

5 O'CLOCK EXTRA BRODIE GETS HIS GERTIE.

JUSTICE O'BRIEN BELIEVED A WEDDING TO BE THE BEST THING.

Steve Get Mother Van Allen's Consent and Commodore Gerry Said the Marriage Might Take Place at the House of Mercy - She's "The Prettiest Girl in New York."

Gertie Lord will be liberated from the House of Mercy to-day, only to assume new bonds—those of matrimony, which will bind her to Steve Brodie, the bridge-jumping sail-loom-keeper.

It was at the suggestion of Judge Morgan J. O'Brien that this disposition of the case was made.

After the argument of last Tuesday on the writ of habeas corpus got out by Brodie for his ladylove's release from the House of Mercy, Steve sent telegrams to her mother, Mrs. Van Allen, asking her to intercede in his behalf.

Mrs. Van Allen responded by coming from Albany yesterday, when the whole matter was made an affidavit to the effect that she desired her daughter to marry Brodie. She deposed that she considered this course to be for the best interest of her child, and believed Steve to be able to support her in his wife and to be a man of good character.

This affidavit was presented to Judge O'Brien in Supreme Court Chambers, this morning, and in reply to it Commodore Gerry, who presided, secured Gerry's consent to the House of Mercy, asked that the Court render a decision on the merits of the application for the release of the girl.

The society, he said, insisted that Brodie had no standing in court.

Judge O'Brien said that he did not propose to decide upon the legality of the commitment, but would simply dismiss the writ on the ground that Brodie had no standing to sue out such a writ.

The Judge said, however, that he considered the proper course to pursue was to allow Brodie to marry the girl, in view of the position of the mother. He remanded Gertie to the institution at Eighty-sixth street and North River, and Mr. Gerry consented that the lovers should be united there this afternoon.

Brodie was overjoyed at the result, and talked of a bridal tour to Philadelphia. He assured his counsel that he would never remain in a divorce suit.

"I'm going to marry the prettiest girl in New York," he said to THE EVENING WORLD reporter, and he hurried away to "sluck up" for the ceremony.

Another disappointment arose when it was found that the officials at the House of Mercy would not let the marriage ceremony take place there, it being contrary to the rules.

A hunt for a minister then began, which led not, at last, to a minister, but to the consummation of the marriage.

STARBED THE SUMMONS-SERVER. Fitzpatrick Tried Homicide Rather Than Go to Court on a Petty Charge.

"Here's a summons for you," said John E. Fitzpatrick last night to William J. Fitzpatrick, of 30 Columbia street, and the Essex Market Court to-day for having called the wife of Fitzpatrick a "damned slut."

"I'll fix you for this," exclaimed Fitzpatrick, as he drew a murderous looking knife, which he plunged into Fitzpatrick's left arm.

The cut almost went to the bone. Fitzpatrick was removed to Governor Hospital, and Essex Market Court to-day Fitzpatrick was held to await the result of his injuries.

Swallowed Glass and Died. Deputy Coroner Jenkins was requested to-day to investigate the death of nine-month-old Louis Bernier, who had died at his home, 113 Second street, after swallowing a piece of glass.

Table with columns: City, High, Low, Open, Close. Lists market data for various cities including Canada, Ohio, and others.

NEW YORK MARKETS. Wheat—Dull and declining, with the local market, and at the opening this morning...

COFFEE—Quiet and steady, with a few sales at 15.45. Other months unchanged. Sept., 8.50; Oct., 8.50; Nov., 8.50; Dec., 8.50; Jan., 8.50; Feb., 8.50; Mar., 8.50; April, May and June, 8.50; July, 8.50.

GROVER'S PRETTY WIFE. SHE TRIPS THROUGH NEW YORK TOWARDS HER WASHINGTON HOME.

The Week's Vacation and Visit at Marston Have Done Her Worlds of Good—Resy Blue of Health Have Succeeded the Fallier Noted at the White House—The Story of the Homeward Journey.

Mrs. Cleveland passed through the city this morning on her way to Washington. She left Marston at 7 o'clock last night on a special car which took herself, Mrs. Folsom, Mr. Gilder and Robert U. Johnson, associate editor of the Century magazine, to Fall River, where they all boarded the steamer Old Colony, of the Fall River line.

They listened to the music of the orchestra on the boat until 10.30 o'clock, when they retired for the night.

Mrs. Cleveland enjoyed the music very much and did not hesitate to express her approval of the selections. Her presence on board the boat created quite a commotion among the lady passengers, all of whom wanted to see her.

Supper was served to the party in the captain's private cabin.

Congressman O'Neill and wife, of St. Louis, were on the boat, and paid their respects to Mrs. Cleveland and her mother.

G. L. Connor, of the Fall River Line of steamers, took charge of the distinguished passengers while they were on the Old Colony.

When the boat arrived at Pier 28, North River, at 8 o'clock this morning, the passengers thought they were going to get off with Mrs. Cleveland; but they were disappointed in this, for after they left the boat it steamed out into the river, while Mrs. Cleveland and her friends ate their breakfast in the ladies' cabin.

When the breakfast was finished and the crowd had left the dock, the boat came alongside the pier and the party landed.

Mrs. Cleveland was dressed in a plain black silk dress, wore a bonnet trimmed with black jet and carried a shawl. She looked very pretty, vivacious and in good health. Her visit has no doubt been a benefit to her.

Mrs. Folsom wore a gray traveling dress and bonnet.

Mr. Johnson left the party at the wharf and Mrs. Cleveland, Mrs. Folsom and Mr. Gilder took a carriage and went across the Jersey Ferry to the Pennsylvania depot.

Here they took a section in a palace car, which Mr. Gilder had ordered, and at 10 o'clock were pulled off towards Washington. Mr. Gilder accompanying the ladies.

Mrs. Cleveland would see no one during her short stay in New York, but Mr. Gilder said that she had seemingly enjoyed herself very much at Marston. She needed a rest from the cares of the White House, and had made the most of this week's vacation.

The hotel, clear and bright, was reported to be in her cheeks when she left Washington has given place to a rosy color, testifying to her improved health.

Mrs. Cleveland was sorry to miss the fair of the Marston Social Club, held last evening, and she worked diligently yesterday morning writing autograph cards, which were sold by the young ladies of the club.

BURNED TO A CRISP. Grandfather Heigh's Terrible Death in a Blazing House.

SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD. PITTSBURGH, Aug. 2.—The residence of Richard W. Horn at Lake Mohogon, five miles from here, was totally destroyed by fire in the small hours of this morning.

Henry Heigh, aged eighty-five years, Mr. Horn's grandfather, was in the house at the time and was burned to a crisp. The only portion of his body that can be found to-day is one arm.

Mr. Horn was away from home and the servants discovered the fire only just in time to escape with their lives.

The fire started in a very inflammable and it is supposed he was either too feeble to help himself and make his escape or else the flames devoured him before he awoke. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Bartley Campbell's Funeral. SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD. PITTSBURGH, Aug. 2.—All fears as to the body of the dead playwright, Bartley Campbell, were quieted early this morning, when the remains arrived at New York.

Mr. Sheehan, he said, was made only temporary Secretary at yesterday's meeting, and the question of appointing a permanent Secretary will very likely be brought up.

Racing at Saratoga. SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD. SARATOGA, Aug. 2.—The races to-day resulted as follows:

Table with columns: Race, Winner, Time, Odds. Lists race results for Saratoga including First Race, Second Race, etc.

MAYOR GLEASON GAVE THE LIB. He Presents an Insignia in Court and Ferociously Asserts His Authority.

The Police Court room in Long Island City was crowded to suffocation this morning long before Justice Delehanty took his seat upon the bench.

Hundreds of well-known taxpayers were present, anxious to see Mayor Gleason worst the Long Island Railroad.

The Mayor was early in attendance with Corporation Counsel Walter J. Foster. He was quickly surrounded and warmly congratulated upon the stand he had taken.

The railroad company was represented by ex-Assaulting James S. Allen and E. B. Hinsdale, of Hinsdale & Sprague.

It is pretty evident that the railroad people are afraid to meet his Honor on the question of the legal right of the corporation to monopolize the streets of Long Island City.

This was made plain by the opening speech of Mr. Allen. He said that the first assault made upon the property by Mayor Gleason was on July 17, when he closed the gates and fences leading to the Woodhaven and Rockaway branch.

Mayor Gleason, he claimed, was on a drunken debauch at the time.

"The Mayor's eyes flashed fire as the young counsel made this assertion, and he leaped to his feet.

"You are a liar," he said, shaking his finger at Allen. "No man in this world ever saw the Mayor in the condition of liquor."

As the ex-District Attorney had a case on the calendar, the case of Mayor Gleason was adjourned until Monday next.

Before the hearing there was a very exciting scene in court.

When the Mayor entered the court-room he saw the big safe open and Chief Clerk Olwell stood in front handing over to the railroad counsel documents pertaining upon the case, which they were ordered back and forth examining and handling in a way that he did not deem right. His Honor's ire was aroused.

"I will not attend to that," was Olwell's reply.

"I will see that you do," said the Mayor. Olwell is his political enemy and has opposed him whenever he could. The safe is opened by a key which, it is claimed, should only be in the possession of the Health Officer, Conrad Distel.

Mayor Gleason settled the discussion by calmly placing Officer Cameron in charge of the safe, with orders to watch every paper that left it.

THE DIAMOND FIELD. Standing of the Clubs this Morning.

Table with columns: League, Association, Wins, Losses, etc. Lists standings for various baseball leagues.

Games Scheduled for To-Day. SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD. NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—The following games are scheduled for to-day:

New York at Boston. Boston at Washington. Pittsburgh at Detroit. Indianapolis at Chicago.

AT THE POLO GROUNDS. Cuban Giants vs. New Yorks (reserved nine). Hovey and Williams will be the Cuban's battery and a good game is expected.

Thought He Could Catch a Rattler. SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD. MADISON, Ark., Aug. 2.—Jackson Moore and John Harney, aged about seventeen years, were hunting squirrels when they discovered a large rattlesnake upon a rock, apparently asleep.

Each of the boys had several squirrels and Moore offered to wager his game against his companion's that he could capture the snake alive with his naked hands. The wager was accepted. By a quick movement he caught the rattler firmly below the head and he had his own way as he would have been executed long ago. His counsel, Mr. Ward, who was appointed by the court to defend him, said he had had his own way as he would have been executed long ago.

He became frightened and attempted to throw it off, when the rattler struck him in the neck. He swooned and his terrified companion fled to secure assistance. The nearest house was two miles distant and it was not until the poor lad was past help and dead in great agony. The snake measured 4 feet 9 inches and had eighteen rattles.

He Wants to Be Hanged. SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD. WILMINGTON, Aug. 2.—Henry Reidel, under sentence of death for the murder of his wife and child Sept. 11, 1867, does not appreciate the efforts of his counsel to save his life. Unless the Governor interposes he will hang Aug. 10. He welcomes the aid and counsel he has had his own way as he would have been executed long ago.

Holbrook Led a Double Life. SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD. ANTONIO, Colo., Aug. 2.—The remains of H. S. Holbrook, who committed suicide at Montreal, arrived here this morning accompanied by A. H. Bartholomew, who identified the body. It was found that he had $129 on his person, which was held by the hotel keeper for expenses.

Holbrook was not penniless, as was thought. For ten years he has lived a double life here and recent disclosures have caused the greatest sensation.

Clerk Link's Costly Galantry. Frank Link, aged thirty-two, a clerk living at 1426 Ninth street, accompanied Mary Smith to her domicile at 189 Waverly place, where in the house he was robbed of $65 in cash and a diamond set valued at $25.

Mary was held to-day by Justice Power in Jefferson Market Police Court for grand larceny. On searching the house an officer discovered the money in an unused alcove.

A DRAW. The Havlin-Murphy Fight Called in the Forty-ninth Round.

The Sparring Terrific and at Close Quarters. The Men Face Each Other near Peekskill Shortly After Daybreak.

The International Featherweight Championship Undecided. A Detailed Description of the Fierce Encounter—How the Men Fought and Took Their Punishment—First Blood Allowed to Murphy and the First Knock-Down Awarded to Havlin.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.) PEESKILL, Aug. 2.—Jack Havlin and Frank Murphy fought their match for the feather-weight championship and $2,000 and the diamond belt, near here early this morning. It was after midnight when the party left the city on a tug and noiselessly steamed up the river. Havlin weighed 118 pounds and Murphy also was inside the limit.

When the men entered the ring they were eagerly scanned by the spectators, and, what is a rare occurrence, there seemed to be a wide difference of opinion as to the condition and abilities of the men. By some Havlin was a favorite because of his condition and because he had whipped Jack Williams in fifteen rounds, Jack Farrell in seven rounds, and fought a draw with the "Spider" in sixty-one rounds. By others Murphy was selected to win, because he was bigger than Jack, had whipped Jim Lane in eighteen rounds on the turf, and fought a draw with Tom Jennings in fourteen rounds, both battles being in England. He also whipped Jack Williams in this country in eight rounds. Naturally the division of opinion made good betting, and even money was staked by hundreds of dollars.

When the men entered the ring they were eagerly scanned by the spectators, and, what is a rare occurrence, there seemed to be a wide difference of opinion as to the condition and abilities of the men. By some Havlin was a favorite because of his condition and because he had whipped Jack Williams in fifteen rounds, Jack Farrell in seven rounds, and fought a draw with the "Spider" in sixty-one rounds. By others Murphy was selected to win, because he was bigger than Jack, had whipped Jim Lane in eighteen rounds on the turf, and fought a draw with Tom Jennings in fourteen rounds, both battles being in England. He also whipped Jack Williams in this country in eight rounds. Naturally the division of opinion made good betting, and even money was staked by hundreds of dollars.

When the men entered the ring they were eagerly scanned by the spectators, and, what is a rare occurrence, there seemed to be a wide difference of opinion as to the condition and abilities of the men. By some Havlin was a favorite because of his condition and because he had whipped Jack Williams in fifteen rounds, Jack Farrell in seven rounds, and fought a draw with the "Spider" in sixty-one rounds. By others Murphy was selected to win, because he was bigger than Jack, had whipped Jim Lane in eighteen rounds on the turf, and fought a draw with Tom Jennings in fourteen rounds, both battles being in England. He also whipped Jack Williams in this country in eight rounds. Naturally the division of opinion made good betting, and even money was staked by hundreds of dollars.

When the men entered the ring they were eagerly scanned by the spectators, and, what is a rare occurrence, there seemed to be a wide difference of opinion as to the condition and abilities of the men. By some Havlin was a favorite because of his condition and because he had whipped Jack Williams in fifteen rounds, Jack Farrell in seven rounds, and fought a draw with the "Spider" in sixty-one rounds. By others Murphy was selected to win, because he was bigger than Jack, had whipped Jim Lane in eighteen rounds on the turf, and fought a draw with Tom Jennings in fourteen rounds, both battles being in England. He also whipped Jack Williams in this country in eight rounds. Naturally the division of opinion made good betting, and even money was staked by hundreds of dollars.

When the men entered the ring they were eagerly scanned by the spectators, and, what is a rare occurrence, there seemed to be a wide difference of opinion as to the condition and abilities of the men. By some Havlin was a favorite because of his condition and because he had whipped Jack Williams in fifteen rounds, Jack Farrell in seven rounds, and fought a draw with the "Spider" in sixty-one rounds. By others Murphy was selected to win, because he was bigger than Jack, had whipped Jim Lane in eighteen rounds on the turf, and fought a draw with Tom Jennings in fourteen rounds, both battles being in England. He also whipped Jack Williams in this country in eight rounds. Naturally the division of opinion made good betting, and even money was staked by hundreds of dollars.

When the men entered the ring they were eagerly scanned by the spectators, and, what is a rare occurrence, there seemed to be a wide difference of opinion as to the condition and abilities of the men. By some Havlin was a favorite because of his condition and because he had whipped Jack Williams in fifteen rounds, Jack Farrell in seven rounds, and fought a draw with the "Spider" in sixty-one rounds. By others Murphy was selected to win, because he was bigger than Jack, had whipped Jim Lane in eighteen rounds on the turf, and fought a draw with Tom Jennings in fourteen rounds, both battles being in England. He also whipped Jack Williams in this country in eight rounds. Naturally the division of opinion made good betting, and even money was staked by hundreds of dollars.

When the men entered the ring they were eagerly scanned by the spectators, and, what is a rare occurrence, there seemed to be a wide difference of opinion as to the condition and abilities of the men. By some Havlin was a favorite because of his condition and because he had whipped Jack Williams in fifteen rounds, Jack Farrell in seven rounds, and fought a draw with the "Spider" in sixty-one rounds. By others Murphy was selected to win, because he was bigger than Jack, had whipped Jim Lane in eighteen rounds on the turf, and fought a draw with Tom Jennings in fourteen rounds, both battles being in England. He also whipped Jack Williams in this country in eight rounds. Naturally the division of opinion made good betting, and even money was staked by hundreds of dollars.

When the men entered the ring they were eagerly scanned by the spectators, and, what is a rare occurrence, there seemed to be a wide difference of opinion as to the condition and abilities of the men. By some Havlin was a favorite because of his condition and because he had whipped Jack Williams in fifteen rounds, Jack Farrell in seven rounds, and fought a draw with the "Spider" in sixty-one rounds. By others Murphy was selected to win, because he was bigger than Jack, had whipped Jim Lane in eighteen rounds on the turf, and fought a draw with Tom Jennings in fourteen rounds, both battles being in England. He also whipped Jack Williams in this country in eight rounds. Naturally the division of opinion made good betting, and even money was staked by hundreds of dollars.

When the men entered the ring they were eagerly scanned by the spectators, and, what is a rare occurrence, there seemed to be a wide difference of opinion as to the condition and abilities of the men. By some Havlin was a favorite because of his condition and because he had whipped Jack Williams in fifteen rounds, Jack Farrell in seven rounds, and fought a draw with the "Spider" in sixty-one rounds. By others Murphy was selected to win, because he was bigger than Jack, had whipped Jim Lane in eighteen rounds on the turf, and fought a draw with Tom Jennings in fourteen rounds, both battles being in England. He also whipped Jack Williams in this country in eight rounds. Naturally the division of opinion made good betting, and even money was staked by hundreds of dollars.

When the men entered the ring they were eagerly scanned by the spectators, and, what is a rare occurrence, there seemed to be a wide difference of opinion as to the condition and abilities of the men. By some Havlin was a favorite because of his condition and because he had whipped Jack Williams in fifteen rounds, Jack Farrell in seven rounds, and fought a draw with the "Spider" in sixty-one rounds. By others Murphy was selected to win, because he was bigger than Jack, had whipped Jim Lane in eighteen rounds on the turf, and fought a draw with Tom Jennings in fourteen rounds, both battles being in England. He also whipped Jack Williams in this country in eight rounds. Naturally the division of opinion made good betting, and even money was staked by hundreds of dollars.

When the men entered the ring they were eagerly scanned by the spectators, and, what is a rare occurrence, there seemed to be a wide difference of opinion as to the condition and abilities of the men. By some Havlin was a favorite because of his condition and because he had whipped Jack Williams in fifteen rounds, Jack Farrell in seven rounds, and fought a draw with the "Spider" in sixty-one rounds. By others Murphy was selected to win, because he was bigger than Jack, had whipped Jim Lane in eighteen rounds on the turf, and fought a draw with Tom Jennings in fourteen rounds, both battles being in England. He also whipped Jack Williams in this country in eight rounds. Naturally the division of opinion made good betting, and even money was staked by hundreds of dollars.

When the men entered the ring they were eagerly scanned by the spectators, and, what is a rare occurrence, there seemed to be a wide difference of opinion as to the condition and abilities of the men. By some Havlin was a favorite because of his condition and because he had whipped Jack Williams in fifteen rounds, Jack Farrell in seven rounds, and fought a draw with the "Spider" in sixty-one rounds. By others Murphy was selected to win, because he was bigger than Jack, had whipped Jim Lane in eighteen rounds on the turf, and fought a draw with Tom Jennings in fourteen rounds, both battles being in England. He also whipped Jack Williams in this country in eight rounds. Naturally the division of opinion made good betting, and even money was staked by hundreds of dollars.

When the men entered the ring they were eagerly scanned by the spectators, and, what is a rare occurrence, there seemed to be a wide difference of opinion as to the condition and abilities of the men. By some Havlin was a favorite because of his condition and because he had whipped Jack Williams in fifteen rounds, Jack Farrell in seven rounds, and fought a draw with the "Spider" in sixty-one rounds. By others Murphy was selected to win, because he was bigger than Jack, had whipped Jim Lane in eighteen rounds on the turf, and fought a draw with Tom Jennings in fourteen rounds, both battles being in England. He also whipped Jack Williams in this country in eight rounds. Naturally the division of opinion made good betting, and even money was staked by hundreds of dollars.

When the men entered the ring they were eagerly scanned by the spectators, and, what is a rare occurrence, there seemed to be a wide difference of opinion as to the condition and abilities of the men. By some Havlin was a favorite because of his condition and because he had whipped Jack Williams in fifteen rounds, Jack Farrell in seven rounds, and fought a draw with the "Spider" in sixty-one rounds. By others Murphy was selected to win, because he was bigger than Jack, had whipped Jim Lane in eighteen rounds on the turf, and fought a draw with Tom Jennings in fourteen rounds, both battles being in England. He also whipped Jack Williams in this country in eight rounds. Naturally the division of opinion made good betting, and even money was staked by hundreds of dollars.

When the men entered the ring they were eagerly scanned by the spectators, and, what is a rare occurrence, there seemed to be a wide difference of opinion as to the condition and abilities of the men. By some Havlin was a favorite because of his condition and because he had whipped Jack Williams in fifteen rounds, Jack Farrell in seven rounds, and fought a draw with the "Spider" in sixty-one rounds. By others Murphy was selected to win, because he was bigger than Jack, had whipped Jim Lane in eighteen rounds on the turf, and fought a draw with Tom Jennings in fourteen rounds, both battles being in England. He also whipped Jack Williams in this country in eight rounds. Naturally the division of opinion made good betting, and even money was staked by hundreds of dollars.

When the men entered the ring they were eagerly scanned by the spectators, and, what is a rare occurrence, there seemed to be a wide difference of opinion as to the condition and abilities of the men. By some Havlin was a favorite because of his condition and because he had whipped Jack Williams in fifteen rounds, Jack Farrell in seven rounds, and fought a draw with the "Spider" in sixty-one rounds. By others Murphy was selected to win, because he was bigger than Jack, had whipped Jim Lane in eighteen rounds on the turf, and fought a draw with Tom Jennings in fourteen rounds, both battles being in England. He also whipped Jack Williams in this country in eight rounds. Naturally the division of opinion made good betting, and even money was staked by hundreds of dollars.

When the men entered the ring they were eagerly scanned by the spectators, and, what is a rare occurrence, there seemed to be a wide difference of opinion as to the condition and abilities of the men. By some Havlin was a favorite because of his condition and because he had whipped Jack Williams in fifteen rounds, Jack Farrell in seven rounds, and fought a draw with the "Spider" in sixty-one rounds. By others Murphy was selected to win, because he was bigger than Jack, had whipped Jim Lane in eighteen rounds on the turf, and fought a draw with Tom Jennings in fourteen rounds, both battles being in England. He also whipped Jack Williams in this country in eight rounds. Naturally the division of opinion made good betting, and even money was staked by hundreds of dollars.

When the men entered the ring they were eagerly scanned by the spectators, and, what is a rare occurrence, there seemed to be a wide difference of opinion as to the condition and abilities of the men. By some Havlin was a favorite because of his condition and because he had whipped Jack Williams in fifteen rounds, Jack Farrell in seven rounds, and fought a draw with the "Spider" in sixty-one rounds. By others Murphy was selected to win, because he was bigger than Jack, had whipped Jim Lane in eighteen rounds on the turf, and fought a draw with Tom Jennings in fourteen rounds, both battles being in England. He also whipped Jack Williams in this country in eight rounds. Naturally the division of opinion made good betting, and even money was staked by hundreds of dollars.

When the men entered the ring they were eagerly scanned by the spectators, and, what is a rare occurrence, there seemed to be a wide difference of opinion as to the condition and abilities of the men. By some Havlin was a favorite because of his condition and because he had whipped Jack Williams in fifteen rounds, Jack Farrell in seven rounds, and fought a draw with the "Spider" in sixty-one rounds. By others Murphy was selected to win, because he was bigger than Jack, had whipped Jim Lane in eighteen rounds on the turf, and fought a draw with Tom Jennings in fourteen rounds, both battles being in England. He also whipped Jack Williams in this country in eight rounds. Naturally the division of opinion made good betting, and even money was staked by hundreds of dollars.

When the men entered the ring they were eagerly scanned by the spectators, and, what is a rare occurrence, there seemed to be a wide difference of opinion as to the condition and abilities of the men. By some Havlin was a favorite because of his condition and because he had whipped Jack Williams in fifteen rounds, Jack Farrell in seven rounds, and fought a draw with the "Spider" in sixty-one rounds. By others Murphy was selected to win, because he was bigger than Jack, had whipped Jim Lane in eighteen rounds on the turf, and fought a draw with Tom Jennings in fourteen rounds, both battles being in England. He also whipped Jack Williams in this country in eight rounds. Naturally the division of opinion made good betting, and even money was staked by hundreds of dollars.

When the men entered the ring they were eagerly scanned by the spectators, and, what is a rare occurrence, there seemed to be a wide difference of opinion as to the condition and abilities of the men. By some Havlin was a favorite because of his condition and because he had whipped Jack Williams in fifteen rounds, Jack Farrell in seven rounds, and fought a draw with the "Spider" in sixty-one rounds. By others Murphy was selected to win, because he was bigger than Jack, had whipped Jim Lane in eighteen rounds on the turf, and fought a draw with Tom Jennings in fourteen rounds, both battles being in England. He also whipped Jack Williams in this country in eight rounds. Naturally the division of opinion made good betting, and even money was staked by hundreds of dollars.

When the men entered the ring they were eagerly scanned by the spectators, and, what is a rare occurrence, there seemed to be a wide difference of opinion as to the condition and abilities of the men. By some Havlin was a favorite because of his condition and because he had whipped Jack Williams in fifteen rounds, Jack Farrell in seven rounds, and fought a draw with the "Spider" in sixty-one rounds. By others Murphy was selected to win, because he was bigger than Jack, had whipped Jim Lane in eighteen rounds on the turf, and fought a draw with Tom Jennings in fourteen rounds, both battles being in England. He also whipped Jack Williams in this country in eight rounds. Naturally the division of opinion made good betting, and even money was staked by hundreds of dollars.

When the men entered the ring they were eagerly scanned by the spectators, and, what is a rare occurrence, there seemed to be a wide difference of opinion as to the condition and abilities of the men. By some Havlin was a favorite because of his condition and because he had whipped Jack Williams in fifteen rounds, Jack Farrell in seven rounds, and fought a draw with the "Spider" in sixty-one rounds. By others Murphy was selected to win, because he was bigger than Jack, had whipped Jim Lane in eighteen rounds on the turf, and fought a draw with Tom Jennings in fourteen rounds, both battles being in England. He also whipped Jack Williams in this country in eight rounds. Naturally the division of opinion made good betting, and even money was staked by hundreds of dollars.

When the men entered the ring they were eagerly scanned by the spectators, and, what is a rare occurrence, there seemed to be a wide difference of opinion as to the condition and abilities of the men. By some Havlin was a favorite because of his condition and because he had whipped Jack Williams in fifteen rounds, Jack Farrell in seven rounds, and fought a draw with the "Spider" in sixty-one rounds. By others Murphy was selected to win, because he was bigger than Jack, had whipped Jim Lane in eighteen rounds on the turf, and fought a draw with Tom Jennings in fourteen rounds, both battles being in England. He also whipped Jack Williams in this country in eight rounds. Naturally the division of opinion made good betting, and even money was staked by hundreds of dollars.

When the men entered the ring they were eagerly scanned by the spectators, and, what is a rare occurrence, there seemed to be a wide difference of opinion as to the condition and abilities of the men. By some Havlin was a favorite because of his condition and because he had whipped Jack Williams in fifteen rounds, Jack Farrell in seven rounds, and fought a draw with the "Spider" in sixty-one rounds. By others Murphy was selected to win, because he was bigger than Jack, had whipped Jim Lane in eighteen rounds on the turf, and fought a draw with Tom Jennings in fourteen rounds, both battles being in England. He also whipped Jack Williams in this country in eight rounds. Naturally the division of opinion made good betting, and even money was staked by hundreds of dollars.

A DRAW. The Havlin-Murphy Fight Called in the Forty-ninth Round.

The Sparring Terrific and at Close Quarters. The Men Face Each Other near Peekskill Shortly After Daybreak.

The International Featherweight Championship Undecided. A Detailed Description of the Fierce Encounter—How the Men Fought and Took Their Punishment—First Blood Allowed to Murphy and the First Knock-Down Awarded to Havlin.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.) PEESKILL, Aug. 2.—Jack Havlin and Frank Murphy fought their match for the feather-weight championship and $2,000 and the diamond belt, near here early this morning. It was after midnight when the party left the city on a tug and noiselessly steamed up the river. Havlin weighed 118 pounds and Murphy also was inside the limit.

When the men entered the ring they were eagerly scanned by the spectators, and, what is a rare occurrence, there seemed to be a wide difference of opinion as to the condition and abilities of the men. By some Havlin was a favorite because of his condition and because he had whipped Jack Williams in fifteen rounds, Jack Farrell in seven rounds, and fought a draw with the "Spider" in sixty-one rounds. By others Murphy was selected to win, because he was bigger than Jack, had whipped Jim Lane in eighteen rounds on the turf, and fought a draw with Tom Jennings in fourteen rounds, both battles being in England. He also whipped Jack Williams in this country in eight rounds. Naturally the division of opinion made good betting, and even money was staked by hundreds of dollars.

When the men entered the ring they were eagerly scanned by the spectators, and, what is a rare occurrence, there seemed to be a wide difference of opinion as to the condition and abilities of the men. By some Havlin was a favorite because of his condition and because he had whipped Jack Williams in fifteen rounds, Jack Farrell in seven rounds, and fought a draw with the "Spider" in sixty-one rounds. By others Murphy was selected to win, because he was bigger than Jack, had whipped Jim Lane in eighteen rounds on the turf, and fought a draw with Tom Jennings in fourteen rounds, both battles being in England. He also whipped Jack Williams in this country in eight rounds. Naturally the division of opinion made good betting, and even money was staked by hundreds of dollars.

When the men entered the ring they were eagerly scanned by the spectators, and, what is a rare occurrence, there seemed to be a wide difference of opinion as to the condition and abilities of the men. By some Havlin was a favorite because of his condition and because he had whipped Jack Williams in fifteen rounds, Jack Farrell in seven rounds, and fought a draw with the "Spider" in sixty-one rounds. By others Murphy was selected to win, because he was bigger than Jack, had whipped Jim Lane in eighteen rounds on the turf, and fought a draw with Tom Jennings in fourteen rounds, both battles being in England. He also whipped Jack Williams in this country in eight rounds. Naturally the division of opinion made good betting, and even money was staked by hundreds of dollars.

When the men entered the ring they were eagerly scanned by the spectators, and, what is a rare occurrence, there seemed to be a wide difference of opinion as to the condition and abilities of the men. By some Havlin was a favorite because of his condition and because he had whipped Jack Williams in fifteen rounds, Jack Farrell in seven rounds, and fought a draw with the "Spider" in sixty-one rounds. By others Murphy was selected to win, because he was bigger than Jack, had whipped Jim Lane in eighteen rounds on the turf, and fought a draw with Tom Jennings in fourteen rounds, both battles being in England. He also whipped Jack Williams in this country in eight rounds. Naturally the division of opinion made good betting, and even money was staked by hundreds of dollars.

When the men entered the ring they were eagerly scanned by the spectators, and, what is a rare occurrence, there seemed to be a wide difference of opinion as to the condition and abilities of the men. By some Havlin was a favorite because of his condition and because he had whipped Jack Williams in fifteen rounds, Jack Farrell in seven rounds, and fought a draw with the "Spider" in sixty-one rounds. By others Murphy was selected to win, because he was bigger than Jack, had whipped Jim Lane in eighteen rounds on the turf, and fought a draw with Tom Jennings in fourteen rounds, both battles being in England. He also whipped Jack Williams in this country in eight rounds. Naturally the division of opinion made good betting, and even money was staked by hundreds of dollars.

When the men entered the ring they were eagerly scanned by the spectators, and, what is a rare occurrence, there seemed to be a wide difference of opinion as to the condition and abilities of the men. By some Havlin was a favorite because of his condition and because he had whipped Jack Williams in fifteen rounds, Jack Farrell in seven rounds, and fought a draw with the "Spider" in sixty-one rounds. By others Murphy was selected to win, because he was bigger than Jack, had whipped Jim Lane in eighteen rounds on the turf, and fought a draw with Tom Jennings in fourteen rounds, both battles being in England. He also whipped Jack Williams in this country in eight rounds. Naturally the division of opinion made good betting, and even money was staked by hundreds of dollars.

When the men entered the ring they were eagerly scanned by the spectators, and, what is a rare occurrence, there seemed to be a wide difference of opinion as to the condition