

A RIVAL POLO GROUND
OVER FOUR THOUSAND PEOPLE
FOLLOWED THE GREAT BALL GAME
YESTERDAY ON OUR
NOVEL DIAMOND BULLETIN.
READ "THE EVENING WORLD."

PRICE ONE CENT.

LAST EDITION.

WRIGHT SANFORD IS DEAD.

THE KINDLY AND POPULAR CLUBMAN PASSED AWAY THIS MORNING.

His Death Came Like a Falling Star. Natural Slumber. The Tribute of a Close Friend. Mr. Sanford's Cheerfulness in Long Sickness. A Sketch of the Tranquil Career Now Finished.

After many weeks of lingering illness, cheerful at all times despite his knowledge of the fact that his ultimate recovery was an impossibility, Wright Sanford, a "prince of good fellows," breathed his last in his apartment in the Gilsey House this morning.

He had been unconscious for the greater part of the night, and died while in that state, quietly and peacefully, as if he were passing into natural slumber.

When Dr. Curtis visited him last evening, the sick man was apparently feeling better; but shortly after midnight a change in his condition was noted, and he died peacefully again this morning, he announced that death was only a question of a few hours.

At 9 o'clock the end came. It is said that Mr. Wright, at the signs of consumption began to show himself, and at the advice of his friends, Mr. Sanford took a trip to the Adirondacks, but not feeling better, he returned to his apartment at the Gilsey House.

About four weeks ago he went out into the street for the last time, and after a short walk returned to the hotel, never to leave it again alive.

Mr. Sanford's brother, E. Harrison Sanford and his family, have been unremitting in their attendance upon the sick man. Another brother, W. H. Sanford, who lives in the Springs, was informed of the death, as were three nephews and two nieces, who are scattered in various parts of the country.

His sister, Mrs. M. M. Sanford, one of the dead man's most intimate friends, and a man never lived like him. He was indeed "one of Nature's noblemen." Many charitable deeds have been done by him, which even his most intimate friends were not aware of. His reputation for generosity and good-heartedness was world-renowned, and no one could speak ill of him.

His family, who are now in the city, find an echo in the heart of every one who has ever come in contact with his object.

Wright Sanford was born in Brooklyn in 1822 and was graduated from Harvard College in 1846. At about the time of his graduation he inherited $1,000,000 from his grandfather, who was a market gardener in Brooklyn's early days. The money was placed in the hands of trustees, whose duty it was to give the legatee the income from the estate and the estate itself in installments five years apart until the year 1900.

It is said that Mr. Sanford would use his wealth in business investments or in any commercial operations were disappointed. He not only spent his income, which for a long time amounted to $50,000 per annum, but he also spent it with regard to the principal. Lately his income has not been more than $15,000 a year, which, it is said, caused him a great deal of annoyance.

Mr. Sanford was a member of the prominent clubman in New York City within the last twenty-five years. He was also a well-known "first-nighter" at most of the best theatres. He was a great friend of the late Lester Wallace.

Mr. Sanford's versatility in the matter of accomplishments, as well as his wealth, made him very popular socially. He could sing, dance, fence, play billiard, and was an expert athlete, played an expert billiard game and was especially proud of his ability in cooking. The clubs in which he held membership were the Union Club, the Knickerbocker, the New York Yacht, the Jersey Athletic, Calumet, New York Yacht, Turf and Lambs.

Electrically Burst Out of a Manhole. BOSTON, Oct. 19.—A manhole in the centre of Washington street, at the corner of Essex, last night, a huge flame rose towards the sky, blinding in its effects and terrific in its force. It burned with a height of thirty feet above the ground, fell through the heavy plate glass window in Sage's trunk store, and was reported like that following the discharge of a cannon, caused by the manhole where thousands of electric charges were accumulated, owned by the Edison Electric Light Company are. No one was hurt.

Big Blow to the Pig Lead Trust. (SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.) CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—An unsuccessful attempt to maintain the gigantic Pig-Lead Trust has resulted in the failure of Nathan Corwith & Co., and with the failure of the trust, the market for pig lead has advanced to a point where it is now selling at a profit of $100,000,000.

As Organ-Grinders' Wealth. Angelo Barrolo, an Italian, who plays an organ in the streets, had Maggie Foggy, a sixteen-year-old girl, arranged in the Tombs Court today on a charge of stealing $30 from him. He said he went into a Park street saloon to get a drink, when she stole his money and took the money from his pocket. It was found on her, he admitted. Maggie was held for trial.

No Unknowns Busted the Old Man. Augustus and Frank Foggy, of 9 Avenue B, were commiserated against their father, Jacob, at Essex Market this morning.

It Costs to Intercept Free Speech. There was a political meeting at 102 East Broadway, and Michael Lambert thought it would be best to break up the gathering. He and several other hoodlums tried to carry out the idea. Lambert was fined $10 at Essex Market for his part of the fun.

LAST EDITION.

DEATH AT A SWITCH.

Two Killed and Many Hurt on the B. and O.

Accident to a West-Bound Express at Washington, Pa.

This Is the Fourth Railroad Horror in Pennsylvania Within a Week.

Several New Yorkers Among Those Who Are Seriously Injured.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.) PITTSBURGH, Oct. 19.—About forty miles from here, near Little Washington, at an early hour this morning the Baltimore and Ohio express train was wrecked.

The train was the west-bound express and it dashed into an open switch while running twenty miles an hour.

The baggage-car and two sleeping cars were piled up in a heap.

The killed are: JAMES NEWELL, of Wheeling, W. Va. JAMES NOONAN, of the engineering. ALBION BROWN, of the engineering. JAMES McCLURE, of the engineering. J. F. HENRY, baggage-master. C. S. CARR, baggage-master. N. Y. M. STANTON, baggage-master. J. S. SIKEL, Altoona City, Superintendent of the Pittsburgh Post-Office.

J. S. DOWLER, 213 East Fifth street, New York. A. L. BROWN, St. James place, Brooklyn. New York. J. S. SIKEL, Altoona City, Superintendent of the Pittsburgh Post-Office. Sleeping Car Conductor Matthews and Porter Ford were slightly injured.

KILLED AND ROBBED OF $20,000. Paymaster McClure Murdered by Three Masked Men Near Wilkesbarre.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.) WILKESBARRE, Pa., Oct. 19.—Alexander McClure, paymaster for Contractor McPadden, who is building a branch road for the Lehigh Valley Railroad, was on his way to the work this morning accompanied by a body guard.

He had $20,000 with him to pay the men. He was shot by three masked men in a bush. His body guard was also murdered.

The horses were killed, too. All the money is missing. Three Italians are accused of the murder and robbery.

There was great excitement and a posse is now in pursuit of the murderers. The tragedy took place on the mountain near here.

SUING THE CASINO. Grant & Ward's Receiver Trying to Recover on a Neglected Coupon.

The $100,000 mortgage on the Casino Theatre was paid last April.

It was made to secure the bonds of the New York Concert Company. These bonds were for $1,000 each, with quarterly coupons of $15 each.

Grant and Ward were holders of twelve of these bonds, and they forgot, or at least failed, to call the coupons in January and again in April, 1884, although there was a deposit in the Marine Bank to be devoted to paying the coupons.

The bank failed in May, 1884, when there was $3,400 to the credit of the New York Concert Company in its vaults.

Julien T. Davies was afterwards appointed receiver to Grant & Ward, and now he sues the Concert Company for the amount of these coupons, $360, and interest.

Handsome Justice Lawrence is trying the case in Supreme court, a jury having been impaneled. The case will be heard again in April, 1885, although there was a deposit in the Marine Bank to be devoted to paying the coupons.

The bank failed in May, 1884, when there was $3,400 to the credit of the New York Concert Company in its vaults. Julien T. Davies was afterwards appointed receiver to Grant & Ward, and now he sues the Concert Company for the amount of these coupons, $360, and interest.

LAST EDITION.

DEATH AT A SWITCH.

Two Killed and Many Hurt on the B. and O.

Accident to a West-Bound Express at Washington, Pa.

This Is the Fourth Railroad Horror in Pennsylvania Within a Week.

Several New Yorkers Among Those Who Are Seriously Injured.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.) PITTSBURGH, Oct. 19.—About forty miles from here, near Little Washington, at an early hour this morning the Baltimore and Ohio express train was wrecked.

The train was the west-bound express and it dashed into an open switch while running twenty miles an hour.

The baggage-car and two sleeping cars were piled up in a heap.

The killed are: JAMES NEWELL, of Wheeling, W. Va. JAMES NOONAN, of the engineering. ALBION BROWN, of the engineering. JAMES McCLURE, of the engineering. J. F. HENRY, baggage-master. C. S. CARR, baggage-master. N. Y. M. STANTON, baggage-master. J. S. SIKEL, Altoona City, Superintendent of the Pittsburgh Post-Office.

J. S. DOWLER, 213 East Fifth street, New York. A. L. BROWN, St. James place, Brooklyn. New York. J. S. SIKEL, Altoona City, Superintendent of the Pittsburgh Post-Office. Sleeping Car Conductor Matthews and Porter Ford were slightly injured.

KILLED AND ROBBED OF $20,000. Paymaster McClure Murdered by Three Masked Men Near Wilkesbarre.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.) WILKESBARRE, Pa., Oct. 19.—Alexander McClure, paymaster for Contractor McPadden, who is building a branch road for the Lehigh Valley Railroad, was on his way to the work this morning accompanied by a body guard.

He had $20,000 with him to pay the men. He was shot by three masked men in a bush. His body guard was also murdered.

The horses were killed, too. All the money is missing. Three Italians are accused of the murder and robbery.

There was great excitement and a posse is now in pursuit of the murderers. The tragedy took place on the mountain near here.

SUING THE CASINO. Grant & Ward's Receiver Trying to Recover on a Neglected Coupon.

The $100,000 mortgage on the Casino Theatre was paid last April.

It was made to secure the bonds of the New York Concert Company. These bonds were for $1,000 each, with quarterly coupons of $15 each.

Grant and Ward were holders of twelve of these bonds, and they forgot, or at least failed, to call the coupons in January and again in April, 1884, although there was a deposit in the Marine Bank to be devoted to paying the coupons.

The bank failed in May, 1884, when there was $3,400 to the credit of the New York Concert Company in its vaults.

Julien T. Davies was afterwards appointed receiver to Grant & Ward, and now he sues the Concert Company for the amount of these coupons, $360, and interest.

Handsome Justice Lawrence is trying the case in Supreme court, a jury having been impaneled. The case will be heard again in April, 1885, although there was a deposit in the Marine Bank to be devoted to paying the coupons.

The bank failed in May, 1884, when there was $3,400 to the credit of the New York Concert Company in its vaults. Julien T. Davies was afterwards appointed receiver to Grant & Ward, and now he sues the Concert Company for the amount of these coupons, $360, and interest.

THE EVENING WORLD.

NEW YORK, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1884.

LAST EDITION.

DEATH AT A SWITCH.

Two Killed and Many Hurt on the B. and O.

Accident to a West-Bound Express at Washington, Pa.

This Is the Fourth Railroad Horror in Pennsylvania Within a Week.

Several New Yorkers Among Those Who Are Seriously Injured.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.) PITTSBURGH, Oct. 19.—About forty miles from here, near Little Washington, at an early hour this morning the Baltimore and Ohio express train was wrecked.

The train was the west-bound express and it dashed into an open switch while running twenty miles an hour.

The baggage-car and two sleeping cars were piled up in a heap.

The killed are: JAMES NEWELL, of Wheeling, W. Va. JAMES NOONAN, of the engineering. ALBION BROWN, of the engineering. JAMES McCLURE, of the engineering. J. F. HENRY, baggage-master. C. S. CARR, baggage-master. N. Y. M. STANTON, baggage-master. J. S. SIKEL, Altoona City, Superintendent of the Pittsburgh Post-Office.

J. S. DOWLER, 213 East Fifth street, New York. A. L. BROWN, St. James place, Brooklyn. New York. J. S. SIKEL, Altoona City, Superintendent of the Pittsburgh Post-Office. Sleeping Car Conductor Matthews and Porter Ford were slightly injured.

KILLED AND ROBBED OF $20,000. Paymaster McClure Murdered by Three Masked Men Near Wilkesbarre.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.) WILKESBARRE, Pa., Oct. 19.—Alexander McClure, paymaster for Contractor McPadden, who is building a branch road for the Lehigh Valley Railroad, was on his way to the work this morning accompanied by a body guard.

He had $20,000 with him to pay the men. He was shot by three masked men in a bush. His body guard was also murdered.

The horses were killed, too. All the money is missing. Three Italians are accused of the murder and robbery.

There was great excitement and a posse is now in pursuit of the murderers. The tragedy took place on the mountain near here.

SUING THE CASINO. Grant & Ward's Receiver Trying to Recover on a Neglected Coupon.

The $100,000 mortgage on the Casino Theatre was paid last April.

It was made to secure the bonds of the New York Concert Company. These bonds were for $1,000 each, with quarterly coupons of $15 each.

Grant and Ward were holders of twelve of these bonds, and they forgot, or at least failed, to call the coupons in January and again in April, 1884, although there was a deposit in the Marine Bank to be devoted to paying the coupons.

The bank failed in May, 1884, when there was $3,400 to the credit of the New York Concert Company in its vaults.

Julien T. Davies was afterwards appointed receiver to Grant & Ward, and now he sues the Concert Company for the amount of these coupons, $360, and interest.

Handsome Justice Lawrence is trying the case in Supreme court, a jury having been impaneled. The case will be heard again in April, 1885, although there was a deposit in the Marine Bank to be devoted to paying the coupons.

The bank failed in May, 1884, when there was $3,400 to the credit of the New York Concert Company in its vaults. Julien T. Davies was afterwards appointed receiver to Grant & Ward, and now he sues the Concert Company for the amount of these coupons, $360, and interest.

LAST EDITION.

DEATH AT A SWITCH.

Two Killed and Many Hurt on the B. and O.

Accident to a West-Bound Express at Washington, Pa.

This Is the Fourth Railroad Horror in Pennsylvania Within a Week.

Several New Yorkers Among Those Who Are Seriously Injured.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.) PITTSBURGH, Oct. 19.—About forty miles from here, near Little Washington, at an early hour this morning the Baltimore and Ohio express train was wrecked.

The train was the west-bound express and it dashed into an open switch while running twenty miles an hour.

The baggage-car and two sleeping cars were piled up in a heap.

The killed are: JAMES NEWELL, of Wheeling, W. Va. JAMES NOONAN, of the engineering. ALBION BROWN, of the engineering. JAMES McCLURE, of the engineering. J. F. HENRY, baggage-master. C. S. CARR, baggage-master. N. Y. M. STANTON, baggage-master. J. S. SIKEL, Altoona City, Superintendent of the Pittsburgh Post-Office.

J. S. DOWLER, 213 East Fifth street, New York. A. L. BROWN, St. James place, Brooklyn. New York. J. S. SIKEL, Altoona City, Superintendent of the Pittsburgh Post-Office. Sleeping Car Conductor Matthews and Porter Ford were slightly injured.

KILLED AND ROBBED OF $20,000. Paymaster McClure Murdered by Three Masked Men Near Wilkesbarre.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.) WILKESBARRE, Pa., Oct. 19.—Alexander McClure, paymaster for Contractor McPadden, who is building a branch road for the Lehigh Valley Railroad, was on his way to the work this morning accompanied by a body guard.

He had $20,000 with him to pay the men. He was shot by three masked men in a bush. His body guard was also murdered.

The horses were killed, too. All the money is missing. Three Italians are accused of the murder and robbery.

There was great excitement and a posse is now in pursuit of the murderers. The tragedy took place on the mountain near here.

SUING THE CASINO. Grant & Ward's Receiver Trying to Recover on a Neglected Coupon.

The $100,000 mortgage on the Casino Theatre was paid last April.

It was made to secure the bonds of the New York Concert Company. These bonds were for $1,000 each, with quarterly coupons of $15 each.

Grant and Ward were holders of twelve of these bonds, and they forgot, or at least failed, to call the coupons in January and again in April, 1884, although there was a deposit in the Marine Bank to be devoted to paying the coupons.

The bank failed in May, 1884, when there was $3,400 to the credit of the New York Concert Company in its vaults.

Julien T. Davies was afterwards appointed receiver to Grant & Ward, and now he sues the Concert Company for the amount of these coupons, $360, and interest.

Handsome Justice Lawrence is trying the case in Supreme court, a jury having been impaneled. The case will be heard again in April, 1885, although there was a deposit in the Marine Bank to be devoted to paying the coupons.

The bank failed in May, 1884, when there was $3,400 to the credit of the New York Concert Company in its vaults. Julien T. Davies was afterwards appointed receiver to Grant & Ward, and now he sues the Concert Company for the amount of these coupons, $360, and interest.

LAST EDITION.

DEATH AT A SWITCH.

Two Killed and Many Hurt on the B. and O.

Accident to a West-Bound Express at Washington, Pa.

This Is the Fourth Railroad Horror in Pennsylvania Within a Week.

Several New Yorkers Among Those Who Are Seriously Injured.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.) PITTSBURGH, Oct. 19.—About forty miles from here, near Little Washington, at an early hour this morning the Baltimore and Ohio express train was wrecked.

The train was the west-bound express and it dashed into an open switch while running twenty miles an hour.

The baggage-car and two sleeping cars were piled up in a heap.

The killed are: JAMES NEWELL, of Wheeling, W. Va. JAMES NOONAN, of the engineering. ALBION BROWN, of the engineering. JAMES McCLURE, of the engineering. J. F. HENRY, baggage-master. C. S. CARR, baggage-master. N. Y. M. STANTON, baggage-master. J. S. SIKEL, Altoona City, Superintendent of the Pittsburgh Post-Office.

J. S. DOWLER, 213 East Fifth street, New York. A. L. BROWN, St. James place, Brooklyn. New York. J. S. SIKEL, Altoona City, Superintendent of the Pittsburgh Post-Office. Sleeping Car Conductor Matthews and Porter Ford were slightly injured.

KILLED AND ROBBED OF $20,000. Paymaster McClure Murdered by Three Masked Men Near Wilkesbarre.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.) WILKESBARRE, Pa., Oct. 19.—Alexander McClure, paymaster for Contractor McPadden, who is building a branch road for the Lehigh Valley Railroad, was on his way to the work this morning accompanied by a body guard.

He had $20,000 with him to pay the men. He was shot by three masked men in a bush. His body guard was also murdered.

The horses were killed, too. All the money is missing. Three Italians are accused of the murder and robbery.

There was great excitement and a posse is now in pursuit of the murderers. The tragedy took place on the mountain near here.

SUING THE CASINO. Grant & Ward's Receiver Trying to Recover on a Neglected Coupon.

The $100,000 mortgage on the Casino Theatre was paid last April.

It was made to secure the bonds of the New York Concert Company. These bonds were for $1,000 each, with quarterly coupons of $15 each.

Grant and Ward were holders of twelve of these bonds, and they forgot, or at least failed, to call the coupons in January and again in April, 1884, although there was a deposit in the Marine Bank to be devoted to paying the coupons.

The bank failed in May, 1884, when there was $3,400 to the credit of the New York Concert Company in its vaults.

Julien T. Davies was afterwards appointed receiver to Grant & Ward, and now he sues the Concert Company for the amount of these coupons, $360, and interest.

Handsome Justice Lawrence is trying the case in Supreme court, a jury having been impaneled. The case will be heard again in April, 1885, although there was a deposit in the Marine Bank to be devoted to paying the coupons.

The bank failed in May, 1884, when there was $3,400 to the credit of the New York Concert Company in its vaults. Julien T. Davies was afterwards appointed receiver to Grant & Ward, and now he sues the Concert Company for the amount of these coupons, $360, and interest.

LAST EDITION.

DEATH AT A SWITCH.

Two Killed and Many Hurt on the B. and O.

Accident to a West-Bound Express at Washington, Pa.

This Is the Fourth Railroad Horror in Pennsylvania Within a Week.

Several New Yorkers Among Those Who Are Seriously Injured.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.) PITTSBURGH, Oct. 19.—About forty miles from here, near Little Washington, at an early hour this morning the Baltimore and Ohio express train was wrecked.

The train was the west-bound express and it dashed into an open switch while running twenty miles an hour.

The baggage-car and two sleeping cars were piled up in a heap.

The killed are: JAMES NEWELL, of Wheeling, W. Va. JAMES NOONAN, of the engineering. ALBION BROWN, of the engineering. JAMES McCLURE, of the engineering. J. F. HENRY, baggage-master. C. S. CARR, baggage-master. N. Y. M. STANTON, baggage-master. J. S. SIKEL, Altoona City, Superintendent of the Pittsburgh Post-Office.

J. S. DOWLER, 213 East Fifth street, New York. A. L. BROWN, St. James place, Brooklyn. New York. J. S. SIKEL, Altoona City, Superintendent of the Pittsburgh Post-Office. Sleeping Car Conductor Matthews and Porter Ford were slightly injured.

KILLED AND ROBBED OF $20,000. Paymaster McClure Murdered by Three Masked Men Near Wilkesbarre.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.) WILKESBARRE, Pa., Oct. 19.—Alexander McClure, paymaster for Contractor McPadden, who is building a branch road for the Lehigh Valley Railroad, was on his way to the work this morning accompanied by a body guard.

He had $20,000 with him to pay the men. He was shot by three masked men in a bush. His body guard was also murdered.

The horses were killed, too. All the money is missing. Three Italians are accused of the murder and robbery.

There was great excitement and a posse is now in pursuit of the murderers. The tragedy took place on the mountain near here.

SUING THE CASINO. Grant & Ward's Receiver Trying to Recover on a Neglected Coupon.

The $100,000 mortgage on the Casino Theatre was paid last April.

It was made to secure the bonds of the New York Concert Company. These bonds were for $1,000 each, with quarterly coupons of $15 each.

Grant and Ward were holders of twelve of these bonds, and they forgot, or at least failed, to call the coupons in January and again in April, 1884, although there was a deposit in the Marine Bank to be devoted to paying the coupons.

The bank failed in May, 1884, when there was $3,400 to the credit of the New York Concert Company in its vaults.

Julien T. Davies was afterwards appointed receiver to Grant & Ward, and now he sues the Concert Company for the amount of these coupons, $360, and interest.

Handsome Justice Lawrence is trying the case in Supreme court, a jury having been impaneled. The case will be heard again in April, 1885, although there was a deposit in the Marine Bank to be devoted to paying the coupons.

The bank failed in May, 1884, when there was $3,400 to the credit of the New York Concert Company in its vaults. Julien T. Davies was afterwards appointed receiver to Grant & Ward, and now he sues the Concert Company for the amount of these coupons, $360, and interest.

LAST EDITION.

DEATH AT A SWITCH.

Two Killed and Many Hurt on the B. and O.

Accident to a West-Bound Express at Washington, Pa.

This Is the Fourth Railroad Horror in Pennsylvania Within a Week.

Several New Yorkers Among Those Who Are Seriously Injured.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.) PITTSBURGH, Oct. 19.—About forty miles from here, near Little Washington, at an early hour this morning the Baltimore and Ohio express train was wrecked.

The train was the west-bound express and it dashed into an open switch while running twenty miles an hour.

The baggage-car and two sleeping cars were piled up in a heap.

The killed are: JAMES NEWELL, of Wheeling, W. Va. JAMES NOONAN, of the engineering. ALBION BROWN, of the engineering. JAMES McCLURE, of the engineering. J. F. HENRY, baggage-master. C. S. CARR, baggage-master. N. Y. M. STANTON, baggage-master. J. S. SIKEL, Altoona City, Superintendent of the Pittsburgh Post-Office.

J. S. DOWLER, 213 East Fifth street, New York. A. L. BROWN, St. James place, Brooklyn. New York. J. S. SIKEL, Altoona City, Superintendent of the Pittsburgh Post-Office. Sleeping Car Conductor Matthews and Porter Ford were slightly injured.