FLAMES AGAIN IN VIENNA.

Are the Anarchists There Abandoning Dynamite for Fire?

Murderer Deeming Breaking Down—General Cable News.

VIENNA, April 8.—The alarm occasioned by the frequency of incendiary fires in this city continues to grow. Last night another fire, unquestionably of incendiary origin, broke out in a mansion in the Ringstrasse, the handsome boulevard in Vienna. It was soon extinguished.

This is the fifth incendiary fire here within a week. It is more than hinted that these fires are all the work of Anarchists, who have decided to use fire instead of dynamite to inaugurate their threatened reign of terror.

The newspapers point out the fact that the Anarchist outrages perpetrated in 1883 were commenced by the starting of fires by incendiaries.

DEEMING BREAKING DOWN.

Witnesses to Testify to His State of Mind as a Boy.

MR. DEEMING, April 8.—It is believed that the trial of Deeming will prove one of the most interesting that has ever taken place anywhere in the world.

Deeming will be insane and many experts will be called to testify as to the species of madness with which his counsel claims that he is afflicted.

No denial has as yet been made by the defense that Deeming did not commit all the murders attributed to him.

Deeming slept last night, but the intense nervous and mental strain to which he is subjected is telling upon him. He can act as time assumes an air of carelessness and jocularly, but his face is losing its ruddy color, and this morning he was decidedly pale.

In fact, despite his air of bravado at the inquest and afterwards, the man appears to be breaking down. He frequently asks for stimulants.

Efforts will be made to procure a prolonged adjournment of his trial, in order to enable witnesses to come from England, to testify as to the state of the prisoner's mind when he was a boy.

No Room for a Lowell Monument in Westminster Abbey.

LONDON, April 8.—The American to-day says that owing to the scantiness of the unoccupied space in Westminster Abbey the very Rev. George Granville Bradley, D. D., Dean of Westminster, has reluctantly declined to find room in the Abbey for the proposed monument to the late James Russell Lowell.

The Dean has suggested that instead of a monument a window in the Chapter House, the scene of the delivery of some of Mr. Lowell's addresses, might be filled with a stained glass memorial.

Caprivi Can't Agree, It is Said, with Baron Boetticher.

LONDON, April 8.—The Berlin correspondent of the Times sends the following to his paper:

"The belief is growing in Parliamentary circles here that Gen. von Caprivi will shortly resign the Chancellorship. It is an open secret that Gen. von Caprivi and Dr. von Boetticher, the Secretary of State for the Interior, disagree. The accession of Herr Helldorf from the Conservative party will not improve the position of the Government."

ADVERTISED HER DIVORCE.

Mrs. Blohm's Husband Didn't Know One Had Been Sued For.

BLOHM, Pa., whom it may concern: This is to notify all those interested that Mrs. ELIZA BLOHM has been divorced from FREDERICK BLOHM, and is at liberty to marry, by order of the Court, as Miss K. Green.

The persons mentioned in the above, notice of which appeared in this morning's papers, live in Brooklyn. Frederick B. Blohm is a son of Frederick Blohm, a produce merchant, at 278 Washington street, in this city.

This divorce is not a surprise either to myself or my son," said Mrs. Blohm this morning to an EVENING WORLD reporter, "although the first news we had of it was when we read the notice this morning."

"My son and his wife have not been living together for some time on account of domestic disagreements, and we know nothing of the movements of the Green family, and have paid no attention to them."

"I do not know where the divorce was obtained, but suppose the proceedings must have been had somewhere out West, or at least in some other State than New York, for such decrees could have been obtained against my son in this State."

"As for the notice, we shall pay no attention to it, and I can say nothing further than that I believe it was published more in an effort to annoy us than to give information to the public. In regard to the notice, I am leading up to this, having nothing to say."

Judge Pryor Reputates Him.

Judge Pryor, of the Court of Common Pleas, stating that the young man, Edward G. White, who was arraigned in Jefferson Market Court yesterday, is not, as White declared, a nephew of his. "The young man is a stranger to me, not even an acquaintance," says the Judge.

POINTERS ON THE RACES.

No Handicap, but a Good Programme at Guttenberg To-Day.

Badge, Miss Belle, Turk and Other Good Ones to Meet.

There is no handicap on the card at Guttenberg to-day, but the programme promises well, nevertheless. There are only a dozen or so of handicap horses at the track, and they could not run every day without getting stale in time and forcing a shutting off of these interesting events. The best race on the card to-day may be the fifth, with Badge, Miss Belle, Turk and others entered. The track will be dry and fast. The entries and selections are as follows:

First Race.—Purse $400; 15 lb. below the scale; five furlongs.	7A

HARRISON IS THE TEST.

Union League Takes Up the Bliss-Milhoiland Fight.

Joint Debate of Jersey City Mayor-Candidates.

The split in the Eleventh District Republican organization threatens to extend to the entire party in this city. It appears that the "workers" have taken sides with Chief Inspector Commissioner John E. Milhoiland against Col. George Bliss, the respective leaders of the factions which are at loggerheads in the Eleventh District.

It is said that a strong demand has been made on ex-senator Platt to use his influence for the removal of Col. Bliss as leader of the Eleventh in the interest of harmony.

There is a double purpose in this demand. It is to get the workers to come out to settle with Col. Bliss, and when the latter, backed by Col. V. R. Cruger, Charles A. Peabody, Jr., Cornelius N. Bliss and the rest of the alk-sticking element, undertook to crush Milhoiland by demanding his official head from Secretary Foster, the rank and file ranged on the side of Milhoiland. The axe has not fallen yet, and Milhoiland is apparently on top.

Col. Bliss finds that he has a foe man skilled in political tactics, and besides, Milhoiland, who is a Harrison man, is in good standing with the Administration, which Col. Bliss is not. The Colonel wishes now, no doubt, that he had not made the unfortunate remark some time ago which affected the latter.

The workers are as one man against the straight-faced and long-haired faction, as Col. Bliss is for the party which he represents.

At first the Colonel regarded Milhoiland contemptuously, as a rash youth who had gone into the war with the idea of making a name for himself. He had no idea that he was the enemy of his actions as leader of the Eleventh.

Milhoiland, from a humble worker, has suddenly been raised to the position of leader; but he has displayed executive qualities which prove him capable of the position.

After the war, in which he served, Dr. Sweeney was married to Miss Kate Henry, at the church of the Visitation, Rev. Father McCabe officiating.

Dr. Sweeney is at present living with a sister at 11 Troutman street.

WAR ON THE "RUSTLERS."

Determined Efforts to Stop Montana and Wyoming Stock Thieves.

HELENA, Mont., April 8.—The first results of the war looking to the extermination of horse-thieves in Eastern Montana and Wyoming came to light yesterday, when the body of a man was found on Alkali Creek, about ten miles from Billings. He had been shot through the head and had been dead several days. The man has not been identified, but is supposed to be a Wyoming rustler en route to California.

Two other men suspected to be in communication with horse-thieves have mysteriously disappeared within the past few days.

Two parties are now out after the rustlers, who are located at the Jackson Hole, in Wyoming, with a thousand stolen horses in their possession.

Each will be largely reinforced by a party to the Hole, and a party of men is determined to rid the country of rustlers some interesting reports may soon be expected.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., April 8.—Intense excitement exists here and throughout the surrounding country over the arrival at and departure from Cheyenne of thirty-five Pinkerton detectives, who were joined by about fifteen stockmen.

The party are armed to the teeth and left on a special train for Casper, twenty miles north, the scene of action of the "rustlers," who are said to be stealing stock.

It is claimed that the stock party is simply to swoop down on the rustlers and either kill them, or drive them out of the country. The wires to Casper are strung and no information can be received from there to-night.

MR. WISE WILL NOT FIGHT.

His Statements Anent Miss Greene's Grievances Satisfactory.

The Wise-Greene-Skinner controversy, which has agitated the Southern colony in New York for the last few days, appears to have been satisfactorily adjusted.

Mr. Wise has written a letter to Miss Greene, the young lady whose friends have been clamoring for satisfaction for the slight which she is alleged to have received from Mrs. Wise, stating that under no circumstances will he fight a duel with any one and declaring that his wife never uttered the defamatory language attributed to her.

It is said that Miss Greene's friends have accepted the situation, and no further action will be made to cause Mr. Wise into the field of honor.

POLITICAL POTPOURRI.

Dr. J. E. Brodsky's sway among Republicans in the Allegheny district is supreme. Last night he routed the forces of his rival, Gus Schumann, at the meeting of the Republican Club, and his followers, ever since their defeat at the hands of Brodsky, are in a state of dejection.

DID HE LEAVE TWO WIDOWS?

Startling Allegations Against the Late Dr. Sweeney.

Mrs. Kate Sweeney Declares That the Charges are Slanderous.

Ex-Senator James Birkett, according to the latest phase of the local Republican squabble in Brooklyn, is now charged with having both the Nation and Willis facts as an ally.

A new element of uncertainty has just been introduced into the controversy by an announcement that Secretary Foster has declined to appoint ex-Port Warden Learycraft to the vacant Assistant Appraiserhip in the Custom-Office.

Naval Officer Willis and Election Commissioner Worth left Washington last week happy with the promise of the appointment. Since then Mr. Nathan, Gen. Stewart L. Woodford and others have been hustling, and it is said he finally succeeded in thwarting the purposes of the Willis people, to whom Learycraft would prove an invaluable ally.

Ex-Senator Birkett will, it is expected, declare himself shortly, and his announcement is awaited by the factions with much interest.

A most interesting one of the primary election in the new Twenty-seventh Ward, where they failed to name delegates to the General Committee, is that both factions plausible reasons to substantiate the argument.

The war is still on.

Sidney Lowell, lawyer and member of the Executive Committee of the local branch of the Anti-Hill League, has resigned in a huff. The movement, which was originally started to protest against the Midwinter Convention and was later locally dubbed the "Citizens League," I am supposed to have been crushed in the past.

It was about 5:30 this morning when his body was discovered by a Mrs. Nicholas, one of the tenants of 115 who went down into the yard. Mrs. Donnelly was lying upon her side in a pool of blood. Some of her bones were broken by the jump and her skull was crushed in. She must have met instant death.

Donnelly reached home soon after his wife's body was found. He said that she had worked a great deal yesterday about moving, and he supposed this had something to do with her suicide. The coroner has been notified.

Mary Donnelly Fell Four Stories and Died Instantly.

Her Husband Returned from a Wake to Find Her Suicide.

In a fit of melancholia, brought on by long illness, Mrs. Mary Donnelly, twenty-five years old, committed suicide early this morning by jumping from the roof of the four-story house at 515 Eleventh avenue into the yard.

She lived on the top floor of 557 West Fortieth street, which is at the corner of Eleventh avenue. James Donnelly, her husband, is a butcher, and works in a slaughterhouse at Thirty-ninth street and North River.

Mrs. Donnelly had been suffering from inflammation of the lungs for five months. She was afraid she would never regain her health and became dependent in consequence. She had had spells, and there had been occasions on which she had been watched for fear she would do herself some harm.

Donnelly decided a few days ago to give up housekeeping and go to boarding so that his wife could get better care, as she needed constant attention. Yesterday he packed up their things, and they were to have moved today.

Last night Donnelly attended a wake at a friend's house, 74th street and Avenue C, and went away. Mrs. Donnelly's four-year-old daughter had been asleep and apparently all right when he went away.

It is supposed that she got up between 2 and 3 o'clock this morning, left her child asleep in bed, went to the roof, and crossed over to the roof of the adjoining house, at 515 Eleventh avenue, and threw herself into the yard.

It was about 5:30 this morning when his body was discovered by a Mrs. Nicholas, one of the tenants of 115 who went down into the yard. Mrs. Donnelly was lying upon her side in a pool of blood. Some of her bones were broken by the jump and her skull was crushed in. She must have met instant death.
