

SIO,000 PAID-UP EQUITABLE POLICY
FOR THE MOST POPULAR POLICE OFFICER.
FOR DETAILS
SEE THE SUNDAY WORLD.
PRICE ONE CENT.

Around the World.

NEW YORK, SATURDAY, JANUARY 25, 1890.

ACROSS THE CONTINENT!

The Route of Nellie Bly on the Homestretch of the Great Around-the-World Race Against Time.

NELLIE BLY'S OWN STORY
AND A
FULL-PAGE NELLIE BLY GAME
WILL BE PUBLISHED IN THE SUNDAY WORLD.
PRICE ONE CENT.

SAN FRANCISCO	MOHAVE	THE NEEDLES	WINDOW	ALBUQUERQUE	LAS VEGAS	LA JOLTA	FLORENCE	EMPORIA	TOPKA	KANSAS CITY	CHICAGO	PITTSBURG	(Jersey City, N. Y.) (Penn. RR. Sta.)
9.10 A. M.	7.45 P. M.	4 A. M.	2 P. M.	6.35 P. M.	1.40 A. M.	6.45 A. M.	3.40 P. M.	4.30 P. M.	6 P. M.	7.35 P. M.	10.30 A. M.	2.10 A. M.	JAN. 25.
Southern Pacific RR.		Atlantic and Pacific RR.		Atchafalpa, Topka and Santa Fe RR.		Pennsylvania RR.
68th DAY. (Ends 9.40.30 A. M. Jan. 21.)				69th DAY. (Ends 9.40.30 A. M. Jan. 22.)				70th DAY. (Ends 9.40.30 A. M. Jan. 23.)				71st DAY. (Ends 9.40.30 A. M. Jan. 24.)				72d DAY. (Ends 9.40.30 A. M. Jan. 25.)				73d DAY.

HOME TO-DAY.

Nellie Bly Will Be in New York This Afternoon.

Her Arrival to Be Signalled by the Roar of Cannon.

A Welcoming Party Awaiting Her in Philadelphia.

Speeding O'er the Rails in the Fast "Chicago Limited."

The Globe-Girdler's Itinerary Beaten Nearly Three Days.

The completion, this afternoon, of Nellie Bly's wonderful journey around the world will add one of the brightest pages to the imperishable record of the Achievements of Woman. Without guide or escort; speaking no language but her mother tongue; with none of the paraphernalia which renders circumnavigation of the earth a tour de force; with but a single crown and an outfit which the ordinary woman would consider inadequate for a one-day visit to Newark, this frail, slender, plucky young woman has travelled over twenty-three thousand miles, and has touched at every continent, has obtained flying glimpses of every phase of the world's civilization, has demonstrated the perfection and simplicity of modern methods of travel, and has established a record which within her own lifetime would have been regarded as chimerical as a journey to the mountains of the moon.

Miss Bly left Chicago at 10.41 yesterday forenoon on the Pennsylvania limited. The story of her ride is told elsewhere by herself. Crowds greeted her at every station, and the interest of the public in her success was apparent both in large cities and in the smallest hamlets.

The train rolled into the Union Station at Pittsburgh at 2.05 this morning. A company of more than a hundred newspaper men were waiting and gave Miss Bly a most enthusiastic greeting. She whirled away from the Smoky City at 3.20, with but 4.44 miles remaining to be traversed. If no time is lost she will be in the depot at Jersey City at 4.57 this afternoon.

Arrangements have been made by which her arrival will be announced to the people of New York and Brooklyn by the firing of a salute of ten guns on Battery Park and a similar salute at the same instant in Fort Greene Park, Brooklyn.

Three competent gentlemen will stand on the platform holding stop-watches, and the exact moment that both feet touch the platform will be recorded. By the record thus made, the prize of a free trip to Europe, as has been detailed, will be awarded the fortunate gussler who predicted the exact time, or the nearest to it, at the earliest possible day.

IN HER NATIVE CITY.

Carried on the Shoulders of a Pittsburgh Crowd—Ovation at Harrisburg.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)
HARRISBURG, Pa., Jan. 23.—Nellie Bly arrived here on time at 10.30 A. M. She will undoubtedly reach New York on time. An engine goes three miles ahead of the train and another engine is trailing the train to be ready in case of accident.

Miss Bly had an enthusiastic reception at Pittsburgh, her native city, at 3.10 A. M. More than three hundred people were there, and she was taken from the platform of the car and carried on the shoulders of two men. She received dozens of congratulatory messages, and during the entire time of her stay at the station she was shaking hands and answering questions.

Pittsburgh is very proud of Nellie Bly. They say she is the greatest little woman in the world.

All last night there were crowds at the stations on the road. At this point there was a big demonstration, with cheer after cheer for "The Woman's Globe-Girdler." Passing through the Harrisburg railroad yards the men came out of the shops and waved their hats and cheered.

Nellie Bly is well. She looks better than when she left New York seventy-two days ago. The sea winds and mountain air have tanned her face a little, but her cheeks are plump and she is in the best of spirits at hearing the end of her long journey. She accepts the popular tribute modestly, and has made a hundred thousand friends between here and San Francisco. If she could run for the Presidency within the next thirty days she would get an overwhelming vote along the Pennsylvania line.

HER MOTHER WILL MEET HER.

A Welcoming Party Will Greet Nellie Bly at Philadelphia.

The service, a special Pullman car, started out of the Jersey City depot at 6.15 this morning, over the Pennsylvania Railway.

carrying a welcoming party to meet Nellie Bly at Philadelphia, on the 25th of January, for the last stage of her journey. Should no accident or delay intervene, she will step from the Pennsylvania road, Chicago Limited Express at Jersey City this afternoon, at 4 o'clock, completing the circuit of 23,000 miles, in 72 days, 15 hours, 40 minutes and 30 seconds, which will beat her record of 72 days, 17 hours, 40 minutes and 30 seconds.

Long Island's City's Welcome.
Much interest has been taken in Miss Bly's journey by residents in Mayor Gleason's ward, and a large delegation from Long Island City will welcome the little lady at Jersey City. The delegation includes Alderman H. H. Corning, a number of local newspapermen, and a number of local newspapermen.

Any one acquainted with Nellie Bly would have experienced no difficulty in recognizing her mother in the great crowd of people gathered at the Jersey City depot. She is a small, delicate lady, past middle age, with the same soft, wavy dark hair, only tinted a little with gray; the same bright, quick, intelligent eyes, and the same pleasant, alert face familiar to those who know Nellie Bly. Her features would make no mistake in picking out the little mother, either, for there was a soft, half-fearful, but supremely happy expression on the face of this bright-eyed little woman that was unmistakable.

"Oh," said Nellie Bly's mother to an Evening World reporter, "I am so happy to have her back in my home again. Yes, it has been lonesome without her. She is all that I have."

"I am thankful that her voyage has been so fortunate throughout; that no accident has happened anywhere the wide world round to harm my daughter."

She received the hearty words of congratulation from a hundred people with a supremely happy smile, but she was too agitated by impatient expectation to speak more than a word, and that word was grateful in the extreme.

When the train was really made the frail mother settled down in her easy chair with her feet to the light and her hand to her forehead.

A despatch was received by one of the newspaper men on the train from John Montgomery Ward and Ned Hanlon of the Hall-Plays' League saying that they should endeavor to join the Nellie Bly party this afternoon and be a part of the escort to the fair circumnavigator on the homestretch.

THE ITINERARY BEATEN.

Schedule of Her Journey as Planned and as Actually Performed.

Following is the itinerary published in THE WORLD Nov. 14, the day of Miss Bly's departure:

Nov. 14—Leave New York by steamship Atlantic on Nov. 14, 10 A. M.
Nov. 21—Leave Southampton; London, by rail in three hours.
Nov. 22—Leave Victoria Station, London, by 8 P. M. on India mail.
Nov. 23—Leave Calcutta, India, by 10 P. M.
Nov. 24—Brindisi, Italy, by 10 P. M.
Nov. 25—Leave Brindisi, steamship Cathay, 2 A. M.
Nov. 26—Aden, Arabia.
Dec. 10—Columbo, Ceylon.
Dec. 18—Singapore, Straits.
Dec. 18—Hong Kong.
Dec. 19—Hong Kong.
Dec. 20—Leave Hong Kong for Yokohama.
Jan. 7—Leave Yokohama for San Francisco by steamship Oceanic.
Jan. 27—Due at San Francisco.
Jan. 27—Due at the World office in New York.

Nov. 14 to Jan. 27—New York to New York, 73 days.

Nellie Bly sailed at exactly 9.40, 30 o'clock on the steamer Victoria, from Hoboken, on the Atlantic Victoria.

After a stormy passage she arrived at Southampton at 2 A. M. on Nov. 21.

Connecting with the post-office special, Miss Bly reached London about 5.30 o'clock the same morning.

Instead of waiting for the India mail at 8 P. M., Miss Bly started for the continent by the India mail at 10 P. M., and a detour to America, where she had a pleasant interview with the British Consul, and then returned to the India mail at Calcutta, and Brindisi was reached on time.

option and breakfast by the Chicago Press at Philadelphia, on the 25th of January, for the last stage of her journey. Should no accident or delay intervene, she will step from the Pennsylvania road, Chicago Limited Express at Jersey City this afternoon, at 4 o'clock, completing the circuit of 23,000 miles, in 72 days, 15 hours, 40 minutes and 30 seconds, which will beat her record of 72 days, 17 hours, 40 minutes and 30 seconds.

IN NO HURRY TO PASS IT.

Petty Objections Delay the World's Fair Bill's Passage.

Contrary to all expectations, and to the dismay of every New Yorker who has the interests of the World's Fair at heart, the bill providing for an appropriation of $10,000,000 to acquire site property, erect buildings and for other expenses incidental to the great Exposition of 1892, has met with delay in the Legislature.

Notwithstanding the fact that the bill was drawn up with the utmost regard to constitutionality under the supervision of such lawyers as Chauncey M. Depew, William M. Everts, and Ellen Root, several members took refuge in the assertion that they were not familiar with the amended clauses, and demanded that the third reading of the bill be deferred until next week.

She received the hearty words of congratulation from a hundred people with a supremely happy smile, but she was too agitated by impatient expectation to speak more than a word, and that word was grateful in the extreme.

When the train was really made the frail mother settled down in her easy chair with her feet to the light and her hand to her forehead.

A despatch was received by one of the newspaper men on the train from John Montgomery Ward and Ned Hanlon of the Hall-Plays' League saying that they should endeavor to join the Nellie Bly party this afternoon and be a part of the escort to the fair circumnavigator on the homestretch.

Following is the itinerary published in THE WORLD Nov. 14, the day of Miss Bly's departure:

Nov. 14—Leave New York by steamship Atlantic on Nov. 14, 10 A. M.
Nov. 21—Leave Southampton; London, by rail in three hours.
Nov. 22—Leave Victoria Station, London, by 8 P. M. on India mail.
Nov. 23—Leave Calcutta, India, by 10 P. M.
Nov. 24—Brindisi, Italy, by 10 P. M.
Nov. 25—Leave Brindisi, steamship Cathay, 2 A. M.
Nov. 26—Aden, Arabia.
Dec. 10—Columbo, Ceylon.
Dec. 18—Singapore, Straits.
Dec. 18—Hong Kong.
Dec. 19—Hong Kong.
Dec. 20—Leave Hong Kong for Yokohama.
Jan. 7—Leave Yokohama for San Francisco by steamship Oceanic.
Jan. 27—Due at San Francisco.
Jan. 27—Due at the World office in New York.

ONE OF THE FARRELLS' FIX.

Held for the Death of a Man Put Out of His Saloon.

John Farrell, one of the well-known Farrell brothers, of the Fourth Ward, saloon-keeper at 22 Chatham square, was brought to the coroner's office this morning on a charge of manslaughter.

Farrell grabbed his hat and coat and ran for the door, but he was held by the three brothers, John, Patrick and Thomas, who were waiting for him.

Farrell is said to be worth considerably over $50,000, and the combined wealth of the three brothers, John, Patrick and Thomas, is estimated at over a quarter of a million dollars.

Farrell is said to be worth considerably over $50,000, and the combined wealth of the three brothers, John, Patrick and Thomas, is estimated at over a quarter of a million dollars.

Farrell is said to be worth considerably over $50,000, and the combined wealth of the three brothers, John, Patrick and Thomas, is estimated at over a quarter of a million dollars.

Farrell is said to be worth considerably over $50,000, and the combined wealth of the three brothers, John, Patrick and Thomas, is estimated at over a quarter of a million dollars.

Farrell is said to be worth considerably over $50,000, and the combined wealth of the three brothers, John, Patrick and Thomas, is estimated at over a quarter of a million dollars.

HERR MOST IN THE TOMBS.

The Fiery Anarchist Rearrested by Central Office Detectives.

Judge O'Brien Grants a Writ of Habeas Corpus Returnable Monday.

A short, stout man, wearing a slouch hat, a great big beard, and good clothes, sauntered out of a boarding-house at 67 Seventh street, about 8.30 this morning. He was wearing a hat and a coat and seemed at ease with himself and all the world.

For a minute he stood in the sunlight at the end of the steps, as if hesitating in which direction to go.

Meantime, two well-dressed men were standing in the shade on the opposite side of the street, watching every movement of the little man.

The latter emitted a cloud of smoke from his nose and mouth, and finally turned his steps in the direction of Third avenue.

"You are under arrest, Herr Most," said one of them, Detective-Bert, Frink, and the little man with the big beard dropped his cigar and remained entirely motionless. "Did you come from? What do you want? Go away from me!"

He was not taken to the police station, but to the Central Office, where he was held in custody.

He was not taken to the police station, but to the Central Office, where he was held in custody.

He was not taken to the police station, but to the Central Office, where he was held in custody.

He was not taken to the police station, but to the Central Office, where he was held in custody.

He was not taken to the police station, but to the Central Office, where he was held in custody.

He was not taken to the police station, but to the Central Office, where he was held in custody.

He was not taken to the police station, but to the Central Office, where he was held in custody.

He was not taken to the police station, but to the Central Office, where he was held in custody.

He was not taken to the police station, but to the Central Office, where he was held in custody.

He was not taken to the police station, but to the Central Office, where he was held in custody.

He was not taken to the police station, but to the Central Office, where he was held in custody.

He was not taken to the police station, but to the Central Office, where he was held in custody.

He was not taken to the police station, but to the Central Office, where he was held in custody.

EXTRA

2 O'CLOCK.

LOUNSBERY DEAD.

The Defaulting Post-Office Cashier Commits Suicide.

Shot Himself Through the Head to Avoid Arrest.

Mr. Van Cott Thinks His Stealings Will Not Exceed $25,000.

George H. Lounsbury, the defaulting cashier of the Post-Office, who put a bullet in his brain at his home in Hackensack, N. J., last evening, died at 2 o'clock this morning.

The news was brought to this city by Chief Post-Office Inspector Wheeler, who went to Hackensack yesterday, with Inspectors Hartshorne and Morris, to arrest Lounsbury.

Wheeler and his assistants spent the night at the defaulter's house. Lounsbury never recovered consciousness after he shot himself. He lay all night in his bedroom on the second floor, surrounded by his wife and children. The Rev. W. N. Holley, rector of Christ Episcopal Church, which Mrs. Lounsbury attended, was called to the house.

The poor woman, who is said to be in a delicate condition, has been driven to the verge of insanity by the tragic occurrence of the past twenty-four hours.

He was not taken to the police station, but to the Central Office, where he was held in custody.

He was not taken to the police station, but to the Central Office, where he was held in custody.

He was not taken to the police station, but to the Central Office, where he was held in custody.

He was not taken to the police station, but to the Central Office, where he was held in custody.

He was not taken to the police station, but to the Central Office, where he was held in custody.

He was not taken to the police station, but to the Central Office, where he was held in custody.

He was not taken to the police station, but to the Central Office, where he was held in custody.

He was not taken to the police station, but to the Central Office, where he was held in custody.

He was not taken to the police station, but to the Central Office, where he was held in custody.

He was not taken to the police station, but to the Central Office, where he was held in custody.

He was not taken to the police station, but to the Central Office, where he was held in custody.

He was not taken to the police station, but to the Central Office, where he was held in custody.

AHEAD OF TIME.

Russian Children Packed in Hampers and Sold to Traders.

Widely Known Manufacturer Dead.

English Judges and the Grip.

Belated Steamers Reported—No Word of the Ill-fated Erin.

ALL BATTLED WITH GALES.

Belated Steamers Reported—No Word of the Ill-fated Erin.

It is now twenty-seven days since the National line steamship Erin left port, and up to this morning no tidings had been received of her at the National line office, at 27 State street.

Inspector Wheeler will conduct the investigation, and Commissioner Shields, who is said to be in charge of the Erin, will be notified.

He was not taken to the police station, but to the Central Office, where he was held in custody.

He was not taken to the police station, but to the Central Office, where he was held in custody.

He was not taken to the police station, but to the Central Office, where he was held in custody.

He was not taken to the police station, but to the Central Office, where he was held in custody.

He was not taken to the police station, but to the Central Office, where he was held in custody.

He was not taken to the police station, but to the Central Office, where he was held in custody.

He was not taken to the police station, but to the Central Office, where he was held in custody.

He was not taken to the police station, but to the Central Office, where he was held in custody.

He was not taken to the police station, but to the Central Office, where he was held in custody.

He was not taken to the police station, but to the Central Office, where he was held in custody.

He was not taken to the police station, but to the Central Office, where he was held in custody.

He was not taken to the police station, but to the Central Office, where he was held in custody.

He was not taken to the police station, but to the Central Office, where he was held in custody.

BEATEN NIGH UNTO DEATH.

Salesman Downed Found Terribly Mangled in the Street.

No Clue to His Assailant or His Motive—Downed May Die.

Policeman Thomas Smith, of the Eighty-eighth street station, found a well-dressed man lying face in the gutter, at the corner of Duane and Broadway streets, at 10.30 this morning. His face and clothes were covered with blood.

The man was dazed, and gazed stupidly and speechless at the officer when addressed.

It was 1 o'clock. The man could not have come very far in that condition. He could not have been beaten so in a fight without a rumph that would have been heard a long way off. Yet Officer Smith had passed the spot less than five minutes before, and had not been out of hearing since.

Duffy's store is at One Hundred and Second street. Policeman Smith's beat was from One Hundred and First to One Hundred and Fourth street.

Smith summoned aid with a rap of his club on the stone flags. There was no appearance of a struggle about the street, and no other blood was visible on the sidewalk.

The man was dazed, and gazed stupidly and speechless at the officer when addressed.

It was 1 o'clock. The man could not have come very far in that condition. He could not have been beaten so in a fight without a rumph that would have been heard a long way off. Yet Officer Smith had passed the spot less than five minutes before, and had not been out of hearing since.

Duffy's store is at One Hundred and Second street. Policeman Smith's beat was from One Hundred and First to One Hundred and Fourth street.

Smith summoned aid with a rap of his club on the stone flags. There was no appearance of a struggle about the street, and no other blood was visible on the sidewalk.

The man was dazed, and gazed stupidly and speechless at the officer when addressed.

It was 1 o'clock. The man could not have come very far in that condition. He could not have been beaten so in a fight without a rumph that would have been heard a long way off. Yet Officer Smith had passed the spot less than five minutes before, and had not been out of hearing since.

Duffy's store is at One Hundred and Second street. Policeman Smith's beat was from One Hundred and First to One Hundred and Fourth street.

Smith summoned aid with a rap of his club on the stone flags. There was no appearance of a struggle about the street, and no other blood was visible on the sidewalk.

The man was dazed, and gazed stupidly and speechless at the officer when addressed.

It was 1 o'clock. The man could not have come very far in that condition. He could not have been beaten so in a fight without a rumph that would have been heard a long way off. Yet Officer Smith had passed the spot less than five minutes before, and had not been out of hearing since.

Duffy's store is at One Hundred and Second street. Policeman Smith's beat was from One Hundred and First to One Hundred and Fourth street.

Smith summoned aid with a rap of his club on the stone flags. There was no appearance of a struggle about the street, and no other blood was visible on the sidewalk.

The man was dazed, and gazed stupidly and speechless at the officer when addressed.

It was 1 o'clock. The man could not have come very far in that condition. He could not have been beaten so in a fight without a rumph that would have been heard a long way off. Yet Officer Smith had passed the spot less than five minutes before, and had not been out of hearing since.

UPHAM WANTS TO FIGHT.

But $500 Is Too Small a Purse to Tackle Godfrey For.

English's Light-Weight Defeated by Sam Baxter Knocked Out.

Elizabeth Hanasch Commits Suicide While Temporarily Insane.

Elizabeth Hanasch, fifty-four years old, of 1308 Washington avenue, was found hanging in her bedroom this morning.

The body was found at 10.30 this morning, and she had been dead for some time.

She was found hanging from the neck of a chair in her bedroom.

The body was found at 10.30 this morning, and she had been dead for some time.

She was found hanging from the neck of a chair in her bedroom.

The body was found at 10.30 this morning, and she had been dead for some time.

She was found hanging from the neck of a chair in her bedroom.

The body was found at 10.30 this morning, and she had been dead for some time.

She was found hanging from the neck of a chair in her bedroom.

The body was found at 10.30 this morning, and she had been dead for some time.

She was found hanging from the neck of a chair in her bedroom.

The body was found at 10.30 this morning, and she had been dead for some time.

She was found hanging from the neck of a chair in her bedroom.

The body was found at 10.30 this morning, and she had been dead for some time.

She was found hanging from the neck of a chair in her bedroom.

The body was found at 10.30 this morning, and she had been dead for some time.

She was found hanging from the neck of a chair in her bedroom.

The body was found at 10.30 this morning, and she had been dead for some time.