Springer Wants a Call of the House as to the Site.

Mayor Grant and Cabinet Consider the $10,000,000 Bill.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.) WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—Speaker Reed today announced the Special House Committee on the World's Fair as follows: Mr. Candler, of Massachusetts, Chairman; Messrs. Belden and Flower, of New York; Springer and Hitt, of Illinois; Hatch and Frank, of Missouri; Bowden, of Virginia, and Wilson, of West Virginia.

This is intended to give two members for each city, with a chairman from the State which has no ambitions for itself in Exposition matters. Subsequent to the appointment of the Committee Mr. Springer offered a resolution providing that on Thursday next the roll shall be called in the House for a vote by members as to choice of place of holding the World's Fair, and each member shall name his choice of place, and the roll call shall continue until one city shall receive a majority of the votes, after which a committee shall be appointed to prepare its bill.

Pending the appointment of a special Senate committee to consider World's Fair matters and appoint the site, no time is being lost by those identified with the Exposition in this city, who are fortifying every point to make assurance doubly sure in regard to securing the site for New York. The consideration of the World's Fair bill, which the Legislature will be asked to pass, was the subject of another conference this morning by the heads of the city government in the Mayor's private office.

There were present in the Mayor's office, Comptroller Myers, Health Commissioner Wilson, Commissioner Gilroy, of the Department of Public Works, President Huntington, of the Park Board; Police Commissioner Fritzer, President Arnold, of the Board of Aldermen; Fred. Porter, of the Department of Charities and Corrections, and Fred. Coleman, of the Park Board.

Ellis Root and ex-Secretary W. C. Whitely, of the Committee on Legislation which drew the bill, were also present. At the session last Saturday the bill had been referred back to the Committee by the City authorities to make certain changes which had been suggested, and Mr. Root brought it with him this morning with the changes incorporated.

None of those in any respect the original provisions and scope of the bill, which provides for an appropriation of $10,000,000 to be expended in the purchase of land, acquired either by contract or right of eminent domain, for the World's Fair site, and for the completion of the site.

At 12:30 o'clock the Cabinet concluded its meeting. Ellis Root stated that certain further alterations in the bill had been referred to a committee comprising Comptroller Myers, Corporation Counsel Clarke and Ellis Root, who will report at a meeting of the full Cabinet on the call of the Mayor.

The bill was substantially adopted by the Cabinet. FORAKER NOT IN IT TO-DAY. Mayor Mosby Monday's Witness Before the Ballot-Box Committee.

TAPPING VANDERLEITH'S VEINS FOR THE TRANSFUSION OF BLOOD.

GAVE HIS BLOOD FOR OTHERS.

One Man Submits Four Times to the Transfusion of Blood.

One of the most self-sacrificing men in Gotham to-day is William Vanderleith. For the past three months all the doctors at Bellevue Hospital have been after his gore. They got it, too, or at least enough of it to have knocked the spots out of an ordinary mortal, yet Mr. Vanderleith seems to be very little the worse for his treatment at the hands of an army of bloodthirsty young medics.

His story is a remarkable one in many respects, and his experiences, as related to an EVENING WORLD reporter, show that he is a man of extraordinary nerve as well as phenomenal unselfishness. He is a German and a carpenter by trade, and though fifty-six years old is as strong, robust and healthy as a man of half his years.

He was disabled by an accident last October, and went to Bellevue Hospital to be treated. He had cut his foot with an axe, and the wound healed so slowly that he was not able to leave the hospital till a week ago.

During this interval the doctors persuaded him on four different occasions to submit to the vein-tapping process, which is ordinarily resorted to in the treatment of blood operation, for the purpose of saving the lives of patients who had been brought in partially asphyxiated by gas poisoning.

Each time Vanderleith consented, though not without some unwillingness at first, and as a result he was robbed of more than sixty ounces of his vital fluid, for which he received no compensation whatever, although he had been led to expect that his services would not be altogether unrequited.

The first operation was performed on Oct. 3, only two days after he entered the hospital. Twelve ounces of his blood were taken from him and pumped into the veins of the unconscious patient.

BROOKLYN PLAYERS' GROUNDS.

They Will Not Be Second to Those of the New New Yorks.

"Work on the Brooklyn Brotherhood grounds will be commenced within two weeks," said Pres. Wendell Goodwin, of the Brooklyn Players' Baseball Club, this afternoon. "The New York players say they intend to have the finest grounds in the country, but I don't think they will come up to our Brooklyn, you know, is the greatest baseball city in the world, and her baseball grounds must be second to none."

The grounds are remarkably accessible, directly to them, the Manhattan Beach and Long Island Railroads, and the Kings County and Bay Ridge Elevated Railroads will have stations right at the grounds. The grounds will be situated on the southeast, Bowler street on the southwest and the Eastern Parkway, or Brooklyn Avenue, on the north and north-west.

RESIGNED!

Daniel L. Gibbens Retires from the Board of Electrical Control.

WON'T TELL HIS REASONS.

The Formal Notice Sent to Gov. Hill To-Day.

The announcement made late this afternoon that Commissioner Daniel L. Gibbens, of the Board of Electrical Control, had sent his resignation to Gov. Hill had the effect of a moderate sized bombshell in political quarters to get him out.

At first the report was not credited, for the general opinion was that Gibbens was not the sort of a man to give up an office in which he has shown so active an interest without a fight, although it is known that several times past efforts were being made in certain quarters to get him out.

Commissioner Gibbens did not make his appearance to-day at the office of the Board of Electrical Control, but Commissioner Hess, one of his colleagues, who called there about noon, informed the astonished clerks and expert Wheeler that he had seen a copy of Mr. Gibbens' resignation, and that the original had been transmitted to the Governor.

"The resignation was a temporary one. It was made in order to give the Board of Electrical Control a chance to get on its feet, and I will be back in a few days," he said. "I never had the slightest intimation of such a thing."

"What do you think of it?" he was asked. "That is a matter upon which I do not care to have any opinion," he replied. "Mr. Gibbens was seen at his office this afternoon, but he refused to give any reason for his resignation."

"They are purely personal reasons," he said, "and do not interest the public. The resignation was a temporary one. It was made in order to give the Board of Electrical Control a chance to get on its feet, and I will be back in a few days."

A WARNING TO ELDERLY GENTLEMEN OF VERSATILE AFFECTIONS AND LARGE BANK ACCOUNTS.

LOOK OUT FOR A BLIZZARD.

To-Day's Rain to Be Followed by a Genuine Touch of Winter.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.) ST. PAUL, Jan. 20.—A blizzard is blowing throughout the Northwest. Six inches of snow are reported on a level. A high wind is prevailing.

The low pressure which existed in the Rocky Mountains Saturday resolved itself into a mass of rain and reached here early this morning. At present the storm is central over the lake region, and is accompanied by rain, snow and very high winds.

The storm is moving in a northerly direction, and the winds which accompany it are from the southwest. The Signal Service has ordered storm signals displayed along the coast from Cape Hatteras northward.

The storm will pass off the coast some time during the night, and New York will probably awake to-morrow morning to enjoy another taste of genuine winter weather.

The temperature is expected to drop tonight below the freezing point. At present the wave is moving eastward very fast. Chicago is just getting the first blast, and the temperature there is two degrees below zero.

At 8 o'clock this morning in this city the temperature was 48; at Boston, 48; Philadelphia, 48; Washington, 52. Rain will fall during all of to-day. Possibly there may be a few snow flurries to-day, but they will be blown away by the storm which is just getting on its feet.

EXTRA THE MUD.

The Talent Could See Nothing But Frojols in the First Race.

BUT MOONSTONE WON EASILY.

Gray Had an Easy Victory for the Raceland Handicap.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.) CLIFTON PLACE TRACK, Jan. 20.—The rain ceased before the races began at Clifton today, but it left the track deep in mud, causing numerous scratches. The mud was of a soft nature, and the boys and the horses got their share of it, they being covered from head to foot after each race.

The talent said there was nothing in it but not out for it, and he rapidly went back in the first race but Dan Honig's Frojols, or "Friedols," as some called him. He was a big favorite, and although he ran a good race, Moonstone won easily.

The race was a three-year-old and open to all horses. Moonstone was the favorite, and he won easily. The race was a three-year-old and open to all horses.

DEATH IN THE SAGGING WIRE.

A Newburg Laborer Falls a Victim to the Loosened Volts.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.) NEWBURGH, Jan. 20.—Thomas Dawson, a laborer, aged about forty-five, was instantly killed this morning by an alternating current from a wire of the Electric Light Company.

Dawson and a companion named Salts were standing on Water street, when a horse was fastened to an awning post and was fastened to the wire of the Electric Light Company.

The man thought he had slipped on the pavement, which was wet, and both sprang to his assistance.

Dawson caught the horse by the bit, he was thrown down, his head touching the sagging wire.

The electric wire had sagged at this particular point in the line and the insulation had worn off, the current descending through a sign board and the awning-rail to the post at which the horse was tied.

The horse which Dawson tried to aid got up and walked away subsequently, the shock having been insufficient to kill it.
