GUY'S GREAT MILE.

The Speedy Black Gelding Lowers His Record to 2.11 1/2.

And Under Conditions That Makes the Performance Wonderful.

Maud S. and Jay-Eye-See May Have to Look to Their Records.

Maud S. had better look to her laurels. Guy has lowered his record to 2.11 1/2, and under conditions that make the performance simply wonderful.

JOE FOGARTY DEAD.

The Assistant Keeper of the Morgue Passed Away this Morning.

He Was a Character Well Known by New Yorkers.

The Foul Air of His Surroundings Ruined His Health.

Joe Fogarty, the assistant keeper of the Morgue, died this morning. He was thirty-six years of age and has been married for the past five years.

DOG AND HER PAY.

Teachers Molested by the Board of Education.

And They Only Did What Their Principals Directed.

One More Unpleasant Outcome of the Great Centennial.

By an Electoral Commission vote of eight to seven the Board of Education of this town has made itself very cheap, and has brought down the righteous indignation of more than one hundred teachers of the twelfth ward.

THE WATERS SUBSIDE

And New York's Johnstown Recovers Its Quietude.

The Number of People Lost Now Reduced to Five.

A Total Damage of $200,000-The Town a Heavy Loser.

LONG DISTANCE TELEPHONE TO THE EVENING WORLD. JOHNSTOWN, N. Y., July 11.—The Cayadutta has resumed its normal state nearly, the waters having subsided even more rapidly than they rose, and Johnstown, too, though there is some excitement left, is relaxing into its former quietude.

BRODIE'S VERSION.

The Bridge-Jumper's Account of the Great Prize-Fight.

Mitchell, He Says, Sent After the Police to Stop It.

Kilrain Was a Sick Man and Plainly Sullivan's Inferior.

Steve Brodie, the bridge jumper, with George West, Dan Bannan and Dr. J. A. Leighton are back in town again. They are the first to get home from the big fight, and Brodie's version of what happened by the ring-side is very interesting.

EXTRA

2 O'CLOCK.

ARRESTED!

John L. Reported to be in the Police's Hands.

Taken Into Custody at Nashville Tenn.

Gov. Lowry's Requisition at Last Served on the Pugilist.

Muldoon, Cleary and Johnston Also Arrested.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.) NASHVILLE, July 11.—John L. Sullivan was arrested here this morning.

It was on Gov. Lowry's requisition. Sullivan resisted arrest.

But he was overcome. He called on the crowd for protection in vain.

The crowd did not dare to aid him. He is now in jail.

He will await requisition proceedings. Cleary, Johnston and William Muldoon are also under arrest.

THE FIGHTERS HOMEWARD BOUND. New Orleans Smiles at Their Dodging of the Fighting Staffs.

NEW ORLEANS, July 11.—The pugilists are gone, the visiting sports are gone and the city, with merely a passing smile at the easy and confident way in which the fighters and their friends dodged Mississippi's Governor and his requisitions, subsides into its old ways and thoughts.

Gov. Lowry's offer of $1,000 reward presented a temptation to a couple of sheriffs to actually do something, and they did go so far as to visit New Orleans; but Kilrain was already off and Sullivan slipped away under the very noses of the officers.

Kilrain went roundabout by the Texas and Pacific route.

Sullivan, after unavoidably disappointing a crowd which assembled to see him off on the steamer Hudson, resorted to another flying trip of over one hundred miles of Mississippi's sacred soil.

The flight fellows didn't carry his jubilee excesses so far as his friends had feared he would, but became again very tractable and manageable.

Col. Andrew, a California sport, with confidence in Kilrain's ability, little diminished by the loss of a few thousands, now offers to back Jake against Pete Jackson for $5,000.

Another match talked of is one between the Brooklyn strong boy, Jack Fallon, and the St. Joe kid.

Up to the last moment that the sports who were here remained about town, the subject of Kilrain's condition in the ring was one of dispute.

Assertions that he had been drugged, and that he had been neglected and run down were met by counter-declarations that he had a hernia or an ailment and that he was fit to fight for his life.

The matter will never end, and is profitable to both sides. To the general mind the most prominent idea is and will be only that the big battle is over and that the lesser man won.

Yesterday's widespread rumor that Kilrain had reached this city and made something of a stir, but the contradiction came speedily and the stir subsided.

FRENCH MILITARY SERVICE. A New Law Declared to Be Full of Serious Social Peril.

(BY CABLE TO THE PRESS NEWS ASSOCIATION.) PARIS, July 11.—The law relating to the three years' military service has been finally adopted by the Chamber of Deputies in the form in which it was voted by the Senate.

According to the terms of the law, which will probably be promulgated by President Carnot during the course of this week, all Frenchmen are liable to personal military service, which includes three years in the active army, seven years in the reserves, six years in the territorial army, and three years in the territorial reserves.

Before voting on the bill, Baron Rollé read, in the Chamber of Deputies, a report on the requirements of the law of 1872 and 1884.

Mr. Fickel, speaking in behalf of the Extreme Left, and the measure was not as good as it would have been had not the Senate improved, but that present necessities compelled its adoption, and those who thought with him would certainly vote for it.

The session of the Chamber will adjourn next Saturday.

Bereford, M. P., Resigns. (BY CABLE TO THE PRESS NEWS ASSOCIATION.) LONDON, July 11.—Sir Charles Bereford has resigned his seat as member of the House of Commons from the Marylebone district.

DEATH OF MRS. TYLER. A Congestive Chill Proved Fatal to the Former President's Widow.

Mrs. Tyler, the widow of President Tyler, died yesterday afternoon, at the Exchange Hotel, in Richmond, Va. Her death was due to a congestive chill.

Mrs. Tyler was the second wife of President Tyler. Her maiden name was Julia Gardiner, and she was born on Gardner's Island, near East Hampton, N. Y., in 1820.

She accompanied her husband to Washington when she was twenty-four years old. On a river excursion, in which Mr. and Mrs. Gardner were the guests of President Tyler, a gun on the boat exploded and killed Mr. Gardner. The body was taken to the White House.

Mrs. Tyler was four children—Gardiner G. Tyler, John G. Tyler, President of William and Mary College; Dr. Laekland Tyler and Mrs. Mary Tyler.

Mrs. Tyler resided at Sherwood Forest, President Tyler's home on the James River, up to the time of the civil war, when she went to Castle Hill, N. J. After several years' residence there she removed to Richmond, Va.

By a singular coincidence Mrs. Tyler died only a few yards from the room in which her husband expired.

ABANDONED IN THE PARK.

A PRETTY LITTLE GIRL WHO CAN GIVE NO ACCOUNT OF HERSELF.

A pretty, brown-eyed little girl, five years old, is in charge of Matron Webb at Police Headquarters, awaiting her mother or some relative who will claim her.

This little child may be called a mystery of Central Park.

On Monday afternoon last a woman walked into the Park leading the little girl by the hand. The two sat down on a bench a little while. Then the woman arose, told the little girl to wait until she came back, and then walked slowly away.

The little stranger in white sat prim and upright on the bench all the afternoon. Hour after hour she waited for the woman to return.

Police-man Britton noticed that she had been alone and unattended for some hours, and at 5 o'clock he called to her.

She replied that she was Annie Long, and that she was waiting for her mother to return for her.

The officer remained with the little girl until 8.30 o'clock, when it became evident that the child's mother was not going to return and that the child had been brought to Central Park to be abandoned.

The policeman then sent her to Matron Webb at Police Headquarters. She would be taken for a German, but she speaks English perfectly and without an accent. She cannot speak German.

Matron Webb says that the little girl's garments are of German make, and are not all like those made for American children.

Although she was dressed in white when found, she had on a Turkey red dress under her white dress, and wore a superfluity of garments, indicating that her little wardrobe had been put on her before she was taken to the Park, which is also regarded as evidence that she was abandoned.

She cries for her mother every day, and seems confused and a little dazed, but her mother does not come to get her. She is not able to tell whether she lived in New York or in the country. All she can say is that she lived in Columbia street.

There is a Columbia street in New York and another in Brooklyn. Inquiry was made by the police officers living in the two streets in the two cities, but no missing child was reported.

A general alarm was also sent out to all the police of each city for search to be made for the little girl's mother.

The child seems to have been well fed and dressed in clothes of good material, though they were somewhat worn and shabby, puzzling thing about the case is that her appearance and her clothes are German, but her speech is English. She looks as if she were not a week from Castle Garden.

If she is not claimed to day she will be handed over to the care of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children and will ultimately be sent to Randall's Island.

Changes in the Union League Club. Steward Wainwright, for many years connected with the staff of the Buckingham Hotel, has been engaged as steward for the Union League Club, to fill the vacancy caused by the dismissal of Canaville. This is an important change in the place where the Union League Club, Chairman of the House Committee, is putting rapidly through. Clerk Andrews will be acting superintendent of the Club until further notice.

AN INDIAN GHOST CASE.

THE VERY QUEER FACTOR IN THE WHITE-NEX DIVORCE SUIT.

An Indian ghost as the disturber of the perfect conjugal and love which should exist between husband and wife is a very disagreeable, nasty thing. It puts the Indian question in a new light. After the redskins have gone to their happy hunting grounds they ought to stay there and hunt.

Judge O'Gorman yesterday granted $12 a week alimony and $75 counsel fee for Mrs. Addie T. Whitney in the suit for limited divorce which was brought by her against her husband, Silas G. Whitney.

They have been married nine years and have three children. Mr. Whitney says there is an Indian ghost in the family, and that Addie, who is a Spiritualist, and claims to be a medium, does just what the Indian ghost tells her to.

Mr. Whitney says he didn't abandon his wife, but that she used to slide off and talk with the ghost in a chimney, while he sang the children to sleep, mended their little clothes and got the dinner ready.

Addie says Silas went back on her by abandoning her. She says he is a hotel proprietor of some kind, and that he has a hotel business plan turned out a perfect bonanza to him.

She says nothing about the Indian ghost. What she used to talk about with him was not in evidence. Probably they had mutual conversations in the chimney.

Science Always Reads. Caller—Doct'r, Mr. Divyne, the muscle reader, tell into a sort of trance a little while ago and we cannot arouse him. Is it catalepsy or death? Doctor in gr-at scientist—Bring me his head and I'll soon tell you.

A Modern Instance. Madam, are you a woman suffragist? No, sir, I haven't time to be. Haven't time! Well, if you had the privilege of voting whom would you support? And who is that? The same man I have supported for the last ten years.

Maurice B. Flynn's Funeral. The funeral of Maurice B. Flynn, the contractor and politician, will take place at 10.30 o'clock to-morrow morning from St. Francis Xavier's Church, West Sixteenth street. DELEGATE DAVIS SUSPENDED.

Pending the Investigation in the Case of Painter Woods.

At the meeting of the Building Trades and Metal-Workers' Section of the Central Labor Union, at 145 Eighth street, last night a motion picture was shown, and the Secretary presented all the facts to the union represented in the Board of Working Delegates in the matter of a complaint of the Progressive Painters against Thomas Woods.

It was charged that Wood, who is a member of Progressive Painters No. 3, proved recreant during a strike in Walter Scott's paint shop, and that he now holds "strabs" and took the places of union men. Woods was fined $50 by the Progressive, and subsequently joined the union.

The motion adopted also requested the Board of Working Delegates to suspend from its membership Robert Davis, delegate of the Secretary, until the last mentioned body expels Woods, Davis, et al., presented Woods' name for membership in the Operative's Union.
