

THE WAYS OF WOMAN FAIR.

Fads, Fashions and Fancies That Delight the Gentler Sex.

Walking a Healthful Fad - New Spring Woolsens - Flowers Rule the Toilet - Dutch Bonnets for Babes - Dust is Woman's Enemy.

THE TUNNEL BILL.

The wish of the New York Central, expressed by its President, that the Legislature direct the Fourth Avenue Tunnel to be lighted and ventilated, is liable to be fulfilled. The bills of Assemblyman SULLIVAN and Assemblyman BRYNE will be combined and amendments made to meet every objection offered by the railroad company.

Assemblyman JOSEPH BLUMENTHAL, of the Twenty-second District, has shown himself as an obstructer of a measure which the people who sent him to the Legislature earnestly desire. Why Mr. BLUMENTHAL did this is best known to himself.

THE EVENING WORLD is in earnest in its effort to make the Fourth Avenue Tunnel safe, and while it is willing and anxious to hear and combat good arguments, it purposes to fight everything that favors of unreasonable opposition and anything that seems done in the interest of the corporation against that of the people.

That the tunnel shall be safe is the wish of the citizens of New York. Any unnecessary stumbling blocks laid, and in the way will be promptly thrown aside, and if those responsible for them are hurt in the operation it will be their own fault.

LET THE APPOINTMENT BE FAIR.

The fight over the reapportionment for Senate and Assembly districts is at hand in the State Legislature. It is likely to be more than ordinarily bitter, because of the unsatisfactory and inaccurate character of the last National census.

Nelson is beyond question the greatest trotting stallion of the age, and there seems to be little doubt of his ability to reduce his already splendid record of 2:10 1/2.

There are two things peculiar to a Southern girl's make-up - powder and veil. Flowers continue to rule the toilette. A pretty novelty for a gown is to have the bonnet and muff made of flowers, the same floral species forming the trimming of the hat or coat.

The Central Labor Union has passed resolutions calling upon the authorities to punish ISAAC WEXSTEIN, on whose admitted false statements JOSEPH BARNES was held for inciting the Jamaica riot.

Revolutionists begin again in the Argentine Republic. A twelve-year-old boy wounded Prime Minister ROCA yesterday, being convinced that that official was ruining the country.

McKINLEY'S programme is to continue the laying down of high tariff gospel. The programme of high tariff is to complete the laying out of McKINLEY.

Gov. PATTON, of Pennsylvania, is declared to be in the field for the Democratic National nomination in 1892.

Every inch of the city's park ground is sacred to the people. Keep JAY GOULD off the grass.

His Preference. "Mr. Lutz," said the lady to the new boarder, "do you wish to have your eggs for breakfast in any particular way?" "In no way," he replied; "I prefer them fresh."

Yes, He Bought It. Tom - What a pretty room! Where did you get it? Jack (hesitatingly) - A lady gave it to me. Tom (cheerily) - A lady?

McKINLEY'S programme is to continue the laying down of high tariff gospel. The programme of high tariff is to complete the laying out of McKINLEY.

THE CLEANER.

A novel invitation came to me the other day to attend "a hearty farewell so-called" to Capt. E. A. Falkenberg.

Amusing contrasts are often afforded in a walk on the New York streets. I saw a man with a dog on Fourteenth street just as I was starting downtown, a black man, but a plump ball on a silky-haired puppy, who couldn't walk without rolling and who had just learned to wag a tail.

I was amused the other day at the conduct of a fine Democratic friend of mine. He had his cue at a billiard-room in one of the hotels and used to go there frequently.

At breakfast at the Plaza the other morning I was considerably amused by seeing a Dickson man, my vis-a-vis, start off with a can of warm water which he imbued with the aid of a teaspoon.

At the Plaza the other morning I was considerably amused by seeing a Dickson man, my vis-a-vis, start off with a can of warm water which he imbued with the aid of a teaspoon.

At breakfast at the Plaza the other morning I was considerably amused by seeing a Dickson man, my vis-a-vis, start off with a can of warm water which he imbued with the aid of a teaspoon.

At breakfast at the Plaza the other morning I was considerably amused by seeing a Dickson man, my vis-a-vis, start off with a can of warm water which he imbued with the aid of a teaspoon.

At breakfast at the Plaza the other morning I was considerably amused by seeing a Dickson man, my vis-a-vis, start off with a can of warm water which he imbued with the aid of a teaspoon.

At breakfast at the Plaza the other morning I was considerably amused by seeing a Dickson man, my vis-a-vis, start off with a can of warm water which he imbued with the aid of a teaspoon.

At breakfast at the Plaza the other morning I was considerably amused by seeing a Dickson man, my vis-a-vis, start off with a can of warm water which he imbued with the aid of a teaspoon.

At breakfast at the Plaza the other morning I was considerably amused by seeing a Dickson man, my vis-a-vis, start off with a can of warm water which he imbued with the aid of a teaspoon.

At breakfast at the Plaza the other morning I was considerably amused by seeing a Dickson man, my vis-a-vis, start off with a can of warm water which he imbued with the aid of a teaspoon.

At breakfast at the Plaza the other morning I was considerably amused by seeing a Dickson man, my vis-a-vis, start off with a can of warm water which he imbued with the aid of a teaspoon.

At breakfast at the Plaza the other morning I was considerably amused by seeing a Dickson man, my vis-a-vis, start off with a can of warm water which he imbued with the aid of a teaspoon.

At breakfast at the Plaza the other morning I was considerably amused by seeing a Dickson man, my vis-a-vis, start off with a can of warm water which he imbued with the aid of a teaspoon.

At breakfast at the Plaza the other morning I was considerably amused by seeing a Dickson man, my vis-a-vis, start off with a can of warm water which he imbued with the aid of a teaspoon.

At breakfast at the Plaza the other morning I was considerably amused by seeing a Dickson man, my vis-a-vis, start off with a can of warm water which he imbued with the aid of a teaspoon.

At breakfast at the Plaza the other morning I was considerably amused by seeing a Dickson man, my vis-a-vis, start off with a can of warm water which he imbued with the aid of a teaspoon.

At breakfast at the Plaza the other morning I was considerably amused by seeing a Dickson man, my vis-a-vis, start off with a can of warm water which he imbued with the aid of a teaspoon.

At breakfast at the Plaza the other morning I was considerably amused by seeing a Dickson man, my vis-a-vis, start off with a can of warm water which he imbued with the aid of a teaspoon.

At breakfast at the Plaza the other morning I was considerably amused by seeing a Dickson man, my vis-a-vis, start off with a can of warm water which he imbued with the aid of a teaspoon.

At breakfast at the Plaza the other morning I was considerably amused by seeing a Dickson man, my vis-a-vis, start off with a can of warm water which he imbued with the aid of a teaspoon.

At breakfast at the Plaza the other morning I was considerably amused by seeing a Dickson man, my vis-a-vis, start off with a can of warm water which he imbued with the aid of a teaspoon.

At breakfast at the Plaza the other morning I was considerably amused by seeing a Dickson man, my vis-a-vis, start off with a can of warm water which he imbued with the aid of a teaspoon.

At breakfast at the Plaza the other morning I was considerably amused by seeing a Dickson man, my vis-a-vis, start off with a can of warm water which he imbued with the aid of a teaspoon.

At breakfast at the Plaza the other morning I was considerably amused by seeing a Dickson man, my vis-a-vis, start off with a can of warm water which he imbued with the aid of a teaspoon.

AT BAR AT LAST.

The Excise Commissioners' Trial Began Before Recorder Smyth To-Day.

They Unsuccessfully Attempt to Gain Further Delay.

The Commissioners are Indicted for Malfeasance in Office.

Excise Commissioners Meakin, Fitzgerald and Koch, indicted for malfeasance in office, were called for trial before Recorder Smyth in Part III, Court of General Sessions, this morning.

The case is one of great public interest, and attracting an immense crowd to the court-room, including many men of prominence interested in reform movements.

Conspicuous among them was Elbridge T. Gerry, who occupied a seat on the bench. The prosecution is the outgrowth of a movement instituted by the City Reform Club.

The Commissioners were indicted May 16, 1890, for refusing to act upon complaints brought before them by the Reform Club against certain saloon keepers who violated the law in keeping open on election day in the vicinity of polling places.

The specific charge in the case on trial is that the Commissioners failed to take action upon the charges against Henry Ahrens, of 205 Avenue A, who also has other saloons, said to have been open on Election Day, 1890; Hugh Wallace, of East Tenth street; and John G. Schenck, of 228 Third avenue.

The case has been called several times but postponed on one pretext or another. District Attorney McGill, however, when he took charge of the case, declared to the court that he would dispose of the matter at the earliest possible moment.

This morning when ex-Judge Dittenhofer asked for a separate trial for President Meakin, which would have involved further delay, the court refused to grant it.

Recorder Smyth was about to postpone the case to give the attorneys time to prepare an amended indictment, when Mr. McGill intervened and agreed with his learned friend, but did not think his ground sufficient for a separate trial.

Recorder Smyth's opinion coincided with his and he ordered the trial to go on. The defendants are represented by the following distinguished counsel: Ex-Judge Dittenhofer, Mr. Johnson, of Hooley, Lester, Lieb & Johnson; Richard Newcome and ex-Judge Edward Brown.

Charles B. Beham, of 306 West One Hundred and Twenty-first street, was accepted as the first juror. James H. Ferguson, of Tremont, a printer, was the second.

Charles Beck, a fruit dealer in Fulton Market, took the third seat in the box. After a while Mr. McGill reconsidered, and personally called upon Mr. Beck.

After several attempts had been challenged and excused, Elliott R. Whiting, wall paper manufacturer, at 47 West Thirty-first street, was accepted by both sides and sworn as the third juror.

Commissioner Meakin and Fitzgerald accepted Mr. Westcott, President of the Westcott's Express Company, was the first witness examined who had heard of the City Reform Club.

Commissioner Meakin and Fitzgerald accepted Mr. Westcott, President of the Westcott's Express Company, was the first witness examined who had heard of the City Reform Club.

Commissioner Meakin and Fitzgerald accepted Mr. Westcott, President of the Westcott's Express Company, was the first witness examined who had heard of the City Reform Club.

Commissioner Meakin and Fitzgerald accepted Mr. Westcott, President of the Westcott's Express Company, was the first witness examined who had heard of the City Reform Club.

Commissioner Meakin and Fitzgerald accepted Mr. Westcott, President of the Westcott's Express Company, was the first witness examined who had heard of the City Reform Club.

Commissioner Meakin and Fitzgerald accepted Mr. Westcott, President of the Westcott's Express Company, was the first witness examined who had heard of the City Reform Club.

Commissioner Meakin and Fitzgerald accepted Mr. Westcott, President of the Westcott's Express Company, was the first witness examined who had heard of the City Reform Club.

Commissioner Meakin and Fitzgerald accepted Mr. Westcott, President of the Westcott's Express Company, was the first witness examined who had heard of the City Reform Club.

Commissioner Meakin and Fitzgerald accepted Mr. Westcott, President of the Westcott's Express Company, was the first witness examined who had heard of the City Reform Club.

Commissioner Meakin and Fitzgerald accepted Mr. Westcott, President of the Westcott's Express Company, was the first witness examined who had heard of the City Reform Club.

Commissioner Meakin and Fitzgerald accepted Mr. Westcott, President of the Westcott's Express Company, was the first witness examined who had heard of the City Reform Club.

Commissioner Meakin and Fitzgerald accepted Mr. Westcott, President of the Westcott's Express Company, was the first witness examined who had heard of the City Reform Club.

Commissioner Meakin and Fitzgerald accepted Mr. Westcott, President of the Westcott's Express Company, was the first witness examined who had heard of the City Reform Club.

Commissioner Meakin and Fitzgerald accepted Mr. Westcott, President of the Westcott's Express Company, was the first witness examined who had heard of the City Reform Club.

Commissioner Meakin and Fitzgerald accepted Mr. Westcott, President of the Westcott's Express Company, was the first witness examined who had heard of the City Reform Club.

Commissioner Meakin and Fitzgerald accepted Mr. Westcott, President of the Westcott's Express Company, was the first witness examined who had heard of the City Reform Club.

STEPHAN'S LIFE AT STAKE.

His Trial for Ex-Judge Reynolds's Murder Resumed.

The Dead Lawyer's Partner Tells the Story of the Shooting.

The man who interrupts your favorite story, to finish it himself.

The trial of Alphonse J. Stephan, for the murder of ex-Judge Clinton G. Reynolds, in the latter's office in Wall street, May 15, 1890, was resumed this morning in the Court of Oyer and Terminer before Justice Van Brunt and the jury completed last Thursday.

Assistant District Attorney Williams opened the case for the people this morning and exhaustively reviewed the relations existing between the Stephan's and ex-Judge Reynolds, the family lawyer.

Stephan appeared less distressed in mind than on his previous appearance in court. His face was still of that iron hue, with the stubby growth of gray-beard, which tells of his months of confinement. His gray-streaked locks fell in clustering profusion upon the shoulders, and his big black eyes, in their deeply sunken sockets, glistened feverishly.

His mother occupied her customary position just behind her son, and her head was bent forward to catch every word which fell from the lips of the Assistant District Attorney in condemnation of her unfortunate boy.

Laywers W. F. Howe and Daniel Dougherty, Stephan's counsel, made several objections to certain statements by Assistant District Attorney Williams, but they were overruled. Instantly is the defense they set up for the first time.

Joseph H. Reed, of Reed & Fitzgerald, 11 Pine street, testified that he knew young Stephan for six years.

"In Aug. 1888," he said, "Stephan visited my office and asked my advice about engaging an attorney. He asked me to introduce him to Mr. Reynolds and I gave him a card of introduction."

"At different times Stephan expressed his satisfaction with Reynolds's services to his family, but some months later, say in February, 1890, Stephan came to me and said some money had been paid to the family and that Reynolds had advised him to make certain investments in Government bonds with this money, but that he objected as the income was too small. Stephan said he would not invest in Government bonds making such an investment of his money."

Charles A. Dunn, manager of the Hotel Lincoln, testified that he had known Stephan and his mother had been guests at the Lincoln during those years. He said Stephan called at the hotel in February, 1890, and he returned from Europe and inquired for his mother.

"I told her that she was not at the hotel," Mr. Dunn testified. "She was, however, in the Annex. There we talked about the money she had in the office."

Mr. Dunn, in stating the substance of repeated interviews with Stephan at his mother's apartment, testified that Stephan was dissatisfied with Reynolds's course in serving a first-class hotel business.

James L. Putterly, an attorney in Judge Reynolds's office, was the next witness.

"I was known to Reynolds since 1869," he testified in connection with the business of the office. "In 1888, Reynolds and Mr. Reed of the firm of A. Reed & Co., up the death of A. Reed, in prison, father, the prison, and I advised him to pay over checks to his mother in a titling the estate, that the money be invested in a safe in the city, and that the income therefrom would be much greater than the interest on the bonds."

The prisoner was very angry, and said he was compelled to invest the money so that it would produce a much greater income than that proposed by Judge Reynolds. This was the substance of a conversation between Mr. Putterly and Mr. Stephan.

Mr. Putterly testified that he had looked in to see Mr. Stephan on the 15th of May, 1890, and that he had not arrived.

He testified that he had seen Mr. Stephan on the 15th of May, 1890, and that he had not arrived.

He testified that he had seen Mr. Stephan on the 15th of May, 1890, and that he had not arrived.

He testified that he had seen Mr. Stephan on the 15th of May, 1890, and that he had not arrived.

He testified that he had seen Mr. Stephan on the 15th of May, 1890, and that he had not arrived.

He testified that he had seen Mr. Stephan on the 15th of May, 1890, and that he had not arrived.

He testified that he had seen Mr. Stephan on the 15th of May, 1890, and that he had not arrived.

He testified that he had seen Mr. Stephan on the 15th of May, 1890, and that he had not arrived.

He testified that he had seen Mr. Stephan on the 15th of May, 1890, and that he had not arrived.

He testified that he had seen Mr. Stephan on the 15th of May, 1890, and that he had not arrived.

He testified that he had seen Mr. Stephan on the 15th of May, 1890, and that he had not arrived.

He testified that he had seen Mr. Stephan on the 15th of May, 1890, and that he had not arrived.

He testified that he had seen Mr. Stephan on the 15th of May, 1890, and that he had not arrived.

He testified that he had seen Mr. Stephan on the 15th of May, 1890, and that he had not arrived.

PEOPLE WHOM THE WORLD DOESN'T NEED.

PLAYS AND THE PLAYERS.

Soon We Will Have Clever Rosina Vokes Again.

The Troubles of Two Managers with Their Stars.

Rosina Vokes is preparing for her annual visit to New York. Her friends and the crowds always arrive together, she will open at Daly's Theatre April 15. No actual novelty will be presented during the first week.

Miss Margaret Mather is again going to Europe this summer to look after her and to flutter around the gay French metropolis. Miss Mather is going to play "Joan of Arc" next season.

Although Joseph Haworth is under a five years' contract with H. S. Taylor, he will probably not be managed by that gentleman next season. It seems that Taylor wanted Haworth to play the leading part in "Hand Across the Water."

Edwin H. Low, who is a great friend of Bronson Howard, received a private cable message Saturday night, announcing the completion of the play "The Power of the Press."

Edwin H. Low, who is a great friend of Bronson Howard, received a private cable message Saturday night, announcing the completion of the play "The Power of the Press."

Edwin H. Low, who is a great friend of Bronson Howard, received a private cable message Saturday night, announcing the completion of the play "The Power of the Press."

Edwin H. Low, who is a great friend of Bronson Howard, received a private cable message Saturday night, announcing the completion of the play "The Power of the Press."

Edwin H. Low, who is a great friend of Bronson Howard, received a private cable message Saturday night, announcing the completion of the play "The Power of the Press."

Edwin H. Low, who is a great friend of Bronson Howard, received a private cable message Saturday night, announcing the completion of the play "The Power of the Press."

Edwin H. Low, who is a great friend of Bronson Howard, received a private cable message Saturday night, announcing the completion of the play "The Power of the Press."

Edwin H. Low, who is a great friend of Bronson Howard, received a private cable message Saturday night, announcing the completion of the play "The Power of the Press."

Edwin H. Low, who is a great friend of Bronson Howard, received a private cable message Saturday night, announcing the completion of the play "The Power of the Press."

Edwin H. Low, who is a great friend of Bronson Howard, received a private cable message Saturday night, announcing the completion of the play "The Power of the Press."

Edwin H. Low, who is a great friend of Bronson Howard, received a private cable message Saturday night, announcing the completion of the play "The Power of the Press."

Edwin H. Low, who is a great friend of Bronson Howard, received a private cable message Saturday night, announcing the completion of the play "The Power of the Press."

Edwin H. Low, who is a great friend of Bronson Howard, received a private cable message Saturday night, announcing the completion of the play "The Power of the Press."

Edwin H. Low, who is a great friend of Bronson Howard, received a private cable message Saturday night, announcing the completion of the play "The Power of the Press."

Edwin H. Low, who is a great friend of Bronson Howard, received a private cable message Saturday night, announcing the completion of the play "The Power of the Press."

Edwin H. Low, who is a great friend of Bronson Howard, received a private cable message Saturday night, announcing the completion of the play "The Power of the Press."

Edwin H. Low, who is a great friend of Bronson Howard, received a private cable message Saturday night, announcing the completion of the play "The Power of the Press."

Edwin H. Low, who is a great friend of Bronson Howard, received a private cable message Saturday night, announcing the completion of the play "The Power of the Press."

Edwin H. Low, who is a great friend of Bronson Howard, received a private cable message Saturday night, announcing the completion of the play "The Power of the Press."

Edwin H. Low, who is a great friend of Bronson Howard, received a private cable message Saturday night, announcing the completion of the play "The Power of the Press."

Edwin H. Low, who is a great friend of Bronson Howard, received a private cable message Saturday night, announcing the completion of the play "The Power of the Press."

Edwin H. Low, who is a great friend of Bronson Howard, received a private cable message Saturday night, announcing the completion of the play "The Power of the Press."

Edwin H. Low, who is a great friend of Bronson Howard, received a private cable message Saturday night, announcing the completion of the play "The Power of the Press."

Edwin H. Low, who is a great friend of Bronson Howard, received a private cable message Saturday night, announcing the completion of the play "The Power of the Press."

Edwin H. Low, who is a great friend of Bronson Howard, received a private cable message Saturday night, announcing the completion of the play "The Power of the Press."

SPORTING NEWS OF THE DAY.

The Coming Spring Regatta of the Passaic Amateur Oarsmen.

Proposed New Minor College Baseball League - General Game.

The Seventh Annual Regatta of the Passaic River Amateur Rowing Association, will be held Saturday, May 30, on the Passaic River, Newark, New Jersey.

There was some very excellent sparring done at the final bout of the Astoria Athletic Club boxing tournament, which was held Saturday night in their club rooms in Astoria.

The wheelmen and the cross-country runners took advantage of the fine weather yesterday and were out in every direction in full force.

There was some very excellent sparring done at the final bout of the Astoria Athletic Club boxing tournament, which was held Saturday night in their club rooms in Astoria.

The wheelmen and the cross-country runners took advantage of the fine weather yesterday and were out in every direction in full force.

There was some very excellent sparring done at the final bout of the Astoria Athletic Club boxing tournament, which was held Saturday night in their club rooms in Astoria.

The wheelmen and the cross-country runners took advantage of the fine weather yesterday and were out in every direction in full force.

There was some very excellent sparring done at the final bout of the Astoria Athletic Club boxing tournament, which was held Saturday night in their club rooms in Astoria.

The wheelmen and the cross-country runners took advantage of the fine weather yesterday and were out in every direction in full force.

There was some very excellent sparring done at the final bout of the Astoria Athletic Club boxing tournament, which was held Saturday night in their club rooms in Astoria.

The wheelmen and the cross-country runners took advantage of the fine weather yesterday and were out in every direction in full force.

There was some very excellent sparring done at the final bout of the Astoria Athletic Club boxing tournament, which was held Saturday night in their club rooms in Astoria.

The wheelmen and the cross-country runners took advantage of the fine weather yesterday and were out in every direction in full force.

There was some very excellent sparring done at the final bout of the Astoria Athletic Club boxing tournament, which was held Saturday night in their club rooms in Astoria.

The wheelmen and the cross-country runners took advantage of the fine weather yesterday and were out in every direction in full force.

There was some very excellent sparring done at the final bout of the Astoria Athletic Club boxing tournament, which was held Saturday night in their club rooms in Astoria.

The wheelmen and the cross-country runners took advantage of the fine weather yesterday and were out in every direction in full force.

There was some very excellent sparring done at the final bout of the Astoria Athletic Club boxing tournament, which was held Saturday night in their club rooms in Astoria.

The wheelmen and the cross-country runners took advantage of the fine weather yesterday and were out in every direction in full force.

There was some very excellent sparring done at the final bout of the Astoria Athletic Club boxing tournament, which was held Saturday night in their club rooms in Astoria.

The wheelmen and the cross-country runners took advantage of the fine weather yesterday and were out in every direction in full force.

There was some very excellent sparring done at the final bout of the Astoria Athletic Club boxing tournament, which was held Saturday night in their club rooms in Astoria.

The wheelmen and the cross-country runners took advantage of the fine weather yesterday and were out in every direction in full force.

There was some very excellent sparring done at the final bout of the Astoria Athletic Club boxing tournament, which was held Saturday night in their club rooms in Astoria.

The wheelmen and the cross-country runners took advantage of the fine weather yesterday and were out in every direction in full force.

There was some very excellent sparring done at the final bout of the Astoria Athletic Club boxing tournament, which was held Saturday night in their club rooms in Astoria.

The wheelmen and the cross-country runners took advantage of the fine weather yesterday and were out in every direction in full force.

There was some very excellent sparring done at the final bout of the Astoria Athletic Club boxing tournament, which was held Saturday night in their club rooms in Astoria.

The wheelmen and the cross-country runners took advantage of the fine weather yesterday and were out in every direction in full force.

NOT UNDER THE RULES.

Chief Two-Strikes can't have lost anything in this war.

"Why not?"

"Two-Strikes can never be out."

The Revised Edition. "Oh yes," said Miss Blocker, "I am dead sure of it."

"You mean you are fatally certain, dear," said Miss South-Carolina's correction.

His Whereabouts. Mr. Biggs - I met a polite ticket agent to-day. Mr. Biggs - Where was he? Mr. Biggs - In a dime museum.

Mr. Biggs - I met a polite ticket agent to-day. Mr. Biggs - Where was he? Mr. Biggs -