Republican Leaders Rebel Against Patterson's Rule.

Barney Biglin and John Nugent the Chief Recalcitrants.

John R. Voorhis Stays at the New York Democracy's Head.

It has been an open secret among New York politicians for several months that the relations between ex-Police Justice Jacob W. Patterson and some of the district leaders of the Republican party have not been altogether cordial. The story that these same district leaders have openly revolted against the leadership of Patterson, who is the chairman of the County Executive Committee, created a sensation this morning.

It was not believed that Thomas C. Platt would allow his local leaders to get into such a rebellious state on the eve of an important campaign, such as is soon to be inaugurated, but the announcement was confidently made today that six of the twenty-four Assembly district leaders had declared that they will no longer recognize Patterson, and that if Mr. Platt desires their support, and that of their friends he must treat with them personally.

The leaders named as in revolt are: John Collins, of the Fourth; George Hilliard, of the Twelfth; John H. Nugent, of the fourteenth; Bernard Biglin, of the eighteenth; John H. Gunner, of the twenty-second, and Frank Raymond, of the twenty-third.

PATRONAGE THE BONE OF CONTENTION.

The trouble is said to have arisen over the disposition by Patterson of patronage. He is charged with having taken care of his friends and relatives first, to the neglect of the organization.

It is but a few weeks ago that ex-Coroner John R. Nugent offered a resolution at the meeting of the County Executive Committee providing for the appointment of a Patronage committee, relieving Patterson of the dispensing business.

This resolution was withdrawn under the pressure of a demand for action on the part of Mr. Patterson, who had made all manner of promises for the future.

Ex-Coroner Nugent's resolution followed closely on the announcement by Patterson that he proposed to support the Democratic ticket's application for re-election, changing the bureau on Ellis Island as against that made by Nugent.

Mr. Nugent thought this action unwarrantable, in view of the fact that he, who is considered the most powerful of the district leaders in the city personality, and who has been outside the breachworks of political patronage for many years, had not only signed a card for Johnny Simpson, who already holds a $2,500 position as Superintendent of the Ellis Island buildings.

HOPE TO TURN DOWN THE BOSS.

Patterson stood alone in his support of Simpson's application for the money exchange. Chairman Patterson, and all the other district leaders signed Col. Nugent's petition, and the Colonel will probably be elected.

One of the conditions on which Patterson was allowed to continue in office as dispenser was that chairman Brookfield should be associated with him.

Mr. Brookfield has been experienced as a placegetter. He was not in sympathy with that sort of politics, and the result was that Patterson attempted to force him out, and his suits continued offensive to the disgruntled leaders.

These gentlemen are said to have gone to Mr. Platt with their grievances, and declared that they will positively have no further dealings with the boss who has been so long in the saddle.

to refuse to accept Mr. Voorhis's resignation. We should do all we could to get rid of the name of Voorhis, which has attached to it ever since our organization, and has been a fearful blot.

THE BICYCLERS' FINISH.

The grand day of the seventy-two hour bicycle contest at Madison Square Garden began to-day.

The contest opened Monday with fourteen men. The second day found only seven left. These riders have been keeping very close together during the entire race, and have been doing some speedy work.

The most serious accident of the race occurred early this morning, just before the day's work was done, when Lumsden collided with Reading. Both fell in a heap, and Lumsden emerged from the wreck with a broken nose. He was able to resume his work, however.

SIO, 000 FIRE IN PEEKSKILL.

Naylor Bros.' Foundry Burned to the Ground This Morning.

The blaze was fanned by the stiff north-west gale blowing from the river, and burning fragments of wood were carried over many adjoining buildings. The Peekskill firemen were made to work hard, but were unable to save where it fell. They succeeded in saving everything but the moulting-room.

This is the second time within four years that the Naylor Bros. buildings, being near the river, have been burned to the ground. The loss on buildings, stock, patterns, etc., is estimated at $10,000.

MYSTERIOUS CUTTING AFFRAY.

Two Men Fight with Knives, but Refuse to Tell Why.

The attention of Policeman Scheyer, of the East Twenty-second street station, was attracted about 2.30 o'clock this morning by a scuffle at the corner of Twenty-first street and First avenue. He ran up to see what was the matter, and the crowd scattered, leaving two young men standing there alone.

The officer marched them over to the station-house, where they described themselves as Thomas J. McLaughlin, a clerk, of 419 East Ninth street, and Daniel Smith, of 149 West street, Greenpoint. The former is twenty-six and the latter twenty years old.

Both men had blood smeared on their faces, and Smith had a deep cut on the left arm. Both were taken to Bellevue Hospital, where their wounds were pronounced to be not serious. They will be able to leave the hospital to-day, but both will have to appear charged in a police court made by the officer who arrested them.

POINTERS ON THE RACES.

Horses to Go Over the Jumps at Guttenburg To-Day.

Beginnings of the First Series of Hurdle Events.

A large force of Italian laborers worked on the frozen track at Guttenburg all day yesterday with the result that to-day the course is in a fair condition. The going will be hard and fast, and this will enable the hurdle race to take place as advertised.

This race is fifth on the card, and among the jumpers are several horses that have performed well on the flat, notably Fabian and Frank L. The other entries are Dundee, Benoit, Winslow and Mulholland. They are about evenly matched and should furnish a good race. The rest of the card is very poor. The fields are light and the quality very poor. Still, the racing may be interesting.

The full list of entries and selections is as follows:

First Race.—Purse $400, beaten horses; five furlongs.	123 Capt. Garland, 124	125 Little Belle, former
Second Race.—Purse $400, beaten horses; five furlongs.	126 King of the South, 127	128 King of the South, 129
Third Race.—Purse $400, beaten horses; five furlongs.	130 King of the South, 131	132 King of the South, 133
Fourth Race.—Purse $400, selling allowance; six and a half furlongs.	134 King of the South, 135	136 King of the South, 137
Fifth Race.—Purse $400, selling allowance; six and a half furlongs.	138 King of the South, 139	140 King of the South, 141
Sixth Race.—Purse $400, selling allowance; six and a half furlongs.	142 King of the South, 143	144 King of the South, 145

Duke of Edinburgh Offended by Criticisms of His Violin Playing.

LONDON, March 12.—The Telegraph has thrown a bombshell into the camp of the Independents by declaring that the exertions that Mr. Archer loudly railed against the censor for making in his version of Ibsen's Danish play, "Der Besuch," which, in the opinion of many critics beside Mr. Archer, gave play a more important tendency than its unexcused form, were made, not by the censor, but by George Moore at the suggestion of the Examiner of Stage Plays before it was submitted to the Lord Chamberlain, the examiner desirous to treat Mr. Archer in the most liberal and courteous spirit.

A BOWERY FACTORY WHERE GIRLS MAKE GRAVE CLOTHES.

In the bowery, almost at the very source of Prince Street, there is a factory for the manufacture of undertakers' supplies where a thousand suits of grave clothes are made every week, but if you think the 400 little women who design, cut and sew them do not make merry over their work you are very much mistaken.
