

PRICE ONE CENT.

PRICE ONE CENT.

5 O'CLOCK THE KENTUCKY DERBY

Big Crowd to Watch the Great Event Run Off in the Mud.

The Opening Event Was Won by Grandpa by Two Lengths.

Special to the Evening World. Louisville, Ky., May 14.—A more wretched day for a great race like the Kentucky Derby could scarcely be imagined. It began to rain at 10 o'clock last night and it continued until nearly noon to-day.

BARKER IS FOUND GUILTY.

Assault in the Third Degree the Verdict of the Jury.

The case of ex-Alderman Jimmy Barker, of the Thirteenth District, accused of assaulting County Democrat James Herman, was given to the jury by Judge Cowing early this afternoon after some theoretical pyrotechnics by the State Attorney and Assistant District Attorney Jerome.

CRAIN IS AFTER MYERS.

Warm Talk at To-Day's Sinking-Fund Commission Meeting.

City Chamberlain Crain and Comptroller Myers engaged in a rather heated discussion of the subject of finance at a meeting of the Sinking-Fund Commissioners to-day.

TO DISBAR MEEKS AND WRIGHT.

A Motion to Be Argued in the Supreme Court Next Monday.

A motion to disbar Referee Joseph Meeks and Benjamin Wright for unprofessional conduct in the Black divorce proceedings, will be argued before the Supreme Court, General Term next Monday.

The City of New York Sighted.

The steamship City of New York was sighted off Fire Island at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Local News in Brief.

Three-year-old Lizzie Philadelphia, of 202 West 125th street, fell from the fire-escape this morning on the way to the cemetery.

ROBBERED OF FULLY $50,000.

Turf Publisher John H. Wallace a Victim of Mislaid Confidence.

Leslie E. MacLeod Under Arrest and Robert F. Wallace Wanted.

Leslie E. MacLeod, a well-known writer, is under arrest at Police Headquarters, accused of complicity in robbing John H. Wallace, editor of Wallace's Monthly, Wallace's American Trotting Register, and Wallace's Year Book, of some $50,000.

John H. Wallace is a man over sixty years of age. His father and the father of the boy who has left him now on the verge of ruin were second cousins.

Young Wallace's parents live in Pittsburgh and move in the best society there. John H. Wallace is a bachelor.

His monthlies is the foremost authority on turf matters, and of these publications he amassed a fortune estimated at $100,000.

Having no child of his own to leave his money to, he adopted the boy who is now his nephew. He brought him to New York, gave him a college education, upon completing which he took the young man to his home and made him treasurer of the publishing office.

The old man had the greatest love for Bob, who called him uncle, and seemed to return the affection with a fervor which was not in any way less than that of a son.

It is said that he had no business in Boston, and filed with a vague alarm when he was told that he had been robbed of $50,000.

WITNESSES FOR M'GOWAN.

The Alleged Blackmailing Policeman Makes a Good Defense.

Policeman Francis H. McGowan, of the steamer Patrol, was on trial to-day before Commissioner MacLean, charged with extorting blackmail.

Emil Roth, a saloon-keeper on East Houston street, complained that McGowan, in citizen's clothes, entered his saloon Easter Sunday, showed his badge and demanded $25 to avoid an arrest.

"I WILL STAY," SAYS MURRAY

Denies the Legality of the County Committee's Expulsion.

Relies Upon His Own District to Send Him Back Victorious.

Police Justice Henry Murray, suave, courteous and calm, came down with his light overcoat on his arm this morning, in response to a call from an Evening World reporter at his luxurious home, 21 East Twenty-third street.

His carriage and his "man" stood at the stepping-block before the door, ready to receive him, and he stepped into the motor car in Harlem Police Court, and the white-haired bolton had but "three minutes to call his own."

In response to the reporter's query Judge Murray said: "Of course, the action of Judge Power's County Committee last night in expelling me was arbitrary and without precedent in fact or warranty in the law of the organization."

"The County Democracy was organized expressly as a popular organization and in no way intended to expel me from the 'cabinet' theory. The unit is the Assembly District organization."

"Each district elects in primary and selects twenty representatives on the General Committee. The twenty select for the district a representative on the sub-Executive Committee. No power (no man intended) was given to the County Democracy to expel any one. The organization of my district meets to-morrow evening at Wendell's Assembly Rooms and all will return to return me again the County Committee cannot unseat me."

FASSETT'S PROBING OVER.

No More Investigations to Be Made Till Next Fall.

Any further revelations from the Fassett investigating committee need not be expected until next fall.

Cloudy and Frequent Rains.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 14.—Weather indications for the day are cloudy and frequent rains.

$300,000 IN BONDS GONE.

Sistars & Co. Seriously Accused by Philadelphia Bankers.

Hilger's Alleged Defalcation Hid the Real Facts of Their Failure.

The bottom facts with regard to the recent failure of the banking house of George K. Sistars & Co. are just beginning to come out, and the disclosures made within the last twenty-four hours confirm the suspicions that have existed in Wall street ever since the failure of the collapse was not otherwise explained.

Two suits for $112,000 and $120,000, which have been brought against W. H. H. Sistars and Harold Clements, the two members of the bankrupt firm, by Richard and August Hecksher, respectively, of the well-known Philadelphia banking house, have brought these facts to the surface.

W. H. H. Sistars, the head of the bankrupt firm has been under arrest since last Monday and is now locked up in Ludlow Street Jail being unable to procure $75,000 bail to secure his release.

Harold Clements, the junior partner, has been arrested several days in Connecticut. It is said, or he would be in a similar predicament.

Sistars declined to see a reporter who visited the jail this morning, and his counsel, H. E. Quinlan, refused to discuss the case. It is charged that the firm used the securities and funds of its customers and depositors to advance all sorts of speculative schemes in which the Heckshers were the principal victims.

FORTUNES ARE AT STAKE.

Which Will Win the Great Brooklyn Handicap To-Morrow?

Extraordinary interest is manifested in the great Brooklyn handicap, to be run to-morrow.

For weeks the merits of the horses entered have been carefully canvassed, and the realization or destruction of hopes built on the result is awaited with anxiety by thousands.

Nearly twenty thousand people are expected at the track to-morrow. The demand for boxes has been unprecedented.

STOCK REPORTS.

A Rampant Bull Movement Sweeps All Before It.

Enormous Dealings and Great Excitement on 'Change.

The Suspension of J. E. Reynolds & Co. Announced.

O-DAY'S speculation was rarer. Onward and upward is the motto of the men at present behind the stock market and they are sweeping everything before them.

Chicago was at it again, departing nothing being received from that city. The bright side of the picture was found in the demand of the Rock Island for an immediate conference of general managers of the various roads, to see if an arrangement could not be made to check the demoralization.

The fact of the matter is, Wall street regards the rate reductions with perfect composure, being of the opinion that the quicker the roads cut to the bone the sooner will the war end.

In the afternoon speculation became so rampant that the bulls themselves had to take steps to check the market. The result was a reaction in the last hour.

The dealings at the Stock Exchange to-day were enormous. Orders for shares of the various stocks were largely to keep up with the rush, and the expensive price wires of the commission houses for days more than repaid themselves.

Even the put and call brokers are unusually busy and orders for shares of the various stocks are being placed in large quantities.

MAMIE'S MURDERER CAUGHT.

Charles Jackson Found at Last at Muskegon, Mich.

Charles E. Jackson, alias Buchanan, who murdered Mamie Murphy in Chris Johnson's saloon on Sixth avenue April 12, has been arrested.

Inspector Byrnes received a despatch this morning from Chief of Police Murphy at Muskegon, Mich., saying that there was a man living at the American Hotel.

BANISHED FROM ROME.

COUNTY DEMOCRACY

CATLINE MURRAY—"I go, but I return."

PELL'S PEERS HARD TO FIND.

Slow Work Getting a Jury to Try the Bank-Wrecking Broker.

George Hamilton Pell, the robust and handsome financier, was accompanied by his sad-faced and beautiful wife as he faced Recorder Smyth in Part III. of the Court of General Sessions to-day.

Six jurors were got by dint of hard work, the prosecution seven times peremptorily challenging jurors who had qualified for the box according to law, and the defense exercising the same right of peremptory challenge against five citizens.

The jurymen seated this far are: Foreman—George C. Batchelor, dealer in carpets, 347 Broadway.

No. 2—William Bishop, paper manufacturer in the latter Building.

MAMIE'S MURDERER CAUGHT.

Charles Jackson Found at Last at Muskegon, Mich.

Charles E. Jackson, alias Buchanan, who murdered Mamie Murphy in Chris Johnson's saloon on Sixth avenue April 12, has been arrested.

Inspector Byrnes sent back a telegram minutely describing Jackson.

BANISHED FROM ROME.

COUNTY DEMOCRACY

CATLINE MURRAY—"I go, but I return."

PELL'S PEERS HARD TO FIND.

Slow Work Getting a Jury to Try the Bank-Wrecking Broker.

George Hamilton Pell, the robust and handsome financier, was accompanied by his sad-faced and beautiful wife as he faced Recorder Smyth in Part III. of the Court of General Sessions to-day.

Six jurors were got by dint of hard work, the prosecution seven times peremptorily challenging jurors who had qualified for the box according to law, and the defense exercising the same right of peremptory challenge against five citizens.

The jurymen seated this far are: Foreman—George C. Batchelor, dealer in carpets, 347 Broadway.

No. 2—William Bishop, paper manufacturer in the latter Building.

5 O'CLOCK SUPERVISOR

Gave the Talent a Bad Set Back in the Third Race.

LAST DAY AT LIMBEN.

Favorites Stockton and Isaquena Filly Won Very Handily.

Special to the Evening World. Limben Park Race Track, May 14.—The Spring meeting of the Limben Park Race Track closed to-day.

When the meeting began the conditions of the races did not suit the owners, consequently the fields were so light and the racing was of such a character that it threatened at one time to kill the meeting.

The managers seeing the error rectified it to the best of their ability for the first half of the meeting, and when the remaining half began there were plenty of horses in every race, and, in fact, some of the fields were almost too large for safety.

On his good race with Latta way the other day, Stockton was made an 8 to 10 favorite for the opening race, which he won handily.

As the Isaquena filly was the favorite and winner of the second race, the talent were set a setback in the third race, however, as a Superior, a 12 to 1 chance, was the winner.

First Race. Fure 8500, for horses that have run and not won at this meeting; six and a half furlongs.

Second Race. Purses $500; five furlongs.

Third Race. Purses $400; selling allowance; one mile.

Fourth Race. Purses $300; selling allowance; one mile.

Table of stock market data including closing quotations for various stocks like American Oil, Standard Oil, and others, with columns for bid, asked, and volume.