

Big Events Produce Big Results. THE MAGNITUDE OF THE WORLD'S REPORTS OF THE HOTEL ROYAL FIRE AND OF THE EXTORTION LIFTED THE WORLD'S CIRCULATION ON MONDAY TO 530,700. PRICE ONE CENT.

IF REV. JASPER HAD BEEN ON PARK ROW ON MONDAY LAST TO SEE THE WORLD'S PRESSES PRINT 530,700 COPIES, HE WOULD HAVE TRULY EXCLAIMED: THE WORLD DO MOVE! PRICE ONE CENT.

EXTRA. 2 O'CLOCK. NO MORE IN SIGHT.

The Search for Bodies at the Hotel Royal Still in Progress.

Seventeen Have Been Taken Out and Seven of These Identified.

The Story of an Elopement Disclosed by the Fire.

Some of Mrs. Van Norden's Jewels Found in a Silver Case.

BODIES RECOVERED..... 17 IDENTIFIED..... 7 UNACCOUNTED FOR..... 60

The search of the ruins of the Hotel Royal has brought to light so far the bodies of seventeen victims of this disaster.

Whether any others of the occupants of the ill-fated hotel lie buried beneath the mass of debris which still chokes up certain portions of the ruins is a matter of conjecture.

Despite the promises of Contractor Galligan, who expects to have the ruins completely cleared out by this morning, the work is still going on, and it will evidently be a considerable time, possibly a day or two longer, before the last brick and the last piece of charred timber has been turned over.

It is not improbable that a considerable number of those who were rescued from the burning building, and who appear on the register by fictitious names, have for very good reasons taken no trouble to report their escape to the police.

Among the articles which were found in the ruins during the early hours of the morning, and which may lead to the identification of some of the unknown victims, were an opaqued silver watch and chain, with the initials "W. L." on the case; a pair of small opera glasses; a bank book of the Union Time Savings Bank, with the name burned off, and a bunch of keys with a chain attached.

Henry M. Van Norden says that a small chased silver jewelry case containing a number of valuable diamonds and sapphires, which was picked up last evening by one of the Italian laborers, belonged to his wife, whose body is believed to be still buried under the ruins. The trinkets are still at the Thirtieth street station. Mr. Van Norden says that his wife had many more jewels, and a large sum of money, besides patent papers worth $15,000 in her possession.

Miss Etta Green, the young daughter of the Streetview house, whose skull was fractured by being from a fifth story window, is reported by the New York Hospital authorities to be in a greatly improved condition this morning. She may recover.

THE BODIES OF AN ELOPER COUPLE. The charred bodies of two of the victims have been identified at the Morgue as those of Mrs. J. Cohen and Lewis Levy, both of London, Mrs. Cohen lived in Toronto and Levy in London, Ontario. Archibald Jacobs, of 1215 Broadway, the woman's brother, positively identified the bodies.

Mrs. Cohen was the wife of a shoe dealer in Toronto, and two years ago it is said to have stopped with Levy and gone abroad. Last summer they returned and put up at the Hotel Royal. Levy was known as a gambler and was a familiar figure at the Guttenberg race track this winter.

At 7 o'clock this morning a new force of 100 laborers were put at work on the ruins. Roundsmen Landers, of the Broadway Squad, was in charge of the police. The early crowd of sightseers was not as large as usual, but during the morning it increased in numbers and blocked up Sixth avenue and Fortieth street.

THE ELEVATOR SHAFT REACHED. At 8 o'clock this morning the place where the elevator shaft and stairway were located, was reached by the diggers, but the elevator pit was filled with debris, and Contractor Galligan said it was impossible to tell whether any bodies lay buried there until it was cleared.

As soon as the elevator pit has been explored the shell of the building left standing on the Fortieth street side will be torn down and search made there. Every bit of rubbish is to be turned over before the search is abandoned.

COFFIN FOR TWELVE MORE BODIES. The coroner's office has made preparations for twelve more corpses. Coffins for that number, in charge of J. A. Lehmann, were piled on the sidewalk ready for use.

The wreckage dug from the ruins, which has been piled high on the street, now shows out the view on all sides from the street level. It has reached to the tops of the tall lamp-posts which stand at the entrance to the hotel.

Attention was called in THE EVENING WORLD yesterday to the foul odors arising from that mountain of debris. Chief Bonner said to-day that steps would be taken at once to relieve the neighborhood of this nuisance.

WORKERS CONTINUE TO UNearth many relics of the fire. At 9 o'clock they found a dime savings bank full of coins, a pair of opera-glasses, a photograph album, a valise full of clothing and letters, which had been the property of Monroe Chubb, one of the missing guests.

COFFIN NO. 15, ELIZABETH BRADY, also known as Donohoe; chambermaid at Hotel Royal. Identified by Mamie Donohoe, her daughter.

COFFIN NO. 16, WOMAN, body horribly burned and twisted. Hands and feet missing and the entire upper part of the skull burned away. Identified by Mrs. W. J. Stager.

COFFIN NO. 17, WOMAN, legs and arms burned and twisted. Hands and feet missing and the entire upper part of the skull burned away. Identified by Mrs. W. J. Stager.

COFFIN NO. 18, WOMAN, body charred and black. Identified by Mrs. W. J. Stager.

COFFIN NO. 19, WOMAN, body charred and black. Identified by Mrs. W. J. Stager.

COFFIN NO. 20, WOMAN, body charred and black. Identified by Mrs. W. J. Stager.

COFFIN NO. 21, MRS. J. COHEN, of Toronto. Identified by Archibald Jacobs, her brother, of 1215 Broadway.

COFFIN NO. 22, WOMAN, about twenty-eight or thirty years of age; very much emaciated. Identified by Archibald Jacobs.

COFFIN NO. 23, MRS. J. COHEN, of Toronto. Identified by Archibald Jacobs, her brother, of 1215 Broadway.

COFFIN NO. 24, WOMAN, about twenty-eight or thirty years of age; very much emaciated. Identified by Archibald Jacobs.

COFFIN NO. 4, LEWIS LEVY, of London, Ont. Identified by Archibald Jacobs.

COFFIN NO. 6, SARAH BLAKE, of Stamford, Conn. Positively identified by her brother, Charles Blake, and her niece, Miss Nellie Blake.

COFFIN NO. 7, ALONZO A. TOWNSEND, of No. 114 Church street, New Haven, Conn. Identified by R. E. Baldwin, of New Haven, and H. P. Hubbard, of this city.

COFFIN NO. 8, WOMAN, body so badly charred that a portion of a difficulty ascertained. Apparently about twenty years old, 4 feet 10 inches high, weight about 100 pounds, dark hair, eyes blue, and lower teeth, no front teeth, and teeth apparently of a very young person. Black and white hair on face with body.

COFFIN NO. 10, MAN, about 5 feet 9 inches tall, face burned beyond recognition, and the upper part of the skull burned away. Teeth and eight lower teeth on right side.

COFFIN NO. 11, WOMAN, body decomposed beyond recognition. Only the teeth and fingers visible. No means of identification.

COFFIN NO. 12, WOMAN, body charred and black. Identified by Mrs. W. J. Stager.

COFFIN NO. 13, WOMAN, body charred and black. Identified by Mrs. W. J. Stager.

COFFIN NO. 14, MAN, body charred and black. Identified by Mrs. W. J. Stager.

COFFIN NO. 15, ELIZABETH BRADY, also known as Donohoe; chambermaid at Hotel Royal. Identified by Mamie Donohoe, her daughter.

COFFIN NO. 16, WOMAN, body horribly burned and twisted. Hands and feet missing and the entire upper part of the skull burned away. Identified by Mrs. W. J. Stager.

COFFIN NO. 17, WOMAN, legs and arms burned and twisted. Hands and feet missing and the entire upper part of the skull burned away. Identified by Mrs. W. J. Stager.

COFFIN NO. 18, WOMAN, body charred and black. Identified by Mrs. W. J. Stager.

COFFIN NO. 19, WOMAN, body charred and black. Identified by Mrs. W. J. Stager.

COFFIN NO. 20, WOMAN, body charred and black. Identified by Mrs. W. J. Stager.

COFFIN NO. 21, MRS. J. COHEN, of Toronto. Identified by Archibald Jacobs, her brother, of 1215 Broadway.

COFFIN NO. 22, WOMAN, about twenty-eight or thirty years of age; very much emaciated. Identified by Archibald Jacobs.

COFFIN NO. 23, MRS. J. COHEN, of Toronto. Identified by Archibald Jacobs, her brother, of 1215 Broadway.

They Cannot Face the Law and an Outraged Public.

NEW YORK'S OUTLAWS. (A Table Subject to Daily Change.) In the Penitentiary.

Indicted and Dives Club. TOM GOULD, DAN SCRIBNER, AL DAVIS, TOM STEVENSON, AUGUST GUIDON, CAREY WELCH, JOHN KELLY, JAMES SULLIVAN, LOUIS WALTERS, J. J. WALEY, CHARLES SMITH, THOMAS MCCORMICK, AL DAVIS, R. M. WURM, TOM STEVENSON, TOM GOULD, DAN SCRIBNER, AL DAVIS.

Diene Anceas Closed. SIMON BUTNER, JOHN J. MURPHY, FRANK S. WILSON, JAMES SULLIVAN, MAX GOMBOSSY, LOUIS STAJER, IGNATZ BUTNER.

Substantial results attend THE EVENING WORLD's anti-dive crusade. To-day is brought to trial the case of Mr. Tom Stevenson, the reputed proprietor of the notorious "Slide" at 157 Bleecker street, who is but the first of many others to be speedily brought to bar in the General Sessions.

There are other outlaws, however, who are not expected to face a judge and jury and the overwhelming array of evidence against them. It was learned this morning that no less than three are in hiding, two of these having skipped the boundaries of the metropolis with their ill-gotten gains.

THE EVENING WORLD suggested that the rumor was given out by the wily Tom and his friends to account for his non-appearance when his capture and trial were incidentally to save his bondsman ten $100 bills.

Another missing dive-keeper is Mr. Alfred Davis, who was indicted some time ago for the management of the "Excise Exchange" at 23rd Street. So far he has escaped arrest.

THE EVENING WORLD suggested that the rumor was given out by the wily Tom and his friends to account for his non-appearance when his capture and trial were incidentally to save his bondsman ten $100 bills.

Another missing dive-keeper is Mr. Alfred Davis, who was indicted some time ago for the management of the "Excise Exchange" at 23rd Street. So far he has escaped arrest.

THE EVENING WORLD suggested that the rumor was given out by the wily Tom and his friends to account for his non-appearance when his capture and trial were incidentally to save his bondsman ten $100 bills.

Another missing dive-keeper is Mr. Alfred Davis, who was indicted some time ago for the management of the "Excise Exchange" at 23rd Street. So far he has escaped arrest.

THE EVENING WORLD suggested that the rumor was given out by the wily Tom and his friends to account for his non-appearance when his capture and trial were incidentally to save his bondsman ten $100 bills.

Another missing dive-keeper is Mr. Alfred Davis, who was indicted some time ago for the management of the "Excise Exchange" at 23rd Street. So far he has escaped arrest.

THE EVENING WORLD suggested that the rumor was given out by the wily Tom and his friends to account for his non-appearance when his capture and trial were incidentally to save his bondsman ten $100 bills.

Another missing dive-keeper is Mr. Alfred Davis, who was indicted some time ago for the management of the "Excise Exchange" at 23rd Street. So far he has escaped arrest.

THE EVENING WORLD suggested that the rumor was given out by the wily Tom and his friends to account for his non-appearance when his capture and trial were incidentally to save his bondsman ten $100 bills.

Another missing dive-keeper is Mr. Alfred Davis, who was indicted some time ago for the management of the "Excise Exchange" at 23rd Street. So far he has escaped arrest.

Tom Gould, Dan Scribner and Al Davis Form the Trio.

They Cannot Face the Law and an Outraged Public.

NEW YORK'S OUTLAWS. (A Table Subject to Daily Change.) In the Penitentiary.

Indicted and Dives Club. TOM GOULD, DAN SCRIBNER, AL DAVIS, TOM STEVENSON, AUGUST GUIDON, CAREY WELCH, JOHN KELLY, JAMES SULLIVAN, LOUIS WALTERS, J. J. WALEY, CHARLES SMITH, THOMAS MCCORMICK, AL DAVIS, R. M. WURM, TOM STEVENSON, TOM GOULD, DAN SCRIBNER, AL DAVIS.

Diene Anceas Closed. SIMON BUTNER, JOHN J. MURPHY, FRANK S. WILSON, JAMES SULLIVAN, MAX GOMBOSSY, LOUIS STAJER, IGNATZ BUTNER.

Substantial results attend THE EVENING WORLD's anti-dive crusade. To-day is brought to trial the case of Mr. Tom Stevenson, the reputed proprietor of the notorious "Slide" at 157 Bleecker street, who is but the first of many others to be speedily brought to bar in the General Sessions.

There are other outlaws, however, who are not expected to face a judge and jury and the overwhelming array of evidence against them. It was learned this morning that no less than three are in hiding, two of these having skipped the boundaries of the metropolis with their ill-gotten gains.

THE EVENING WORLD suggested that the rumor was given out by the wily Tom and his friends to account for his non-appearance when his capture and trial were incidentally to save his bondsman ten $100 bills.

Another missing dive-keeper is Mr. Alfred Davis, who was indicted some time ago for the management of the "Excise Exchange" at 23rd Street. So far he has escaped arrest.

THE EVENING WORLD suggested that the rumor was given out by the wily Tom and his friends to account for his non-appearance when his capture and trial were incidentally to save his bondsman ten $100 bills.

Another missing dive-keeper is Mr. Alfred Davis, who was indicted some time ago for the management of the "Excise Exchange" at 23rd Street. So far he has escaped arrest.

THE EVENING WORLD suggested that the rumor was given out by the wily Tom and his friends to account for his non-appearance when his capture and trial were incidentally to save his bondsman ten $100 bills.

Another missing dive-keeper is Mr. Alfred Davis, who was indicted some time ago for the management of the "Excise Exchange" at 23rd Street. So far he has escaped arrest.

THE EVENING WORLD suggested that the rumor was given out by the wily Tom and his friends to account for his non-appearance when his capture and trial were incidentally to save his bondsman ten $100 bills.

Another missing dive-keeper is Mr. Alfred Davis, who was indicted some time ago for the management of the "Excise Exchange" at 23rd Street. So far he has escaped arrest.

THE EVENING WORLD suggested that the rumor was given out by the wily Tom and his friends to account for his non-appearance when his capture and trial were incidentally to save his bondsman ten $100 bills.

Another missing dive-keeper is Mr. Alfred Davis, who was indicted some time ago for the management of the "Excise Exchange" at 23rd Street. So far he has escaped arrest.

THE EVENING WORLD suggested that the rumor was given out by the wily Tom and his friends to account for his non-appearance when his capture and trial were incidentally to save his bondsman ten $100 bills.

Testifying in the Dutchess County Clerk Contempt Case.

The Senator Appeared in Justice Cullen's Court, Brooklyn.

Questioned About the Return of the Enjoined Election Returns.

Senator David B. Hill was the great attraction today at the hearing in the Stern Emans contempt proceedings before Justice Cullen, in the Supreme Court, Brooklyn.

Senator David B. Hill was the great attraction today at the hearing in the Stern Emans contempt proceedings before Justice Cullen, in the Supreme Court, Brooklyn.

Senator David B. Hill was the great attraction today at the hearing in the Stern Emans contempt proceedings before Justice Cullen, in the Supreme Court, Brooklyn.

Senator David B. Hill was the great attraction today at the hearing in the Stern Emans contempt proceedings before Justice Cullen, in the Supreme Court, Brooklyn.

Senator David B. Hill was the great attraction today at the hearing in the Stern Emans contempt proceedings before Justice Cullen, in the Supreme Court, Brooklyn.

Senator David B. Hill was the great attraction today at the hearing in the Stern Emans contempt proceedings before Justice Cullen, in the Supreme Court, Brooklyn.

Senator David B. Hill was the great attraction today at the hearing in the Stern Emans contempt proceedings before Justice Cullen, in the Supreme Court, Brooklyn.

Senator David B. Hill was the great attraction today at the hearing in the Stern Emans contempt proceedings before Justice Cullen, in the Supreme Court, Brooklyn.

Senator David B. Hill was the great attraction today at the hearing in the Stern Emans contempt proceedings before Justice Cullen, in the Supreme Court, Brooklyn.

Senator David B. Hill was the great attraction today at the hearing in the Stern Emans contempt proceedings before Justice Cullen, in the Supreme Court, Brooklyn.

Senator David B. Hill was the great attraction today at the hearing in the Stern Emans contempt proceedings before Justice Cullen, in the Supreme Court, Brooklyn.

Senator David B. Hill was the great attraction today at the hearing in the Stern Emans contempt proceedings before Justice Cullen, in the Supreme Court, Brooklyn.

Senator David B. Hill was the great attraction today at the hearing in the Stern Emans contempt proceedings before Justice Cullen, in the Supreme Court, Brooklyn.

Senator David B. Hill was the great attraction today at the hearing in the Stern Emans contempt proceedings before Justice Cullen, in the Supreme Court, Brooklyn.

Senator David B. Hill was the great attraction today at the hearing in the Stern Emans contempt proceedings before Justice Cullen, in the Supreme Court, Brooklyn.

IS MR. BLAINE TO GO? Rumor That His Resignation Will Be Soon Announced.

He Wants and His Health Demands a Quieter Way of Life.

But Reasons Exist Why He May Not Immediately Retire.

Mr. Blaine's withdrawal from the list of Presidential aspirants would be followed very soon by his resignation from the cabinet.

It is claimed that there is authority for the statement "second only to that of Secretary Blaine himself." Nevertheless there is a good deal of doubt as to whether the rumor is true.

The report says the Secretary's determination to resign is final and absolute, and it only remains to be determined at what date his retirement will take place.

Consulting only his personal comfort and preference, it is perhaps true that Mr. Blaine would have no objection at once and retire to the quiet of private life.

But there are reasons which impel him to stay at his post for a time longer. There are also reasons why Mr. Harrison does not desire that his Premier should leave him just at present.

Mr. Blaine's physical health demands that he should have more rest.

Mr. Harrison's political health can best be conserved for the time being, notwithstanding rumors of discord, by Mr. Blaine's remaining in charge of the State Department.

Or, rather, it can best be conserved despite those rumors; for if Mr. Blaine were to go out now, it would be too easy for those who cared to do so to assume that he had been forced out. Then, by playing this on the Blaine sentiment of the country, those parties could work even more mischief than has been done already by Mr. Harrison's second-term prospects.

While something may develop later in the matter of the resignation of Mr. Blaine, there are plenty of sound political reasons which do not count on its being an event of the immediate future.

THE HUDSON COUNTY JOCKEY CLUB is certainly getting up very nice programmes just now. Those for the past few days have been excellent, and the one to-day surpasses any yet seen this year.

The band was composed of men from the city and the surrounding country, and their evident intention was to free the prisoners confined in the jail, and it possible to afterwards pillage the city.

Xeres has a population of over 60,000 people, and as usual in all Spanish towns of any consequence, the militia are organized for military or police purposes.

The Anarchists, who were armed with formidable pieces of artillery, were killed in the place just as the militia were filled with the returning from the theatre.

The police attempted to cope with the mob, but they were not strong enough to overcome them and it was necessary to call upon the military for assistance.

The Anarchists were killed in the place just as the militia were filled with the returning from the theatre.

EXTRA. 2 O'CLOCK. REDS PUT TO DEATH.

Four Leaders of Xeres Anarchists Executed in Spain.

Soldiers Awe the Crowd and There Is No Disturbance.

Other Prisoners Yet to Die—The Executions Are Public.

MADRID, Feb. 10.—The attempt made by a number of prominent persons, including the Bishop of Cadiz, to secure a commutation of the death sentence passed upon the four leaders of the Anarchists who led the recent attack upon the town of Xeres, was without successful results, and the prisoners were executed to-day.

The platform upon which the garottes were fixed were in the plaza directly in front of the jail in which the condemned men were confined, and the march from there to the place of execution was a sight to see.

In accordance with the Spanish custom in the case of criminals condemned to death the four men passed their last night on earth in the chapel attached to the prison, where they, or at least two of them who professed to be Christians, received religious consolation from the priests in attendance upon them.

Early this morning the final mass was said, and shortly afterward the prisoners, escorted by a number of guards and the priests, who, as they marched before and behind the condemned, read the prayers for the dying, were taken to the plaza.

Here they ascended the platform, and taking seats in chairs the executioners fixed the collars about their necks, and in an exceedingly short time they had paid the penalty of their crimes with their lives.

Notwithstanding the fact that many threats were made the military preparations made by the authorities had the effect of awing the Anarchists and their sympathizers, and the executions passed off without the slightest disturbance.

The platform upon which the men were executed was surrounded by detachments of infantry and cavalry. The route from the jail to the platform was lined with soldiers with loaded rifles.

The executions were public, and the plaza and the streets leading to it were packed with a dense mass of people from an early hour.

The attack of the Anarchists upon Xeres was as bold and as desperate an act of outlaws as has been committed in Spain for a long time.

The band was composed of men from the city and the surrounding country, and their evident intention was to free the prisoners confined in the jail, and it possible to afterwards pillage the city.

Xeres has a population of over 60,000 people, and as usual in all Spanish towns of any consequence, the militia are organized for military or police purposes.

The Anarchists, who were armed with formidable pieces of artillery, were killed in the place just as the militia were filled with the returning from the theatre.

The police attempted to cope with the mob, but they were not strong enough to overcome them and it was necessary to call upon the military for assistance.

The Anarchists were killed in the place just as the militia were filled with the returning from the theatre.