

LAST EDITION. NO VOTES AFTER 4 P. M.

Judge Barrett Decides the Question To-Day. An Effort to Allow All in Line at the Hour to Cast Their Votes.

Col. Bliss, on Behalf of the Republicans, Opposed All Relief. Justice Barrett has denied the motion of the Tammany Committee asking for a writ of mandamus compelling the inspectors of election in the thirty-second Precinct of the Twenty-second Assembly District to receive the votes of all electors who may be present at the polling place, ready to vote at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, even though to receive their ballots might necessitate keeping the polls open later than that hour.

In this precinct, 617 voters are registered, and it is believed that here and in several other districts it will be impossible for the inspectors to receive between 6 and 4 o'clock the ballots of all those entitled to vote.

With reference to some remedy for this state of affairs, Tammany Hall appointed a committee to look after the matter. Frank H. Lawrence, New York City, Joseph J. Martin, Judge Alfred Stecker, John G. H. Myers, Alexander Thain, Leicester Hoines and Joseph H. Mitchell composed the committee, and Peter G. Mitchell as counsel applied for a mandamus as above.

Messrs. Smith, Martin, Thain, Mitchell and L. C. Wachner spoke earnestly for the motion, and George E. Bliss, in the chair of the court-room, addressed the Court. Although his remarks were clearly in opposition to the motion he declared that he represented no one and would not reply to the frequent interruptions of the moving lawyers, who demanded to know if he opposed or favored the motion.

Col. Bliss further said he was sure the Federal Court would issue an order of election who should vote after 4 o'clock. Justice Barrett had no power to grant the mandamus. At the close of his speech Col. Bliss was heard with much applause and much excitement, he assayed out that there was a Republican opposing the motion, and he did not care who knew of it.

Justice Barrett said that in view of the nearness of the election and the importance of the question he should decide the matter. He said that the Court had considered it since the question was raised, and he was prepared to say that he entirely agreed with the motion. He said that he had no objection to the motion, and he would grant it.

At the close of his speech Col. Bliss was heard with much applause and much excitement, he assayed out that there was a Republican opposing the motion, and he did not care who knew of it. Justice Barrett said that in view of the nearness of the election and the importance of the question he should decide the matter. He said that the Court had considered it since the question was raised, and he was prepared to say that he entirely agreed with the motion.

At the close of his speech Col. Bliss was heard with much applause and much excitement, he assayed out that there was a Republican opposing the motion, and he did not care who knew of it. Justice Barrett said that in view of the nearness of the election and the importance of the question he should decide the matter. He said that the Court had considered it since the question was raised, and he was prepared to say that he entirely agreed with the motion.

At the close of his speech Col. Bliss was heard with much applause and much excitement, he assayed out that there was a Republican opposing the motion, and he did not care who knew of it. Justice Barrett said that in view of the nearness of the election and the importance of the question he should decide the matter. He said that the Court had considered it since the question was raised, and he was prepared to say that he entirely agreed with the motion.

At the close of his speech Col. Bliss was heard with much applause and much excitement, he assayed out that there was a Republican opposing the motion, and he did not care who knew of it. Justice Barrett said that in view of the nearness of the election and the importance of the question he should decide the matter. He said that the Court had considered it since the question was raised, and he was prepared to say that he entirely agreed with the motion.

At the close of his speech Col. Bliss was heard with much applause and much excitement, he assayed out that there was a Republican opposing the motion, and he did not care who knew of it. Justice Barrett said that in view of the nearness of the election and the importance of the question he should decide the matter. He said that the Court had considered it since the question was raised, and he was prepared to say that he entirely agreed with the motion.

At the close of his speech Col. Bliss was heard with much applause and much excitement, he assayed out that there was a Republican opposing the motion, and he did not care who knew of it. Justice Barrett said that in view of the nearness of the election and the importance of the question he should decide the matter. He said that the Court had considered it since the question was raised, and he was prepared to say that he entirely agreed with the motion.

At the close of his speech Col. Bliss was heard with much applause and much excitement, he assayed out that there was a Republican opposing the motion, and he did not care who knew of it. Justice Barrett said that in view of the nearness of the election and the importance of the question he should decide the matter. He said that the Court had considered it since the question was raised, and he was prepared to say that he entirely agreed with the motion.

At the close of his speech Col. Bliss was heard with much applause and much excitement, he assayed out that there was a Republican opposing the motion, and he did not care who knew of it. Justice Barrett said that in view of the nearness of the election and the importance of the question he should decide the matter. He said that the Court had considered it since the question was raised, and he was prepared to say that he entirely agreed with the motion.

THE WIFE-KILLER'S TRIAL. PACKENHAM UNMOVED BY THE STORY OF HIS CRIME.

Some of the Jurors Moved to Tears by the Murderer's Son Takes the Stand and Relates What Happened Before His Mother Was Killed—Packenham Had Just Come from the Penitentiary.

Two days have already been consumed in an effort to obtain a jury to try the case of Patrick Packenham, the wife murderer, and when Recorder Smyth opened his court in General Sessions this morning there was still a vacancy in the jury-box.

Frederick W. Merritt, Jr., a cigar manufacturer, was the first juror examined, and proving satisfactory to both sides he took the twelfth place in the box and the jury was sworn.

While the prosecuting officer was telling the story of the brutal crime many of the jurymen were visibly affected, but the prisoner himself showed no emotion whatever. The murder was committed early on the morning of April 2, Packenham, who is a printer by trade, had returned to his home at 212 West Twenty-seventh street, on March 31, after having served a term of three months in the penitentiary.

On that day and the following he drank steadily, and when he came home on Sunday night he was in a very bad humor. His wife, who is a native of Ireland, was obliged on three different occasions to summon a policeman to protect her.

Her husband begged off each time, and finally, after the officer had gone for the last time, about 1:30 o'clock Monday morning, he deliberately took his razor and cut his wife's throat.

His sixteen-year-old son, who was also present with another boy named Cook, tried to prevent the father from accomplishing his purpose, but they could not overcome him, for Packenham is a large, powerfully built man.

With reference to some remedy for this state of affairs, Tammany Hall appointed a committee to look after the matter. Frank H. Lawrence, New York City, Joseph J. Martin, Judge Alfred Stecker, John G. H. Myers, Alexander Thain, Leicester Hoines and Joseph H. Mitchell composed the committee, and Peter G. Mitchell as counsel applied for a mandamus as above.

Messrs. Smith, Martin, Thain, Mitchell and L. C. Wachner spoke earnestly for the motion, and George E. Bliss, in the chair of the court-room, addressed the Court. Although his remarks were clearly in opposition to the motion he declared that he represented no one and would not reply to the frequent interruptions of the moving lawyers, who demanded to know if he opposed or favored the motion.

Col. Bliss further said he was sure the Federal Court would issue an order of election who should vote after 4 o'clock. Justice Barrett had no power to grant the mandamus. At the close of his speech Col. Bliss was heard with much applause and much excitement, he assayed out that there was a Republican opposing the motion, and he did not care who knew of it.

Justice Barrett said that in view of the nearness of the election and the importance of the question he should decide the matter. He said that the Court had considered it since the question was raised, and he was prepared to say that he entirely agreed with the motion. He said that he had no objection to the motion, and he would grant it.

At the close of his speech Col. Bliss was heard with much applause and much excitement, he assayed out that there was a Republican opposing the motion, and he did not care who knew of it. Justice Barrett said that in view of the nearness of the election and the importance of the question he should decide the matter. He said that the Court had considered it since the question was raised, and he was prepared to say that he entirely agreed with the motion.

At the close of his speech Col. Bliss was heard with much applause and much excitement, he assayed out that there was a Republican opposing the motion, and he did not care who knew of it. Justice Barrett said that in view of the nearness of the election and the importance of the question he should decide the matter. He said that the Court had considered it since the question was raised, and he was prepared to say that he entirely agreed with the motion.

At the close of his speech Col. Bliss was heard with much applause and much excitement, he assayed out that there was a Republican opposing the motion, and he did not care who knew of it. Justice Barrett said that in view of the nearness of the election and the importance of the question he should decide the matter. He said that the Court had considered it since the question was raised, and he was prepared to say that he entirely agreed with the motion.

At the close of his speech Col. Bliss was heard with much applause and much excitement, he assayed out that there was a Republican opposing the motion, and he did not care who knew of it. Justice Barrett said that in view of the nearness of the election and the importance of the question he should decide the matter. He said that the Court had considered it since the question was raised, and he was prepared to say that he entirely agreed with the motion.

At the close of his speech Col. Bliss was heard with much applause and much excitement, he assayed out that there was a Republican opposing the motion, and he did not care who knew of it. Justice Barrett said that in view of the nearness of the election and the importance of the question he should decide the matter. He said that the Court had considered it since the question was raised, and he was prepared to say that he entirely agreed with the motion.

At the close of his speech Col. Bliss was heard with much applause and much excitement, he assayed out that there was a Republican opposing the motion, and he did not care who knew of it. Justice Barrett said that in view of the nearness of the election and the importance of the question he should decide the matter. He said that the Court had considered it since the question was raised, and he was prepared to say that he entirely agreed with the motion.

OBJECTED TO HIS DRESS. WHY "LEWIS THE LIGHT" WAS EXPELLED FROM THE TABERNACLE.

His White Flannel Costume Excited a Commotion Among the Worshipers—A Suit for Damages Brought Against Two of the Church Trustees—Lewis Was Hurt to Body and in Feelings.

A suit for damages has been brought in Brooklyn to test the question as to whether a man can be ejected from a church on account of the costume he wears, if he conducts himself in a quiet and orderly manner.

The complainant is Lewis D. Greenleaf, otherwise known as "Lewis the Light," and the defendant are several of the trustees of the Brooklyn Tabernacle, which is presided over by the Rev. T. De Witt Talmage.

Through his counsel, Messrs. Dally & Bell, Greenleaf says that on Sept. 30 he attended the Tabernacle, "for the purpose of receiving religious instruction and listening to the sermon and observing the services."

He was shown to a seat, which he occupied and where he conducted himself in a quiet and orderly manner. "The trustees," he alleges, "in the midst of the services, without any just provocation, and he very believing, he was assaulted by the defendants and by them, and he was ejected from the building."

He is alleged to have been wounded not only in his person, but in his feelings, and the indignities he was subjected to in the presence of the congregation, and that he suffered damages to the amount of $1,000.

The action is brought against Trustee Wood and his razor and cut his wife's throat. His sixteen-year-old son, who was also present with another boy named Cook, tried to prevent the father from accomplishing his purpose, but they could not overcome him, for Packenham is a large, powerfully built man.

With reference to some remedy for this state of affairs, Tammany Hall appointed a committee to look after the matter. Frank H. Lawrence, New York City, Joseph J. Martin, Judge Alfred Stecker, John G. H. Myers, Alexander Thain, Leicester Hoines and Joseph H. Mitchell composed the committee, and Peter G. Mitchell as counsel applied for a mandamus as above.

Messrs. Smith, Martin, Thain, Mitchell and L. C. Wachner spoke earnestly for the motion, and George E. Bliss, in the chair of the court-room, addressed the Court. Although his remarks were clearly in opposition to the motion he declared that he represented no one and would not reply to the frequent interruptions of the moving lawyers, who demanded to know if he opposed or favored the motion.

Col. Bliss further said he was sure the Federal Court would issue an order of election who should vote after 4 o'clock. Justice Barrett had no power to grant the mandamus. At the close of his speech Col. Bliss was heard with much applause and much excitement, he assayed out that there was a Republican opposing the motion, and he did not care who knew of it.

Justice Barrett said that in view of the nearness of the election and the importance of the question he should decide the matter. He said that the Court had considered it since the question was raised, and he was prepared to say that he entirely agreed with the motion. He said that he had no objection to the motion, and he would grant it.

At the close of his speech Col. Bliss was heard with much applause and much excitement, he assayed out that there was a Republican opposing the motion, and he did not care who knew of it. Justice Barrett said that in view of the nearness of the election and the importance of the question he should decide the matter. He said that the Court had considered it since the question was raised, and he was prepared to say that he entirely agreed with the motion.

At the close of his speech Col. Bliss was heard with much applause and much excitement, he assayed out that there was a Republican opposing the motion, and he did not care who knew of it. Justice Barrett said that in view of the nearness of the election and the importance of the question he should decide the matter. He said that the Court had considered it since the question was raised, and he was prepared to say that he entirely agreed with the motion.

At the close of his speech Col. Bliss was heard with much applause and much excitement, he assayed out that there was a Republican opposing the motion, and he did not care who knew of it. Justice Barrett said that in view of the nearness of the election and the importance of the question he should decide the matter. He said that the Court had considered it since the question was raised, and he was prepared to say that he entirely agreed with the motion.

At the close of his speech Col. Bliss was heard with much applause and much excitement, he assayed out that there was a Republican opposing the motion, and he did not care who knew of it. Justice Barrett said that in view of the nearness of the election and the importance of the question he should decide the matter. He said that the Court had considered it since the question was raised, and he was prepared to say that he entirely agreed with the motion.

At the close of his speech Col. Bliss was heard with much applause and much excitement, he assayed out that there was a Republican opposing the motion, and he did not care who knew of it. Justice Barrett said that in view of the nearness of the election and the importance of the question he should decide the matter. He said that the Court had considered it since the question was raised, and he was prepared to say that he entirely agreed with the motion.

At the close of his speech Col. Bliss was heard with much applause and much excitement, he assayed out that there was a Republican opposing the motion, and he did not care who knew of it. Justice Barrett said that in view of the nearness of the election and the importance of the question he should decide the matter. He said that the Court had considered it since the question was raised, and he was prepared to say that he entirely agreed with the motion.

NO RECONCILIATION IN PROSPECT. Young Mrs. Blaine's Parents Would Not Now Consent to It.

Another fluctuation occurred in the condition of Mrs. James G. Blaine, Jr., last night, and this morning she was not feeling so well.

It is evident that these frequent fits of prostration are slowly sapping the young mother's vitality, although her parents yet hope that she will pull through.

There is absolutely no truth in the report that a reconciliation is about to be effected, said a friend, whose authority for speaking thus cannot be questioned.

"The trouble has gone so far that her family will not consent to any such agreement, and if it is made, it will not be made, or any letters or messages delivered."

As for the elder Mrs. Blaine visiting the sufferer, it is stated that not only would the patient's nervous system receive a probably fatal shock from the visit, but her parents would not allow such a visit to be made, or any letters or messages delivered.

JOE HOWARD SAID NOTHING. And Mr. Harrison Was Equally Commisive About the Hoffman House Mass.

Joe Howard, the well-known syndicate letter writer, appeared not to wait the worst this morning for the whipping which he received last evening at the hands of Duncan B. Harrison, of "The Paymaster" Company, in the corridor of the Hoffman House.

Mr. Howard was with his home, 81 Irving place, by an Evening World reporter, but he said that he did not know the trouble which led to his being whipped.

"I have my compliments to your editors," said Mr. Howard, "and say that the reports published this morning are a gross exaggeration. That is all I care to say about it."

Mr. Harrison, when questioned about the affair, would only say: "I have been warned of this matter. He was told that I would whip him on sight, and I did it. He knows what for, and I would do again, for he deserves it."

What became of the dog-whip used by Mr. Harrison was not learned.

GUNNING FOR A BURGULAR. President Hopkins Brings His Family to Town and Buys $600 Worth of Clothing.

Thomas H. Hopkins, President of the New York Economic Printing Company, at 25 West street, brought his wife, two young ones and a daughter from home in Passaic, N. J., this morning, and spent about $600 in buying clothes for them.

Usually they are a very well-dressed family, but they had been in Passaic for some time, and had to buy their clothes there. About $1,000 worth in cash and clothes were taken from the house, and a quantity of silverware and about $300 in cash. Walter Hopkins, aged fifteen, went gunning for the burglars on horseback and with a revolver.

He did not find them, but he traced them to their hide-out in the swamps in Bergen County. Some of the stolen property was found near the hide-out. About $1,000 worth in cash and clothes were taken from the house, and a quantity of silverware and about $300 in cash. Walter Hopkins, aged fifteen, went gunning for the burglars on horseback and with a revolver.

He did not find them, but he traced them to their hide-out in the swamps in Bergen County. Some of the stolen property was found near the hide-out. About $1,000 worth in cash and clothes were taken from the house, and a quantity of silverware and about $300 in cash. Walter Hopkins, aged fifteen, went gunning for the burglars on horseback and with a revolver.

He did not find them, but he traced them to their hide-out in the swamps in Bergen County. Some of the stolen property was found near the hide-out. About $1,000 worth in cash and clothes were taken from the house, and a quantity of silverware and about $300 in cash. Walter Hopkins, aged fifteen, went gunning for the burglars on horseback and with a revolver.

THAT OMINOUS LETTER. Fac Simile of the Famous Corruption Circular Alleged to Have Come from Col. Dudley.

United States District-Attorney Walker Willing to Indict Dudley if Affidavits Are Furnished.

Col. Fellows Says if the Letter is Genuine He May Set the Local Machinery at Work Against Dudley.

HEADQUARTERS. Republican National Committee, 91 FIFTH AVENUE, New York.

Dear Sir: I hope you have kept copies of the investigation. Such information is very valuable and should be used to great advantage. It has enabled me to demonstrate to friends that with proper assistance Indiana is surely Republican for Governor and President, and has resulted as I hoped it would, in securing for Indiana the aid necessary. Your Committee will certainly receive from Chairman Huston the assistance necessary to hold our floaters and doubtful voters, and gain enough of the other kind to give Harrison and Morton 10,000 plurality. New York is now safe beyond peradventure for the Republican Presidential ticket. Connecticut likewise, in short every Northern State, except perhaps New Jersey, though we still hope to carry that State. Harrison's majority in the Electoral College will not be less than 100. Make our friends in each precinct wake up to the fact that only boodles and fraudulent votes and false counting of returns can beat us in the State. Write each of our precinct correspondents, let them find out who has Democratic boodles, and urge the Democratic workers to them, and make them pay big prices for their own good. Scan the election officers closely, and make sure for you have no man on the Board whose integrity is even questionable, and insist on Republicans watching every movement of the election officers. Order. See that our workers know every voter entitled to a vote, and let no one else even offer to vote. 4th. Divide the floaters into blocks of five, and put a trusted man with necessary funds in charge of these five, and make him responsible that none get away and that all vote our ticket. 5th. Make a personal appeal to your best business men to pledge themselves to devote the entire day, Nov. 6th, to work at the polls. 6th. Be present at the polls with tickets. They will be astonished to see how utterly dumfounded the ordinary Democratic election bumper will be and how quickly he will disappear. The result will fully justify the sacrifice of time and comfort, and will be a source of satisfaction afterwards to those who help in this way. Lay greatest stress on this last matter. It will pay.

There will be no doubt of your receiving the necessary assistance through the National, State and County Committees—only see that your husband and made to produce results. I rely on you to advise your precinct correspondents, and urge them to unremitting and constant efforts from now till the polls close, and the result is announced officially. We will fight for a fair election here if necessary. The Rebel crew can't steal this election from us as they did in 1864, without someone getting hurt. Let every Republican do his whole duty and the country will pass into Republican hands, never to leave it. I trust. Thanking you again for your efforts, to assist me in my work, I remain Yours Sincerely, Wm. Dudley

United States District-Attorney Walker this morning said to a representative of THE EVENING WORLD that if Treasurer Dudley, of the Republican National Committee, wrote the now famous purchase of votes in Indiana, he has been guilty of an indictable offense under the United States laws.

"If any one will make a sworn complaint to me to the effect that an action is to be begun in this State—that under which I am an innocent and Federal Court, it should have its inception in Indiana, where the crime, if any, has been committed. Of course, if Dudley is indicted by the United States Grand Jury in Indiana, he can be arrested in New York."

Not only is there a possibility of criminal prosecution of Col. Dudley in the United States Court, but it is considered a serious question if he has not violated one of the statutes of this State—that under which I am an innocent and Federal Court, it should have its inception in Indiana, where the crime, if any, has been committed. Of course, if Dudley is indicted by the United States Grand Jury in Indiana, he can be arrested in New York."

He was closed with Senator Quay, and about 11 o'clock, accompanied by Committee Clerk Clark, he went down to Wall street on a financial mission, whether to secure the "soap" which is to purify the election, methods of Indiana or not could not be ascertained.

In order to give Mr. W. W. Dudley an opportunity to have a fac-simile of his signature shown side by side with the signature under the "docter" letter, an Evening World reporter called on him at the National Republican Headquarters this morning.

The reporter explained to the gentleman who called on him that the only object in calling was to obtain Mr. Dudley's signature. His card was sent to Mr. Dudley with this request, and to his astonishment the answer came back from Mr. Dudley:

"Will you please go and see George Bliss. I am too busy."

St. Louis Brewers Asked to Sell Out. St. Louis, Nov. 2.—Simon Undermyer, an attorney representing the English syndicate which is said to be endeavoring to secure control of the leading breweries in the country, visited St. Louis and approached the leading brewers here as to the purchase of their property by the syndicate. The Anderson-Bush and Drinkworth-Noble Brewing companies are among those which declined to sell.

Knocked Down and Robbed in Her Store. Mrs. Ernestine Weithamer, who keeps a cigar store at 96 First street, swore against Max Koehler, in Essex Market Court to-day, that he came into her store, knocked her down and took her gold watch and $15 in money from her. The young man was held for examination.

Forgiveness by His Enemy. John McAvoy, of 67 Water street, who stabbed James Sullivan in a hotel last Sunday was discharged to-day in the Essex Market Court. Sullivan declined to make a complaint.

General Manager Stone's Promotion. (SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.) Boston, Nov. 2.—In regard to the despatch from Chicago, published this morning, stating that H. H. Stone, General Manager of the C. & N. Y. Railroad had been appointed Second Vice-President, and that E. P. Ripley, General Freight Agent, would succeed Mr. Stone, the officers of Boston positively refused to say anything. From other sources, however, it is learned that the report is true.

Knocked Down and Robbed in Her Store. Mrs. Ernestine Weithamer, who keeps a cigar store at 96 First street, swore against Max Koehler, in Essex Market Court to-day, that he came into her store, knocked her down and took her gold watch and $15 in money from her. The young man was held for examination.

FATAL BOILER EXPLOSION. One Man and Five Boys Killed This Morning at Reading.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.) READING, Pa., Nov. 2.—By the explosion of the boiler of a steam threshing machine, which was in operation on Jonas Spay's farm between 6 and 7 o'clock this morning, five boys were instantly killed and five other persons badly hurt.

The names of the killed are: IRVIN DUNSTON, aged nineteen; W. H. WEAVER, aged sixteen; FRED LAMON, aged twelve; JOSEPH MACHIE, aged fourteen. All of those killed were near the machine when the boiler exploded, and were struck by the pieces of iron which were hurled from the boiler.

London, Nov. 2.—A steamship was struck by the recent visit of the Car to Sebastopol. It is recalled that once before, after a visit there, war was declared upon Turkey.

His attention that the Car has been estimating his strength with a view of opening the Balkan question.

A Wife is Missing. John Kaufman called at Police Headquarters this morning and stated that his wife Catherine, aged forty-seven years, had left her home, at 340 East One Hundred and Fifteenth street, Oct. 30, and had not been seen since. She has been slightly demented for some time.

Guiltless Heart for To-Morrow. (SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.) NORTH HUDSON DRIVING PARK RACE, Nov. 2.—Here are the entries for to-morrow's race: First Race.—$200; maiden; three-quarters.

Second Race.—$200; maiden; three-quarters.

Third Race.—$200; maiden; three-quarters.

Fourth Race.—$200; maiden; three-quarters.

Fifth Race.—$200; maiden; three-quarters.

INFATUATED WITH CORINE. A Philadelphia Follows the Little Actress From Town to Town.

Infatuated with Corine at her performances in Philadelphia during the week last week, Harry Sheppard, the daughter of a wealthy merchant residing at Chestnut and Eighth streets, that city, has since followed the young actress from city to city, witnessing every performance, and generally riding on the same car with her, and he has been known to show her his love.

He is alleged to have had his hand fractured and was severely bruised about the head and body. Both men were taken to Chambers Street Hospital.

A New Title for Each Parader. Brother Shepard called his book about him the other day and told them what nice boys they are, concluding with the statement that it would please him mightily to see the gentlemen on the Mail and Express ride as they wore—Harrison and Protection.

To prove their devotion to the cause the members of the Board were requested to parade with the Republicans to-morrow afternoon. The promise of a glossy new silk tie for every one of the members was made on the occasion.

This Getting to Be a Jeopardy. Chairman C. B. Rice, of the Democratic National Committee, to-day received a communication from Rockland, Mass., his correspondent pretending to identify the mythical Marston, of Rockville letter fame, with Charles E. Sumner, an alias of the name of President Grant's son-in-law, who is a native of Moncton, N. B., went to Pomona about four years ago.

Bad Man With a Good Name. William Christ, colored, was arrested this morning at a downtown station of the Sixth Avenue Elevated Railway. He had been noisy and quarrelsome on the train, insulting ladies and attempting to strike two of them.

Heed to the "Standard's" Suggestions. (BY CABLE TO THE PRESS ASSOCIATION.) LONDON, Nov. 2.—To-day's Pall Mall Gazette, commenting on the Standard's suggestion of retaliation in the 500-vote affair by the dismissal of Minister Phelps, says the Standard is playing the fool beyond measure in the affair in asserting that England has received an affront.

Detective Laventini Shot by His Wife. (SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.) CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—Jake Lowenstein, the detective, was mortally wounded by his wife this morning. She fired five shots at him, three of which took effect. The cause of the quarrel is not yet known. Lowenstein's death is expected before noon.

Knocked Down and Robbed by Toughs. (SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.) SPRINGFIELD, O., Nov. 2.—Gen. A. L. Bush, while on his way home late last night, was knocked down by a lot of toughs who stole from him a considerable amount of money, beat him and left him in an unconscious condition. No arrests have been made.

Fell From a Pier and Was Drowned. At 2 o'clock this morning an unknown man fell from pier 8 East River, and was drowned. His body was recovered. He was about forty years of age, 5 feet 8 inches in height; his hair was cut short, and he had a brown mustache.

For Bargain-Hunters. Highest grade of black and blue diagonal plaid, striped, and other goods, without any exception, at 25 cents, in the Essex Market Court, under the name of J. M. Bell & Co., agents, 51 Broadway.

THE ROPS BROKE. Two Carpenters Thrown from a Second Story to a Basement.

Michael Collins, of 225 East Fifteenth street, and Charles Murphy, of 315 East Sixteenth street, were at work on a scaffold at the southeast corner of Howard street and Broadway this morning, when the ropes gave way and they were precipitated from the second story to the basement.

The scaffold was found to be badly fractured and was severely bruised about the head and body. Both men were taken to Chambers Street Hospital.

She Ran Into the Swedish Steamer Carl Of Deptford on Oct. 18. The steamer Lydian Monarch, which arrived from London yesterday, reports having been in collision with the Swedish steamer Carl Of Deptford on Oct. 18. The Lydian Monarch was not much damaged. The Carl had her mizenmast carried away.

An Admission from Quay's Lieutenant. (SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.) PITTSBURGH, Pa., Nov. 2.—Senator Quay's Lieutenant, admits in an interview with the Cleveland-Hill disaffection is not very great.

The Quotations. American Cotton Oil, Open, High, Low, Close. Atch., Toledo & Santa Fe, 65 1/2, 65 1/2, 65 1/2, 65 1/2. Cleve., Col., C. & I., 61, 61, 61, 61. Chicago & North-West, 40 1/2, 40 1/2, 40 1/2, 40 1/2. Chicago, East & West, 40 1/2, 40 1/2, 40 1/2, 40 1/2. Chicago, West & North-West, 40 1/2, 40 1/2, 40 1/2, 40 1/2. Chicago, West & South-West, 40 1/2, 40 1/2, 40 1/2, 40 1/2. Chicago, West & East, 40 1/2, 40 1/2, 40 1/2, 40 1/2. Chicago, West & West, 40 1/2, 40 1/2, 40 1/2, 40 1/2. Chicago, West & South, 40 1/2, 40 1/2, 40 1/2, 40 1/2. Chicago, West & North, 40 1/2, 40 1/2, 40 1/2, 40 1/2. Chicago, West & East, 40 1/2, 40 1/2, 40 1/2, 40 1/2. Chicago, West & West, 40 1/2, 40 1/2, 40 1/2, 40 1/2. Chicago, West & South, 40 1/2, 40 1/2, 40 1/2, 40 1/2. Chicago, West & North, 40 1/2, 40 1/2, 40 1/2, 40 1/2. Chicago, West & East, 40 1/2, 40 1/2, 40 1/2, 40 1/2. Chicago, West & West, 40 1/2, 40 1/2, 40 1/2, 40 1/2. Chicago, West & South, 40 1/2, 40 1