

Mr. Charles B. McDonnell, private secretary to Archbishop Corrigan, Chancellor of the Archdiocese of New York and recently named Prelate Chamberlain, has been appointed Bishop of the Diocese of Brooklyn...

The appointment was made at Rome by Pope Leo XIII. and the news reached New York this morning...

According to a statement made this morning by Archbishop Corrigan in reference to the appointment of Mr. McDonnell as successor of the late Bishop Loughlin...

In this letter the cardinal prelate informs the Archbishop that the Holy Father had ratified the choice made by the Sacred Congregation of the Propaganda...

A letter from the Cardinal to Mr. McDonnell himself also came under cover to the Metropolitan. The letters are dated Feb. 27.

The appointment will be received with mingled feelings by the Catholic clergy and laity, as there has been a strong movement in that city in favor of bestowing the Bishopric on a Brooklyn priest.

This movement was inaugurated two months ago, after the death of the late Rev. John Loughlin, which occurred on Dec. 29, 1891.

There was a very strong sentiment in Brooklyn in favor of the appointment of a Brooklyn clergyman to the vacant Bishopric.

According to the rules of the Catholic Church, whenever a new Bishop is to be created the irreverent voters and diocesan consultants of the vacant diocese meet and decide on three clergymen as their choice for the post.

The names of these clergymen are sent to the Archbishop, who submits them to the bishops of the province in which the vacant diocese is located.

The bishops are to select one or two of the names on the priests' list on their list. A copy of the bishops' choice, as well as that of the priests, is sent to the Pope, who selects from the men on the two lists one to be the new Bishop.

In accordance with this custom the priests of Brooklyn met at Archbishop Corrigan's house on Dec. 31 last and named three men for the vacant post.

They were Rev. James H. Mitchell, for many years Bishop Loughlin's assistant and right-hand man; Rev. Martin Carroll, pastor of the Church of the Sacred Heart; and Rev. J. J. McNamara, pastor of the Church of Our Lady of Mercy, all in Brooklyn.

The bishops met at the Archbishop's house and held a long session. They took up the names selected by the priests separately, and several hours were spent in discussing their qualifications.

It was finally decided by the Bishops to send in a new list, and then new names were selected as candidates by the Bishops.

Those who attended the meeting promised sacredly and pledged themselves not to make the names public. It was afterwards ascertained that some of them were Brooklyn clergymen.

It was said that the reason for the rejection of the priests' list by the Bishops was that, owing to the antagonism among the many of the Brooklyn clergy, Archbishop Corrigan and the Bishops of the province deemed it advisable to have a priest outside Brooklyn.

It afterwards transpired that Archbishop Corrigan did not send the priests' list to Rome along with that selected by the Bishops on the ground that the proceedings had been irregular, and the names had not been properly selected.

This was no reflection upon the priests who had been named, but simply an objection to the method by which they had been selected.

When the Brooklyn clergy learned that the list which they had made out had not been sent to Rome along with the Bishops' list, they were very much put out and a delegation of priests came over from Brooklyn to see the Archbishop about it and protest against his decision.

The Archbishop received them very cordially, but said that his decision was final and that he must refuse their request to send the names to the Pope.

There was a disposition on the part of some of the Brooklyn clergymen to protest against this decision at first, and there was some talk of deciding on the list of local candidates in spite of the Archbishop with a protest against his action.

This plan was given up, however, and it was decided to accept the situation.

Mr. Charles E. McDonnell was born in this city thirty-eight years ago, but his parents removed to Brooklyn soon after, where his widowed mother still resides. He studied at the De La Salle Institute, in Second street, and at St. Francis Xavier's College in West Sixth street.

He was ordained a priest in 1871, and spent seven years at the American College, graduating as best man in his class in 1878, with B.D. added to his name.

He was ordained a priest in the same year, and returned to this city, where he did duty at St. Mary's and St. Stephen's churches.

He was then assigned to St. Patrick's Cathedral, becoming private secretary to Archbishop Corrigan's administration.

It has been said that Archbishop Corrigan had incurred the displeasure of the authorities of the Eternal City because of his way of conducting affairs.

At the Pope's Jubilee Mr. McDonnell represented Archbishop Corrigan. On Oct. 23, 1890, Mr. McDonnell was appointed a director of the Catholic Club.

The post of private secretary to Archbishop Corrigan has long been regarded as a step toward the purple. The late Bishop Justly left it to become the first prelate of Newark and St. Albans, having been specially trained by Mr. C. Smith, the well-known Prefect of the Propaganda, Agent from the Holy See, who was in New York, who may be made Bishop any day.

Dr. McDonnell is an earnest and fervent preacher and a good theologian. He is particularly well versed in canon law and in sacred liturgy, both in its principles and in its practical application.

In the latter department he has few superiors in the United States, having been appointed Bishop of the Diocese of Brooklyn, who never visited the Archbishop's house without making a special call on Mr. McDonnell.

The Episcopal consecration will follow the appointment of Bishop McDonnell within three months after the notice of the appointment. It will be held in New York, and will be a grand affair, with as many as possible, after the receipt of which the Pope will be notified.

The early date of the appointment is considered surprising.

The letter of the Bishops of the Provinces, including the report drawn up by the Brooklyn clergy, was received on Jan. 22.

On its arrival in Rome it was distributed to the Propaganda and discussed by them as an advisory board. Next the documents were submitted to the Cardinals of the Sacred Congregation ten days in advance of their meeting.

Finally the decision was presented to the Secretary of State, by Mr. Lamin. That all this was accomplished in a month from the receipt of the letters in Rome is a most flattering tribute to the Archbishop and bishops of the province.

The girl 139 Mrs. Vanhook, that she was Lena Leutz, and that she lived in West Ninth street, New York. She said she had never heard her name and then left her home.

When Kemmer managed to get the girl out of the house with her and finally induced her to go home.

She was working at a millinery, when in some unaccountable manner her clothing became entangled in the wheels.

Despite her own endeavors and those of her neighbors the ship the unfortunate girl was drawn into the machinery and killed.

An ambulance was hurriedly summoned, but the girl died while on the way to the Eastern District Hospital.

The body was removed to the Stage street police station and Coroner Lindsay was notified.

STRUCK HER WITH AN AXE. Junkman Quinn's Mysterious Assault on His Daughter.

John Quinn was arraigned before Justice Conroy in the Gates avenue Court, Brooklyn, this morning, charged with assaulting his daughter, Mrs. Catherine Hogan, with an axe.

The woman was hurriedly summoned, but the girl died while on the way to the Eastern District Hospital.

The body was removed to the Stage street police station and Coroner Lindsay was notified.

HAD HIS WIFE ARRESTED. Annie Judger Sichter Remanded as an Habitual Drunkard.

A stylishly dressed young woman, wearing diamond earrings and an elegant black silk dress, was arrested by the police on the charge of abandoning her two small children, aged five and seven years respectively.

The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children has taken up the case, and the allegation was that the woman left the two children at the home of her mother, Mrs. Mary Gilroy, of 535 Nineteenth street, and refused to provide for them.

The husband of the woman is living sick at his mother-in-law's home and is unable to take care of the children.

CAUGHT A TILL-TAPPER. He Robbed Grocer Johnack of $3, but Was Caught.

Frank Russell, a well-dressed young man who gave his residence as 353 St. Mark's place, was arraigned before Justice Tigue in Butler street Police Court, Brooklyn, this morning, on a charge of petit larceny.

The complainant against him was John Johnack, a grocer, who alleged that Russell entered his store last evening, and while his back was turned took $3 from the money-drawer behind the counter.

THORNE HAD A REVOLVER. Cochrane Thought He Meant to Kill Him for Visiting Mrs. Thorne.

Weston Thorne, of 22 Ralph street, Brooklyn, was arraigned before Justice Waist, in the Adams street Police Court, this morning, charged with threatening the life of William Cochrane. Both men are negroes.

Cochrane and Thorne met last night in a saloon at the corner of Myrtle avenue and Washington street. Thorne accused Cochrane of undue intimacy with Mrs. Thorne, Cochrane denied it. The men were about to come to blows when Thorne was arrested.

BRUTALLY ASSAULTED HIS MOTHER. John Browne, of 222 North Sixth street, Brooklyn, was held in the Leo Avenue Police Court this morning, charged with having brutally assaulted his aged mother.

JUDGE MOORE'S SON DEAD. The Young Man Was Chief Clerk of the Park Department.

Charles Moore, a son of County Judge Henry A. Moore of Brooklyn, died of consumption at his father's house on Washington avenue, at 3:45 o'clock this morning.

SWINDLED BY AN ANCIENT GAME. William B. Goldsmith, of 213 Fulton street, Brooklyn, complained to the police today that he had been swindled by an unknown man, who visited his store yesterday and purchased $3 worth of goods.

TOO MUCH WATER WITH HIS LIQUOR. Charles Price, of 150 St. Ann's avenue, fell drunk from per 27 East River while drunk this morning. He was rescued from the water by St. Bernard's hospital.

THE BROTHERS' JUBILEE. Mr. McDonnell represents Archbishop Corrigan. On Oct. 23, 1890, Mr. McDonnell was appointed a director of the Catholic Club.

THE BROTHERS' JUBILEE. Mr. McDonnell represents Archbishop Corrigan. On Oct. 23, 1890, Mr. McDonnell was appointed a director of the Catholic Club.

John Kemmer, the young clerk in Haven's jewelry store, Brooklyn, who was charged with the death of a woman he had seduced, still lies in a precarious condition in the Eastern District Hospital, where he is removed yesterday after swallowing a dose of Paris green.

Kemmer is only twenty years old and has been married for six months. He was charged with the death of a woman he had seduced, still lies in a precarious condition in the Eastern District Hospital, where he is removed yesterday after swallowing a dose of Paris green.

There was a sensation in the house on night about three weeks ago when a pretty young woman called at Mrs. Vanhook's and asked to see her.

She was working at a millinery, when in some unaccountable manner her clothing became entangled in the wheels.

Despite her own endeavors and those of her neighbors the ship the unfortunate girl was drawn into the machinery and killed.

An ambulance was hurriedly summoned, but the girl died while on the way to the Eastern District Hospital.

The body was removed to the Stage street police station and Coroner Lindsay was notified.

STRUCK HER WITH AN AXE. Junkman Quinn's Mysterious Assault on His Daughter.

John Quinn was arraigned before Justice Conroy in the Gates avenue Court, Brooklyn, this morning, charged with assaulting his daughter, Mrs. Catherine Hogan, with an axe.

The woman was hurriedly summoned, but the girl died while on the way to the Eastern District Hospital.

The body was removed to the Stage street police station and Coroner Lindsay was notified.

HAD HIS WIFE ARRESTED. Annie Judger Sichter Remanded as an Habitual Drunkard.

A stylishly dressed young woman, wearing diamond earrings and an elegant black silk dress, was arrested by the police on the charge of abandoning her two small children, aged five and seven years respectively.

The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children has taken up the case, and the allegation was that the woman left the two children at the home of her mother, Mrs. Mary Gilroy, of 535 Nineteenth street, and refused to provide for them.

CAUGHT A TILL-TAPPER. He Robbed Grocer Johnack of $3, but Was Caught.

Frank Russell, a well-dressed young man who gave his residence as 353 St. Mark's place, was arraigned before Justice Tigue in Butler street Police Court, Brooklyn, this morning, on a charge of petit larceny.

The complainant against him was John Johnack, a grocer, who alleged that Russell entered his store last evening, and while his back was turned took $3 from the money-drawer behind the counter.

THORNE HAD A REVOLVER. Cochrane Thought He Meant to Kill Him for Visiting Mrs. Thorne.

Weston Thorne, of 22 Ralph street, Brooklyn, was arraigned before Justice Waist, in the Adams street Police Court, this morning, charged with threatening the life of William Cochrane. Both men are negroes.

Cochrane and Thorne met last night in a saloon at the corner of Myrtle avenue and Washington street. Thorne accused Cochrane of undue intimacy with Mrs. Thorne, Cochrane denied it. The men were about to come to blows when Thorne was arrested.

BRUTALLY ASSAULTED HIS MOTHER. John Browne, of 222 North Sixth street, Brooklyn, was held in the Leo Avenue Police Court this morning, charged with having brutally assaulted his aged mother.

JUDGE MOORE'S SON DEAD. The Young Man Was Chief Clerk of the Park Department.

Charles Moore, a son of County Judge Henry A. Moore of Brooklyn, died of consumption at his father's house on Washington avenue, at 3:45 o'clock this morning.

SWINDLED BY AN ANCIENT GAME. William B. Goldsmith, of 213 Fulton street, Brooklyn, complained to the police today that he had been swindled by an unknown man, who visited his store yesterday and purchased $3 worth of goods.

TOO MUCH WATER WITH HIS LIQUOR. Charles Price, of 150 St. Ann's avenue, fell drunk from per 27 East River while drunk this morning. He was rescued from the water by St. Bernard's hospital.

THE BROTHERS' JUBILEE. Mr. McDonnell represents Archbishop Corrigan. On Oct. 23, 1890, Mr. McDonnell was appointed a director of the Catholic Club.

THE BROTHERS' JUBILEE. Mr. McDonnell represents Archbishop Corrigan. On Oct. 23, 1890, Mr. McDonnell was appointed a director of the Catholic Club.

THE BROTHERS' JUBILEE. Mr. McDonnell represents Archbishop Corrigan. On Oct. 23, 1890, Mr. McDonnell was appointed a director of the Catholic Club.

THE BROTHERS' JUBILEE. Mr. McDonnell represents Archbishop Corrigan. On Oct. 23, 1890, Mr. McDonnell was appointed a director of the Catholic Club.

THE BROTHERS' JUBILEE. Mr. McDonnell represents Archbishop Corrigan. On Oct. 23, 1890, Mr. McDonnell was appointed a director of the Catholic Club.

THE BROTHERS' JUBILEE. Mr. McDonnell represents Archbishop Corrigan. On Oct. 23, 1890, Mr. McDonnell was appointed a director of the Catholic Club.

THE BROTHERS' JUBILEE. Mr. McDonnell represents Archbishop Corrigan. On Oct. 23, 1890, Mr. McDonnell was appointed a director of the Catholic Club.

The Evening World's Brooklyn Edition is warmly welcomed by citizens of all sections of the city of Brooklyn. Following are expressions of many people who write yesterday's paper was a revelation.

COL. S. S. F. of the Park Theatre, said he believed there was a good field for the Evening World to work in Brooklyn, and he thought that the enterprise should be encouraged.

DANIEL J. WHITNEY, grocer at 30 Fulton street, said he thought that the Evening World would show a great deal of aggressive enterprise in coming over to Brooklyn in a special form.

ALBERT SMITH, who is employed at 147 Fulton street, said he was glad to see that the Evening World had started in Brooklyn, and he hoped for its great success.

J. E. DONOHUE, cigar manufacturer at 245 Washington street, said he was glad to see that the Evening World had come to Brooklyn in the shape of a special Brooklyn edition.

FRANK McINTOSH, of the Brooklyn Evening World, said he was glad to see that the Evening World had started in Brooklyn, and he hoped for its great success.

DISTRICT CLERK RICHARD J. HENRY, of the Eastern District Court, said he was glad to see that the Evening World had started in Brooklyn, and he hoped for its great success.

FRANK McINTOSH, of the Brooklyn Evening World, said he was glad to see that the Evening World had started in Brooklyn, and he hoped for its great success.

DISTRICT CLERK RICHARD J. HENRY, of the Eastern District Court, said he was glad to see that the Evening World had started in Brooklyn, and he hoped for its great success.

FRANK McINTOSH, of the Brooklyn Evening World, said he was glad to see that the Evening World had started in Brooklyn, and he hoped for its great success.

DISTRICT CLERK RICHARD J. HENRY, of the Eastern District Court, said he was glad to see that the Evening World had started in Brooklyn, and he hoped for its great success.

FRANK McINTOSH, of the Brooklyn Evening World, said he was glad to see that the Evening World had started in Brooklyn, and he hoped for its great success.

DISTRICT CLERK RICHARD J. HENRY, of the Eastern District Court, said he was glad to see that the Evening World had started in Brooklyn, and he hoped for its great success.

FRANK McINTOSH, of the Brooklyn Evening World, said he was glad to see that the Evening World had started in Brooklyn, and he hoped for its great success.

DISTRICT CLERK RICHARD J. HENRY, of the Eastern District Court, said he was glad to see that the Evening World had started in Brooklyn, and he hoped for its great success.

FRANK McINTOSH, of the Brooklyn Evening World, said he was glad to see that the Evening World had started in Brooklyn, and he hoped for its great success.

DISTRICT CLERK RICHARD J. HENRY, of the Eastern District Court, said he was glad to see that the Evening World had started in Brooklyn, and he hoped for its great success.

FRANK McINTOSH, of the Brooklyn Evening World, said he was glad to see that the Evening World had started in Brooklyn, and he hoped for its great success.

DISTRICT CLERK RICHARD J. HENRY, of the Eastern District Court, said he was glad to see that the Evening World had started in Brooklyn, and he hoped for its great success.

FRANK McINTOSH, of the Brooklyn Evening World, said he was glad to see that the Evening World had started in Brooklyn, and he hoped for its great success.

DISTRICT CLERK RICHARD J. HENRY, of the Eastern District Court, said he was glad to see that the Evening World had started in Brooklyn, and he hoped for its great success.

FRANK McINTOSH, of the Brooklyn Evening World, said he was glad to see that the Evening World had started in Brooklyn, and he hoped for its great success.

DISTRICT CLERK RICHARD J. HENRY, of the Eastern District Court, said he was glad to see that the Evening World had started in Brooklyn, and he hoped for its great success.

FRANK McINTOSH, of the Brooklyn Evening World, said he was glad to see that the Evening World had started in Brooklyn, and he hoped for its great success.

DISTRICT CLERK RICHARD J. HENRY, of the Eastern District Court, said he was glad to see that the Evening World had started in Brooklyn, and he hoped for its great success.

FRANK McINTOSH, of the Brooklyn Evening World, said he was glad to see that the Evening World had started in Brooklyn, and he hoped for its great success.

DISTRICT CLERK RICHARD J. HENRY, of the Eastern District Court, said he was glad to see that the Evening World had started in Brooklyn, and he hoped for its great success.

FRANK McINTOSH, of the Brooklyn Evening World, said he was glad to see that the Evening World had started in Brooklyn, and he hoped for its great success.

DISTRICT CLERK RICHARD J. HENRY, of the Eastern District Court, said he was glad to see that the Evening World had started in Brooklyn, and he hoped for its great success.

FRANK McINTOSH, of the Brooklyn Evening World, said he was glad to see that the Evening World had started in Brooklyn, and he hoped for its great success.

DISTRICT CLERK RICHARD J. HENRY, of the Eastern District Court, said he was glad to see that the Evening World had started in Brooklyn, and he hoped for its great success.

FRANK McINTOSH, of the Brooklyn Evening World, said he was glad to see that the Evening World had started in Brooklyn, and he hoped for its great success.

The Evening World's Brooklyn Edition is warmly welcomed by citizens of all sections of the city of Brooklyn. Following are expressions of many people who write yesterday's paper was a revelation.

COL. S. S. F. of the Park Theatre, said he believed there was a good field for the Evening World to work in Brooklyn, and he thought that the enterprise should be encouraged.

DANIEL J. WHITNEY, grocer at 30 Fulton street, said he thought that the Evening World would show a great deal of aggressive enterprise in coming over to Brooklyn in a special form.

ALBERT SMITH, who is employed at 147 Fulton street, said he was glad to see that the Evening World had started in Brooklyn, and he hoped for its great success.

J. E. DONOHUE, cigar manufacturer at 245 Washington street, said he was glad to see that the Evening World had come to Brooklyn in the shape of a special Brooklyn edition.

FRANK McINTOSH, of the Brooklyn Evening World, said he was glad to see that the Evening World had started in Brooklyn, and he hoped for its great success.

DISTRICT CLERK RICHARD J. HENRY, of the Eastern District Court, said he was glad to see that the Evening World had started in Brooklyn, and he hoped for its great success.

FRANK McINTOSH, of the Brooklyn Evening World, said he was glad to see that the Evening World had started in Brooklyn, and he hoped for its great success.

DISTRICT CLERK RICHARD J. HENRY, of the Eastern District Court, said he was glad to see that the Evening World had started in Brooklyn, and he hoped for its great success.

FRANK McINTOSH, of the Brooklyn Evening World, said he was glad to see that the Evening World had started in Brooklyn, and he hoped for its great success.

DISTRICT CLERK RICHARD J. HENRY, of the Eastern District Court, said he was glad to see that the Evening World had started in Brooklyn, and he hoped for its great success.

FRANK McINTOSH, of the Brooklyn Evening World, said he was glad to see that the Evening World had started in Brooklyn, and he hoped for its great success.

DISTRICT CLERK RICHARD J. HENRY, of the Eastern District Court, said he was glad to see that the Evening World had started in Brooklyn, and he hoped for its great success.

FRANK McINTOSH, of the Brooklyn Evening World, said he was glad to see that the Evening World had started in Brooklyn, and he hoped for its great success.

DISTRICT CLERK RICHARD J. HENRY, of the Eastern District Court, said he was glad to see that the Evening World had started in Brooklyn, and he hoped for its great success.

FRANK McINTOSH, of the Brooklyn Evening World, said he was glad to see that the Evening World had started in Brooklyn, and he hoped for its great success.

DISTRICT CLERK RICHARD J. HENRY, of the Eastern District Court, said he was glad to see that the Evening World had started in Brooklyn, and he hoped for its great success.

FRANK McINTOSH, of the Brooklyn Evening World, said he was glad to see that the Evening World had started in Brooklyn, and he hoped for its great success.

DISTRICT CLERK RICHARD J. HENRY, of the Eastern District Court, said he was glad to see that the Evening World had started in Brooklyn, and he hoped for its great success.

FRANK McINTOSH, of the Brooklyn Evening World, said he was glad to see that the Evening World had started in Brooklyn, and he hoped for its great success.

DISTRICT CLERK RICHARD J. HENRY, of the Eastern District Court, said he was glad to see that the Evening World had started in Brooklyn, and he hoped for its great success.

FRANK McINTOSH, of the Brooklyn Evening World, said he was glad to see that the Evening World had started in Brooklyn, and he hoped for its great success.

DISTRICT CLERK RICHARD J. HENRY, of the Eastern District Court, said he was glad to see that the Evening World had started in Brooklyn, and he hoped for its great success.

FRANK McINTOSH, of the Brooklyn Evening World, said he was glad to see that the Evening World had started in Brooklyn, and he hoped for its great success.

DISTRICT CLERK RICHARD J. HENRY, of the Eastern District Court, said he was glad to see that the Evening World had started in Brooklyn, and he hoped for its great success.

FRANK McINTOSH, of the Brooklyn Evening World, said he was glad to see that the Evening World had started in Brooklyn, and he hoped for its great success.

DISTRICT CLERK RICHARD J. HENRY, of the Eastern District Court, said he was glad to see that the Evening World had started in Brooklyn, and he hoped for its great success.

FRANK McINTOSH, of the Brooklyn Evening World, said he was glad to see that the Evening World had started in Brooklyn, and he hoped for its great success.

DISTRICT CLERK RICHARD J. HENRY, of the Eastern District Court, said he was glad to see that the Evening World had started in Brooklyn, and he hoped for its great success.

FRANK McINTOSH, of the Brooklyn Evening World, said he was glad to see that the Evening World had started in Brooklyn, and he hoped for its great success.

DISTRICT CLERK RICHARD J. HENRY, of the Eastern District Court, said he was glad to see that the Evening World had started in Brooklyn, and he hoped for its great success.

FRANK McINTOSH, of the Brooklyn Evening World, said he was glad to see that the Evening World had started in Brooklyn, and he hoped for its great success.

Fire at 414 Broadway, Brooklyn, this morning, caused a damage of $100. The building is owned and occupied by Mrs. Kate Mitchell.

Fire at 414 Broadway, Brooklyn, this morning, caused a damage of $100. The building is owned and occupied by Mrs. Kate Mitchell.

Fire at 414 Broadway, Brooklyn, this morning, caused a damage of $100. The building is owned and occupied by Mrs. Kate Mitchell.

Fire at 414 Broadway, Brooklyn, this morning, caused a damage of $100. The building is owned and occupied by Mrs. Kate Mitchell.