AN EXTREMELY ACCOMMODATING SPIRIT BETWEEN KILRAIN AND SULLIVAN.

It Would Seem that Such Cleverness Should Bring About the Desired Arrangement—News of Lesser Lights in the Pugilistic World—The Great Winning and Running Records of the Late Race Season.

The telegram from Boston announcing that Jake Kilrain's backers in this city intend to cover Sullivan's $5,000 forfeit with the Clipper, and make the Police News, of Boston, final stakeholder, which was published elsewhere in THE EVENING WORLD'S Sporting Extra of yesterday, revealed the plot which Kilrain's friends here have hinted at for several days, but would not divulge. Two of the prime movers for Kilrain now are Jim Keenan, of Boston, and Frank Stevenson, of this city. Both these gentlemen were closest to the Police Gazette office this week with Richard K. Fox, and after their consultations said a way would be found which they thought would bring about a match, but they were non-committal on this way. Last evening, however, Mr. Stevenson said that the $5,000 for Kilrain will be posted either with the Clipper or with some friend of Sullivan who is perfectly reliable and to whom Sullivan could not object. Then Kilrain's representative will meet Sullivan, either on a foreign boat outside our harbor or in Canada, and will concede to him such terms that he cannot help being satisfied. "We will be content with one of Sullivan's backers for referee, and will let Sullivan name the time and place for the fight," said Mr. Stevenson. "There is only one thing we shall insist upon, and that is that the Police Gazette diamond belt, the emblem of the championship, shall be represented in the match. We will fight for $10,000. I think Kilrain can beat Sullivan, and we are going to bring them together if possible. We will be satisfied with the Police News as final stakeholder, and also with one or two of Sullivan's friends."

Jimmy Wakely, one of Sullivan's backers, said: "We will be satisfied with anything that is reasonable, and shall not insist that Kilrain put his money in the Clipper office. We like the Clipper and would prefer to have our $5,000 covered, but if Kilrain's friends will post their $5,000 in the hands of a party to whom we do not object, as they are sure to do, we will be satisfied and will go anywhere they wish to arrange a fight. I am sure we will have no trouble in selecting a referee acceptable to both sides, and also a final stakeholder. We want to see the men fight, and therefore will do anything that is reasonable."

Prof. William Hoefler and Ernst Roeder will wrestle Greco-Roman style, best two in three falls, for $200 a side and the championship of New York in Tappan Hall, Eighty-sixth street and Third avenue, to-morrow night.

Albert Frey, originator of the continuous pool game, gives exhibitions in pool-playing every afternoon at 4 o'clock at his billiard room, 234 Broadway.

A testimonial will be given to James F. Larkin, the feather-weight at Oakland Rink, Jersey City Heights, Dec. 24. The entertainment will include boxing by well-known men, and will wind up with a bout of six rounds between Larkin and Cal McCarty, the champion bantams.

A match will soon be made between John Wise, the light-weight, and an unknown. It will be a finish for a purse.

Frank Stevenson and Denny Butler are trying to arrange a glove contest between Gus Lambert, the Australian heavy-weight, and Tom Lees, the ex-Australian champion.

The records so far show that 522 horses made records in harness of 2:30 or better during the past season. Of these, Guy, blk. g., son of Kentucky Prince, owned by W. G. Gordon, of Cleveland, holds the lowest trotting record this year, having trotted a mile in 2:12.

The Duke of Portland heads the list of winning owners on the English turf during the past season, having won over $134,000. The Dwyer Brothers won over $129,000 this season.

Jake Hyams cut down a big oak tree yesterday as part of his daily exercise in preparation for his great ten-round glove contest with Jack McAuliffe next Wednesday evening.

Alderman John G. Fox denies that he has leased the Troy Theatre.

The following challenge has been received: I hereby challenge Patrick Cahill, of the Scotch American Athletic Club, Jersey City, N. J., to box ten rounds for an amateur prize and championship of America for a $100 or $150 trophy challenge is open to any amateur in America. JOHN J. VAN HOUTEN, West Side Athletic Club, 329 West Fifty-fourth street, New York City.

THE STORY OF A RECKLACE.

COMPLETE IN SIX CHAPTERS. BY "THE EVENING WORLD'S" SPECIAL NOVELIST.

SYNOPSIS OF CHAPTERS I-III. The bells of the first night of the German opera at the Metropolitan Theatre, step-daughter and heiress of Mortimer Hollis, the wealthy broker, attracts the attention of Angelo Velez, a handsome Cuban, who has come to New York to seek his fortune. He becomes friends with the Cuban to whom Velez is indebted, and who is known to the fact that Upton is in love with Miss Trevelyan. While at the bath Velez also discovers that Upton has a peculiar birth mark upon his left shoulder.

CHAPTER III. HAROLD UPTON'S CALL. "NE afternoon, a week later, Harold Upton, dressed with punctilious care, rang at the door of Mr. Hollis's handsome house on Madison avenue. When the servant answered the bell he inquired if Miss Trevelyan were at home. The servant ushered him into the drawing-room and took up his card. In a few moments he returned and said that Miss Trevelyan would be down in a moment. Upton amused himself in the interval by looking about the richly furnished room. The walls were hung with beautiful tapestries and the white and gold furniture was exquisitely made. Paintings by the old masters hung about the room and in one corner was a statue in white marble by Canova. Between the rooms hung richly embroidered portieres, and beyond was a conservatory, offering the loveliest display of tropical plants and rich flowers, while a small fountain threw a crystal thread of water in the air. The warbling of birds was also heard from this fairy bower, and the light stole into the room in a subdued way through the lace curtains and window hangings. The footsteps of the young man as he moved about fell noiselessly on the thick velvet carpet. A feeling of bitterness came into his heart. So much wealth was lavished here, and he was so poorly off in comparison! In addition

JUMPS "FARINELLI" PRESENTED TO MANAGER AMBERG'S PATRONS.

Henry Lee Will Produce "The Cavalier" at Palmer's—Thomas Keene to Have Three Weeks at Nible's—A Rumor About Miss Anderson and Next Season—Manager Tompkins and Mrs. Langtry.

Manager Amberg's handsome new theatre, at Irving place and Fifteenth street, was given over last night to opera. A large audience assembled to hear for the first time a work by H. Junpe called "Farinelli," which is said to have been very successful in Brussels and in Vienna. The scenes of the opera are laid in Madrid, and the story deals with a conspiracy against King Fernando, who has been the victim of his Minister and of the priests. He is finally reconciled to his people by his daughter and her lover, Farinelli, who manage to disarm the intriguers. The music of "Farinelli" is pretty, but not at all original. There are suggestions of many operas in it. Still the songs are deftly constructed and the finales are clever and spirited. "Farinelli" was beautifully put upon the stage and well cast. Herr Sinhold was King Fernando, Herr Schuetz an excellent Farinelli; Fr. Fuhrober, Don Alvaro, and Fr. Engländer, Manuela, the King's daughter.

Henry Lee has acquired from Samuel French & Son and A. M. Palmer all rights to Adolphe d'Ennery's play, "Le Chevalier de Lamortiere," and will produce the same this season for one week at Palmer's Theatre before the appearance of the McCaull Opera company. He calls the play "The Cavalier," and plays the star part.

Thomas Keene has been secured by E. G. Gilmore for a three weeks' run in February at Nible's Garden. Keene will appear in a big production of "Richard III." (a "big production" is the thing nowadays). The stage details will be managed by William Seymour, Daniel N. Barney, Keene's excellent manager. The arrangements yesterday and leaves to-night to join Miss Marlowe in Providence.

There is a rumor that Manager Abbey is anxious that Miss Mary Anderson should play in this city next season for a run of from fifteen to twenty weeks, and that if he cannot make such an engagement Miss Anderson will not be seen in America at all next season. Her success at Palmer's has been phenomenal. She has far exceeded the receipts of Booth and Barrett, to whom, it is said, Manager Eugene Tompkins is paying 80 per cent. of the gross receipts.

Manager Tompkins, by the way, is now in the city. He is not at all pleased with the idea of Mrs. Langtry devoting her season at the 27th Avenue to "Macbeth." He is anxious that she should also appear in other plays, but to this Mrs. Langtry has not as yet consented. It is said that vigorous "mems." are passing between Mrs. Langtry and Mr. Tompkins.

Miss Kate Castleton and her husband, Harry Phillips, have again agreed to differ. She is playing in "A Paper Doll" down South. He is in the neighborhood of Chicago. As a rule when they agree to differ they travel in their respective directions and do not communicate with one another. Then, when the season ends, they meet by chance at their home in Oakland, and a reconciliation follows.

John Drew, of Daly's company (this piece of information, by the way, was not furnished by Mr. Drew), is one of the most vigorous opposers of the bill asking for the production of American actors. Mr. Drew has not forgotten the regal manner in which he was entertained in London last season.

They suddenly sprang upon him, bound and gagged him, taking his keys. They locked Huler and a trusted prisoner in the cell and made good their escape. As soon as the prisoner, who had been tied, could release himself he unlocked the latter. The alarm was given and a posse are now scouring the country for the escaped prisoners.
