

The World

Published by the Press Publishing Company. THURSDAY EVENING, JULY 25. SUBSCRIPTION TO THE EVENING EDITION.

WORLD OFFICE: 107 BROADWAY, 16-17th St. and 20th St., NEW YORK. BROOKLYN: 350 PULCHER ST., HARLEM: News Department, 150 EAST 125TH ST., ADVERTISEMENTS: 237 EAST 115TH ST., PHILADELPHIA, PA., LEONARD BUILDING, 112 SOUTH 5TH ST., WASHINGTON: 410 14TH ST., LONDON OFFICE: 32 COCKSPUR ST., TRAFALGAR SQUARE.

FREE MESSENGER SERVICE. EVERY OFFICE OF THE MUTUAL DISTRICT TELEGRAPH COMPANY IS AUTHORIZED TO ACCEPT "WANTS" FOR THE WORLD.

EVERY MUTUAL DISTRICT CALL BOX CAN BE USED FOR THIS PURPOSE AND NO CHARGE WILL BE MADE FOR MESSENGER SERVICE. All Messenger Boys of the Mutual District Co. are Provided with Rate Cards and will take W.O.R.D. Advs. at Office Prices.

TWO SIDES OF A TRUST. Our readers will do well to ponder the two pictures, so graphically portrayed in this issue, of the two sides of the Sugar Trust.

It is of the highest importance that these pictures be placed in striking juxtaposition. It serves as an object lesson so plain, so startling and so apposite as to challenge the attention of the people.

In some way the people must be aroused to a realization of the magnitude of these iniquitous combinations, and to strenuously fatten the few and impoverish the many.

The singling out of Mr. Theodore Havemeyer as the subject for the portrayal of the splendor that encompasses a Sugar Trust magnate is not attributable to any hostility towards that gentleman. We bear him, personally, no ill will.

It is against that system which robs the people that THE EVENING WORLD wages war, not against individuals. HANDS OFF! Shall Jerome avenue be despoiled? There is danger of it.

Such a scheme, successfully carried out, would destroy the only remaining roadway where our city horsemen enjoy a respite from the cobblestone pavements. There is no necessity for a street railway on that avenue. It would be an intolerable nuisance.

Turn Up the Horse Laundry Tracks. BIRMINGHAM, Conn., July 25.—The electric street railway company tore up the track of the horse railway company last night in Main street, employing about one hundred men, and had the job all complete this morning.

TO THEIR RESCUE.

Ailing Babes Visited by "The Evening World's" Physicians.

A Day Among the Hester and Ludlow Street Poor.

Nell Nelson's Graphic Story of Suffering and Poverty.

THE CONTRIBUTIONS. THE EVENING WORLD, $100.00. Mrs. J. H. Brown, $5.00. Mr. J. H. Brown, $5.00. Mrs. J. H. Brown, $5.00. Mr. J. H. Brown, $5.00.

The Lawyers' List. Headed by Chauncey R. Ripley, of the Potter Building.

The Good Work of Three Boys. Joseph Mayer, sixteen years old, Benjamin D. Levy, sixteen years old, and Michael H. Harris, thirteen years old, have scored a good run by collecting $50 for the benefit of the Jewish Women's Sick Babies' Fund.

A Little Girl's Fair. The fair held at 84, the proceeds of a children's fair held at Abingdon, N. J., on the afternoon of July 17, for the benefit of the Sick Babies' Fund.

From a Happy Father. A letter from Annie, which tells me that my own baby, who went away ill, is again in health.

A Well Baby's Gratitude. In gratitude for being a well baby, I in close sympathy with my poor unfortunate brothers and sisters.

An Unknown Friend. Within please find $1, which was left at this office, to be given to child who needed parol. Donator's name unknown.

Where Are the Rich Men? I enclosed please find $1 for the babies. I regret that I am not in position to give more.

Half the Fair's Profits. At a juvenile fair held at Belleville by eight little girls on July 3 they netted $20, of which we send you $10 for the relief of the Sick Babies' Fund.

DR. WOOLLEY'S VISITS. Nell Nelson Accompanies "The Evening World's" Woman Physician on Her Tour. "I don't know what her name is, but she's an angel."

Robbed His Room-Mate. Henry Lewis was held for the Tombs Police Court this morning on a charge of stealing a suit of clothes and watch and chain from his room-mate, Christian Gutz, with whom he has lived for three years.

A Printing Office Gilted. McDermott & Johnson's printing office, on the second floor of 2148 Third avenue, was gutted by fire which broke out at 3 o'clock this morning. The damage was $11,000; covered by insurance.

NEW YORK AND '92.

Opening of the Battle for the Quadr-Centennial Exposition.

Mayor Grant's Great Gathering of Gotham's Citizens.

Governor's Room at the City Hall the Scene of Action.

There seems to be practical unanimity among the men of New York who furnish the money and brains for all the great undertakings of the city for this is pre-eminently the town in whose projects the quadracentennial of the landing of Columbus should be celebrated.

Mayor Grant's call to arms for the great undertaking has been echoed by Mayors of other cities, and even this serves again to demonstrate how much New York is a leader.

Mayor Grant's invitation has received responses from a hundred residents, though it was issued in the heat of July, when the city is gone fishing or rolling in tennis shirts and hot weather dishabille by the sea-side.

Not every response rings with the clearness of the true metal. Ex-Governor Andrew H. Green, large of heart and full of patriotic common sense, came attended to the terms that London in twenty centuries has ardently reached a superior greatness to this metropolis.

Handwritten suggestions are made by the men who have already taken off their hats for three years of hard work for the success of what promises to eclipse any previous Exposition.

Handwritten suggestions are made by the men who have already taken off their hats for three years of hard work for the success of what promises to eclipse any previous Exposition.

Handwritten suggestions are made by the men who have already taken off their hats for three years of hard work for the success of what promises to eclipse any previous Exposition.

Handwritten suggestions are made by the men who have already taken off their hats for three years of hard work for the success of what promises to eclipse any previous Exposition.

Handwritten suggestions are made by the men who have already taken off their hats for three years of hard work for the success of what promises to eclipse any previous Exposition.

Handwritten suggestions are made by the men who have already taken off their hats for three years of hard work for the success of what promises to eclipse any previous Exposition.

Handwritten suggestions are made by the men who have already taken off their hats for three years of hard work for the success of what promises to eclipse any previous Exposition.

Handwritten suggestions are made by the men who have already taken off their hats for three years of hard work for the success of what promises to eclipse any previous Exposition.

Handwritten suggestions are made by the men who have already taken off their hats for three years of hard work for the success of what promises to eclipse any previous Exposition.

Handwritten suggestions are made by the men who have already taken off their hats for three years of hard work for the success of what promises to eclipse any previous Exposition.

Handwritten suggestions are made by the men who have already taken off their hats for three years of hard work for the success of what promises to eclipse any previous Exposition.

Handwritten suggestions are made by the men who have already taken off their hats for three years of hard work for the success of what promises to eclipse any previous Exposition.

Handwritten suggestions are made by the men who have already taken off their hats for three years of hard work for the success of what promises to eclipse any previous Exposition.

IT'S A BOLD GRAB.

Hot Indignation Against the Jerome Avenue Railroad Schemers.

No Excuse for Cutting Up the Drive for Horse-Car Tracks.

A Warm Reception by the Aldermen Predicted for the Monopoliats.

The monopolists who have set their desires upon stealing Jerome avenue for a double track surface railroad are likely to have a rough and bitter experience of the strength of public opinion in the matter.

The company has been incorporated in Albany under the title of the Jerome Avenue Railroad Company, and the promoters are ex-Commissioner of Public Works D. Lovell Smith, J. Romberg Brown, the real-estate agent, Thomas K. Crummin, Hugh N. Camp, Frank Young, William J. Whitney, John W. H. Smith, James H. Sullivan, Henry Campbell, the Vesey street grocer.

The scheme is one of the boldest and most ruthless projected for years. It is a scheme in which the incorporators have undertaken the grab is also very surprising.

They are not backed up by any persons from property owners along the line, and so far they have failed to show that any one, except themselves, want the driveway grabbed.

The Board of Aldermen has been asked for permission to build and operate the proposed new road, and the matter will be again brought up for the consideration of the Board.

Whatever may be the outcome, the eyes of the people will follow the action of the city fathers, and they cannot disregard public opinion so flagrantly as to lend their aid to such a project.

New owners are much surprised at the new company's action in proceeding to build a road along the avenue. The only reason they can give for this is that they see a chance of the World's Fair being held in Van Cortlandt Park and they wish to get in working order before the time comes, even though it is still three years off.

It is not believed that the people will sit idly by and watch their finest thoroughfare grabbed by a gang of men and spied as a highway.

Mayor Grant is against allowing railroad companies to help themselves to what best suits them.

The projectors say that there will be no trouble in getting the consent of the property owners along the route. The only trouble they anticipate is from the Jerome Avenue Horse-Car Company, which they believe they will be able to get over.

Who Will Pay Reilly's Expenses. The escape from Detective-Sergeant Phil Reilly of William A. Bushnell, the ascending clerk of the law firm of Butler, Stillman & Hubbard, which was announced from Lima, Peru, yesterday, caused considerable excitement about Police Headquarters.

Inspector Byrnes Has a Case Which He Isn't Ready to Tell About. Inspector Byrnes is away on vacation and will not return for a week or so. In his absence he has left a case which he is not ready to tell about.

Rich Jewellery Stolen. The escape from Detective-Sergeant Phil Reilly of William A. Bushnell, the ascending clerk of the law firm of Butler, Stillman & Hubbard, which was announced from Lima, Peru, yesterday, caused considerable excitement about Police Headquarters.

Why Gen. Emmons Clark Declines the Post of Consul to Havre. Gen. Emmons Clark was at his desk at the Health Department this morning rather earlier than usual. He admitted to THE EVENING WORLD reporter that he had sent in his resignation.

He said that he had weighed the matter carefully, and finally came to the conclusion that it was not his duty to go to France. He had been away from his life-long friends at this late day, and he did not wish to leave them.

He said that he had weighed the matter carefully, and finally came to the conclusion that it was not his duty to go to France. He had been away from his life-long friends at this late day, and he did not wish to leave them.

He said that he had weighed the matter carefully, and finally came to the conclusion that it was not his duty to go to France. He had been away from his life-long friends at this late day, and he did not wish to leave them.

MILLIONS OWING.

Fears for the Big Dry-Goods House of Lewis Bros. & Co.

No Member of the Firm on Hand to Deny the Dark Rumors.

Their Last Statement Showed Assets Covering Liabilities.

The announcement of the financial difficulty of Lewis Bros. & Co., the big dry-goods commission house of 85 and 87 Worth street, caused a sensation in the dry-goods district this morning.

An assignment was made this morning. The only member of the firm in town, Walter H. Lewis, who lives at 63 West Nineteenth street, could not be found this morning, and at the store, which was open, there was no one who was authorized to speak for the firm.

They are the agents of some of the wealthiest cotton and woolen mills in the country, and as one of the oldest and most reputable firms in the trade, having been in business at their present place for more than twenty years.

Only last week Mr. Sheldon, in his Special Report, a weekly financial publication, said of the firm: "Lewis Bros. & Co. are among the few houses in the commission trade whose firm name and location have remained unchanged for a score of years."

Mr. Sheldon himself said: "I was surprised to me, for I have always regarded the firm as one of the soundest in the trade. It is true it will not only be a surprise to the trade, but will be a surprise to the public, for the house was popular with the entire trade."

At the agency of J. G. Dun & Co. it was stated that the credit of Lewis Bros. & Co. had been at its lowest for some time. Of late there have been some rumors that the firm was very heavily involved, and their credit was low.

Mr. Sheldon himself said: "I was surprised to me, for I have always regarded the firm as one of the soundest in the trade. It is true it will not only be a surprise to the trade, but will be a surprise to the public, for the house was popular with the entire trade."

At the agency of J. G. Dun & Co. it was stated that the credit of Lewis Bros. & Co. had been at its lowest for some time. Of late there have been some rumors that the firm was very heavily involved, and their credit was low.

Mr. Sheldon himself said: "I was surprised to me, for I have always regarded the firm as one of the soundest in the trade. It is true it will not only be a surprise to the trade, but will be a surprise to the public, for the house was popular with the entire trade."

At the agency of J. G. Dun & Co. it was stated that the credit of Lewis Bros. & Co. had been at its lowest for some time. Of late there have been some rumors that the firm was very heavily involved, and their credit was low.

Mr. Sheldon himself said: "I was surprised to me, for I have always regarded the firm as one of the soundest in the trade. It is true it will not only be a surprise to the trade, but will be a surprise to the public, for the house was popular with the entire trade."

At the agency of J. G. Dun & Co. it was stated that the credit of Lewis Bros. & Co. had been at its lowest for some time. Of late there have been some rumors that the firm was very heavily involved, and their credit was low.

Mr. Sheldon himself said: "I was surprised to me, for I have always regarded the firm as one of the soundest in the trade. It is true it will not only be a surprise to the trade, but will be a surprise to the public, for the house was popular with the entire trade."

At the agency of J. G. Dun & Co. it was stated that the credit of Lewis Bros. & Co. had been at its lowest for some time. Of late there have been some rumors that the firm was very heavily involved, and their credit was low.

Mr. Sheldon himself said: "I was surprised to me, for I have always regarded the firm as one of the soundest in the trade. It is true it will not only be a surprise to the trade, but will be a surprise to the public, for the house was popular with the entire trade."

At the agency of J. G. Dun & Co. it was stated that the credit of Lewis Bros. & Co. had been at its lowest for some time. Of late there have been some rumors that the firm was very heavily involved, and their credit was low.

Mr. Sheldon himself said: "I was surprised to me, for I have always regarded the firm as one of the soundest in the trade. It is true it will not only be a surprise to the trade, but will be a surprise to the public, for the house was popular with the entire trade."

HER HEAD CUT OFF.

Frightful Accident Which Befell Little Josephine Overhise.

Decapitated by a Third Avenue Horse Car.

The Stricken So Her Almost Crazy from the Shock.

"There is my baby! They killed her! Cut her head off from her body. Oh, God, what will I do. They butchered her." Such were the excited exclamations of Mrs. Overhise when an Evening World reporter entered her apartments on the second floor of the tenement-house 834 Third avenue this morning.

As she spoke she walked wildly up and down the room, stopping now and then to kiss the cold face of a pretty, golden-haired little girl who lay in a small coffin at one side of the room.

Several kind-faced women, neighbors of Mrs. Overhise, sat about the coffin, and tried to soothe the excited mother. She would not listen to them.

My darling child, bring her back to me. Then I'll be on to you; but dear me! dear me! She will not come back. Her head would break. She was cut from her body and I am here."

A stream of tears followed this outburst, and the poor woman sat on her knees beside the cold coffin and wept as if her heart would break.

Josephine the dead child, was the youngest of three children and a little more than four years old. She was a little dearer, perhaps, to the parent heart because she was crippled from birth.

One year was shorter than the other, and the longer one was so weak that it had to be supported by braces. At 8 o'clock last evening she was playing on the street in front of her home.

She was a little dearer, perhaps, to the parent heart because she was crippled from birth. One year was shorter than the other, and the longer one was so weak that it had to be supported by braces.

At 8 o'clock last evening she was playing on the street in front of her home. She was a little dearer, perhaps, to the parent heart because she was crippled from birth.

One year was shorter than the other, and the longer one was so weak that it had to be supported by braces. At 8 o'clock last evening she was playing on the street in front of her home.

She was a little dearer, perhaps, to the parent heart because she was crippled from birth. One year was shorter than the other, and the longer one was so weak that it had to be supported by braces.

At 8 o'clock last evening she was playing on the street in front of her home. She was a little dearer, perhaps, to the parent heart because she was crippled from birth.

One year was shorter than the other, and the longer one was so weak that it had to be supported by braces. At 8 o'clock last evening she was playing on the street in front of her home.

She was a little dearer, perhaps, to the parent heart because she was crippled from birth. One year was shorter than the other, and the longer one was so weak that it had to be supported by braces.

At 8 o'clock last evening she was playing on the street in front of her home. She was a little dearer, perhaps, to the parent heart because she was crippled from birth.

One year was shorter than the other, and the longer one was so weak that it had to be supported by braces. At 8 o'clock last evening she was playing on the street in front of her home.

She was a little dearer, perhaps, to the parent heart because she was crippled from birth. One year was shorter than the other, and the longer one was so weak that it had to be supported by braces.

TOOTH-PULING WAS FATAL.

Big John Hatch Dies of a Rare Disease in Bellevue.

Death Under Very Singular Circumstances was Reported by the Bellevue Hospital Authorities Today.

The victim was John Hatch, a stalwart laborer, forty years old.

On July 17 he went to the Demit Dispensary, corner of Twenty-third street, and had an aching tooth pulled out.

The next day his neck began to swell, and it had swollen so by Saturday that it had lost all its former proportions, and he was unable to eat and could talk only with great difficulty.

He began to think that the swelling was serious, and went to the Demit Dispensary, where an attendant sent him to Bellevue.

At 6 o'clock Dr. A. White found him at the point of suffocation from the swelling of the throat. To prevent the patient from suffocating, the operating room was used, and a tracheotomy was performed.

Dr. White found that Hatch was suffering from a rare and almost always fatal disease known as Ludwig's angina, a profuse first described as a distinctive disease by Dr. Ludwig. It is a rapid and virulent inflammation of the deep-seated tissues of the neck.

Such a history, even in the case of a tooth, but it may be caused by any irritation or injury to the mouth. Many cases of Ludwig's angina have been described in medical history, yet the disease is so rare that Dr. White says it is only the second case known.

Hatch lingered through the night in great suffering, breathing through the aperture in his windpipe, and died from exhaustion caused by his sufferings early yesterday morning. After death an examination was made, and it was found that his jawbone had not been broken by the pulling of the tooth.

Hatch left a widow and some little children who live in No. 416 East Eighteenth street.

Preparing the Boulanger Charges. (BY CABLE TO THE PRESS NEWS ASSOCIATION.) PARIS, July 25.—It is reported here in the National that M. Boulanger, Procureur-General, is preparing for the war council, before which Gen. Boulanger is to be accused, an indictment recounting the various details of his charge with which Gen. Boulanger is charged.

Convulsions during testing are impossible where Model's Trestling Cordial is used. Model's Trestling Cordial is used.

Convulsions during testing are impossible where Model's Trestling Cordial is used. Model's Trestling Cordial is used.

Convulsions during testing are impossible where Model's Trestling Cordial is used. Model's Trestling Cordial is used.

Convulsions during testing are impossible where Model's Trestling Cordial is used. Model's Trestling Cordial is used.

Convulsions during testing are impossible where Model's Trestling Cordial is used. Model's Trestling Cordial is used.

Convulsions during testing are impossible where Model's Trestling Cordial is used. Model's Trestling Cordial is used.

Convulsions during testing are impossible where Model's Trestling Cordial is used. Model's Trestling Cordial is used.

Convulsions during testing are impossible where Model's Trestling Cordial is used. Model's Trestling Cordial is used.

Pure Blood. Absolutely necessary in order to have perfect health. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the great blood purifier, quickly conquering scrofula, salt rheum, and all other inroads of enemies which attack the blood and undermine the health. It also builds up the whole system, cures dyspepsia and sick headache, and overcomes that tired feeling. Hood's Sarsaparilla is sold by all druggists, $1.00 per bottle. Prepared by G. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass.

Three Big Bargains. Ex-King Milan's Declaration. TOOTH-PULING WAS FATAL. BIG JOHN HATCH DIES OF A RARE DISEASE IN BELLEVUE. RICH JEWELRY STOLEN. INSPECTOR BYRNES HAS A CASE WHICH HE ISN'T READY TO TELL ABOUT. WHY GEN. EMMONS CLARK DECLINES THE POST OF CONSUL TO HAVRE. HE WON'T LEAVE HIS FRIENDS. PURE BLOOD. Each piece warranted to contain 10 yards. Bloomingdale Bros. THIRD AVE. AND 59TH ST. COME EARLY. FRIDAY AND SATURDAY ONLY. FINEST QUALITY FRENCH BALBRIGGAN SHIRTS AND DRAWERS. BEST QUALITY FRENCH FLANNEL TURTLENECK SHIRTS. FINEST QUALITY EMPLOYED SILK GORDON SASHES, BEST QUALITY FRENCH FLANNEL. SPECIAL BARGAINS IN ENGLISH VESTS. HARRIS BROS. HAVE ONLY ONE STORE. 170 BROADWAY. Between John and Maiden Lane.