

HAILE AS VICTORY. Arbitration Regarded by the Knights as a Hard-Won Concession.

Both Parties to the Railroad War Will Appear Before the Commissioners. The decision of the State Board of Mediation and Arbitration to come to New York next Tuesday and begin an investigation into the causes which led to the present strike on the New York Central, is regarded by the Knights of Labor as a great point gained, if not a complete victory, for the principles for which they have been so long and so earnestly contending.

Vice-President Webb has signified his intention to respond to the summons of the Board and submit to examination, which is certainly an important concession in view of the position which he has heretofore taken with regard to the strike.

Mr. Powderly and the other big Knights will, of course, be ready to present their side of the question, and the matter will be for the first time brought before the public in a clear and impartial light.

The action of the State Board is everywhere applauded as the wisest possible course that could have been adopted, and it is believed that great good will come of it.

The sessions of the Board will be opened at 10 o'clock next Tuesday morning, in Part I. of the Court of Common Pleas, and Gen. Roger A. Pryor, who has offered his services gratuitously, is expected to appear as counsel for the General Executive Board of the Knights of Labor.

The State Board's approaching visit was the absorbing topic of conversation among Knights of all degrees this morning. It cheered the strikers mightily, for they felt that an opportunity would now be given to ventilate the wrongs that they claim they have suffered.

An Evening World reporter talked with a number of strikers this morning, and it was the unanimous opinion among them that the State Board of Arbitration may be unable to bring out the facts in the case, for they claim that Vice-President Webb will refuse to answer any and all questions pertaining to the discharge of the men.

They are, however, more than satisfied that whatever the outcome of the inquiry will be the public will be able to judge the merits of the case, and they are confident that the State Board will be able to do this.

Frequent consultations have been held during the past two days by Vice-President Webb with the members of the General Council of the New York Central, and it is stated on good authority that Mr. Webb will refuse to answer any question on the ground that there is no trouble at present on the road between the company and its employees.

Whoever says this morning that the Company will alter its interests at the investigation, and that he will raise the question as to the right of the State Board to interfere with the Company in the hiring or the discharge of its employees, is in fact he declined to say anything was averse to discuss the proposed investigation by the State Board of Arbitration, and that he will raise the question as to the right of the State Board to interfere with the Company in the hiring or the discharge of its employees.

Knights today are making great preparations for the coming investigation. Gen. Roger A. Pryor this morning said on his home in East Thirty-eighth street.

IS DICK IN THE EAST RIVER? Indications That Grocer Lankenau Has Committed Suicide.

Dependent Because His Partner Opposed His Wedding Plans. Tillie Delmar, a tuxom and comely young woman, mourns for her lover today, while Dick Lankenau is without a partner in the grocery business at Second Avenue and Twenty-fourth street. The continuation of the two facts is explained when it is known that Dick Lankenau has disappeared and left behind him messages which indicate that he has taken his own life.

After a time Dick Lankenau began to seem much that was admirable in the neat and industrious domestic, and it came to be understood that he was her lover. Trouble came to the thriving young firm upon the discovery of the love affair, and Mrs. Menkin sharply admonished Tillie to find another place.

The Tillie did in the house of Herman Greiter, 1325 Third Avenue. But her faithful lover followed her there, and two weeks ago he announced to his partner that he and Tillie were to be married Sept. 21. When Mrs. Menkin refused, "If you marry Tillie, then run my offensive partnership."

Lankenau was much troubled by this dilemma, and like many another sought comfort in the downy bowl. He had been on a protracted spree when Monday he was arrested for reckless driving on the grocery wagon and in a few days he was in jail.

Two days ago Capt. Clinchy's officers found Lankenau in the street in a state of helpless intoxication, and that cost him another $10 Wednesday morning. Last evening he called at the house of his friend, John Lankenau, 171 Lexington Avenue. He was much depressed and talked much about his trouble.

"When will you come again, Dick?" To which he replied, "To-morrow, or the day after, or the day after that." He held up a postal card bearing the address of the State Board of Mediation and Arbitration.

From 8 to 10 o'clock with Tillie. He urged her to leave his place and devote her attention to her work. When she left her in the best of good humor with the world.

It was not until 11 o'clock that Dick Lankenau returned. He was in a state of complete collapse, and he was unable to give any account of his whereabouts.

The police are keeping a lookout for the body of Dick Lankenau. Tillie Delmar, who is now in the hands of the State Board of Arbitration, is believed to be the only person who could give any information as to the whereabouts of her lover.

Washington, Aug. 29.—The statement made by certain labor leaders here, which was referred to in THE WORLD OF Aug. 27, to the effect that none but aliens are employed in the erection of a row of houses now being built for Senator Sherman in this city, is entirely untrue. It is the fact that the contractor under him is either an American citizen for several years, and that the contractors under him are either Americans by birth or naturalized citizens.

Chicago, Aug. 29.—The strike of the switchmen is said to be practically ended, although the strikers are very numerous, and are throwing out hints of trouble in the near future.

EXTRA 2 O'CLOCK. LEUTH CHANGED.

Cleveland's Boy-Friend Paid the Death Penalty This Morning. Little Maggie Thompson's Cruel Death Avenged by Law. The Young Criminal Went Unflinchingly to the Gallows.

Special to the Evening World. CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 29.—Otto Leuth, the sixteen-year-old murderer of little Maggie Thompson, was hanged in the Penitentiary shortly after midnight this morning. His neck was broken and he was pronounced dead in seventeen minutes.

Otto bore up bravely to the last, confessing his crime, but denied that he assaulted the child. His father and mother visited him early in the day to say farewell. Mrs. Leuth was greatly affected, and was with difficulty parted from her son.

The boy, after their departure, gave way to intense grief, but soon recovered, and remarked that he was "glad that was over." On the scaffold he made a few remarks to the effect that he forgave all his enemies, and urged the officials to be quick with their work. His body was taken to Greenwald's for interment.

Brocky Smith, another murderer, was also hanged. Maggie, the pretty eight-year-old daughter of Jacob Thompson, a hard-working railroad man of No. 24 Merchant Avenue, Cleveland, left her home at the usual hour to attend the Tremont School, a few blocks distant, on the morning of May 8, 1898.

Several other people called to look at the body, but no one could identify it. The only marks on the body are the letters "E. L." on the left forearm, tattooed in India ink, which would seem to indicate that the deceased was a sailor.

Commons differ as to how he met his death. Justice Church, who has taken charge of the case in Coroner Wardell's absence, believes that some medical student threw the body into the sea, and that there it was mangled by the paddle-wheels of steamers and further mangled by the waves.

A medical student who saw the body, however, stated positively that no surgeon's knife had been used upon it. The police suspect the theory of murder, and that the man was accidentally drowned and the body mutilated by steamers.

The body will be kept at the Morgue until Monday, when, if not identified, it will be buried in Potter's field. Those who believe the theory of murder believe that the man was a sailor, and that he was thrown overboard by the crew of a ship.

Yonnie Otto at this time was living alone in the front part of his father's house, the rear being occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Leuth. His mother had been taken to a hospital with a serious ailment, and his father had been called away to some distant town on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Leuth returned to their home almost on the same day. The same afternoon Otto was notified to come to the police station, where he was held in custody until his father's return.

GRANT'S NEW POLICE JUDGE. Anti-Platt Republicans Rejoice at the Naming of Meade.

Tammany's Plan to Divide and Rout the Republican Forces. A jubilant crowd were the Anti-Platt Republicans today. A portion of the jubilation manifested by some of them who reside in the Thirtieth Ward is probably a remnant of the great hurrahs indulged in last evening.

This exultant feeling was occasioned by Mayor Grant's appointment of Clarence W. Meade to succeed Police Justice Jake Patterson. Patterson is Boss Platt's Chairman of the Republican County Executive Committee, and Meade is the right tower of "Wicked" Fred Gibbs, who, with Assemblyman Hamilton Fish, of Putnam County, is the most ardent of the enemies of the Republican boss in the city.

The superseding of Platt's man by Gibbs' lieutenant can be construed as nothing less than a sign at Platt for his interference in the Legislature to defeat the World's Fair and Rapid Transit measures, and also as part reparation for the working of the Fassett Investigating Committee.

There are several other appointments which Mayor Grant has yet to make before his term of office expires, and the anti-Platt Republicans expect to act most of them. Police Justice Solomon B. Smith, who was elected by Tammany as Chairman of the Republican Executive Committee, and whose term expires in December next, expects reappointment. It is opposed to Platt, and will probably be retained in office.

Police Justice John B. Smith, who was elected by Tammany as Chairman of the Republican Executive Committee, and whose term expires in December next, expects reappointment. It is opposed to Platt, and will probably be retained in office.

BRICK FAMINE NOW FELT. Financial Ruin Staring Small Firms in the Face.

The Fight Being Waged by Both Sides More Persistently. While the State Board of Arbitration is in this city next week, investigating the New York Central Railroad strike, they may conclude that the existing difficulties between the brick manufacturers and the Board of Walking Delegates should also receive their attention.

Had as the situation is now, it promises to be in a more serious, as the fight is being waged by both sides with more persistence than ever.

The Board of Walking Delegates insist that they have all along been ready to arbitrate and, in proof of their assertion, point to their Arbitration Committee, which has been in existence nearly two weeks. Further than this, however, neither side has made any overtures.

The situation is, in no wise changed today, except that the refusal of the brick-handlers to touch any association brick has been rendered doubly effective by the cooperation of the union cartmen.

While there are probably 12,000,000 bricks lying in barges at the various city docks, the manufacturers are apparently powerless to deliver to dealers, because of the scarcity of cartmen.

All at the present where association brick is being used, the cartmen are on strike and refuse to "ride" any but "sucker" or non-association brick.

The total shipments of "sucker" brick arriving in this market yesterday did not average 350,000, against a demand for 6,000,000.

The four boycotted Verplanck Point firms have been shipping large quantities of brick to this market all the week, but as fast as it has arrived the delegates have promptly taken it up.

The combine are making strenuous efforts to force this boycotted brick upon dealers and builders and to unload it by employing the large crews and non-union cartmen.

The result of this is awaited with feverish anxiety by the boycotted brick. It appears that if the manufacturers succeed in their present general strike of all the building trades in bond to ensue on all jobs where the boycotted brick is used, and the disastrous effect of the brick war will then be felt to the full.

So far the larger dealers are refraining from buying the boycotted article, and are depending upon "sucker" brick for their fresh supply. Many of them have, however, been advised by their agents to buy the boycotted article, and are in the process of doing so.
