The Poor Babies' Free Doctors a Great Public Necessity.

Let the Subscriptions Come in at a Lively Rate.

Dr. Charles N. Cox Speaks from Experience of the Vast Field for Good Work.

THE SUBSCRIPTIONS.

Table listing names and subscription amounts for 'The Evening World' fund.

A Godspeed with a Dollar.

I enclose $1 (all I can afford) for the fund for 'The Evening World's Free Medical Service.'

Hundreds of Lives to be Saved.

Here is another dollar towards THE EVENING WORLD Free Doctor Fund.

A Mother's Sympathetic Offering.

I am a mother of three darling little boys and I know what danger they would be in if I could not command medical attendance when they are sick in summer.

A Sunday-School Class Contributes.

My sister and myself took a subscription of pennies in our Sunday-school class last Sunday for the benefit of the doctors' fund.

She Was Grateful.

Last summer THE EVENING WORLD Doctor treated two young little children, and I think he saved their precious little lives.

From Macy's Employees.

Here is 50 cents from two employees of Macy & Co. You will get more from here.

A Newboy's Dime.

I am only a newboy, but I want to give 10 cents toward the doctors' fund.

DR. COX'S HEARTY APPROVAL.

'The Evening World' Physician of Last Summer, Speaking from Experience, Emphasizes the Necessity for the Free Doctors' Corps.

Reporter called yesterday on Dr. Charles N. Cox, one of the leading physicians and surgeons of Brooklyn, who, last summer, chiefly through motives of philanthropy, visited the sick children in the crowded tenement-house districts of New York as the free physician of THE EVENING WORLD.

'The death-rate among children in the crowded tenement-house districts in very warm weather,' said Dr. Cox in response to the reporter's inquiry, 'is appalling. The little children are likely to fall ill at any time, and they often die for lack of medical attendance within twenty-four hours.'

'The great cause of disease and death in the tenement-houses is not so much lack of air as the intense heat. You see an example of that in the fact that the air is more vitiated in winter than in summer, for in the former season the windows and doors are closed and there is little ventilation, yet the death rate is much lower than in summer, when windows are open and air is more abundant.'

MEMORIAL DAY SPORTS.

WHAT WILL TAKE PLACE IN AND AROUND THIS CITY.

Harvard and Yale Arrange for Their Next Football Game—The Harvard's 'Behaviors' in a Battle—Report of $1,000 to $900 on Kilrain in His Coming Battle.

OUT OF THE HURLY-BURLY.

Da's de congregation will keep dere seats, Dat's ma bird!

Pleasant Alternatives.

The Dentist's Daughter (who hears her father approaching)—Oh, dear, Edward, here comes my father. If he should find us together here we are lost. Oh, he is coming! You will have either to ask for my hand or let him pull out a tooth for you.

A Symposium on Rings.

Edith Corner—Papa, what do the newspapers mean by coal ring, salt ring and whiskey ring?

Mr. Wheatsy Corner—That is one formed to prevent rival enterprise.

Edith—Is that it? Why, that is just like an engagement ring!

Looking for a Job.

Cowboy—Say, you! Do you run this engine?

Locomotive Engineer—Yes. What can I do for you?

Cowboy—I want a situation as cow-catcher. I've been on a ranch for the last ten years.

An Imposition.

By the Tiger's Door.—Tramp—Say, sport, couldn't you lend me a trifle to get a night's lodging? I need to be a gambler myself once.

Asa Shufflin—Then why the deuce do you want to sleep at night? Go on! you're an impostor.

It Was Free.

Yabsley—Hello, Wickwire, you are not looking very well to-day.

Wickwire—No; I took some lung syrup this morning and it kind of made me sick.

Yabsley—First time I knew there was anything the matter with your lungs.

Wickwire—There isn't, I guess, but there was a free sample bottle of stuff sent by the house and I thought I would try it.

YOU CAN HAVE A LITTLE LIFE!

Everybody should subscribe to 'The Evening World' Fund for a Summer Corps of Free Physicians for the Poor Sick Children of the Tenements.

He Took Some but Warden Grimes Objected and a Row Ensued.

John Mattick, a guard at the Hudson County Jail, is to be tried to-day by the County Board for insubordination.

Mattick objected to the coffee furnished for the guards by the Board of Freeholders.

Warden Grimes told him if he didn't like the coffee he could go without.

When the Board of Freeholders were at the Penitentiary the other day on its regular inspection a dinner was prepared in the best style of the institution. Delicious coffee was served. Mattick longed for a drink of it.

At an opportune moment he seized a cup of the piping-hot beverage and ran to the guards' dining-room.

Warden Grimes followed and knocked the coffee out of his hand. A scuffle followed, but the men were separated before much damage was done.

The guard was suspended and charges of insubordination preferred.

REV. W. E. HOWARD'S TRIAL.

President Cottrell Tells How the Parson Swore to a False Affidavit.

The trial of Rev. W. E. Howard for larceny in connection with the electric sugar frauds was resumed before Recorder Smyth in Part I. General Sessions, this morning.

President Cottrell again took the stand, and told how the Hamilton avenue factory in Brooklyn was erected at Prof. Friend's request, and how Howard, at his (Cottrell's) suggestion, made affidavit that the refined sugar shown was the product of the raw sugar sent by the company. This was done to satisfy the English capitalists, who were beginning to complain.

AMERICANS TAKE AS NATURALLY TO ATHLETICS AS DOGS DO TO WATER, AND ON LEGAL HOLIDAYS THEY TURN TO THE FIELD OF ATHLETICS WITH A WILL.

If you doubt it just run your eye over this imposing list, scheduled to take place in this immediate vicinity alone on Memorial Day:

Open amateur bicycle race, twenty-five mile trial, on the Hudson River, at Bergen Point, N. J.; Scottish-American Athletic Club's ditto, on the Hudson River, at Bergen Point, N. J.; Scottish-American Athletic Club's ditto, on the Hudson River, at Bergen Point, N. J.; Scottish-American Athletic Club's ditto, on the Hudson River, at Bergen Point, N. J.

The representatives of the Harvard and Yale Football Associations, who met the other day at Springfield, Minn., completed the final arrangements to have their game played at Hampden Park, next November.

Accommodations will be provided for 10,000 spectators. That's all right, but whence do Harvard and Yale expect to draw 10,000 spectators? Certainly not from the small town of Springfield. If there are 3,000 people present the two teams' treasury will be lucky. It seems too bad arrangements could not have been made to play the great game somewhere adjacent to New York. The large number of alumni of both colleges living in Gotham, and the number of athletes hereabouts interested in the Rugby game always justify great pecuniary profits besides local pleasure and amusement.

A yacht is none the worse a sea boat for being built on racing lines. This was illustrated by the Boston cutter Saracen's behavior during a heavy squall which struck her while making Cape Cod on her way to the city. She was reduced to the minimum of canvas and came on to Newport without mishap of any kind. She is expected to arrive in this harbor within a day or two. The Saracen is only thirty feet long.

Ex-United States Marshal William B. Matterson has written to Mr. Richard K. Fox that he has bet $1,000 to $900 that Kilrain will whip Sullivan. But he don't come up to the ranchman in Nevada who has wagered seventy-five fine steers and a large number of tons of hay on Kilrain with a neighboring cattle owner.

The La Blanche-Mike Lucie battle is on the cards for to-night at the California Athletic Club.

Reports from New Haven say that Yale's crew is being overtrained. This is a common result when young men whose physical development has not attained maturity are put through the severe training regimen of the professionals. And now, in this critical stage, it will be necessary for the Yale crew to 'lay off' for a couple of weeks to recuperate.

On the other hand, reports of a rosy hue come from Cambridge about the Harvard crew. J. J. Storror, stroke and Captain of the victorious crew of '89, has come on from Chicago and has taken to the Harvard crew his criticism, taken altogether, is in its favor. In substance he says the crew is strong and pulls a powerful and effective stroke, but the men have individual faults.

By the winning of the two-mile bicycle race at Berkeley Oval yesterday by F. A. Clark, Yale wins the Intercollegiate athletic championship over Columbia, with whom she was tied. Columbia is therefore second and Harvard third.

The Albany Cribb Club inaugurates its opening to-night with a sparring contest to a finish between the champion of the Albany Athletic Club, who has defeated the champion of the Cribb Club, and Harry Walton, of Philadelphia, with two-ounce gloves.

Billy Dacey says he will guarantee a $250 purse for the winner of a meet him with skin gloves two or three weeks after signing articles, and will post $50 to guarantee that the full amount will be in the referee's hands when Hopper steps into the ring. He says his opponent, Hopper, was willing to allow him to weigh 133 pounds to Hopper's 126.

A despatch from Baltimore announces the death of Mrs. Hannah Kilrain, Jake Kilrain's mother. The funeral arrangements will be deferred until Jake's arrival. He is due next Thursday.

Billy York, the well-known sporting man, will open his new sporting house at 2248 Third Avenue, near One Hundred and Twenty-second street, this evening. A host of the city's sporting men will be present to give him a proper send-off.

CIVIL-SERVICE IRREGULARITIES.

The Board of Commissioners Holding an Investigation.

The Board of Civil-Service Commissioners, consisting of Messrs. Lyman, Thompson and Roosevelt, with Mr. Mason, the local Commissioner, whose resignation takes effect June 1, are in session at the Custom-House to-day.

It is understood that an investigation is being held into the alleged irregularities of the conduct of the Civil-Service office of that Department.

CHANGES AT THE THEATRES.

OLD AND NEW FAVORITES ON NEW YORK AND BROOKLYN BOARDS.

London Gaiety Girls Make a Farewell Visit to the Grand Opera-House—Prof. Herrmann at the Fifth Avenue-Melkes Mannheim in 'A Runaway Wife' One of the Many Brooklyn Attractions.

'The Paymaster' was the attraction last night at the big west-side theatre, and Duncan H. Harrison the star—a heroic, tank-jumping star. 'The Paymaster' has been seen at various theatres in this city, and it has encountered a few improvements in the course of its peregrinations. Mr. Harrison was uproariously applauded when he jumped into the tank, which he did with extreme ability and agility—the two are not often coupled together, by the bye. In the cast were Miss Allison, Miss Beatrice Lieb, Ethel Harrison and some fairly effective men.

Prof. Herrmann was warmly welcomed to the Fifth Avenue Theatre last night. He will probably remain there for three or four weeks, and the indications are that he will do extremely well. The creation scene was admirably done, and the quaint, interesting surroundings that the artistic Herrmann has given to it are wonderfully effective. Prof. Herrmann ally assists his husband, and D'Alvi's eccentric, was as amusing as ever.

Nick Robert's Musical Comedy went to Niblo's last night and gave an entertainment there which will be continued during the week. This is the most popular, so that the present engagement is strictly in order. Harry Kernell, the Irish comedian, did some clever work, as did Miss Nellie Parker and McIntyre and Heath also prevailed.

Oliver Byron drew a large audience to the Third Avenue Theatre last night, and produced his play, 'The Inside Track.' Mr. Byron is an entertaining actor, and his impersonation of Harry Kernell, who is a well-known character in the shape of a horse, was very effective. The Electric Theatre, Miss Nellie Parker and McIntyre and Heath also prevailed.

'After the Opera is Over' is the name of a sketch that caused a great deal of laughter at Niblo's last night. The sketch was produced during the week. In it Harry Thorne, W. A. Melville, Mr. Adrian and Miss Maggie Winters, and some other well-known characters, were introduced. The sketch was very amusing, and the audience was very much entertained. The sketch was very amusing, and the audience was very much entertained.

'The Mystery of Fernley Abbey' is the title of a very melodramatic melodrama produced last night at the Grand Opera-House. The play can lay no claim to originality. It possesses nearly all the old tried features that have made it a success in the past. The play was very amusing, and the audience was very much entertained.

'The Old Oaken Bucket' was the attraction at the Grand Opera-House last night, and it entertained a very large audience. The play was very amusing, and the audience was very much entertained. The play was very amusing, and the audience was very much entertained.

work, and little Miss Katie Rooney is a capital assistant.

Edison's talking machine is to be seen at the Cyclorama of 'The Battle of Gettysburg' at the Grand Opera-House, Fourth Avenue and Nineteenth street. Hourly exhibitions are given. The first performance on Sunday was witnessed by large numbers of people.

The production of 'The Runaway Wife' at Col. Sinn's Park Theatre last evening introduced to west-side theatre-goers a young lady of whom great things will undoubtedly be heard in years to come. She is Miss Dora Rankin, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. McKee Rankin, and is certainly one of the good actors who are coming from Mr. Rankin, as the blind artist, is fitted with a role into which he infuses all the earnestness of manner one would be apt to expect from so accomplished an actor. Miss Mabel Burt, who was seen at this house a few weeks ago in 'Held by the Enemy,' enacted the part of a friend of the wife most successfully. The balance of the cast was in capable hands.

There is no disputing the popularity of Fred Miller, the Australian ventriloquist who returns for a week to Ziegler's Casino. His entertainment last evening was replete with novelties and local hits, and with much applause from the audience. Minnie Schull will shortly introduce to Casino goers Otto Hack's beautiful 'Summer Nights,' which has met with unqualified success wherever it has been sung. The Casino will remain open till about the middle of June.

As a fitting close to a successful season, no better play could have been selected than the one produced at the Grand Opera-House, this week, 'The Runaway Wife.' The play is a story of city life, and the characters being familiar figures, Eugene Jesson, as Hiram Pepper, was very good, while Miss Mabel Burt, as Miss Lavinia White, and the two sisters, did justice to several emotional scenes. Myron Calice and T. H. Gray were also excellent in their respective parts. 'The Runaway Wife,' 'Brooklyn's Whistler,' was heartily enjoyed.
