"NEW WAY TO PAY OLD DEBTS."

Poor President Bess! He does nothing but pay debts. And they are all imperative.

But the family fluence seems more potent than politics after all. The HARRISON blood is thicker than "soap," and Prince RUSSELL...

Thus, the wise say, RUSSELL buries for another four years the ghosts which arise from his own management of the Assay Office at Helena.

There is an old saying about "a father's delighting to give good gifts unto his children." Bess is the man referred to. It is lucky for Bess.

THE DRUGGIST IS THE LOSER.

The prohibition cause got a mighty droning in old Nutmeg Connecticut yesterday. Between the two wings of the "wet" army...

The druggists, who with their dangerous back rooms reap the harvest of Prohibition efforts, will squeeze many a tear to-day.

BOULANGER has forsaken London and taken refuge in the island of Jersey. A handy place whence to watch France with a spy-glass...

There were flowers for Judge BOOSTAVEN in the Court of Common Pleas yesterday. Suggestively funeral.

Is he dead to the bench or only sick?

SPOTLIGHTS.

Jack Frost dropped around last night just to show that he isn't going to forget us this year.

A man was turned out of a Third Avenue lodging-house last night for snoring too vigorously.

The rat killing season has opened, and on Long Island last night there was a great slaughter of rodents...

The number of bathers in the free baths of the city this season was 2,445,922. Read this, Chicago, and do not like it.

Aeronaut George T. Rice, of Lexington, Mich., while trying to make a balloon ascension yesterday, fell into a river and was drowned.

The flowers are withering, though the woods are bright with autumn hues. The girls are wearing thicker goods...

The Tribune this morning speaks of Gen. Dennis Boulanger.

From rime to track and back to rime describes the course of light-weight champion McAdams.

The gyrations of the Ant and Honorable Artillery Company, of Boston, are becoming almost antique.

Professor-How long can a person live without brains? Student-I don't know. How old are you, Prof.

There was a bear hunt in Chicago's streets yesterday, and yet they claim they are civilized enough to have the World's Fair there.

POLITICAL ECHOES.

Chamberlain Croker, Commissioner Glynn and Arthur Leahy occupied a box at Tony Pastor's theatre last night, and laughed heartily at the antics of the variety stars on the stage.

Aaron F. Young is said to be anxious to carry the Tammany banner in the Aldermanic contest in the Twenty-third Ward.

Five of the fifteen members of the Democratic State Executive Committee are Tammany men. But one, ex-Mayor Edward Cooper, is of the County Democracy.

The talk of running Arthur J. McQuade, of the Middle Board of Aldermen, as the representative of the Fourteenth District in the coming year, McQuade says, is nothing but talk.

Barney Blinn wants to know if there is an opposition to the Republican machine in the Eleventh District. The growing demand for the nomination of Martin Walsh, a popular mechanic, of East Thirty-sixth street, as the party's candidate for Alderman has started the burr-aw-sher. Walsh does not train with the machine.

The French Chambers to Convene. Special cable to the Evening World. Paris, Oct. 8.—The Chambers will be convened in the first of November, according to a decision arrived at by the Ministers in a meeting of to-day.

HALF A PLAN.

No Complete Scheme Yet Possible by the World's Fair Finance Committee.

Recommendation to Raise a Preliminary Fund of $5,000,000.

Result of the Meeting in the Chamber of Commerce This Afternoon.

Henry G. Marquand Made Chairman of the Permanent Executive Committee.

The Finance Committee of the World's Fair met this afternoon in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce and adopted a report.

There were present Samuel D. Babcock, August Belmont, Calvin S. Brice, W. Lammiman Bull, Robert Dundas, John H. Inman, Morris K. Thompson, Eugene Kelly, Frederic A. Karshoeit, J. Pierpont Morgan, Herman Oelrichs, Jesse Seligman, Elliott F. Shepard, J. Edward Simmons, William Steinway, Cornelius Vanderbilt and Joseph J. O'Donohue.

The Committee unanimously decided that while no complete financial plan could be yet determined upon, they would suggest three sources of funds for the fair as follows:

1. Government and City aid.

2. The sale of bonds or other evidences of pecuniary interest in the work and to provide against the possibility of ultimate loss, and which should be represented by stock.

3. A preliminary fund with which to secure the inauguration of the work and to provide against the possibility of ultimate loss, and which should be represented by stock.

They adopted a resolution recommending that steps be taken to raise a preliminary fund of $5,000,000, for which stock shall be issued under authority of Congressional or Legislative enactment, and that until $5,000,000 "bona fide" bonds be issued.

They propose that the fund be at the disposal of the Finance Committee, soon as Congress has decided that the exhibition shall be held in New York on the following terms and conditions:

1. The subscriptions to be paid in installments of one-fifth of the total amount...

2. The money thus obtained to be appropriated as the Finance Committee may direct, but not until Congress has decided that the exhibition shall be held in New York and its location has been definitely determined.

3. Any funds remaining at the end of the exhibition, after the closing of all accounts and liquidation of all obligations, to be divided pro rata among the subscribers to the fund or their heirs or legal assigns.

At 3 P. M. the Committee on Permanent Organization met and organized in the Governors' Room, City Hall, and all but five of the twenty-seven members were present.

Ex-President Grover Cleveland was present and presided at the meeting. He was elected Chairman, George G. Haven Vice-Chairman and E. C. Stanton Secretary.

Another meeting of the Committee will be held to-morrow, when Chairman Marquand will name an Executive Committee of six members.

On Thursday afternoon the General Committee of the Fair will be held. The inadequacy of the Governor's room of the City Hall for the accommodation of so large a body of men obliged the selection of some other place, and the Chamber of the Board of Aldermen will be the scene of the meeting.

Under the direction of Engineer Bogert a map of the World's Fair site has been prepared, showing the lots offered to the Committee on Site by their owners and agents and the terms suggested. The property-holders are respectfully invited to send in their proposals, if addressed to them by Secretary John Ford on Oct. 11, and there seem to be no lions in the way at all.

Avery T. Brown, holder as trustee of two lots in One Hundred and Twenty-sixth street, writes to say that the dwellings on the lots are leased till May, 1890 and 1894 respectively, and that he will be glad to sell his personal property on the lot, and to transfer the same to the Committee rather than give or rent it.

Another meeting of the Committee will be held to-morrow, when Chairman Marquand will name an Executive Committee of six members.

Eight lots on One Hundred and Twentieth street are offered to the Exposition at a rental of one cent per cent by E. W. W. Adams, of the firm that he be exempted from taxation and expenses.

Benjamin Wing Howes, Jr., offers three lots held by him on the same terms.

Mayor Grant's mail continues to be voluminous, and to-day's batch contains favorable responses from Mayors, Senators, Congressmen and others, suggestions for buildings and societies and lots of nice good things in general.

Arthur Wellman sends an immense album containing 1000 of his best photographic views of the Paris Exposition for the personal use of the committee. The album weighs nearly seventy pounds, and the collection is worth hundreds of dollars.

ATHLETIC CLUB LICENSES RAISED.

It Will Cost $3,000 For Year to Have Sighting in California Now.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 8.—The California Athletic Club has decided to match the Weir and Billy Murphy the latter part of December and to finance against an unknown in January or February.

The Supervisors to-day fixed the license for athletic clubs where puging takes place at $2,000 per annum, payable quarterly in advance, and raised the fine for violation of the law from $500 to $1,000.

FASHION'S FOIBLES.

Infantile jewels of bracelets, rings, rib and hand-knife pins, necklaces and studs are sent to and worn by boys and girls alike.

Decorations for baby silver are copied from the time-honored table of Mother Goose.

All the Fall sleeves are set with the head above the shoulder. Bright finished stamens is too easily tolerated for personal wear.

The craze for veritable antiques is without limit. Miss Elizabeth Drexel, who was married with the ring given her father by Catherine Van Buren, has had to do with the craze.

Cloths of old rose contrasted with moss green or wood brown make beautiful costumes.

Heavy soups are inadmissible at a course dinner since they form a meal by themselves.

ATHLETES IN REPOSE.

Arthur J. Moore, of the Station Island Athletic Club, is considered a "handy man" to have around. Besides being a good all-around athlete he is quite a baseball player and has a liking for games of all kinds, being clever at each. He is tall and well built.

15,000 KNIGHTS

In the Grand Parade of Commanderies at Washington.

The Triennial Conclave of the Templars Begins To-Day.

President Harrison Reviews the Parade Before the White House.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—The Triennial Conclave of the Knights Templar was begun here to-day.

The army commanderies and grand commanderies have been marshalling for the past two days, and by 9 o'clock this morning they were all astride, preparing for their place in the grand parade.

Shortly after 10 o'clock the Grand Encampment, escorted by the first division, moved to the Capitol.

The other eleven divisions of the parade were formed on the streets near the Capitol at 11 o'clock, ready to file in line and march past the White House, to be reviewed by the President, and next the reviewing stand of the Emperor Grand Master.

A grand stand had been erected in front of the White House for the use of the President and the officers of the Grand Encampment. The Grand Master reviewed the procession from a stand at the corner of Thirteenth and K streets.

The procession marched west from the Capitol up Pennsylvania avenue and past the White House to K street, to Thirteenth.

It was escorted by the full complement of Knights in uniform took their places in line. There were no carriages except those conveying the officers of the Grand Encampment, and only the commanding officers of the divisions were mounted.

The Grand Commandery of New York and the subordinate Commanderies of the State were placed in the Third Division, commanded by Right Excellent Sir A. C. Wood.

For this afternoon an excursion is planned on the Potomac River.

The visiting Knights by the local and grand and subordinate commanderies at their respective headquarters.

MAY DISBAR ALL THREE.

BAR ASSOCIATION ACTION ON MEEKS, MONELL AND BOOKSTAYER TO-NIGHT.

The Bar Association meets to-night, and it is expected that the professional conduct of Meeks, Monell and Judge Bookstayer will be the subject of serious investigation.

United States District-Attorney, Edward Mitchell, who is the Chairman of the Grievance Committee, said to-day that the Bar Association had determined to overhaul the records in the Black case, and to punish severely those who have been guilty of irregular or dishonest practices.

It is stated that when the Black defendants Henry G. Marquand, George G. Haven and Fullerton will make an application for a further adjournment, but it will be strenuously opposed by the District-Attorney, who will insist that the defendants' plea be taken.

CONNECTICUT'S SECRET BALLOTS.

They Defended Prohibition and Reversed Republican Majorities.

HARTFORD, Conn., Oct. 8.—Out of the funny little booths in which the secret ballots for yesterday's elections were prepared, came votes which knocked the Prohibition amendment higher than a kite.

There also came in a number of town elections complete reversal of former Republican majorities and a corresponding success for Democratic candidates.

This was particularly the case in Norwich, where a straight Democratic ticket was elected. The change is attributed to the working of the secret ballot system, which relieved the employees of the big mills from the espionage hawks in the open voting exercised by their bosses and employers at the polls.

The majority against Prohibition is estimated at 25,000 to 30,000.

MONELL'S TEETHING CORIAL produces calm and healthful repose during all stages of teething. 25c.

No Report on Giblin's Plea. Referee Douras, who heard Charles Giblin's witnesses in behalf of his petition to be spared the death penalty for the killing of Madeline Hill, said to-day that he will take several days to prepare the stenographer's transcript of the testimony and that then the case will go to Gov. Hill.

Mr. Douras makes no recommendation as to the duration of the sentence.

Made Specially for Women. Yet good for all. CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Campbell Advised to Withdraw. (SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.) CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 8.—The Evening Post (Independent), in an editorial to-day, will advise Campbell, the Democratic candidate for Governor, to withdraw from the ticket on account of the exposure of his connection with the ballot-box deal in Congress.

The Supervisors to-day fixed the license for athletic clubs where puging takes place at $2,000 per annum, payable quarterly in advance, and raised the fine for violation of the law from $500 to $1,000.

LASTING AND COMPLETE.

Miss Menzer Tells Her Experience After Making Sure of the Result.

"I would have told my story for publication before," the young lady observed, "but I wanted to wait."

"Why?" "I wanted to wait and see if, after some time had passed, any signs of my trouble returned."

"And you waited?" "Yes, and not the slightest evidence of any trouble has ever come back. It has been a good while now, and but for some one speaking about it, perhaps to notice how strong and well I am, I would forget that I ever was so badly off as almost to give up hope of ever getting even better."

"And your story?" "Well, I don't know that it will be of very great interest, but I think it ought to be told—if for nothing else than the benefit of those who suffer as I did."

The young lady speaking, says The Cincinnati Commercial Gazette, was Miss Rose Menzer, living at 600 Race st., Cincinnati. Her features are fairly well reproduced in the portrait which accompanies this sketch. She went on speaking so rapidly that the writer could with difficulty follow her words.

"Headache—I had them most all the time. Sometimes it would seem as if my head would burst. My eyes became dim and watery, and there would be continual noises in my ears—the ringing or rumbling or buzzing sounds. It would be hard to describe them, but they made me afraid that my hearing would be affected. My voice began to be affected and would sound hoarse and unnatural."

"Then my throat would seem to choke up. There would be a dripping down of mucus, especially when I lay down at night. Often I would wake up suddenly at night, feeling as if I was going to choke to death, and I would have to get up and cough and raise for a long time before I could clear my throat and I could breathe."

"How did it begin? Oh, with colds, I suppose. It seemed, though, after while as if I was having colds all the time. I would catch cold on the slightest exposure. In the street, for instance, or anywhere out of a warm room, I began to raise a great deal of phlegm, sometimes of a greenish, sometimes of a yellowish color. There seemed to be something jerking all the while from the ear to the head, which would cause me terrible pain. My nostrils would stop up first on one side and then on the other, and then my nose would bleed."

"And—the pain walking or any exertion caused me—I couldn't walk a square before I would be tired out and want to rest. I would become dizzy and faint, and when I would try to take a long breath a sharp pain would run through me just as if some one was sticking a knife into me. My heart would beat hard and fast, and then it would seem as if it was going to stop beating, it would beat so slow."

"In the last year or so my trouble became so bad as to seriously alarm me. I lost flesh constantly. My cough became hollow, and dark rings would form under my eyes. I could not sleep at night, and my chest sometimes on one side, sometimes on the other, running back under the shoulder."

"Often I had sleepless nights, and sometimes when I would go to sleep I would be suddenly awakened by violent beating of the heart. Then, after it had beat violently for a little while it would seem almost like a sensation of dying."

"Yes, I had almost given up hope of ever getting any better when I sent Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. I had heard that I had dyspepsia, and I don't know what else, and treated for all of them, I guess, but without getting any relief."

"As I told you in the start I am well, strong and healthy now, and have been for some time. Not a trace of my trouble remains. I improved under their treatment from the start, slowly at first, but could see that I was improving, and I was patient and kept up my treatment faithfully."

"I have got back my usual weight and strength. I sleep well, eat well, don't cough any more; have no more pain in the chest, throat or head. My eyes are clear and bright, I AM ENTIRELY CURED, and I am more than willing to make this statement."

Miss Menzer's address is above given, and the interview can easily be verified.

In Simple Form. In this connection there can hardly be a more interesting subject than the ultimate effect of catarrh upon the hearing. The process of this disease in poisoning the hearing, thickens the delicate membrane of smell and taste, poisoning the lungs and the blood and passing into the stomach, enfeebling the digestion, vitiating the secretions, all this has perhaps been very generally discussed; but the very frequent effect of catarrh of the nose and throat upon the hearing has not been touched upon as often as the subject warrants.

A very little study of anatomy will show the reader that the junction of the back passage of the nose and the upper parts of the throat are connected with the ear by a minute and delicate passage known as the Eustachian tube. Along this tube the catarrhal process extends, producing congestion and inflammation. By the further extension of this process to the mucous lining of the tympanum of the ear is caused, in some cases, slight forms of catarrh of the middle ear, and in this way partial or complete deafness is produced.

COOGAN BROS. GRAND AND BOWERY.

Sure Pop. Ed—How did you win that hacky Ethel? Al—I got her in a canny store, pulled out a twenty-dollar bill and proved before she even had a caramel.

He Was Snore. Smith—I hear that your grandfather died a lunatic. Brown—He left a large sum of money to everybody in our family except my mother-in-law. Smith—I take it back.

In the Arkward Squad. Lady Visitor—I thought you told me once, Mrs. Jolley, that your husband served in the army? Mrs. Jolley—He did, my dear.

Visitor—In what particular arm of the service did he serve? Mrs. Jolley (wishing to be facetious)—In the "ankward" squad, to be sure.

Visitor—I thought so. Judging from the way he spilled the coffee down my back at the banquet last week, I should think he had command of the squad all the time he was out.

A Sure Sign. Two blind men are on a train. Suddenly loud snacks are heard all over the car. There," said one to the other, "that's the fourth tunnel we have passed through to-day."
