

What a hit was that by which big BOONER...

THEY DON'T GET THEIR MONEY'S WORTH. Two more American girls of wealth have been caught by the chaff of a foreign title.

UPON WHAT GROUND? BUDDENSIK, the builder of man-traps, whose flimsy structures constantly menace the lives of their occupants...

DECIDEDLY PIGAYUNISH. The action of the Board of Education in docking the wages of the teachers who closed their schools on May 3...

A SINGULAR COINCIDENCE. The financial collapse of Senator WASHINGTON, of Minnesota, is rumored. Up to the time of his election to the United States Senate he was reputed wealthy.

SPANK 'EM! Those Cleveland babies are here. They are the same incorrigible imps of the ball-field that they have been all the season.

A Hit for a Medal. Connor gains the distinction of being the first player to knock the ball over the center-field and right-field fences...

WOMEN WILL FIGHT FOR HIM LEGITIME RECRUITS HIS SCANTY ARMY WITH SCORES OF AMAZONS.

The Females Take Kindly to Military Duties and Show Great Interest in Their New Life—The Men Treat Them Courteously and Are Not Offended at the Innovation—Powder Very Scarce.

The result of the Haytian imbroglio, in which Legitime and Hippolyte have engaged the bulk of the entire population, will probably be arbitration.

He is so strongly entrenched at Port au Prince and the natural character of that place is so suited to repelling the enemy...

These warlike females are probably filled with envy when they behold the gorgeous uniforms of the officers...

It is thought that the matter is more a question for arbitration than female combat. The Amazons of Legitime are not very great numbers of cases.

It is interesting fact that the proportion of blind people has greatly decreased during the last two decades.

Mr. Penney's Latest Effort in "The Evening World" Attracts Attention.

The New Haven Journal and Courier reports Mr. Penney's admirable poem, "Ben Atwater's Experiment," from THE EVENING WORLD.

DELGATE DAVIS SUSPENDED. Pending the investigation in the case of a painter Woods.

The Frog as Swimming-Master. The editor of the Brunswick Telegraph gives a lesson in swimming this week by telling of his own youthful experience.

Blue Was Appropriate. The World got out a white, red and blue edition in the evening, the last column of which on the first page recorded the Giants' defeat by the Alleghens in the morning game.

SEND IN THE $

At Least Twenty Physicians Are Needed In That Corps.

Let Every Friend of the Children Contribute Liberally.

There Are Hundreds of Little Lives to Be Saved by Your Generosity.

The Work Will Be Begun at Once and Systematically Conducted.

IN FORTY-EIGHT HOURS.

Children's Deaths (in New York City) 114.

Table with 2 columns: Name, Amount. Includes THE EVENING WORLD, R. H. E. Goldstein, Annie E. Jormin, etc.

PUSH THE FUND.

THE EVENING WORLD asks the generous friends of the poor children of New York to boom this Fund to dimensions which will justify the employment of a large corps of physicians.

THE EVENING WORLD has already engaged eleven physicians, including a head of the corps, and they will begin work at once.

This corps should at least be increased to twenty doctors. To do this, more funds are needed and needed at once.

The children have generally come to the rescue of the children in this matter. They have given a charming phase to a beautiful charity.

Roll up the fund in genuine earnest. The charity is sorely needed. It is not exceptional, but a great work of practical good, as demonstrated by the experience of the one physician put into the field last Summer by THE EVENING WORLD.

General New York is never called on in a good cause in vain.

Let the Dollars Roll In. Please find $1 enclosed for the Babies' Fresh Air Fund.

From an "Evening World" Newshoy. Enclosed is five cents from an EVENING WORLD newshoy.

A Baby's Contribution. I send my little to assist in helping the poor little clanking babies.

A Dime from a Little Boy. Enclosed please find the small amount of 10 cents for the Sick Babies' Fund.

You Had a Hand. Please add the enclosed 50 cents to your Free Doctors' Fund.

A Hint to a Million. Seeing the noble work which your bright little paper is doing towards alleviating the sufferings of poor infants...

The Social Seven's Fair. The opening of the grand fair in aid of THE EVENING WORLD'S Sick Babies' Fund took place last night at the parlors of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Cohen.

Goodfellow's Mistake. First Chairman—How does it happen that Goodfellow has such a hard time getting into society?

Our Free Doctors at Work. The New York EVENING WORLD has started its corps of free physicians to look after the babies of poor people in that city.

ABANDONED IN THE PARK.

A PRETTY LITTLE GIRL WHO CAN GIVE NO ACCOUNT OF HERSELF.

Her Mother Met Her on a Bench with Instructions to Await Her Return—After Hours of Waiting a Policeman Sent Her to Her Mother—Evidently a Premeditated Abandonment.

A pretty, brown-eyed little girl, five years old, in charge of Matron Webb at Police Headquarters, awaiting her mother or some relative who will claim her.

The little stranger in white sat prim and upright on the bench all the afternoon. Hour after hour she waited for the woman to return.

The officer remained with the little girl until 8:30 o'clock, when it became evident that she had no mother was not going to return and that the child had been brought to Central Park to be abandoned.

There is a Columbia street in New York which is a very narrow one, and is so named because of the fact that it was the site of a battle between the British and the Americans.

There is a Columbia street in New York which is a very narrow one, and is so named because of the fact that it was the site of a battle between the British and the Americans.

There is a Columbia street in New York which is a very narrow one, and is so named because of the fact that it was the site of a battle between the British and the Americans.

There is a Columbia street in New York which is a very narrow one, and is so named because of the fact that it was the site of a battle between the British and the Americans.

AN INDIAN GHOST CASE.

THE VERY QUEER FACTOR IN THE WHITNEY DIVORCE SUIT.

An Indian ghost as the disturber of the perfect joyousness and love which should exist between husband and wife is a very disagreeable, nasty thing.

They have been married nine years and have three children. Mr. Whitney says there is an Indian ghost in the house.

They have been married nine years and have three children. Mr. Whitney says there is an Indian ghost in the house.

They have been married nine years and have three children. Mr. Whitney says there is an Indian ghost in the house.

They have been married nine years and have three children. Mr. Whitney says there is an Indian ghost in the house.

They have been married nine years and have three children. Mr. Whitney says there is an Indian ghost in the house.

They have been married nine years and have three children. Mr. Whitney says there is an Indian ghost in the house.

They have been married nine years and have three children. Mr. Whitney says there is an Indian ghost in the house.

HOW WILL IT END?

Horseman Anxious About the Result of Kern's Fouling.

Opinions among horsemen in regard to the performance of Mr. Haggin's colt Kern in the race for the Lorillard Stakes at Monmouth Park last Tuesday are still rather mixed.

There are those who declare that such an inferior horse as Kern could have been entered for no other purpose than to increase Salvator's chances of winning, and that that is conclusive proof of the owner's unfairness.

The strange thing about it all is that it is impossible to find any one who saw the talk which Kern made across the track, and all these opinions are based upon second-hand testimony.

Those who take Mr. Haggin's side of the controversy claim that Kern was entered because his owner believes him to be a speedy colt, as his trials in practice have shown, and that the only trouble is that he is hard to manage.

Mr. Haggin says himself that he put Kern into the race because he thought he could secure a place with him, and that as to his speed, he is sure he is not slow, but he believes the charge to be without foundation.

The colt simply got into one of his tantrums and made a bad race of the track out of pure perverseness. If he can be brought down to serious work, Mr. Haggin believes that there is money in him, for he is very steady, and in one race recently he won the horses as Taragon and Tristram for a mile and then lost by kicking up one of his usual shindies.

The loss of the $20,000 stakes is due to unfair play, and that the race was a farce. Mr. Haggin should have captured the race.

As for Mr. Haggin, he says he has no unfriendly feeling towards the Dwyers, and declares that they are now and always have been the best of friends.

I didn't know there was anything wrong on the track till Mr. Withers came up and said that the Dwyers were the winners. Then Dwyer came up and made some remark, but I was in too much of a hurry to get away and find out what the matter was.

Mr. Haggin's support at the Eastern race track is considerable, and it is thought that the result of the race will be a matter of conversation among the talent.

It was said that Michael Dwyer had offered to back Longstreet against Salvator for a mile and a half for $10,000, but he was waiting to hear from Mr. Haggin.

It is generally believed that as soon as the soreness between the parties to the little unexciting race is somewhat lessened, the principal topic of conversation among the talent.

Mr. Haggin's support at the Eastern race track is considerable, and it is thought that the result of the race will be a matter of conversation among the talent.

Mr. Haggin's support at the Eastern race track is considerable, and it is thought that the result of the race will be a matter of conversation among the talent.

Mr. Haggin's support at the Eastern race track is considerable, and it is thought that the result of the race will be a matter of conversation among the talent.

Mr. Haggin's support at the Eastern race track is considerable, and it is thought that the result of the race will be a matter of conversation among the talent.

Mr. Haggin's support at the Eastern race track is considerable, and it is thought that the result of the race will be a matter of conversation among the talent.

Mr. Haggin's support at the Eastern race track is considerable, and it is thought that the result of the race will be a matter of conversation among the talent.

CULLED IN HUMOR'S FIELD.

FLOWERS OF WIT FROM THE PENS OF OUR FUNNY MEN.

A Perfection of War Material. (From Judge.)

Mrs. Moserose (visiting her son at college)—Ah, Jack, you caught me! Poor, dear love! I noticed that your pin-cushions were empty and I had a paper in my reticule I'm filling them.

Know the Facts. (From the New York Weekly.)

First Little Boy—Papa was readin' somfin' about Mind Reader Baboo bein' killed, but I couldn't make out how it was.

Subjects Exhausted. (From the New York Weekly.)

Little Alice—Oh, dear, I'm afraid if Mrs. Blank don't get pretty soon we won't get our ride with mamma. Ain't her call most over?

A Mad Alternative. (From Texas Sittings.)

Daughter (her father a dentist)—For heaven's sake, Charlie, here comes my father! If he finds us together we are lost.

Beating Against Odds. (From Texas Sittings.)

A Living Encyclopedia. (From the Savannah Journal.)

Answers by Analogy. (From Judge.)

Teacher—Who in the class can tell what a man who walks is called? Tommy? Tommy? Tommy—A walker.

Turn About Fair Play. (From Texas Sittings.)

Too Much to Expect. (From the Boston Herald.)

Important to Wine Drinkers. (From Texas Sittings.)

Likely to Remain at Home. (From the Boston Herald.)

A Change of Base. (From the Detroit Free Press.)

Courtesies of the Road. (From Judge.)

Have a Hack! (From Texas Sittings.)

AN OPENING WEDGE.

The Sugar Trust May Receive a More Severe Blow Now.

A Receiver May Apply to Wind Up the Sugar Trust.

Judge Daniels's Decision Leaves This Course Open.

The decision of Judge Daniels, in sustaining the decision of Judge Barrett against the Sugar Trust, may be taken as a great victory for the people who have been robbed by that concern for the last two years.

There is another question in connection with the case that has yet to be settled, and that is the appeal on the judgment against the North River Sugar Refining Company.

The Trust managers claim that the Judge's decision in appointing a receiver for the North River Sugar Refining Company does them no harm, but when the matter is examined carefully the decision seems to open a way for some further action, which may touch the sugar barons in a more vital spot.

The Company thus affected is a member of the Trust and its receiver contends that its share in the Trust business is part of its property, and he claims should be delivered to him with the rest of the property.

The influence of the Trust was felt in Brooklyn last Fall, when several large refineries were closed and nearly one thousand employes thrown out of work without a moment's notice.

The Trust has received another blow at the hands of the English bankers. According to dispatches received, the Banks in London have declined to receive sugar as a collateral for loans, and this has created a panic feeling among holders. Prices have declined about 5 c. in the past week.

The Sugar Trust holds about 20,000 tons of raw sugar, and the loss will be very heavy, for it is thought that the decline will reach this country very soon. All together the path of the Sugar Trust monopolists does not look as rosy as they would wish it to be.

And now there is a movement on foot to form a Fair Trust. There was a meeting of prominent men at the Fifth Avenue Hotel yesterday, and it is said that the preliminary steps will be taken towards forming a "combine" between the Michigan and English salt producers. There will be another meeting this afternoon.

Table with 2 columns: Team, Score. Includes National League, American Association, Atlantic Association.

Table with 2 columns: Team, Score. Includes Year Ago To-Day, Baseball To-Day.

Customer (in chair to barber)—My friend, you have missed your vacation; you should have a cal.

How do the little busy boys improve their health? In gathering voters to his side through tearing up the streets.

Romantic Spinster—Excuse me, sir, but is not this the spot where that beautiful girl fell into the water last Summer, and was so gallantly rescued by the gentleman who afterwards married her?

From the weakening effects of warm weather, by hard work, or from a long illness, you need a good tonic and blood purifier. Hood's Sarsaparilla gives a good appetite, strengthens the whole system, purifies the blood, regulates the bowels, and restores the vitality.

All Run Down. Hood's Sarsaparilla. Sold by all druggists. Prepared only by C. L. HOOD & CO., Apolachicola, Lowell, Mass.

100 DOLLARS ONE DOLLAR.