his poor pa will be braving the horde of hurt Hoopers at Indianapolis who wanted office but who were forgotten.

CONCERNING HUNGER. ROBERT MARVEL, of Indianapolis, has died after fasting sixty-seven days.

A FAIR START. It was an auspicious thing that Geraldine, the beautiful California filly, should have broken the record for five furlongs as she sped under the wire in the first race at the new Westchester track yesterday.

IN BEHRRING SEA. The cutter Ruah, it seems, goes right along in the seizure of British-Canadian sealers in Behring Sea, confiscates their cargoes of skins, puts prize crews aboard and sends them off to Sitka.

Concerning the game at Boston, yesterday, we are like the man in Jim Whitcomb's BILLY'S poem, we have 'nothin' at all to say, my darter, nothin' at all to say.'

JAY GOULD was the very first man on hand yesterday at the meeting of the Finance Committee to get money for the World's Fair.

A Good Word for the Fund. [From the Deloitte (N. Y.) Herald.] THE EVENING WORLD, of New York, which is check-full of good ideas, has started a fund to employ doctors to visit the poor babies, and reports of the cases relieved are simply heart-rending.

Twisted History. [From Post.] Sunday-School Teacher—And now, Johnny Haggood, it's your turn. What did his father do when the prodigal son returned?

A Little Too Frank. [From Post.] "I will be frank and truthful with you, my darling," said George himself tenderly, "as I always intend to be after we are married.

That Made a Difference. [From Post.] Lottie—Why, Victor, are you not ashamed to kill a poor little bird like that?

NO NEED FOR ELIXIRS. Every day now brings into the public prints the name and fame of some brightly centennarian who has been following out in some quiet corner of the world the dim but happy days of a ripe old age, all unaided by the meretricious, bacteria-charged stimulant which BROWN-SQUARD has devised to set the world by the cars.

Quite Correct. [From Post.] Father—My son, you must not dispute with your mother in that way.

Lonc Train Robber—Hold up your hands! Passenger (feebly)—Don't shoot, mister. Can't you see that every man in the car has fainted dead away?

Col. Milliken's Comedy to be Produced for the Sick Babies' Fund.

Through the courtesy of Miss Kate Claxton and Mr. A. M. Palmer, Col. Milliken's comedy, "Half Seas Over," will be produced at the Madison Square Theatre on Friday afternoon, Aug. 30, for the benefit of The Evening World's Sick Baby Fund.

FREE TICKETS TO SOUTH BEACH. Agent Hoyt's generous gift to the Mothers of Sick Babies.

W. B. Hoyt, the agent of the steamboat Thomas A. Morgan, which makes daily trips between Brooklyn and South Beach, S. I., came into THE EVENING WORLD office yesterday, and generously offered a bundle of 1,000 tickets for free excursions for poor women and their babies.

This was a splendid gift, and many a poor woman will bless Mr. Hoyt after taking the invigorating sail down the bay. South Beach is a near rival of Coney Island, and the babies can roll in fresh, clean sand to their heart's content.

The steamer leaves foot of South Fifth street, Brooklyn, at 10.30 A. M. and 1 and 3.30 P. M. daily. Babies will be carried free, but the mother or guardian must have a ticket.

On account of the crowded condition of the boats on Sunday, it was thought best to limit the tickets to week days only.

A Staten Island Picnic. Inclosed you will find $1.20, collected through a children's picnic for the Sick Babies' Fund. We hope our mite may give some relief to the little ones.

Zealous Mme. Ruppert. Mme. A. Ruppert, who so kindly volunteered to assist Miss Nelson in her work among the needy poor, and to whom so many people are indebted for her charity, writes to THE EVENING WORLD that having done all that was possible in the one house to which she was directed she wants another address to which she can minister to the sick and poor. The desired address will be gladly sent to her.

Greenies and Money. The box of groceries sent by Marie and Seymour Schenck were duly received and are highly appreciated. They will be distributed to the most needy.

The Death Rate. There were 120 deaths yesterday, 55 of which were children under five years of age. Cholera infantum 15, Marasmus 11, Whooping cough 3, Diphtheria 1, Pneumonia 1, Other diseases 18.

Proceeds of a Fair. Inclosed please find 75 cents, the proceeds of a small fair. We send it with hopes that it will help some child.

In the Children's Name. Please accept $5 for the "Babies Fund" in the names of "George and Leonard." Sincerely, GEO. N. BLISS.

An Anonymous Word of Gratitude. Miss Nelson has been to see me and helped me to pay rent and groceries for my sick children. Also, Dr. Constable has been very kind for medicine. I feel very grateful.

From Alfred, Charlie and Kate. Inclosed please find $3, a small amount, contributed to THE EVENING WORLD'S Sick Babies' Fund by ALFRED, CHARLIE AND KATIE. To Be Deeded. A stranger sends $5-$3 for the boy Leo.

Do Not Neglect. That tired feeling, impure blood, distress after eating, pain in the back, headache, or similar afflictions till some powerful disease obtains a firm foothold, and recovery is difficult, perhaps impossible.

FLED WITH HIS SON'S WIFE.

AGED CAPT. GREENWOOD'S REMARKABLE ELOPING ESCAPE.

He is Over Sixty Years of Age and His Daughter-in-Law has Thirty—The Elopement Pair Caught in Brooklyn and Released on Bail—Food for Sheephead Bay Gossips.

Novelties in the elopement line have been unusually startling and unique this season, but it remains for Sheephead Bay to cap the climax.

Down by the rippling waters of Sheephead Bay, Capt. Sam Greenwood is known to everybody as a solid citizen, with a remarkable record as a skipper.

He lived in a handsome residence on Ocean avenue, from where he could see Pain's Fall of Pompeii across the bay without paying a cent.

Three weeks ago his life was made very desolate by the death of his estimable wife and helpmeet, but his son, Sam Greenwood, jr., yachtman, and also well known on the beach, and Sam's lovely young wife were left to console the old general.

Saturday the doleful sexagenarian and his beautiful daughter-in-law concluded to go away and console by themselves, far from the maddening crowd.

The young husband is very determined. He took his wife to the city, and she returned to her home of late, and that since her elopement he has discovered that she had hidden his revolver under the bureau, so that he would not be able to use it hastily should he accidentally hear any shooting.

The old skipper is over sixty years old and has lived in Sheephead Bay all his life. He was a famous "skate runner" during the war, was skipper of the Henrietta in 1862 in her fourteen days' race, and has been pilot of the Rockaway steamer Columbia for years.

SARAH ALTHEA HILL. The Story Career of the Woman Who is Now Judge Terry's Widow.

Sarah Althea Hill, whose stormy career in California has given her national notoriety, was born in the old French town just forty-nine years ago. She comes of good stock, her father being Samuel Hill, a prominent attorney, and her mother Julia Sloan, daughter of a wealthy lumber dealer.

Sarah was a girl of more than ordinary personal beauty. She was plump, of medium height and possessed a lovely complexion. She was not a prominent beauty, but she had good opportunities for acquiring an education. She attended school at Danville, Ky., and finally graduated from St. Vincent's Convent. She has a sister, the wife of a Congressman.

ROSS RAYMOND IN LIMBO. THIS TIME HE IS ARRESTED FOR SWINDLING UNDER THE NAME OF ROLEF.

According to despatches from England, it appears that Ross Raymond has been arrested at Blackpool for swindling. He tried his old millionaire dodge, and associated with the best families.

Raymond was committed at Manchester some years ago under the name of Ernest Neville Rolfe, and apparently has taken up the name again.

Raymond's career of crime extends over two continents, and as a staff member of a New York paper, he has been in the fortunes of many gullible citizens.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Aug. 21.—At 5 o'clock this morning, John R. Meek, carpenter, was arrested within two miles of this city for sending an infernal magazine to Correspondent D. T. Baxter, at the latter's office, a week ago last Monday.

Detective James Ray, of Chicago, began work on the case, and he was successful in tracing the man who had succeeded in finding enough evidence to warrant the arrest.

THEY KNEW MARSHAL NAGLE.

Some Brooklynites Talk About the Man Who Shot Judge Terry.

HE WAS A SOLID THIRD WARD VOTER. Previous to going West He Resided with His Father and Brother on Atlantic Ave., but Was Not Contented with His Lot—He Went to the War When Seventeen Years of Age and Was a Fighter.

United States Deputy Marshal David Nagle, who shot and killed Judge Terry at Lathrop, Cal., last Thursday, was at one time a prominent figure in the Grand Army circles of Brooklyn.

After the close of the war the Deputy Marshal, whose name has now become known all over the country, took up his residence in Brooklyn on Atlantic avenue, corner of Third, with his father, whose name was also David, and his brother Joseph.

Capt. James Webb, who is one of the most widely known members of the Grand Army in the State, was seen yesterday by a World reporter at the headquarters of the Memorial Committee in the basement of the City Hall, and in answer to an inquiry as to whether he remembered the Nagles replied, "Yes, I remember David Nagle, who has become so notorious recently, owing to his having shot Judge Terry. I first became acquainted with them after my return from Montana in 1872. They were then residing in the Third Ward. Dave was a tall man about 5 feet 11 inches, well built and very muscular, quiet and gentle as a child. He was one of the most social companions ever a man met and as true as steel to a friend. He became restless of life in this part of the country and every time we met he would divert all his conversation towards life in the West and the prospects of a man making a living there.
