AIR-BRAKES DID NOT WORK.

Fourteen Seriously Injured in a Jersey Railroad Smash.

The North-Bound Express Ran Into a Freight Train.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.) ATLANTIC CITY, Aug. 15.—The wreckage from the collision which occurred at 7 o'clock last evening at Egg Harbor, between the Philadelphia and Reading express to Atlantic City and a north-bound freight train, was removed early this morning, and running of trains has been resumed.

Two persons received apparently fatal injuries. These are Mrs. Otto Bettles, the wife of a prominent resident of this city, who was so badly bruised and scalded by steam that she could not be removed from Egg Harbor, and Henry Shaw, of Philadelphia, whose legs were crushed, and had other severe injuries. He was taken to his home in Philadelphia.

Many of the wounded were brought to Atlantic City. Besides Mrs. Bettles and Mr. Shaw those known to be injured more or less are as follows:

J. HARRY HOFFMAN, son of an Atlantic City housekeeper. SOMERS IRELAND, Hotel Linwood, Atlantic City. WILLIAM T. VERNON, of 6 Mehlter street, Germantown, and stopping at the Hotel Pennsylvania. WILLIAM MORRIS, 1812 Canine street, Philadelphia. JOHN R. EVANS, a milk dealer, stopping at the Hotel Osborne, this city.

THOMAS WILSON, of Camden, N. J., seriously injured about the body and legs. THOMAS HARTMAN, of Camden, N. J., employee of the express; both legs broken. W. H. EVANS, of Atlantic City; hand mangled.

WILLIAM T. O'BRIEN, of Philadelphia; broken hand and leg injured. JOSEPH CLARK, Johnston, Pa., arm crushed. FREDERICK MCKESSER, Atlantic City, left leg crushed and hand lacerated.

WILLIAM T. O'BRIEN, Philadelphia, bruised and scalded about the head and body. The accident was the result of a defective air-brake on the express train. The freight train was pulling off into a siding when the express train came along. Engineer Hartman saw the signal in time and put on the brakes, but they would not work.

The freight locomotive crashed into the last two cars of the freight train, and was thrown to the right of the track. The tender was thrown across the track, and piled on top of the tender and the first passenger car, crushing it to its atoms. The second coach was crushed, while the third remained upright.

The tender was crushed to splinters and the first passenger coach badly wrecked. Several persons were injured or killed in among the wreckage. The wreckage was piled up, and everything was scattered and intermingled with the wreckage of the train.

Mr. B. H. H. was frightfully scalded, and his hands and feet were burned. It is reported that she has gone insane from pain.

NAT GOODWIN ON HIS WRONGS. Says He Never Gave the Fortified House to His Hostile Wife.

There is an armed truce between Nat Goodwin on the outside and his lovely wife inside the $40,000 Queen Anne house, 220 West End avenue.

Nat says he was hasty, intemperate and ugly when he hammered holes in the amber-plate glass of the broad front windows of the house, but he thinks he was in a measure excusable, for there was his brother-in-law, Charles Baker, inside and snuffing at him.

"Why, that brother-in-law lived on me for two years and never did offer to do a stroke of work," exclaimed Nat Goodwin, a reporter. "Then he earned me $2,000 of me and he never repaid it."

"I never gave the house to Ella. As near as I ever came to that was when her brother said that I ought to put it in her name. He urged that our neighbors over the way had just sold their business, and that if he hadn't put his house in his wife's name he wouldn't have a cent."

"Then I simply said, 'If I put it in her name that would be giving it to her, wouldn't it?' Well, I don't want to do that."

"The house is mortgaged by Mrs. Goodwin in my name. I pay the taxes. The mortgages are for $100 a week allowed by the court. Why should I be liable for the mortgage? I had no idea of selling possession of the house."

"I wanted to get some valuable papers, play-manuscripts and the like that I have in the house, and well, you know I wouldn't be present for any man to be locked out of his own home by the relatives of his wife who was seeking to get a separation from him."

"I didn't want to put the house because my business is a precarious one and my income decidedly fluctuating. I was about to set out for California on the tenth, and I wanted to have an understanding with her. I can never live with her again. My branny man armed with clubs will garrrison the queen Anne till the departure of Nat Goodwin for San Francisco, which will be very soon. He opens an engagement there next Saturday."

Boy Fugitives from Snug Harbor. Hermann Stumacher and John Parker, boys of twenty years, were found wandering about the streets of Bay Ridge at 2 o'clock this morning and were arrested. They confessed that they had run away from the Home for Snug Harbor Children at Snug Harbor, Staten Island.

POINTERS ON THE RACES.

Tipsters' Opinions on the Various Winners To-Day.

Programme of the Several Events To Be Run Off.

The racing at Morris Park to-day ought to be excellent. The programme is a very pretty one, and each of the six races colored on the card ought to furnish an interesting contest.

Three of the six are stake events. The heavy rain of early morning will probably make the track heavy. Selections will be made with this condition observed. The sport begins with a dash of six furlongs, for which the following are named to go:

First Race.—Handicap sweepstakes, $20 each, with $1,000 added; six furlongs. Arab, 116; Lizzie, 117; Fenmore, 118; Glandora, 119; Merdon, 120; Glandora, 121; Contribution, 122; Ada Blue, 123; Fenmore, 124; Glandora, 125; Merdon, 126; Contribution, 127; Ada Blue, 128; Fenmore, 129;
