

Published by the People Publishing Company. FRIDAY EVENING, JULY 19. SUBSCRIPTION TO THE EVENING EDITION. (Including Postage.) PER ANNUM $3.00 VOL. 30 NO. 10,195 Entered at the Post-Office at New York as second-class matter.

A NOBLE WORK.

A resume of the results already accomplished by THE EVENING WORLD'S staff of physicians, who are enabled to push the humane work among the dwellers in the tenements by the Sick Babies' Fund, is given in another column to-day. What a glorious record it is! What a touching story it tells of suffering alleviated, little lives saved, and hearts lightened and cheerless homes illumined by rays of hope!

With what assiduity the skillful members of this staff have performed their duties is best shown by the following record: Houses visited, 1,284; families visited, 8,332; number of sick found, 532; prescriptions, 523. But these figures, telling of wonderful achievements as they do, do not and cannot convey information of the invaluable services rendered in the way of needed words of caution, advice and kindness, the fruitage of which may be greater by far in preventing disease than any amount of drugs administered to cure ailments already contracted.

Truly this is a charity appealing to the tenderest impulses of all. Those who have contributed to the work already accomplished may well be proud of their share in the humanitarian enterprise. But more money is needed. The work is but just begun. Now that the public is made aware of the good done by the Fund we are confident that the contributions will be greatly accelerated.

A NOVEL GOVERNMENT PUBLICATION. Prof. J. P. Sousa, leader of the Marine Band at Washington, has made a collection of National airs of all the countries on earth, and a book containing them is soon to be published. By what must publishing house is the book to be issued? None. It is to be done by the authority of the Navy Department.

Why? Well, "that's one thing that nobody knows." To what use the navy can put these airs is not apparent. There is no special reason why the Government should become Prof. Sousa's publisher. If this collection is valuable, there are plenty of private concerns that would be only too glad to publish the work.

The next thing to be published by the Government will probably be a choice collection of "Favorite Gospel Hymns," prepared by the authority of the Post-Office Department.

PHILIPSEN'S ESCAPE. The discharge of CHARLES PHILIPSEN from jail, which practically ends the prosecution in that case, is calculated to pique the curiosity of those who are cognizant of the facts in the case. PHILIPSEN was indicted several months ago for perjury in the West Washington Market investigation. Now, without any attempt to bring him to trial, he is discharged. This is a peculiar proceeding.

The reason assigned by District Attorney Gory for the case not having been prepared was remarkable. He claimed that such preparation ought to have been made by parties outside the District-Attorney's office. Since when did such an excuse become the duly constituted prosecuting officer from doing his duty?

It would be very interesting to know the real reason why PHILIPSEN is not tried.

RADICAL LABOR REFORMS CALLED FOR BY RESOLUTIONS AGREED UPON AT THE CONFERENCE.

(SPECIAL CABLE TO THE EVENING WORLD.) LONDON, July 19.—The Labor Congress has agreed upon resolutions in favor of a weekly eight-hour law, with provision for a generally holiday, equal wages and equal opportunities for laborers of both sexes, and the suppression of child labor where the workers are under fourteen years of age.

These resolutions receive the support of the American, English, Belgian, Spanish, French, Danish, Polish, Austro-Hungarian and Portuguese delegates.

STROLLING STREET MUSICIANS. Scores of People Write to Mayor Grant Concerning Their Suppression.

Mayor Grant is in receipt of scores of communications relative to the suppression of the strolling street bands. Miss Emily E. McCallum, a school teacher, living at No. 75 West One Hundred and Twenty-seventh street, believes them to be a blessing to people who cannot afford to pay for high class music, but she disapproves strongly of the street vendors and old women, whose cries make life a torture.

Horace A. Foster, who lives in the same block, is participating in his denunciation of the "wind jammers." He invites the Mayor to spend a few nights in Harlem and judge for himself. Scores of letters on both sides are daily received by the Mayor, and it is plain that the end is not yet.

$24,500 IN A PARCEL

A Dead Bowerly Tramp's Legacy to His Brothers.

His Life Devoted to the Care of a Brown Paper Package.

Conspicuous Honesty of His Executor, a Fellow-Lodger.

A valuable scrap of paper is on file in the Register's office. Half a sheet of common notepaper, signed "John A. Beer," contained the testamentary disposition of his estate by an old man who died in Bellevue Hospital a month ago.

For fifteen years the New England Hotel, a cheap lodging-house on the Bowery, has been the home of an old slovenly tramp of a marked individuality.

He was bristling with peculiarities. One of them was for the seely, looking old thing, in a suit made up of a dozen pieces, to amble up to the clerk in the hotel every Saturday night and hand him the exact amount of his week's board bill.

Work he did none. He was frugal to miserliness. Sometimes he would go into a cheap livery-house and purchase a quarter for a feast. This was one of his most luxurious extravagances.

He was known as Leonard Coe. He cared little for men, he hated women, he loved the dog. He used to pick up odds and ends, strange things, which he stored in his room till it looked like an "Old Curiosity Shop." But his one abiding solicitude was for his small parcel, which he carried with him, wrapped in a familiarly with the law and with medicine that was astounding.

One of the strangest things about him was his aversion to women. Many an eloquent burst of invective against the fair sex escaped his withered lips. His antipathy to the sex was intense, and the expression of his distaste bitter in the extreme. He was not one to stir a woman's heart, and even in the days of his youth probably had little that could attract the attention of a lady. He was, indeed, a literary bent, and would devour omnivorously anything he could lay hold of to read.

One of the strangest things about him was his aversion to women. Many an eloquent burst of invective against the fair sex escaped his withered lips. His antipathy to the sex was intense, and the expression of his distaste bitter in the extreme. He was not one to stir a woman's heart, and even in the days of his youth probably had little that could attract the attention of a lady. He was, indeed, a literary bent, and would devour omnivorously anything he could lay hold of to read.

Not long before, when illness had prostrated him, he had consumed the precious package which he had carried with him, wrapped in a familiarly with the law and with medicine that was astounding.

He had been acquainted with Haller, who also lodged at the New England Hotel, who had been sick before his death. He used to enjoy talking to him, and they got on well together. Coe told him, when he saw death near, that his name was not Coe, but John A. Beer, and he had two brothers in Lancaster, Pa., who, as he said, neither knew nor cared to know where he was.

When Haller opened the package which had been entrusted to him, he found a bundle from his head to find in well-worn greenbacks the sum of $24,500. He had been instructed by Beer to hold this for his brothers, Charles and Benbow, who were in Lancaster, Pa., who, as he said, neither knew nor cared to know where he was.

When Haller opened the package which had been entrusted to him, he found a bundle from his head to find in well-worn greenbacks the sum of $24,500. He had been instructed by Beer to hold this for his brothers, Charles and Benbow, who were in Lancaster, Pa., who, as he said, neither knew nor cared to know where he was.

Accidentally shot. Louis Filminin, nineteen years old, of 82 Mott street, was accidentally shot to-day by Hyman Barnett, of 54 Chrystie street. Barnett was arrested and Filminin was taken home after receiving medical attendance.

Do You Have that extreme tired feeling, languor, without appetite or strength, impaired digestion, and a general feeling of misery that is impossible to describe? How's Sarsaparilla, a wonderful medicine for creating an appetite, promoting digestion, and toning up the whole system, giving strength and activity to place of weakness and debility. Be sure to get Hood's Sarsaparilla. Sold by all druggists, or sent for $3. Prepared only by G. I. HOOD & CO., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass.

THE NOBLE WORK.

Over Eight Thousand Families Visited By the Free Physicians.

More Than Five Hundred Sick Babies Prescribed For.

Public Officials Interested in the Good Cause.

Many Voluntary Contributions of Clothing and Other Articles.

THE RECORD.

At the meeting last evening Dr. Foster made the following report of the work done by THE EVENING WORLD'S staff of free physicians for the week ending July 17:

Number of houses visited, 1,234; actual number of families visited, 8,332; number of sick found, 532; number of prescriptions given, 523. Two hundred and ninety-seven cases of diarrhoeal diseases were treated.

THE CONTRIBUTIONS.

THE EVENING WORLD, $100.00; Already acknowledged, 1,741.12; Witkowski, 1.00; A., 2.00; G. A. B., 1.00; Fredrick, Dora, Emily, Gertrude and Frank, 5.00; Phil, 1.00; White street, 2.00; Bertha Knapp, 1.00; Jacob Phillips, 4.22; Leonard, 1.00; Thomas Cogau, 5.00; David Kaiser, 10.00; Borchert Kreitzman, 2.00; W. H. Green, 1.00; Brooklyn Beach, 2.00; Bertie and Annie, 1.00; Dave and Albert, 2.00; Blaindell, N. J., 5.00; W. P. F., 3.00; C. S. T. and A. L. T., 2.75; J. H. Green, 1.00; Jennie Edelstein, 1.25; L. E., 1.00; Lillie Kiebler, 1.00; Lillie S., 5.30; W. A. Tobias, 1.00; Sick, Bella and Minnie Faulhaber, 1.00; J. H. Z., 1.00; Lemie, Ella, Mamma and Pats., 1.00.

A Boy's Pennies. I am only a little boy and haven't many pennies, but please take all I have saved, and ask the doctors to try and make the poor little sick babies well. WILLIE H. GREEN, 45 Hanson place, Brooklyn.

Sends Her Birthday Present. I am a little girl eleven years of age. I have been reading lately all THE EVENING WORLD about the good work you are doing for the poor children. Although I am poor, I send you 25 cents. The money was given to me for my birthday. With the best wishes, JENNIE EDELSTEIN, 329 West Fifty-third street.

Proceeds of a Fish Sale. While fishing yesterday at the foot of Thirty-first street, East River, I caught a pin fish weighing 148 pounds. Inclosed find 10 cents for the sick babies, which I got for the pin fish. L. E.

The Worthy Scheme. Being much interested in the worthy scheme which your paper has started I here, with send you $1. May every success attend you in your effort. LILLIE KOEHLER.

Practical Sympathy. Inclosed find $2 for the babies. A.

"Doing a Good Work." Inclosed please find $5 for the fund for sick children in the tenement-houses. You are doing a good work and I wish you every success. C. R.

To swell the Stream. Inclosed please find ten cents for your Sick Babies' Fund. GUS BOTSAL.

They Gave Their Little Savings. We have emptied our savings banks for the benefit of the poor sick babies with the following result: Freddie, 10 years, $1.00; Gertrude, 4 years, $1.00; Dora, 8 years, 1.00; Frankie, 1 year, 1.00; Emily, 6 years, 1.00.

For a Poor Mother. I was just reading of the poor mother (told of by Nell Nelson) whose husband has gone to Canada, and she says, till she hears from him, may God help her. Please give her the inclosed dollar in his name, and tell her to trust and pray to him and he will surely help her. PHIL.

Helps a Good Cause. Inclosed $2 is for the Babies' Fund to help a good cause. WHITE STREET.

Touched Her Childish Heart. I read your paper every evening and see where so many good boys and girls are trying to help the Sick Babies' Fund along. I am a little girl eleven years old, and I send $2. I wish it was more. ETHEL V. DOW.

He is Sorry for Them. Inclosed please find $1 from a little boy who is sorry for the poor sick children. LITTLE BOY.

From a Drummer in Hard Luck. Inclosed please find 10 cents from my wife and I for the Sick Babies' Fund. This all I can afford. W. A. TOBIAS, A commercial button drummer in hard luck.

From Jersey City. Inclosed please find 50 cents from Joe, Nick, Bella and Milly Faulhaber. THE BROTHERS AND SISTERS.

Sixty Cents from Two. Inclosed please find 50 cents from J. H. L. and 10 cents from J. P., for the Sick Babies' Fund. J. H. L. AND J. P.

We Will. Please place this $1 where it will do the most good. LEMIE, BELLA, MAMMA, PATA.

Transferred Their Mamma's Gift. Inclosed please find 10 cents, pennies received from our mamma. We are two and three years old respectively, and when mamma can spare more she will give it to us to give to the poor little sick babies of the poor. DAVE AND ALBERT.

A Baby's Mite. Please accept my mite for the Babies' Fund. EMILIE S., eighteen months old.

$2.25 in the Letter. Please give the inclosed to the Babies' Fund and oblige. C. S. T. AND A. L. T. Wednesday, July 17.

Such Contributions Welcome. Kindly add the inclosed dollar to your fund for relief of sick children and credit it to the interest of my two little ones. BERTIE AND AGNES, New York, July 17.

Always "Lend a Hand." The "Lend a Hand Society," of Greenwich, Conn., consisting of children banded together for the purpose of doing all the good they can in all the ways they can, gladly send $1 to the Free Doctors' Fund. Yours, Ac., BERTHA KNAPP, Treasurer, Greenwich, Conn.

"Looks Like Civilization." Inclosed please find $1 for your good work. This begins to look like civilization. LONDON.

From Jersey. Kindly use the inclosed $2 for the sick babies and oblige. J. F. B., Greenville, N. J.

Two Little Girls' Contributions. Inclosed please find $1 for the Sick Babies' Fund from JENNIE AND HER LITTLE SISTER, Greenville, N. J.

A Bachelor's Gift. Inclosed please find $2 for the Children's Doctors' Fund. BROOKLYN BACHELOR.

In the Name of His Children. Will you kindly forward half of inclosed to the St. John's child and retain the other half for your Doctors' Fund in the name of Florence Ethel Kaiser and Emanuel M. Kaiser. DAVID KAISER.

His Mite for Sick Babies. Please receive my mite 30 cents for sick babies. JOHN KRETZMER, Jersey City Heights.

Wishes It Were $30. Inclosed please find $3—only wish it was $30—for the family with the little broken-armed infant for some flannel and for "Susie D. and her two little brothers." However, use it as you deem best and oblige one who appreciates the glorious work of THE EVENING WORLD and yourself. W. P. T.

Collected on an Excursion. Enjoying a good time on the excursion of Centennial Lodge, O. B. A., we did not forget the poor sick children and your good work to get doctors for them free, so we sent you $4.22 for this purpose. N. Givlinman, 10 cents; E. Schick, 10 cents; A. Benstein, 10 cents; Blankfort, 10 cents; L. Lightenberg, 10 cents; S. Citron, 10 cents; J. L. Schabansky, 10 cents; E. Guttmann, 10 cents; I. N. Elkins, 10 cents; W. Klavansky, 10 cents; I. Sobornowsky, 10 cents; S. Mendel, 10 cents; M. Ritt, 10 cents; S. Hoshewitz, 10 cents; Solomon, 10 cents; Rosenthal, 10 cents; Strous, 10 cents; M. Cohen, 5 cents; Neumark, 10 cents; I. Lipnitz, 10 cents; B. Luchsky, 10 cents; H. Gutzstein, 10 cents; H. Kahon, 10 cents; Saperstein, 10 cents; B. Berman, 10 cents; S. Pollack, 10 cents; L. Frankel, 7 cents; Ch. Guttmann, 10 cents; J. Solomon, 10 cents; M. S. Schillman, 10 cents; B. Dworsky, 10 cents; M. Iseustein, 10 cents; M. Harrison, 10 cents; H. Scholasky, 10 cents; H. Feldman, 10 cents; I. Friedland, 10 cents; D. Bayar, 10 cents; H. Bavar, 10 cents; I. Cohen, 10 cents; S. Phillips, 10 cents; F. Berman, 10 cents; Epstein, 10 cents; Myself, 10 cents. Total, $4.22. JACOB PHILLIPS, Secretary.

Public Officials Interested. As a striking instance of the appreciation of the good work done by THE EVENING WORLD'S corps of free physicians, and the nobleness of the object in thus caring for the sick children of the poor, the following letter, received to-day, speaks volumes in itself: (DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC CHARITIES AND CORRECTIONS, QUEENSBORO TOWER, 60 THIRD AVENUE, NEW YORK, July 18, 1889.) WILLIAM BLAKE, Superintendent.

I have received instructions from the Board of Commissioners to all prescriptions ordered by your staff of physicians. Will you kindly instruct them in the following terms of this department: 1. No medicine will be put in any bottle excepting a glass medicine bottle. 2. No medicine delivered to children under twelve years of age. Have each prescription written on a separate blank.

N. B.—Prescriptions filled between 10 A. M. and 2 P. M.

The Death Rate. During the past twenty-four hours there were 131 deaths in this city, of which seventy-seven were children under five years of age. The causes were: Diarrhoea, 27; Dysentery, 27; Diarrhoeal complaints, 27; Whooping cough, 27; Cholera infantum, 27; Malaria, 27; Scarlet fever, 27; Other diseases, 27.

WORDS OF THANKS. Nell Nelson speaks of the Many Kind Contributions Received. Here is a big, warm, earnest, sincere thank you! dear readers, for the pile of baby clothes sent to Dr. Foster's office yesterday. They are just what we want. We knew they would come and we know they will be well come. With Dr. Foster's kind assistance the little slips, shirts and socks have been made into separate piles, and to-day I shall suggest about forty outfits into a handbag and distribute them along the route of the physician I accompany.

Some very touching stories might be told, if space permitted, about the tiny bundles in Dr. Foster's office. One father brought a parcel of almost new garments and when he said they "once belonged to my little boy," his voice choked, and he only shook his head when the doctor asked his name and turned away in tears. Many kind-hearted mothers, dressed in black, came to the door with small bundles for the poor tenement children, and nearly every child that delivered garments had a special baby they wished them to go to, and charged the good doctor to make no mistake at all. The little Russian babe, born with a broken arm, has legions of friends and ever so many complimentary awaiting her acceptance. There are worsted boots, tiny woollen shirts, several snowy slips with lace about the neck and wrists, a brand new nursing bottle, a cake of imported soap and a box of French sachet powder to be used after her bath. Isn't that just splendid?

"A Fond Mother" sent a bundle of the dearest muslins and flannels imaginable. In a note she said one child died two years ago and the last was laid away in Greenwood only a month ago. There was a mother's blessing in the note, and a woman's tears blotted many of the words.

Tiny "Annie," who was born with the broken arm, has been cared for by Dr. Freeman, who will communicate with Mrs. A. F., of 52 West Fourteenth street, in case of necessity.

Dr. Foster wishes me to inform Mrs. S. Ward, of 179 East Ninety-sixth street, that the clothing and money have been forwarded to the child with the broken arm. The bottle of beef tea and the package from Unknown were delivered as per directions.

For special packages of baby clothing our thanks are due Mrs. W. E. Pruden, Albany flats; Mrs. Humphrey, 347 West Twenty-sixth street; Mrs. J. H. Douthitt, 24 West Twenty-third street; Mrs. Miller, Brooklyn; Tante Annie S. L., C. P., Baby Roy, M. S. T., Mrs. King James, P. I. E. and L. M., Gypsy Iva, A. Fond Mother, Iva L., Lillie Eckel, Little Lottie, Mrs. C. D. S. of Nvaek, N.Y.; Clara and Bell Pollock, B. C. Heles, Mrs. Modeman, Mrs. F. E. Davidson, Mrs. Brown and Mrs. A. J. B.

A package of nursery bottles from Messrs. Holt & Co., of Broadway, Brooklyn, is as valuable a gift as it is timely and generous. The bottles will be distributed at once and the dangerous tubes confiscated.

Thanks are due the Diamond Soap Company for the parcel of delicate white soap. We were sadly in need of that very article. I have forty unwashed babies on my list and could teach a score of people a day their first lesson in neatness with that many cakes of white soap at my disposal. I wish to remind Messrs. Meyerhoff that they have not been forgotten. Their offering is received and I will gladly send a list of names, each worthy of their interest. If Mrs. Davis, of West One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street, will permit, I will send one deserving mother for the clothing, with my care.

$50 GOLD WATCH $50 FOR $38. One Dollar Weekly. Having the advantage of ample capital and special facilities for purchasing, we are enabled to offer to you, our customers, the most valuable and reliable gold watch with the most accurate movement. We have a full stock of watches, ranging from $1.00 to $100.00. For each watch and each watch offered should be a sufficient inducement for every gentleman and lady to supply themselves with a handsome, durable and reliable timepiece at such a very moderate cost. Inspection of each watch is solicited, or on receipt of postal order, will call with samples.

THE MUTUAL WATCH COMPANY, 110 Broadway.

I want to thank my good little friend "Sympathizer" for the new crisp lull and the black pin which I mean to wear for luck in the rest of my visits among the sick babies. The money I have reduced to 10-cent pieces, which I shall use as a milk fund. Frequently we have found parents giving young children tea or coffee to drink because they were afraid to give them water and did not have the money to buy milk.

A gentleman, who will not allow his name to be used, sends a package of baby clothes and a crisp $10 bill which he wishes expended for necessities. Dr. Foster can be relied upon to make wise use of the money in relieving the sufferings of helpless little ones. NELL NELSON.

More Free Prescriptions. Druggist F. X. Hart, corner of Fifty-seventh street and Second ave., has generously offered to fill all EVENING WORLD prescriptions free. This will be gratifying news to the poor in that locality.

Kind Letters. Of the many kind and interesting letters in Dr. Foster's mail the following are reproduced from the Editor of The Evening World:

I send you some flannel shirts and pieces of flannel for the poor children that my mamma read about in last night's World. I hope you can use them. I will also send them money this week. MAMIE H. T. WARD, 312 East One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street.

If You Please, Send to 36 West Twenty-fifth Street. Dr. Foster: Seeing your call for infants' clothing in THE EVENING WORLD I made up a little bundle of some my baby's clothing—slips, shirts, bands, Ac. Will you kindly inform me if you wish them sent to your residence? I also have a few which would fit children from two to four. Do you care for them? Respectfully yours, MAMIE H. T. WARD, 312 East One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street.

Thanks! They Are Beautiful. If you find these shirts right, please send me a postal and I will make four more. DR. LUTHER, 353 West Fifty-fourth street.

Clothes and Money. Dr. M. L. Foster: I read with great interest your Sick Babies' column in THE EVENING WORLD and thank God there is such a charity, for as they are, laid away are about all I had saved out of a little outfit that will never be required again—articles of every-day wear and containing a few dollars. When I read your article in THE EVENING WORLD describing the wants of the little ones I felt it was wrong to keep these, for as they are, laid away are about all I had saved out of a little outfit that will never be required again—articles of every-day wear and containing a few dollars. When I read your article in THE EVENING WORLD describing the wants of the little ones I felt it was wrong to keep these, for as they are, laid away are about all I had saved out of a little outfit that will never be required again—articles of every-day wear and containing a few dollars. When I read your article in THE EVENING WORLD describing the wants of the little ones I felt it was wrong to keep these, for as they are, laid away are about all I had saved out of a little outfit that will never be required again—articles of every-day wear and containing a few dollars. When I read your article in THE EVENING WORLD describing the wants of the little ones I felt it was wrong to keep these, for as they are, laid away are about all I had saved out of a little outfit that will never be required again—articles of every-day wear and containing a few dollars. When I read your article in THE EVENING WORLD describing the wants of the little ones I felt it was wrong to keep these, for as they are, laid away are about all I had saved out of a little outfit that will never be required again—articles of every-day wear and containing a few dollars. When I read your article in THE EVENING WORLD describing the wants of the little ones I felt it was wrong to keep these, for as they are, laid away are about all I had saved out of a little outfit that will never be required again—articles of every-day wear and containing a few dollars. When I read your article in THE EVENING WORLD describing the wants of the little ones I felt it was wrong to keep these, for as they are, laid away are about all I had saved out of a little outfit that will never be required again—articles of every-day wear and containing a few dollars. When I read your article in THE EVENING WORLD describing the wants of the little ones I felt it was wrong to keep these, for as they are, laid away are about all I had saved out of a little outfit that will never be required again—articles of every-day wear and containing a few dollars. When I read your article in THE EVENING WORLD describing the wants of the little ones I felt it was wrong to keep these, for as they are, laid away are about all I had saved out of a little outfit that will never be required again—articles of every-day wear and containing a few dollars. When I read your article in THE EVENING WORLD describing the wants of the little ones I felt it was wrong to keep these, for as they are, laid away are about all I had saved out of a little outfit that will never be required again—articles of every-day wear and containing a few dollars. When I read your article in THE EVENING WORLD describing the wants of the little ones I felt it was wrong to keep these, for as they are, laid away are about all I had saved out of a little outfit that will never be required again—articles of every-day wear and containing a few dollars. When I read your article in THE EVENING WORLD describing the wants of the little ones I felt it was wrong to keep these, for as they are, laid away are about all I had saved out of a little outfit that will never be required again—articles of every-day wear and containing a few dollars. When I read your article in THE EVENING WORLD describing the wants of the little ones I felt it was wrong to keep these, for as they are, laid away are about all I had saved out of a little outfit that will never be required again—articles of every-day wear and containing a few dollars. When I read your article in THE EVENING WORLD describing the wants of the little ones I felt it was wrong to keep these, for as they are, laid away are about all I had saved out of a little outfit that will never be required again—articles of every-day wear and containing a few dollars. When I read your article in THE EVENING WORLD describing the wants of the little ones I felt it was wrong to keep these, for as they are, laid away are about all I had saved out of a little outfit that will never be required again—articles of every-day wear and containing a few dollars. When I read your article in THE EVENING WORLD describing the wants of the little ones I felt it was wrong to keep these, for as they are, laid away are about all I had saved out of a little outfit that will never be required again—articles of every-day wear and containing a few dollars. When I read your article in THE EVENING WORLD describing the wants of the little ones I felt it was wrong to keep these, for as they are, laid away are about all I had saved out of a little outfit that will never be required again—articles of every-day wear and containing a few dollars. When I read your article in THE EVENING WORLD describing the wants of the little ones I felt it was wrong to keep these, for as they are, laid away are about all I had saved out of a little outfit that will never be required again—articles of every-day wear and containing a few dollars. When I read your article in THE EVENING WORLD describing the wants of the little ones I felt it was wrong to keep these, for as they are, laid away are about all I had saved out of a little outfit that will never be required again—articles of every-day wear and containing a few dollars. When I read your article in THE EVENING WORLD describing the wants of the little ones I felt it was wrong to keep these, for as they are, laid away are about all I had saved out of a little outfit that will never be required again—articles of every-day wear and containing a few dollars. When I read your article in THE EVENING WORLD describing the wants of the little ones I felt it was wrong to keep these, for as they are, laid away are about all I had saved out of a little outfit that will never be required again—articles of every-day wear and containing a few dollars. When I read your article in THE EVENING WORLD describing the wants of the little ones I felt it was wrong to keep these, for as they are, laid away are about all I had saved out of a little outfit that will never be required again—articles of every-day wear and containing a few dollars. When I read your article in THE EVENING WORLD describing the wants of the little ones I felt it was wrong to keep these, for as they are, laid away are about all I had saved out of a little outfit that will never be required again—articles of every-day wear and containing a few dollars. When I read your article in THE EVENING WORLD describing the wants of the little ones I felt it was wrong to keep these, for as they are, laid away are about all I had saved out of a little outfit that will never be required again—articles of every-day wear and containing a few dollars. When I read your article in THE EVENING WORLD describing the wants of the little ones I felt it was wrong to keep these, for as they are, laid away are about all I had saved out of a little outfit that will never be required again—articles of every-day wear and containing a few dollars. When I read your article in THE EVENING WORLD describing the wants of the little ones I felt it was wrong to keep these, for as they are, laid away are about all I had saved out of a little outfit that will never be required again—articles of every-day wear and containing a few dollars. When I read your article in THE EVENING WORLD describing the wants of the little ones I felt it was wrong to keep these, for as they are, laid away are about all I had saved out of a little outfit that will never be required again—articles of every-day wear and containing a few dollars. When I read your article in THE EVENING WORLD describing the wants of the little ones I felt it was wrong to keep these, for as they are, laid away are about all I had saved out of a little outfit that will never be required again—articles of every-day wear and containing a few dollars. When I read your article in THE EVENING WORLD describing the wants of the little ones I felt it was wrong to keep these, for as they are, laid away are about all I had saved out of a little outfit that will never be required again—articles of every-day wear and containing a few dollars. When I read your article in THE EVENING WORLD describing the wants of the little ones I felt it was wrong to keep these, for as they are, laid away are about all I had saved out of a little outfit that will never be required again—articles of every-day wear and containing a few dollars. When I read your article in THE EVENING WORLD describing the wants of the little ones I felt it was wrong to keep these, for as they are, laid away are about all I had saved out of a little outfit that will never be required again—articles of every-day wear and containing a few dollars. When I read your article in THE EVENING WORLD describing the wants of the little ones I felt it was wrong to keep these, for as they are, laid away are about all I had saved out of a little outfit that will never be required again—articles of every-day wear and containing a few dollars. When I read your article in THE EVENING WORLD describing the wants of the little ones I felt it was wrong to keep these, for as they are, laid away are about all I had saved out of a little outfit that will never be required again—articles of every-day wear and containing a few dollars. When I read your article in THE EVENING WORLD describing the wants of the little ones I felt it was wrong to keep these, for as they are, laid away are about all I had saved out of a little outfit that will never be required again—articles of every-day wear and containing a few dollars. When I read your article in THE EVENING WORLD describing the wants of the little ones I felt it was wrong to keep these, for as they are, laid away are about all I had saved out of a little outfit that will never be required again—articles of every-day wear and containing a few dollars. When I read your article in THE EVENING WORLD describing the wants of the little ones I felt it was wrong to keep these, for as they are, laid away are about all I had saved out of a little outfit that will never be required again—articles of every-day wear and containing a few dollars. When I read your article in THE EVENING WORLD describing the wants of the little ones I felt it was wrong to keep these, for as they are, laid away are about all I had saved out of a little outfit that will never be required again—articles of every-day wear and containing a few dollars. When I read your article in THE EVENING WORLD describing the wants of the little ones I felt it was wrong to keep these, for as they are, laid away are about all I had saved out of a little outfit that will never be required again—articles of every-day wear and containing a few dollars. When I read your article in THE EVENING WORLD describing the wants of the little ones I felt it was wrong to keep these, for as they are, laid away are about all I had saved out of a little outfit that will never be required again—articles of every-day wear and containing a few dollars. When I read your article in THE EVENING WORLD describing the wants of the little ones I felt it was wrong to keep these, for as they are, laid away are about all I had saved out of a little outfit that will never be required again—articles of every-day wear and containing a few dollars. When I read your article in THE EVENING WORLD describing the wants of the little ones I felt it was wrong to keep these, for as they are, laid away are about all I had saved out of a little outfit that will never be required again—articles of every-day wear and containing a few dollars. When I read your article in THE EVENING WORLD describing the wants of the little ones I felt it was wrong to keep these, for as they are, laid away are about all I had saved out of a little outfit that will never be required again—articles of every-day wear and containing a few dollars. When I read your article in THE EVENING WORLD describing the wants of the little ones I felt it was wrong to keep these, for as they are, laid away are about all I had saved out of a little outfit that will never be required again—articles of every-day wear and containing a few dollars. When I read your article in THE EVENING WORLD describing the wants of the little ones I felt it was wrong to keep these, for as they are, laid away are about all I had saved out of a little outfit that will never be required again—articles of every-day wear and containing a few dollars. When I read your article in THE EVENING WORLD describing the wants of the little ones I felt it was wrong to keep these, for as they are, laid away are about all I had saved out of a little outfit that will never be required again—articles of every-day wear and containing a few dollars. When I read your article in THE EVENING WORLD describing the wants of the little ones I felt it was wrong to keep these, for as they are, laid away are about all I had saved out of a little outfit that will never be required again—articles of every-day wear and containing a few dollars. When I read your article in THE EVENING WORLD describing the wants of the little ones I felt it was wrong to keep these, for as they are, laid away are about all I had saved out of a little outfit that will never be required again—articles of every-day wear and containing a few dollars. When I read your article in THE EVENING WORLD describing the wants of the little ones I felt it was wrong to keep these, for as they are, laid away are about all I had saved out of a little outfit that will never be required again—articles of every-day wear and containing a few dollars. When I read your article in THE EVENING WORLD describing the wants of the little ones I felt it was wrong to keep these, for as they are, laid away are