trial for the murder of Mrs. Jack Hussey began in the General Sessions Court. Manager Crossdale, of the Anti-Poverty Fair, was arrested for selling lotteries and placed under arrest at Paris in connection with the Caffarelli case. Phoebe Faull's brother is sued for libel by Butcher Faull, whom he accused of murdering the girl.

THE TILDEN TRUST CASE.

The Tilden Trust case, set down for to-morrow before Judge Donohue, was adjourned to the first Monday in January. The Socialist blame Capt. Relly for the outrage in Union Square on Saturday night. The State has been deliberately misled. Mr. Hatch's centennial album was published for four hours, and broke the record over that course. The Rev. Mr. Decker is publicly dropped from the roll of membership of the East Congregational Church, of Brooklyn, for his escapades in Greenport, L. I.

THE GROUND OF THE ORPHAN ASYLUM.

The grounds of the Orphan Asylum at Morning-side Park are selected as the site of the new Protestant Episcopal Cathedral to be erected with the cathedral of the city.

POLICE COMMISSIONER YORKE'S EXERCISES.

Police Commissioner Yorke exercises Capt. Relly from all blame in regard to the clapping in Union Square last Saturday night, but his dismissal will be demanded by the Socialists. Joseph Gustavus Adolphus Kidd, a colored porter for a firm of Maiden Lane Jewellers, robbed his employer of $5,000 by fraudulent means, leaving for many years. He is now behind the bars.

THOSE ELECTION INSPECTORS.

The United Labor Party's Application for a Mandamus Denied.

In the General Term of the Supreme Court to-day Presiding Justice Van Brunt and Justices Daniels and Bartlett handed down an opinion affirming the order of the Special Term denying a motion for a peremptory mandamus in the action of the United Labor Party against the Board of Police for the appointment of the fifth election inspector from that party.

In the opinion, which is per curiam, Judge Daniels says: "If the allegation that the United Labor Party was not a party to the election of 1916, and that the Board of Police had established beyond reasonable ground of controversy, then the motion for a peremptory writ of mandamus should be denied."

The Court says that the case must proceed at the earliest possible moment before a Circuit Judge who has jurisdiction to issue an order that whichever party is entitled to the writ should have them and the inspectors allowed to act and protect the interests of their constituents.
