KEYWOOD

Winner of the Second Race at Guttenburg To-Day.

DAHLMAN WINS THE FIRST.

Lester Beats Out the Refraction Filly in the Third.

[SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.] OTTENBERG RACE TRACK, Aug. 21.—It was a fine programme offered by the Hudson County Jockey Club for to-day although it was a hot, muggy day to get here.

There were quite a number of withdrawals from the entries, but the races filled so well that a few would not be missed.

There was a very good-sized crowd present, and among them many of the fair sex. The usual number of bookmakers were in the line and they were kept busy.

The sport of the day began with a six-and-a-half-furlong dash. Algron opened the favorite, but the bulk of money went in on Louis R., and he was then first choice, and Algron went back a few points.

The race resulted in an upset, for Dahlman, a 12 to 1 shot, won all the way. Louis R. was second and Joseph D. filly third.

The second event was a brisk betting affair, with Trinitry a top-heavy favorite. Kenwood was well backed for second choice and Diane a good third again.

The going thing went wrong, for in a pretty finish, Kenwood downed Trinitry. Dixie was third.

A light shower of rain fell just as the horses broke in the second event and drove every one under cover.

Lester opened a strong favorite for the third event. Refraction filly, however, had many friends and was well backed.

Refraction was backed down several points and closed third choice. Vival Spark had some few friends from Brighton Beach who remembered her good race there.

This time the talent got the money, for the favorite and second choice finished as named. Irregular was third.

FIRST RACE. Purses $500, for maidens; six and a half furlongs.

open lengths from Hancock, who beat Little Joe two lengths. Time—1:57.

Mutuels paid $9.00; place, $3.05. Hancock paid $7.25.

FIFTH RACE. Purses $600; selling allowances; seven furlongs.

They got away to a quick start, with Kimbrey, Mr. George, Salisbury and Zenobia in the front ranks.

Salisbury shot to the front and set a lively pace down the track stretch around the far turn with Zenobia, Moltan and Kimbrey next.

Moltan then shot to the front, followed by Salisbury, Kimbrey and Zenobia next.

When well straightened out into the stretch Moltan increased his lead, and Salisbury and Kimbrey made the fight for the place.

Moltan never let up, and won by four lengths from Salisbury, who beat Kimbrey three parts of a length. Time—1:20 1/4.

Mutuels paid $27.00; place, $10.30. Salisbury paid $5.70.

SIXTH RACE. Purses $500; selling allowances; seven furlongs.

Won by Little Fred, climax second. Anomaly third. Time—1:30 1/4.

FOURTH EXTRA DAY OF THE RACING AT SARATOGA.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] SARATOGA, N. Y., Aug. 21.—To-day is the fourth extra day of the second meeting of the races here. The fourth race has been divided into two races of equal purse and length.

The weather is lowering, with stiff winds. The track is fast and the attendance fair.

FIRST RACE. Purses $400; seven furlongs.

There was a very good-sized crowd present, and among them many of the fair sex. The usual number of bookmakers were in the line and they were kept busy.

WAKE UP, MR. MAYOR!

Beattie Is Answerable to You, and You to the People.

These Streets Are Congested with Filth and Should Be Cleaned.

Evidence of Neglect Accumulating on the East Side.

The Department That Can Clean and Won't Clean Must Be Made to Clean.

Let THE EVENING WORLD escort its readers through some of the thoroughfares of the old Seventh Ward, that they may view the fine, broad old streets where half a century ago the equipages of the proud old Knickerbockers rolled about, freighted with the beauty and fashion of the metropolis of the New World.

LOOKS LIKE A GARBAGE DUMP.

"The old Seventh Ward" is spoken of reverently by aged New Yorkers. It was less than half a century ago that the aristocracy of the city had its abiding place here.

Many an old family still remains in the fine old white-painted mansions of those days, but between and on every side tall fat houses and tenements have reared themselves and young New York has settled here by the tens of thousands.

But what must the spirit of old Mayor Westervelt say when it looks down and sees the neglected condition of the streets he used to tread away back in the forties?

If the present chief magistrate of this proud city will put on his hat and, leaving his elegant office in the ancient City Hall, take a stroll through Madison street, he will see a sight that will make him ashamed of his native town.

He must needs take along his smelling-salts or a pocketful of fragrant Havana, for his nostrils will be assailed all along the course by the foul odors that arise from the accumulations of rubbish, garbage and debris of all kinds on the paved road from Chambers street to the East River.

Michael Smith, standing in the doorway of the six-story four-apartment tenement at 110, said to an EVENING WORLD representative yesterday:

"Sure, the Street-Cleaning Department comes through Madison street once in two weeks, and it's like this most of the time."

"Like this," meant in a distressingly filthy condition, and Mr. Smith pointed out two old paint cans in the middle of the street that had been undisturbed since Wednesday week.

Two old shoes, the one a No. 10 brogan and the other a baseball shoe, lay in front of 100, a big boulevard between 111, and a heap of decaying vegetable matter, about which swarmed a thousand insects, adorned the pavement a little to the left of the door.

Mrs. Max Rosenthal, in her husband's grocery at 111, said she didn't believe the street was ever cleaned. She was sure she should notice it if the nastiness was ever abated.

Pitchers Do Much of the Playing at Eastern Park.

THEY ARE WELL SUPPORTED.

An Exciting Contest Between Byrnes and Beansey.

[SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.] EASTERN PARK, BROOKLYN, Aug. 21.—Gray and threatening clouds hung over the park this afternoon and served to keep the sun's rays off the Boxers and Iridoprogona, who were to play their second game of the present series.

Cool breezes swept through the grand stand with exhilarating effect. Tom Daly, the wounded Brooklynite, was out in uniform for the first time since July 4.

There was plenty of room for those who came out to see Brooklyn do or get done. To-morrow's game will begin at 3.30 o'clock, as the Brooklyn will start on their Western trip at the close of the game. They will open in Chicago Monday. The batting order was:

BOSTON. Long, c. f. Stove, p. r. F. Steyer, 2b. Nash, 3b. Burdett, 1b. F. O'Brien, 1b. W. O'Brien, 1b. Kistler, 1b. Hemming, p.

A Job Lot of Quakers Oppose the Giant Remnants To-Day.

CAPT. BUCK EWING KICKS.

And Umpire Hurst Retires Him from the Game.

[SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.] BARRELL GROUNDS, PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 21.—Threatening weather for an hour previous to the time for calling play had a depressing effect on the attendance on the game to-day.

There is no improvement in the condition of the injured Philadelphia players, and Manager Wright was compelled to press into service Flock, an outfielder, formerly of Hartford, and Morelock, an infielder, of the same team.

Manager Mutrie artlessly suggested that one of New York's postponed games be played to-morrow, but Manager Wright declined to entertain the suggestion.

The veteran wants a better team than he has now, when he plays postponed games with the Giants. There will have to be less players in the hospital, he says.

Despite the lowering clouds quite two thousand persons paid to witness the game. The nines were placed in the following order:

PHILADELPHIA. NEW YORK. Chicago, 2 0. Boston, 2 0. Philadelphia, 2 0. St. Louis, 2 0. Cincinnati, 2 0. Cleveland, 2 0. Detroit, 2 0. Milwaukee, 2 0. Pittsburgh, 2 0. Washington, 2 0. Baltimore, 2 0. SHOT TO QUELL A MUTINY.

The Otdam Captain's Version of the Killing of Coal Stoker Duzer.

The story was told in shipping circles to-day of how Capt. Baker, of the steamship Otdam, which left this port on July 18 for Rotterdam, shot and killed one of the coal stokers two days later.

On his previous trip Capt. Baker shipped about twenty coal stokers in Rotterdam. On the way over here there was some dissatisfaction among the stokers, but they were afraid to mutiny.

When the ship left this port, however, to return to Rotterdam, the men grew sullen and there was good ground to fear a mutiny. Capt. Baker was told that such a move was being planned.

The name of the man killed was Duzer. In Rotterdam Capt. Baker was placed under arrest. When he returns from his present trip to this port he will be tried.

KINGSTON FIT FOR HIS RACE.

The Board of Control Sets Down a Couple of Jockeys.

Many a person who lost on the races at Jerome Park Wednesday picked up the papers yesterday morning and glanced over the entries. They were very tempting, as there looked to be at least four lead-pipe cinch among the horses entered—Major Domo, Take Back, Hamilton and Banquet.

The bettors on them were doomed to disappointment, however, for in the very first event they didn't even get a race for their money. Major Domo, who was almost backed off the boards, was left at the post, and the bookies had all the money.

Then they figured that Take Back could not lose the second, S. S. Brown had a steeper in there named Absconder, and he absconded so rapidly that Take Back had to take second place. The third event was a walkover for Hecko, and while he was cantering around the bookies were busy taking in money on the fourth.

Many tried to recoup their losses and plunged on Hamilton, but favorite No. 3 went by the board and Anna B. won. Banquet was the next one that could not possibly lose. He got away well in the front ranks, but fell back at the first quarter. Kingmaker came with a tremendous burst of speed and won, and thus favor the No. 4 was made.

When the ship left this port, however, to return to Rotterdam, the men grew sullen and there was good ground to fear a mutiny. Capt. Baker was told that such a move was being planned.

The name of the man killed was Duzer. In Rotterdam Capt. Baker was placed under arrest. When he returns from his present trip to this port he will be tried.
