

A Helping Hand
Is offered to all.
5 CENTS a Line
Through WORLD "Wants"
NO EXTRA CHARGE ON SUNDAY.
PRICE ONE CENT.

LAST EDITION.

OUTLAWS TO GO.

District-Attorney Nicoll Will Help Put Them Down.

Kelly's Triplicate Vice Den in Full Blast Again.

Carey Welch Takes the Cork Out of "The Hole in the Wall."

Frank Stevenson's "Slide" Temporarily Does Away with Music.

All the Dive-Keepers Do a Flourishing Sunday Trade.

The Evening World's crusade against New York's outlaws is producing results.

District-Attorney Nicoll announced today that he will make an investigation and lay the evidence before the Grand Jury.

KELLY'S IN FULL BLAST.

New York's Outlaws Boldly Defy Decency and Authority.

Mr. "Honest" John Kelly, having satisfied his conscience by closing down his triplicate haunt of vice on Friday, opened up again on Saturday night. A little extra surveillance was kept over those who entered the gambling hall, but the assignment department was free to all who had money, and the line of confidence men and sharpers in the barroom was unbroken. Last night only two-thirds of the establishment was under steam. The tiger's lair upstairs was barred. Perhaps because it was Sunday and Mr. Kelly desired to partially observe the day, or may be it was owing to the fact that the game had been run into the early hours of morning, stranding most of the habitués. But that as it may, the law was observed in this respect and Mr. Kelly felt entitled to credit.

"THE SLIDE" IN BREEKERS STREET.

Mr. Jim McCormick's dive was also open last night, as were those of Frank Stevenson, Carey Welch, Jim Sullivan and the other outlaws.

The orgies in all of these places continued long after midnight. The blinds were drawn, but passers-by could not help hearing the noises from within. They could see people going in and out, but they could not see what was going on inside.

No effort was made to disguise the fact that liquors were sold on Sunday in flagrant violation of the excise regulations. The drinkers at the tables called for whiskey, wine and beer, and the waiters repeated the orders to the barkeepers in tones almost loud enough to be heard on the street.

The Sunday law has no terrors for these worthies. Their dives were open all day yesterday and last night until after midnight. The same class of men and women sat at the tables, singing the same indecent songs as on week days.

about your traps for a minute," he shouts, by way of establishing order. His command is obeyed instantly, and the only interruptions are the incoherent laughter of the women at some suggestive mention in the riotous song or the maddish remarks of some inebriate.

The women who frequent the "Hole in the Wall" are patiently low. Indeed they are such that Billy McGilroy, who was not apt to judge people from a moral standpoint, would not allow them to enter his house.

But Carey Welch encourages their presence in his place. They want their game to his assignment-room before it is plucked.

ONLY THE "ALL RIGHTS" ADMITTED.

Only those who were known to be "all right" were admitted to Kelly's gambling den on Saturday night. Saturday is pay day with most employees, and Mr. Kelly did not want to lose another $500—that was the sum he lost by shutting up the night before.

When a stranger knocked for admittance at the door of the tiger's lair a black head was poked through a small opening in the portal, but not recognizing a familiar in the visitor he quickly closed the "lookout" and refused to listen to any questions.

Downstairs the barroom and assignation-parlor were open. All comers were admitted. There were very few vacant seats at the tables. The general topic of conversation was the dives, and Mr. Kelly's defiant attitude was enthusiastically endorsed by his admirers.

"Kel, old stocking, I glory in your spunk," was the greeting of one of the painted women as the proprietor passed by her. She was smoking wine with a chance acquaintance whom she was blending and she invited Kelly to join them, but he excused himself.

Business was rushing at McCormick's and Scriber's Pickwick dive, Broadway, near Thirty-sixth street. They were doing "a splendid Saturday night trade," in the words of a habitue, and business was almost as good last night.

FRANK STEVENSON'S "SLIDE."

The dive kept by Frank Stevenson at 157 Bleecker street, known as "The Slide," is morally the lowest in New York. London, Paris or Berlin, with all their iniquity, have nothing to parallel this sink of vice and depravity.

Other dives have become notorious on account of their proprietors or the many crimes which have been committed in them, but "The Slide" is notorious chiefly on account of its immoral character.

Much has been written about the degradation, corruption and wickedness in the slums of the city, but there the poor wretches shrink from notoriety, while the abandoned creatures in Stevenson's "Slide" make nightly a public exhibition of their evil doings.

"The Slide" is a basement dive. It is reached through the barroom, which is separated from it by a partition with a glass door, and through a side entrance. There is a space about 40 feet deep and 20 feet wide behind the partition, where there are tables and drinks are served.

Back of this space about the same breadth and depth, the floor has been raised about twelve feet. A flight of steps leads to it. This elevation is called a gallery and from it a full view of the place may be had. There are about twenty tables, and stools—there are no chairs—are ranged around them and all along the wall. Chairs take up more room than the stools.

Mr. Stevenson's object is not to provide comfort for his patrons, but to crowd as many as possible into the smallest space. The stools are handy, however, as weapons of offense and defense during a row.

NINE O'CLOCK VERY EARLY.

At 9 o'clock Saturday the lights were burning low, and but one waiter was present.

A young man in a suit sat down at a table. The waiter, who seemed lonely, approached.

"You are early, stranger," he said, in an encouraging tone, and sitting down next to the reporter he leaned against the wall and rested himself in an easy attitude.

"They don't begin to come here until midnight," he went on. "I never do any business until five o'clock. But from 12 o'clock until 5 in the morning you can get standing room here. Why, Christmas Eve it was so packed you couldn't move. We had to put them out at 1 o'clock, saying we were going to close up, but we didn't. After we cleared the room we only let in those we knew."

"I don't think there'll be many here to-night, though," he went on. "Ever since that Evening World began writing up the dives we haven't had any music or show here. Stevenson says the reporters are around to all the dives, and he don't want his place written up, so when the reporters come here all they will see is people sitting around the tables and drinking."

WISDOM FROM STEVENSON.

"That's the way to be breaking up the business for us. It downed Billy McGilroy, and Stevenson says that Kelly and McCormick will have to close if the paper keeps on rapping them."

"The proprietors of these places are, then, more afraid of THE EVENING WORLD than they are of the police?" was asked.

"That's the life. The police are better than the cops. The cops are let alone. The police are a regular mint for Stevenson. He made all the money here he lost backing Kilrain against Sullivan, and he has made that and more, too. Since he has this and another prospect, but I do not think he will now go to the head of the class."

FRANK'S AT THE OTHER PLACE.

It's Tom Stevenson, Frank's brother, who is the boss here. He comes here about 10 o'clock every night, sees that things are going all right, and then he goes home. He has a few faces in the money and takes suckers' work."

A man and a woman arriving just then interrupted the conversation. The woman ordered drinks, and after he had served them the waiter came back and let all another bit of the inside story of the dive.

NO STATE SENATE BLOCK.

An Enumeration Bill Will Be Quickly Passed at Albany.

Early Gossip as to Some Assembly Committee Chairmanships.

ALBANY, Jan. 4.—Assurances from Senator Edwards himself that he will not assist the Republicans in any plan to delay the organization of the State Senate removes the last stone that threatened immediately to obstruct the course of the prompt legislation proposed by the Democratic majority in the State Legislature in the session to begin tomorrow night.

It is certain now that both houses will organize at once and will be in shape immediately for the consideration of important business. There will not be even a Speaker'ship contest in the Assembly to give rise to delay, for Dr. R. P. Bush, of Chemung, is to get to the chair with hardly a show of opposition.

Under these circumstances it is but natural that the legislators should drift into town but slowly, which is the case. To be sure there is a Republican Senatorial caucus called for to-night, but it will be a perfunctory sort of an affair, with nothing special to accomplish.

But as it was here this morning, there was yet a little gossip to be picked up regarding Assembly Committees and other interesting matters.

The places which may fall to Messrs. Sulzberger and Connelly, of New York; Mr. Hill, of Albany; and Mr. Burch, of Ulster, are likely in the field as possible opponents of Dr. Bush for the Speakership, were among the possibilities.

It seemed to be the idea that George Bush will head the Ways and Means Committee, under the leadership of Hill, the Railroad Committee and Connelly the Insurance, where he has been before.

It looks as though nearly all the principal officers of the last Assembly will be back this year, with the exception of the speaker.

It is the latest man mentioned for the Senate Clerkship, but that is a matter which will be decided later.

The shortest session on record is still proposed, but it is said a special session will be called for the immediate enumeration of the people of this State.

This Enumeration bill is already proposed, and will be the first measure introduced in the Assembly.

At present it seems that Assemblyman Israel Deyo, of Broome, would be the accepted leader of the Republican minority in his branch of the Legislature.

INDEPENDENT DR. EDWARDS.

No Sympathy with Filibusters to Be Found in Him.

The question of whether sixteen is a sufficient number of members to organize the State Senate will not be raised. When Clerk John N. Kenyon calls that body together tomorrow at Albany there will be at least seven members holding certificates from the State Board of canvassers present to take the oath.

Senator James T. Edwards, the clergyman-professor who defeated Commodore Perry Vedder in the Chautauque district, has telegraphed The World that he will be present in the next chamber and participate in the organization.

Senator Edwards is an Independent Republican and the Republican political managers have been trying hard to secure his cooperation with the minority. It is said even that he was the recipient of an invitation to confer with Thomas C. Platt and several Republican Senators-elect who held a council of war in the Fifth Avenue Hotel last night.

This story Mr. Edwards would neither confirm nor deny when seen at his rooms in the Standard Building at Albany, where he has established himself.

While the Independent Senator from the Thirty-second District declares that he will act as an Independent Republican, it is noticeable that he has held no communication with any of the minority party since his arrival in the city.

Senator James T. Edwards, the clergyman-professor who defeated Commodore Perry Vedder in the Chautauque district, has telegraphed The World that he will be present in the next chamber and participate in the organization.

Senator Edwards is an Independent Republican and the Republican political managers have been trying hard to secure his cooperation with the minority. It is said even that he was the recipient of an invitation to confer with Thomas C. Platt and several Republican Senators-elect who held a council of war in the Fifth Avenue Hotel last night.

This story Mr. Edwards would neither confirm nor deny when seen at his rooms in the Standard Building at Albany, where he has established himself.

While the Independent Senator from the Thirty-second District declares that he will act as an Independent Republican, it is noticeable that he has held no communication with any of the minority party since his arrival in the city.

Senator James T. Edwards, the clergyman-professor who defeated Commodore Perry Vedder in the Chautauque district, has telegraphed The World that he will be present in the next chamber and participate in the organization.

Senator Edwards is an Independent Republican and the Republican political managers have been trying hard to secure his cooperation with the minority. It is said even that he was the recipient of an invitation to confer with Thomas C. Platt and several Republican Senators-elect who held a council of war in the Fifth Avenue Hotel last night.

This story Mr. Edwards would neither confirm nor deny when seen at his rooms in the Standard Building at Albany, where he has established himself.

While the Independent Senator from the Thirty-second District declares that he will act as an Independent Republican, it is noticeable that he has held no communication with any of the minority party since his arrival in the city.

1892 ALDERMEN ORGANIZED.

Joseph Martin, in Place of Henry Escobedo, Chairman.

Van Cott and Smith the Only New Members Absent.

The Board of Aldermen for 1892 began its active official existence at noon today. Its composition does not differ very greatly from that of the outgoing Board, there being only seven new members in the total of twenty-six.

These are Whitford Van Cott, who succeeds John Morris from the Seventh District; Joseph Martin, in place of Henry Escobedo, from the Tenth; Charles F. Smith, who defeated Jacob Kunzeman in the Fourteenth; James A. Cowie, in place of Isaac H. Terrell from the Thirteenth; Jacob Wand, who succeeds Charles H. Duffy from the Eighteenth; and Henry L. School and William H. School, of the Annexed District, the citizens' Local Improvement candidates, who defeated Mr. Puryear, Manager, and Messrs. August Mowbray and Thomas M. Lynch.

Van Cott and Cowie are Republicans who stood Tammany Democrats. Martin, the new member from the Tenth, is a Voorhis Democrat. His predecessor is a Tammany man.

This order of things was reversed in the Fourteenth District, where a Tammany man ousted a Voorhis Democrat.

Prior to the inaugural meeting of the new Board the retiring Board held its last meeting at 11 o'clock to pass complimentary resolutions, appoint a hundred or more commissioners of deeds and to approve the minutes of the last meeting of the year.

Alderman George H. Morris, the only Republican member of the old Board, offered the resolutions complimentary to President Arnold. Alderman John Morris seconded the resolution, which was passed by a unanimous vote.

President Arnold responded in a speech in which he told the Aldermen that they had been good fellows too, and faithful to their trust.

Alderman Brown offered the resolution thanking Vice-President Noonan for his efficient handling of the gavel on the few occasions when he presided. It was adopted.

Alderman Mead introduced an omnibus resolution thanking Capt. Twomey, the clerk, and the members of the Board of Deeds, and the entire staff of sixteen clerks and messengers. This was passed, as was also one thanking the members of the Board of Deeds.

President Arnold then offered a set of resolutions highly eulogistic of the retiring Board, which were adopted.

Alderman John Morris, Harris and Morgan and President Arnold all took to the resolutions, expressing regret that individual resolutions could not be introduced.

The captain was considerably affected when he learned that he was to be succeeded, and was unable to respond to the complimentary things said of him when the Board adjourned.

On motion of Alderman Mead the old Board went out of existence at 11:30 o'clock.

The members of the Board of Deeds, and so had the flowers which admiring constituents had sent to decorate the desks of their officers.

These floral pieces made the stuffy Council chamber a lower of sweet fragrance.

Alderman Mead, who was the manager of the horse and carriage race, introduced a resolution that the Board of Deeds should be re-elected.

Not one of the smaller was the combination horse and carriage race, introduced a resolution that the Board of Deeds should be re-elected.

The Healthier Club of the Fifth District, which has been organized for the purpose of sending a big horse race surmounted by a cup.

Alderman Cowie was remembered by a modest little horse race.

The President called the new Board to order and the members were sworn in.

The President called the new Board to order and the members were sworn in.

The President called the new Board to order and the members were sworn in.

The President called the new Board to order and the members were sworn in.

The President called the new Board to order and the members were sworn in.

The President called the new Board to order and the members were sworn in.

The President called the new Board to order and the members were sworn in.

GRANT'S MESSAGE.

It Makes a Good Showing for the City Government.

Some Sensible Recommendations on Legislation.

There Is No Fear of Another Water Famine.

Protest Against the State Board of Equalization Methods.

Mayor Grant sent his annual message to the Board of Aldermen today. It embraces the Comptroller's report, of which the following is a summary:

The message outlines the work of the Board of Aldermen during the past year, and contains some recommendations on legislation.

The message also contains a protest against the State Board of Equalization Methods.

The message also contains a protest against the State Board of Equalization Methods.

The message also contains a protest against the State Board of Equalization Methods.

The message also contains a protest against the State Board of Equalization Methods.

The message also contains a protest against the State Board of Equalization Methods.

The message also contains a protest against the State Board of Equalization Methods.

The message also contains a protest against the State Board of Equalization Methods.

The message also contains a protest against the State Board of Equalization Methods.

The message also contains a protest against the State Board of Equalization Methods.

The message also contains a protest against the State Board of Equalization Methods.

The message also contains a protest against the State Board of Equalization Methods.

The message also contains a protest against the State Board of Equalization Methods.

The message also contains a protest against the State Board of Equalization Methods.

The message also contains a protest against the State Board of Equalization Methods.

The message also contains a protest against the State Board of Equalization Methods.

The message also contains a protest against the State Board of Equalization Methods.

The message also contains a protest against the State Board of Equalization Methods.

The message also contains a protest against the State Board of Equalization Methods.

The message also contains a protest against the State Board of Equalization Methods.

The message also contains a protest against the State Board of Equalization Methods.

The message also contains a protest against the State Board of Equalization Methods.

The message also contains a protest against the State Board of Equalization Methods.

GOOD RESOLUTIONS FOR 1892.

RESOLVED THAT SOMETHING MUST BE DONE TO MAKE OUR ROAD SAFE.

(IF WE DON'T THERE IS TROUBLE AHEAD FOR US)

N.Y. CENTRAL R.R.

Resolved that something must be done to make our road safe.

Resolved that something must be done to make our road safe.

Resolved that something must be done to make our road safe.

Resolved that something must be done to make our road safe.

Resolved that something must be done to make our road safe.

Resolved that something must be done to make our road safe.

Resolved that something must be done to make our road safe.

Resolved that something must be done to make our road safe.

Resolved that something must be done to make our road safe.

Resolved that something must be done to make our road safe.

Resolved that something must be done to make our road safe.

Resolved that something must be done to make our road safe.

Resolved that something must be done to make our road safe.

Resolved that something must be done to make our road safe.

Resolved that something must be done to make our road safe.

Resolved that something must be done to make our road safe.

Resolved that something must be done to make our road safe.

Resolved that something must be done to make our road safe.

Resolved that something must be done to make our road safe.

Resolved that something must be done to make our road safe.

Resolved that something must be done to make our road safe.

Resolved that something must be done to make our road safe.

Resolved that something must be done to make our road safe.

Resolved that something must be done to make our road safe.

Resolved that something must be done to make our road safe.

FOREIGN NEWS OF THE DAY.

Influenza's Spread and Increased Virulence in England.

London, Jan. 4.—The influenza is prevalent throughout Great Britain, and the number of cases daily grows larger. A marked feature of the present visitation of the disease is the large number of deaths resulting either directly from it or from the complications attending it. In London alone during the past week nineteen deaths due to these causes have been reported.

At Aylesbury, capital of the County of Bucks, thirty-eight miles from London, nearly all the inmates of the workhouse are prostrated with influenza.

At Reading, capital of Berkshire, whose parishes have been attacked by the disease, and many deaths have occurred. The people in many of the towns of Berkshire are carried off.

In East Kent and Canterbury there are not enough doctors to cope with the epidemic.

The epidemic is spreading in Guernsey, the second largest of the Channel Islands.

In Dorsetshire the work of the dairy farms has been much impeded by the general prevalence of the disease.

Michael Davitt on the "Times's" Possible Gossip of Dynamite.

London, Jan. 4.—The explosion at Dublin Castle has brought out many theories to account for the affair. The Conservative organs as a rule have placed the responsibility upon the shoulders of the leaders of the "physical force" party, and this has had the effect of drawing from Mr. Michael Davitt a letter in which he protests that it is cowardly for the press to insinuate that the explosion might be traced to his friend Ford.

Mr. Davitt says it is more probable, as the "Times's" friend Piggitt is dead, that that paper has another agent to preach the gospel of dynamite as right old the gospel of forgery.

Mr. Davitt also suggests that the explosion was due to one of the Government menials, who caused it with the object of influencing the coming election in Rosendale to fill the vacancy in the House of Commons caused by the elevation of Lord Hartington, now Duke of Devonshire, to the House of Lords.

The King of the Belgians Said to Have Quite Recovered.

Brussels, Jan. 4.—Alarming reports concerning the health of King Leopold are without foundation, in fact. It is officially announced today that His Majesty appeared in public yesterday, and that he has quite recovered from his recent attack of influenza.

NO SULLIVAN-SLAVIN MATCH.

Default on the Australian Part—Perforated Withdrawn.

The immediate prospect of a Slavin-Sullivan match is lost.

No one appeared on Slavin's behalf to cover the $2,500 put up by Charles Johnston for Sullivan today and Johnston drew down his money.

EX-SUPT. WALLING'S FUNERAL.

A Committee of New York Police Captains Was Present.

Keyport, N. J., Jan. 4.—The funeral of the late George W. Walling, ex-superintendent of Police of New York, took place this afternoon at the Baptist Church.

The message conveyed, with a ceremonial exchange of the public departments by the Mayor.

The message conveyed, with a ceremonial exchange of the public departments by the Mayor.

The message conveyed, with a ceremonial exchange of the public departments by the Mayor.

The message conveyed, with a ceremonial exchange of the public departments by the Mayor.

The message conveyed, with a ceremonial exchange of the public departments by the Mayor.

The message conveyed, with a ceremonial exchange of the public departments by the Mayor.

The message conveyed, with a ceremonial exchange of the public departments by the Mayor.

The message conveyed, with a ceremonial exchange of the public departments by the Mayor.

LAST EDITION.

TO DIE AT LAST.

Mclivaine's Electrocuting Fixed for the Week of Feb. 8.

Nearly Three Years Now Since He Butchered Grocer Luoa.

Italy's Government Obtains a Stay for Murderer Trezza.

Charles Mclivaine, the convicted murderer of Grocer Christian W. Luoa in Brooklyn, and Nicola Trezza, convicted of murdering Alexander Salvano, also in Brooklyn, were this forenoon sentenced by Justice Bartlett, of the Supreme Court, Brooklyn, to die in the electric chair at Sing Sing during the week beginning Monday, Feb. 8.

There was an immense crowd in the Court-house ten minutes after Mclivaine and Trezza arrived there.

When the two murderers were taken up to the Court of Oyer and Terminer room, the crowd followed and stormed the doors. The courtroom is a very large one, but it was packed full within five minutes.

It was 11 o'clock when Justice Bartlett, in a long and able address, addressed Justice Bartlett, who had been twice convicted of the murder of Christian W. Luoa, that his case had been carried to the Court of Appeals and to the United States Supreme Court, and that all decisions had been adverse, and he therefore asked that Justice Bartlett fix a date for Mclivaine's death, according to law.

As Mclivaine, who had been seated with Trezza just in front of the bar, arose, Justice Bartlett asked:

"Have you any counsel?"

"No, sir," replied Mclivaine.

"Then, addressing the boyish-faced prisoner, the Justice said:

"You have heard the statement of the District-Attorney and the steps taken in your case."