BETTER HALF'S PAY. Should a Man Give a Salary to the Wife of His Bosom? The Wife to Be Made Financially Independent.

"Evening World" Readers Take Part in an Interesting Discussion. The theory that the wife as head of the domestic affairs of the family is entitled to separate and defined compensation finds many adherents. THE EVENING WORLD desires a consensus of the opinions of its readers.

For Personal Expenses. Wives should have salaries. Every wife should have a weekly allowance of salary if you choose to call it, which she might save or spend as her fancy may dictate.

Pay It Out of the Taxes. Should a wife receive a salary? By all means. The country, the State, the city or town should be so taxed as to pay every wife a salary.

A Right to the Husband's Earnings. A wife should receive a salary only in one way, and that is what her husband makes. If her husband should get sick and not able to work, then it is right to help.

WIVES AT DOMESTIC HELMS. Theories as to the Proper Management of Husbands. A fifteen-year-old Bavarian boy, who is being taken care of by a Philadelphia society, came to this country with the idea of picking up gold in the streets.

Can Lead Him with a Hair. The best way to manage a husband is not to manage him at all; let him feel that he is having his own way in all things and you can lead him with a hair.

A Degree of Independence. Be sure to make a man feel that marriage has not robbed him of his independence. Let him think he has his own way. Keep his conscience and gain his confidence; they are the basis of true affection.

Appearance Against Him. A man who is a man outside you says he has a play he wants you to read. Manager—How is he dressed? Office Boy—Oh, he is "out of sight"—silk hat, patent leather and bow-tie.

The Likelihood of It. Layman—Is this brand of cigarettes named after you? Dude—Ya-as. Can't you see that it is, don't you know? Dude—No; but I thought you might have named after it.

Nearly Always. "What great fox-hunters these corners are!" "How so?" "They're always in at the death!"

Perhaps a Day in November. Both conventions will be held in the month of roses. What is so rare as a day in June, anyway?

An Accusing Autobiography. The autobiography of Ben Butler is notable for the cheerfully decisive way in which the old man calls pretty nearly everybody else a liar.

THE WAYS OF WOMAN FAIR. Fads, Fancies and Fashions That Delight the Gentler Sex.

No Economy in Cheap Kid Gloves—Multi-Colored Toilets Are Now the Rage—Something Pretty for Baby—Bright Ribbon Streamers Are Here Again.

There is absolutely no economy in buying cheap kid gloves, for even if they will go on while they will never look like anything but a counterfeiter. One pair of kid gloves at $1.50 is worth a box of one-cent dog or rat skin.

Mrs. Broughton Booth is personally interested in the exhibit to be made by the Salvation Army at the World's Fair. One-toned toilets are not the rule any more. They are multicolored—a girl in a blue dress dons a biscuit-yellow coat, a black hat with red roses climbing up the air and white kid gloves studded with silver.

"Something pretty for a baby" is an infant in fancy work very often asked for, and certainly these tiny personages have been well considered this season. Pretty cot covers, in all sorts of materials, from fine linen to the softest and coziest of flannels, and dainty perambulator rugs, are prepared for working in various kinds of embroidery. Some very pretty, yet inexpensive, "feeders," too, will probably find favor with fond mothers; some are of ornamental cloth, fringed at the ends and traced with quaint-looking animals, while others are of fine hemstitched linen, and have graceful sprays of tiny flowers.

One of the most notable musical achievements of women is that of Mrs. H. A. Beach of Boston, who has composed a mass which is to be brought out shortly by the Handel and Haydn society of that city. Miss Isabel S. Haggood, of East Twenty-second street, is receiving contributions for starting women in Russia, which she proposes to forward to Count Tolstoy for distribution. "He can make a dollar go further than any man I ever met," Miss Haggood writes, she is personally acquainted with the author and philosopher, whose writings she has been translating for years.

The old "follow me fellows" streamers of bright ribbon are again in vogue, tacked on the collar of high and low neck dresses. Tom O'Brien, the buxom man, who arrived from Europe yesterday in custody of Detective Kelly, is something of a wit, according to all accounts. It is said that while on the way over an elderly lady, not knowing who he was, confided to him that a great criminal was on board, and asked him if he did not think it strange that the woman, Mrs. O'Brien, should be in the same boat with the latter. He replied, "I do not know, but I do know that you are in the same boat with me."

Several Tammany politicians, including Police Court Clerks Assistants Thomas H. Duncan and Donald J. O'Farrell, said to the Savannah steamer ship Tallahassee today for a month's visit in the South. The Gleaner is informed that the ostensible object of their trip is health and rest, but that there is probability that the gentlemen will be among the most interested of the spectators at the Mahatma-Himmans fight at New Orleans. I am told that the "elephant which was saved through the efforts of the giant Jumbo in the railroad accident which cost the latter his life is with Cross, the Liverpool circus man. The elephant walks with a decided limp because of the broken leg which he sustained when Jumbo lost his life.

The Brooklyn Press Club now looks like an assured fact. At its third meeting last night officers were elected, a banquet was held and plans for the future were actively discussed. There are sixty-five members, and every one is full of enthusiasm for the club's success. William Walton is the President.

Railroad men in New York and in New England are all gratified at the promotion of Horace J. Colvin to be New England Passenger Agent of the Canadian Pacific Railroad. Mr. Colvin is an Auburn boy, and is well and favorably known in railroad circles in this State.

Turning the Tables. A comedian flippantly announces that he is ready for an engagement. He says that he is "flinking a four weeks' rehearsal of his last, best, and most successful comedy, 'Having my nose punctured in a sleeve, and will hold nothing back.' The offer is accepted, and he is to give a performance on the 15th of the month. He is to wear a gold and the requisite brass, his voice has quite a metallic ring. He is to be dressed in the costume of a clown, and is to be accompanied by a band of music.

At the Thalia Theatre Kain was seen last night in a comedy by Von Grunthal called, "The Four Days." The play is a comedy of a cook and was very funny. The supporting company gave satisfaction.

Given Away. Actor (as porter) sets his trunk down—Good! Good! Best I've ever seen. Take it down and carry it up again. Porter (in amazement)—Carry that trunk down an' up again, just ter please you? Actor (in apparent surprise)—Don't be troubled, friend. I was pleased with the way you did your work, and I was only giving you an encore.

Not a Bootless Wooling. Charlie—Edith (grison is a nice girl, but her father is a regular old pirate. Charlie—A pirate? How do you make that out? Charlie—Well, I know from experience that he is a freebooter.

They Sing. "I see the question is being discussed as to whether horses talk." "Well, they sing. I'm pretty sure; at least, I've heard horse notes more than once."

Emma Eames's Thousand-Dollar Fee from Mrs. Bradley-Martin.

Miss Emma Eames has a truly artistic soul. She went to the proprietor of the St. James Hotel, where she stops, the other day, and asked him to give her a check for $1,000. She wanted to send the money to Boston. The proprietor gave her the check, and in return she handed him a brand-new, crisp, dainty thousand-dollar bill.

Embarrassment of Riches in Next Monday's New Bills. The noble sentiment went out bright and early this morning and could not be found, but Henry Arden, attorney for Henry L. Johnston, in whose name the Baron's trunk was seized, made a statement for publication.

Tommy Kelly, the Harlem spider and bantam champion, and Billy Plimmer, the English 140-pound pugilist, have been accepted in this country several months ago. They arrived at the stage of signing articles some time ago, but they were not ready to sign until they had seen the courts and were satisfied that they would be treated fairly.

Herbert Kelly—you will be glad to know that you are now in the hands of the law. He is now at Palmer's. He saw the end of it as he went to the theatre after the performance of "The Broken Seal." He is now in the hands of the law, and is being held in custody.

Mrs. D. P. Bowers, in "The Broken Seal," appears for the first time in a "non-star" role. Her performance in the play has been very successful, and she has been very popular with the audience.

At its last meeting the Knave-Pants Makers' Union gained about 100 new members. The National Association of Public Health Officers has a club-house of its own. It was opened on Jan. 16.

It seems as if something was always happening within the ranks of the A. A. U. to-day. The National Association of Public Health Officers has a club-house of its own. It was opened on Jan. 16.

Many of the uptown citizens of Brooklyn have been invited to attend a meeting to be held at the Brooklyn Athletic Club on the 15th of the month. The purpose of the meeting is to discuss the question of organizing a new athletic club.

The Puritan Athletic Club will give Billy Murray, the 110-pound fighter, of this city, a banquet on Feb. 5. The programme for the evening will consist of a variety of entertainment.

Mike Breslin, the 120-pound fighter, with his backer, Warren Lewis, will post $100 to fight with Walter Campbell. The fight will take place on the 15th of the month.

NATIONALISM, as a political movement, is defined by a follower of Bellamy in "THE WORLD ALMANAC" for 1892.

Staving Him Off. He took her hand sweet on that little finger," he said, "an engagement ring?" "It isn't the fashion to wear engagement rings on the little finger," she replied, drawing her hand away.

True Politeness. First Lady—I saw your husband meet you on Fulton street yesterday, and I noticed that he removed his hat while speaking with you. I admired him for that. Very few men do that.

A Prudent Society Mother. Daughter—Ma, Blank proposed to me last night. "Yes, mamma." "Has he any money, daughter?" "Only $1,800 a year, ma."

The Question of Weights in Prize-Ring Championships. Plimmer Trying to Get on Another Match with Kelly.

One of the most important of the conditions that enter into the making of a match between pugilists is the question of weight. The stake and purse are, of course, of great moment to the fighter, but they figure as an end, while weight is always carefully looked after as a means of gaining that end.

Every one who has paid any attention to the pugilistic controversy with the fact that the weights at which men fight determined the class to which they belong. Every one of these persons knows also that the classes are designated as bantam, feather-weight, light-weight, welter-weight, middle-weight and heavy-weight. It is a strange thing that, while weight figures so prominently in pugilism, there should be such a wide difference of opinion as to the figures which should be set for each of the several classes.

It will be another case of suburban relief, Monday night, Feb. 15. For last week there was a "logic" pugilist night, opening of importance. Next week this condition of things will be unchanged. On Feb. 15 there will be a "logic" pugilist night, opening of importance. Next week this condition of things will be unchanged.

The Baron Raymond Selliere, who arrived here yesterday on the Steamship La Bourgeoise and who is nearly the millionaire, was the guest of the late Charles F. Lerner, in a splendid light. One of the clerks at the fire-works House thus explained this difficulty.

ONLY A SALARY FOR HEINTZ. All That Will Be Left Him if Hagan's Bill Passes.

Hints that it is but a menace to the Anti-Tammany Combine. Tammany Hall, finding that all other means fail to dislodge its enemy, the Local Improvement party of the Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth wards, has brought its biggest sledge gun to bear on the works of Commissioner Heintz and his followers.

TERRIBLE, INDEED. Alarming After Effects of the Grip.

Weak Nerves and Weak Bodies by Thousands—How to Overcome the Wrecking Effects. There is no disease which leaves in its train so many weak, nervous, debilitated and discouraged sufferers as the Grip. Thousands who have had it have not recovered their old-time strength and vigor, and attend to their employment in a weakened and unimpaired condition.

This is because the Grip weakens and prostrates the nerves, and this nervous weakness, if allowed to run, may result in paralysis or death. This nerve and physical weakness following the Grip is a most dangerous condition to be in, and must be cured immediately to prevent serious or fatal results.

The great strengthening and invigorating medicine to take in such cases, and the attention to diet, weak nerves, stomach, liver and kidney disease, is Dr. Greene's Nervine. It will restore strength and health after the most protracted nervous prostration, heart failure, paralysis or death.

"Of all the medicines I have used, Dr. Greene's Nervine is the best. It has done more for me than any other medicine. I had the Grip, and it left me almost prostrated, extremely nervous, limbs stiff in the joints, my bowels bloated and my breathing was terrible. I could not sleep without almost losing my breath. In fact, I was almost a complete wreck, and could do but little work of any kind. I commenced to take Dr. Greene's Nervine, and at the end of one week I had renewed in strength, my bowels two inches, and now my girls are in perfect health, and I am able to do about a full day's labor."

CHARLES H. STEVENS, South Edinboro, N. H. Dr. Greene, the successful specialist in curing all forms of nervous system disease, at West 14th st., New York, can be consulted, free, personally or by letter. (All or write him your case or send for symptom blank to fill out, and receive free explanation your disease, will be returned free.)

DID SHE ASK FOR POISON? A Hoboken Woman Swallowed Oxalic Acid Instead of Salts. Mrs. Charles Grothausen, of Second and Garden streets, Hoboken, who last night swallowed a dose of oxalic acid in mistake of salts, is in a critical condition to-day.

She was taken violently ill at midnight, and in answer to her husband's query as to what she had taken pointed to a bottle labelled with skull and crossbones, and said: "I swallowed a dose of salts." Dr. Grothausen declares that Druggist Stande of Washington street, Hoboken, made the mistake of giving her poison instead of salts.

HEADACHES MADE HER INSANE. Widow Bennett Likely to Die of Self-Inflicted Injuries. Isabella Bennett, the aged widow who cut her throat last night at her home, 74 Third avenue, is in a critical condition at Bellevue Hospital, and the physicians attending her say she will probably die.

MORE YELLOW FEVER. A Steamship from Brazilian Ports Detained at Quarantine. The steamship Olivero, consigned to Busk & Johnson, arrived here this morning from Rio de Janeiro and other Brazilian ports and is detained at quarantine.

THIRTY HEAD OF CATTLE CREMATED. Cedar Rapids, Ia., Feb. 3.—At 1 o'clock this morning fire was discovered in the large barn owned by J. S. Porter. The flames spread so rapidly that it was impossible to save anything and thirty head of cattle perished.

THE WITNESS CAME NOT. Failure of One Clue to Fix Mrs. Senlor's Murder on Lentz. Several to the EVENING WORLD. ORANOK, N. J., Feb. 5.—It was expected that John Gensel, a lad residing at Milburn, would to-day make affidavit before Justice McKechnie that he saw August Lentz in Milburn at 7 o'clock on the Saturday evening on which Mrs. Senlor was murdered in her little store.

THE UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT Both Endorses and Uses Royal Baking Powder. Last year the Royal Baking Powder Co. sold to the United States Government over 80,000 pounds of baking powder—enough to supply both army and navy.

THE UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT report shows Royal Baking Powder to be a cream of tartar powder superior to all others in purity and strength. This purchase and this endorsement were made by the United States Government upon competitive tests of the various baking powders of the market.
