VOL. 30.....NO. 10,278 Entered at the Post-Office at New York as second class matter.

BRANCH OFFICES: WORLD UPTOWN OFFICE-1207 BROADWAY, between 31st and 32d sts., New York. BROOKLYN-350 FULTON ST. HARLEM-New Department, 150 EAST 125TH ST. ADVERTISEMENTS at 227 EAST 157TH ST. PHILADELPHIA, PA.-LEADER BUILDING, 112 SOUTH 6TH ST. WASHINGTON-410 14TH ST. LONDON OFFICE-32 COCKSPUR ST., TRAFALGAR SQUARE.

TWO YEARS OLD. THE EVENING WORLD IS TWO YEARS OLD TO-DAY.

It has reared in those two years a monument which would reflect credit on a quarter of a century. The blocks in that monument are benefits to the people, and the tools that have quarried and wrought these blocks have been vigilant observation, sound judgment, courageous independence, sympathy with the people, philanthropy and energy.

The people like these traits, and want them in a newspaper. Look at the circulation record of THE EVENING WORLD and see if the people have found them in this paper.

A most fitting feature of this birthday is the laying of the corner-stone of Mr. JOSEPH FULTON'S new building.

Type of THE WORLD, the building will tower above its towering rivals, solid, fair, meeting every requirement of its scope, greatest among the great.

The people say THE EVENING WORLD IS THIS AMONG PAPERS. Yet so long as the possibility of a greater perfection remains to it, THE EVENING WORLD will never feel content with any perfection it has acquired.

Excelsior is a good watchword for a newspaper, and THE EVENING WORLD is above all a newspaper.

MUST COME TO THE BACK. No matter how rough-shod a man in office overrides the people in this country, they have still the satisfaction of knowing that he has to beg of them his place. And the mendicants out pretty figures, sometimes, too.

Just now the great Senator, WILLIAM B. ALLISON, has doffed his six-inch layer of dignity, donned a slouch hat, and is doing the rounds of the county fairs in Iowa, asking even the rag-tag and bobtail plebeians to elect a Legislature that will let him go back to the Senate.

The people are the sovereigns, after all.

STILL COURTING DISASTER. The White Star line people are at last happy. The Teutonic, with new screws, and her bottom scraped and polished to the fineness of an America Cup racer, has beaten the City of New York across the Atlantic. There were about twenty-five hundred souls aboard the two boats.

Keep it up. The day of reckoning may be near or far, but it will come.

The Canadians want BOULANGER to come and live with them until he is recalled to rule the destinies of France. The brave General will struggle up in any vest if it is well feathered at some other body's cost.

And, gracious! what a salary he could get in a museum over here if he could endure the tanness of the life.

Emperor WILLIAM is gallivanting about his realm in the splendor of a British Admiral, which costs and without doing anything to his English cousins made him a present of. That boy, it seems, clutches the fond delusion that he is going to effect a fighting alliance with England, so that while he is thrashing France John Bull may make the Russian Bear keep his claws off.

It seems that young WILLIAM is come to bring "not peace, but a sword."

The Star of Empire may still be taking its way westward, but the baseball-goodness; how it rolls east. Last Saturday the pennant came to New York, and last night there was a big meeting of Englishmen in London to organize the National Baseball League of Great Britain. Now, staid old cricket, look out. May be this has signed your death warrant.

There's something awry in New York's manipulation of the excellent chance she had for securing the World's Fair. If you ask what it is, why, as they say in "The Oolah," "That's one thing that nobody knows."

EUGENE FIELD sailed yesterday on a European-bound steamer. While he is absent he had better go and propitiate the names of HONORABLE FLEETS and a few other distinguished foreigners with whom he has distinguished.

The Cat'skills are white with snow. But the sun shines. Winter is a polite old blusterer, after all. His coming's a necessity, but he makes it as gradual and as easy as may be.

A Hard Crossed. [From Drake's Magazine.] Kay-The way of the tanning soap is hard. Jay-Yes, he takes the whole sidewalk, and spreads the righteous out into the mud.

SPOTLETS.

The prize two-year-old-The EVENING WORLD. Capt. Constantine, the much tattooed Greek, has returned to us from foreign lands. His trip was marked as his body.

Now that Remmer is to be shocked to death, won't some electric system of death, be found that won't shock everybody by its brutality.

A Wisconsin minister determined that his congregation should not "steal its way into heaven," and locking the church doors held the members prisoners until they subscribed enough money to pay of the church debt.

An oyster trust in Maryland is the latest; but if they hold on to the oysters for a corner, the trust is likely to be frustrated.

In days like these, the maiden fair sits on a heavy dress. And goeth forth to take the air. And rather leaves to press. Although she calls this splendid fun, The "winding" of the dress. How would she feel the cruel one—? If she were pressed herself?—Time.

California will make 8,000,000 gallons less of wine this year than last. This is because so large a portion of the grapes went not to the juice, but to raisins. The wily vineyarders found they could squeeze more money out of dried grapes than by squeezing wine out of the fresh ones.

It is figured that it would take $100,000,000 to give every poor person in the world an oyster stove, a roast of beef and a minute of rest, and the philanthropist with a cash crystal of $7 may well feel discouraged.—Detroit Free Press.

The Chicago News murmurs thus: "With both the great National political conventions and the World's Fair in 1892 Chicago will be the scene of considerable activity three years hence." It is indeed a Windy City.

The Chinese say that a discontented man is like a snake which would swallow an elephant. This calls up a picture of Chicago and the World's Fair.

POLITICAL ECHOS. Tammany's County Convention will be held Tuesday evening next.

The Harlem Democratic Club has carried out its threat of independent action and nominated ex-Alderman Cyrus O. Hubbell as a candidate for Assembly in the Twenty-third District.

Next Monday night the Republican County Committee will meet at the Grand Opera-House Hall and when the time for the primaries and conventions will be fixed.

The race for the Tammany Hall nomination for Judge of the Court of Common Pleas is an interesting one. The candidates are the present incumbent, Judge Van Hoesen, John M. Bowers, David McClure and Henry Blischoff, Jr. There is a large German influence, headed by the Staats-Zeitung, behind Blischoff, which renders his chances very good.

Two more Tammany Hall office-holders, who will be renominated this Fall, are Assemblyman Dominick F. Mullane and Alderman Alexander Dowd, of the Fifth Assembly District.

Alderman John Carlin is not having it all his own way in his canvass for the Republican nomination for Senator in the Eleventh District. Ex-Assemblyman Don S. Kittle, of the Nineteenth Assembly District, bids fair to wrest him in the contest.

ATHLETES IN REPOSE.

Mr. Thomas Tobey is Superintendent of the New York Athletic Club. His knowledge of athletics fits him particularly for the position. People who have met Mr. Tobey are always anxious to renew the acquaintance.

Eugene Van Schaick, of the Manhattan Athletic Club, is reported to be the cleverest amateur fencer in the city. He runs occasionally for exercise, too, and isn't particularly slow at this sport either. He dispenses legal lore downtown.

"Al" Banker, the amateur bicyclist, is a member of the Berkeley Athletic Club. His friends say he is completely happy only when astride the wheel. Current rumor has it that next season he will devote his entire leisure time to bicycling.

"Willie" Day is the champion long-distance runner of the New Jersey Athletic Club. His favorite distances are the three and ten miles. He keeps in training every day in the year, having a tendency to do too much work.

WOMAN'S WILES.

Basket pin cushions are the latest. Derby silver costs $3 and sterling $18. The ideal slumber pillow is filled with pulverized orris root and may be bought for $30.

Marie Jansen has a weakness for mignonette and goes to sleep with a knot of it pinned to her pillow.

In the manufacture world fiber finer nalls are cultivated and the moons brought out with a touch of cherry lip rouge.

The interrogative "what" has been eliminated from the elite vocabulary. Say how, pardon, please, anything but vulgar "what."

Miss Ingersoll is an artist's study in gray. She never wears any other color during the day, and white is her only evening dress.

You can buy a big velvet sponge now, about which hangs a most delicious and durable perfume, that will hold a bucketful of water. One squeeze is a bath.

STOLEN RHYMES.

Woman. When with a smile your arguments she hears, She has resolved that she will never be there. But when she meets your reason with tears, To secure the woman means to have her way.

O woman! thou wert fashioned to beault. The poet sings. A libel surely this. They who have known the sunshine of her smile know she was made to comfort and to bless.

A pretty girl delights the raser's eyes. But beauty never can with love compare; Her home is a handsome woman's bosom. A loving one diffuses sunshine there.

Although 'twas lovely woman eyes that prate, Men know it is her heart that is to be true. And certainly her virtue should be great, Since frequently it must suffice for two.

Do Not Neglect That tired feeling, impure blood, distress after eating, pain in the back, headache or similar affections, till some powerful disease obtains a firm foothold and recovery is difficult, perhaps impossible. Take Hood's Sarsaparilla, the defender of health, in time to maintain all bad feelings and restore you to perfect condition. Hood's Sarsaparilla has peculiar curative powers, and accomplishes cures where other preparations fail.

PARENTS' PRIDES.

Another Bevy of Contestants for the Pretty Baby Prizes.

"All babies are pretty," is a saying which is as old as the proverbial hills. That some are prettier than others, though, there can be no denying, as a survey of the pictures of household pets printed in THE EVENING WORLD during this remarkable contest, will convince even the most confirmed old bachelor.

HILDA JORGENSEN. The list of winning little competitors is headed to-day with the picture of Hilda Jorgensen, whose parents originally came from Norway and Denmark. Her mother writes: "I enclosed please find picture of our baby. Her name is Hilda Jorgensen, born April 2nd, 1888. This picture was taken when she was fourteen months old. Father's name is Henry Jorgensen, barber; born March 7, 1851. Mother's name is Hanne Elizabeth, born Feb. 28, 1854. Father born in Denmark, mother in Norway. HILDA JORGENSEN, 405 West Forty-seventh street.

WILLIAM BARBERA SINN. The father of this little fellow sends the following information: "I enclosed picture of our baby. His name is William Barbera Sinn, born June 14, 1888. My name is William Henry Sinn, born Jan. 4, 1857, and am occupied in the laundry business. My wife's name is Ida Marie Sinn, born Sept. 10, 1863. Dr. H. Koch, 516 West Forty-second street, can vouch for the above. Very respectfully, W. H. SINN.

Unjust Taxation. It is unjust to tax the stomach with burdens that it cannot bear. Many silly people thus tyrannize that faithful servant until it rebels and punishes them as they deserve. Dyspepsia is usually the child of gastronomic folly; but whether this or the natural associate of inherent feebleness from childhood, it is surely and pleasantly remedied with HOEGER'S STOMACH BITTERS, the Best and most highly sanctioned gastric tonic in existence. As a result of the toner imparted to the stomach, and the increased activity of its digestive and assimilative action, insured by the persistent use of this benign invigorant, general stamina is augmented, the nerves strengthened and tranquilized, and a tendency to insomnia and hypochondriasis defeated. Biliousness, chills and fever, rheumatism and kidney troubles are conquered by this admirable medicine.

HARD WORK in house-cleaning without SAPOLIO, like zeal without knowledge, is the sister of Folly. SAPOLIO is a solid cake of scouring soap. Try a cake. Cheap comfort can be secured by the small investment in one cake of SAPOLIO when you have a house or a kitchen to clean. From the paint to the pots and pans and including the windows and floors, it is the very best labor-saving soap which can be used for scouring and cleaning.
