FILLING UP CENSUS BLANKS.

Half a Million Already Counted in Mr. Murray's Round-Up.

Hot Weather Hinders the Work—No Enumerators Maltreated.

Nearly a half million names recorded in three days. This is the showing of the 1,000 young men who have undertaken to gather the required census statistics for Uncle Sam and his mighty Republic.

This small army of interrogators have run many do-orbels, encountered almost insurmountable obstacles in the path of their labor, but in spite of obstructive circumstances and vexatious women, have been subjected to some of the most discouraging contingencies.

They have stuck to their work admirably, and despite the many difficulties they have met they have done nobly and their task is being fast completed.

Superior Murray is well pleased with the results of the work thus far. He says that the matter of census taking in this city will, by June 14, be something of the past.

The census superintendent has also been most satisfied to his duties. He has been one of the first to reach his office every morning since the work was inaugurated, and he has labored assiduously to keep the machinery of his office in a smooth and unobstructed condition.

"I cannot see," said he to an Evening World reporter this morning, "why the census should not have been completed long ago. In any case, in the beginning we found things a little rough, but we made a good start, and now everything is going about as well as could be desired."

"A good many citizens seemed to imagine that we were doing something that was not right to do, but they soon discovered that we were doing it for the benefit of all, and they have acquiesced in our mission to bring about a successful termination."
"We are doing it for the benefit of all, and the citizens will continue to cooperate with us."

The census office at 155 Eighth street this morning appeared to have slipped into a condition of innocuous desuetude. Fewer people called for forms yesterday, and Mr. Calkins, the "terror" to enumerators, found less time to answer and send more time to count. In the course of the day, the tables and chairs. A half dozen enthusiastic enumerators entered into the office, their supply of blanks having become exhausted. They received their blanks and went to no time in looking up the names of their laborers.

A score of messenger boys longed to loiter about the census office, but they maltreated enumerators stalked into the office to excite Mr. Calkins or disturb Mr.
Murray with a complaint.

The only incident that marred the quiet of the room was the arrival of a messenger boy bending under the weight of a big census portfolio. He had a letter to the Superior from a young man who had been in the District of the Twelfth Assembly District, who was evidently in a very excited condition, and he handed the letter to Mr. Murray, read the communication and allowed the messenger to depart. The letter was immediately filled from the census list.

There was no information at the census office as to the probable action of the Department of Justice in Washington in the case of Murray, but it is believed that the case will be decided in the District of Columbia. The complaint had been formally made, and the proper authorities and the matter had ended with it.

The terrible heat of yesterday was the cause of preventing the enumerators from working at their desks. The heat was so bad that many of the men who were working at their desks were obliged to stop work. The heat was so bad that many of the men who were working at their desks were obliged to stop work.

There was a decided falling off in the number of postal cards received today, but this was expected in view of the somewhat depressed arrival of old General Hugh J. Kelly.
Nothing was heard of the young man received from Enumerator Frederick Hayes, the young colored man who yesterday started out on a mission to get a side known as "Hells Kitchen." He has not so far returned, and it is fair to suppose that he is still in the city.

FOUGHT FOR HIS LIBERTY.

But Mr. F. R. Coon Was No Match for Policeman Barnicoat.

Among the prisoners registered on the blotter at the East Sixty-seventh street police station this morning was Mr. F. R.
Coon, who was charged by Patrolman Barnicoat with creating a disturbance in the front door yard of a recent house at 35 East Sixty-seventh street.

While Officer Barnicoat was patrolling his beat just after the thunder shower last night his attention was attracted towards the house, where something decidedly unusual appeared to be taking place.

The officer hastened over and was surprised to find a very hilarious party rolling and tumbling about on the scanty grass.

He appeared to be quite young and yet his hair and eyebrows were quite gray and a little sharp nose stuck out between two very bright little eyes.

"What are you doing?" asked the officer, but he was not answered.

No answer, but another cry of the grass and a half-smothered snort of delight.

"See here! Stop that or I'll take you in, cried the now nettled officer.

Still no answer, but more and more prolonged mouthing on the grass.

That settled it. Jumping the fence, the policeman at once grabbed the offender by the back of the neck and dragged him to the station-house.

The prisoner appeared considerably, and he kicked and bit the officer's hands, but the "copper" held him fast, and finally dragged him to the station-house.

That worthy questioned him at length but was unable to get a word out of him. After a while the rascally fellow began to scream.

"I know you. You're Mr. Fly! You're the one who was over in Central Park where Barrie Doz family used to reside."

The sergeant then explained this information to the Assessor in Central Park and Night Watchman Douglas soon after he was taken to the station-house.

"Ha! Ha! Welcome home, my boy!" exclaimed the watchman as he identified the prisoner. "I wonder whether you have wandered, and bending the rascal into the trap he brought back to the station."

This morning he was placed in his cage again. Most of the afternoon he was in the open cage or park grounds occupied by the parrots, dogs and several times they were secured by citizens who took them.
They are comparatively harmless, but as they are a nuisance.

FORTUNE COULDN'T BUY BEER

The Colored Editor Says He Is The Victim of an Outrage.

Assaulted and Arrested for Demanding His Rights as a Citizen.

Editor T. Thomas Fortune, of the Afr., the popular organ of the colored people of this city, was arraigned as a prisoner before Justice Hogan, in Jefferson Market Police Court, this morning.

Mr. Fortune, who is a young, handsome well-dressed, colored man, has been connected with several of the daily newspapers of New York, and is well known as an enthusiastic worker in the cause of the colored people.

He was arrested yesterday afternoon on the charge of disorderly conduct in front of Trainer's saloon at Sixth avenue and Third street, after being ejected from the place because he protested against the refusal of the bartender to serve him with a glass of lager beer.

Mr. Fortune characterized the proceeding as a high-handed outrage upon the rights of a sober and respectable citizen, and he claims to be, and told this story to Justice Hogan.

He had been here at work in his office, at 40 Cedar street, all day, and in the afternoon went uptown to attend to some business at Trainer's. He had a glass of beer, and he was not at all intoxicated.

He was on his way back to his office when he was stopped by a man who called himself a bartender, and who asked him for a glass of beer. He had drunk nothing but water since he got up in the morning.

"I am not a bartender," replied Mr.
Fortune. "I want you to serve me."
"You can't get any more here," was the reply.

"When I'll stay here till you get ready to give me what I ordered, if it takes all night," returned the colored editor, becoming increasingly angry as well as excited.

"Well, I have no objection to giving you a drink myself," said the bartender, "but you can't get any more here, and you can't get any more here, and you can't get any more here, and you can't get any
