

MR. BOYNTON HARD PRESSED.

Denials of Accusations in the Sixth Avenue Failure.

Claflin & Co. Deny that They Were Unjust to Other Creditors.

Questions concerning the business methods of H. B. Claflin & Co., Blumenthal Bros. and Meyer Jonsson & Co. today attracted the attention of Judge Barrett and a jury...

The plaintiffs allege conspiracy on the part of the defendants to bolster up the credit of Mrs. Boynton, who conducted a store at Sixth Avenue and Sixteenth Street...

The plaintiffs, in their answer, also allege that cash advances were made to Mrs. Boynton and to her husband by Claflin & Co. and by financiers directly associated with that concern...

Mr. Boynton resumed the stand this morning. He said he obtained a loan of $17,000 from credit clerk Jordan, of Claflin & Co., on Dec. 18, 1890...

On that day his place was seized under foreclosure. He thought he owed at that time $125,000.

Between Dec. 17 and 17, 1890, you drew out $4,450, said lawyer Blumenthal. All your store expenses amounted to you twenty-five $1,700 a week. What was done with the balance?

"I suppose I paid merchandise bills."

"Did you pay any bills after Dec. 13?"

"I don't know. The books will show."

"On the day the mortgages were foreclosed, interrupted lawyer Blumenthal, and we cannot see them."

"Isn't it a fact that you knew you were going to fail and wanted to load up with other people's goods rather than Claflin & Co.'s?"

"No, sir. Nothing of the sort."

Dead Child in the Arwayway. Hugh Henney, a care-taker for Mrs. B. W. Wetmore of the houses 119 and 121 Lexington Avenue...

A National Bi-Metallic Convention. The National Silver Committee today decided to call a National Bi-metallic convention to meet in this city May 20, 1892.

THE ESCAPED BUNGO KING.

O'Brien and a Friend Are Not Far From Utica.

The Fugitive Stole a Horse and Buggy for His Flight.

UTICA, N. Y., April 22.—A man whose description tallies with that of Thomas O'Brien, the escaped bungo steerer, in company with another answering the description of his friend David A. Disher, of this city, have been tracked from here to Onondaga Castle, where they were seen at a very early hour yesterday morning.

They took the first electric car from Utica to Whitesboro Wednesday morning. There the man answering O'Brien's description obtained, through the aid of a friend of Disher, the best horse in the town and drove west in a buggy.

Miss Springer told Justice Goetting that she had been engaged to Max Boschinsky, the husband of the murdered woman. For a short time since the tragedy, but Boschinsky had been constantly postponing their marriage because of something that he said was troubling his mind.

Miss Springer says that Boschinsky is now living at 42 McKibben street, and that she believes that he himself was the murderer of his own wife and child.

Miss Springer did not learn until recently that Boschinsky's wife and child had been murdered. He had never told her, and when she had asked him about it he tried to evade the subject.

He is being treated for a compound fracture of the left leg. He will recover.

His escape is miraculous, as he fell on the hanging in the yard.

He has been a Spring Trousers.

Our store is widely known every season as headquarters for new and bright patterns in Trousers.

From 4 up to 8 dollars we have Fine silk lines on grey, brown, blue and black. Small checks. Both narrow and wide stripes. Whipcords etc., etc.

Neat and elegant designs with not a shadow of loud figures among them.

We cater for big mens' trade, with extra sized waist measures up to 50 inches.

We supply too, some honest grades of goods in trousers at less than $4 if they are needed.

HACKETT, CARHART & CO., Broadway and Canal Street.

MAX BOSCHINSKY SUSPECTED.

His Affianced Believes He Killed His Wife and Child.

He Postponed Their Wedding Because of Something on His Mind.

Police Capt. Ennis, of Brooklyn's Stagg street station, is today investigating another possible clue to the murder of Mrs. Frieda Boschinsky and her four-year-old son Isaac at 35 Moore street, Williamsburg, on Dec. 16 last.

This latest of many clues to the tragedy grows out of a statement made to Police Justice Goetting in the Lee Avenue court this morning by a young woman named Bernita Stringer, who lives with her uncle and aunt at 4 Lorimer street.

Miss Stringer told Justice Goetting that she had been engaged to Max Boschinsky, the husband of the murdered woman. For a short time since the tragedy, but Boschinsky had been constantly postponing their marriage because of something that he said was troubling his mind.

Miss Springer says that Boschinsky is now living at 42 McKibben street, and that she believes that he himself was the murderer of his own wife and child.

Miss Springer did not learn until recently that Boschinsky's wife and child had been murdered. He had never told her, and when she had asked him about it he tried to evade the subject.

He is being treated for a compound fracture of the left leg. He will recover.

His escape is miraculous, as he fell on the hanging in the yard.

He has been a Spring Trousers.

Our store is widely known every season as headquarters for new and bright patterns in Trousers.

From 4 up to 8 dollars we have Fine silk lines on grey, brown, blue and black. Small checks. Both narrow and wide stripes. Whipcords etc., etc.

Neat and elegant designs with not a shadow of loud figures among them.

We cater for big mens' trade, with extra sized waist measures up to 50 inches.

We supply too, some honest grades of goods in trousers at less than $4 if they are needed.

HACKETT, CARHART & CO., Broadway and Canal Street.

CHILDREN LEFT TO STARVE.

Their Father Neglected Them and Their Mother is Dying.

Seven little children, ranging in ages from thirteen years down to two and a half years, were taken to the Harlem Police court this morning and committed to the care of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children.

Agents Moore and McManus, of Gerry's Society, had them in charge. The oldest and youngest of them were boys and the others were little girls, all brothers and sisters.

The story in connection with them is a pitiful one of destitution. Their names are Carnegie, and are said to be the grandchildren of the cousin of Andrew Carnegie, the iron magnate. Their mother, Bessie, has been ill of consumption, brought on by neglect, for several months.

The family lived at 109 East One Hundred and Tenth Street, and for weeks they have been living on the charity of neighbors. Because although the husband works steadily at his trade and makes several dollars a day he has not for weeks provided a single dollar towards the support of his family.

Mr. C. T. Cook, a member of the firm, told an Evening World reporter that the full amount of Palmer's stealings has not yet been learned, but from the number of fraudulent bills being found he thought it would reach fully $50,000.

Although Palmer had confessed to Chief Inspector Steers as having examined him on his morning upon advice of his counsel, James W. McLaughlin, he remained in a cell from the time he was arrested, and McLaughlin said his clients would probably allow him to remain in jail today to go, thoroughly sobered and would then furnish bail for his release.

Palmer's wife, a slatternly, handsome brunette, and his half-brother, who appeared in court shortly after Palmer was brought over from the Hotel Hamilton, by Detective Bergs, Hildy and Murphy, who arrested him after a search of several days.

The meeting between husband, wife and mother was very affecting.

Palmer told the Evening World reporter he had nothing to say, except that the amount of his stealings was greatly exaggerated. According to his own confession, however, the stealing has been going on for four or five years.

Mr. Cook of the Tiffany firm, says that Palmer's father had been a warran and then foreman in their factory. When the Tiffany's abandoned the manufacture of gas fixtures and chandeliers the business was sold to James F. Palmer.

He enjoyed the full confidence of the firm which was likewise given to his son, James A. Palmer, who, upon his father's death, succeeded to the business and conducted it under the name of J. F. Palmer's Sons.

It is the statement of Tiffany's to have bills for goods rendered, then checked by the head of the department using the 200's purchased by the bill collector thereon. The bill is then counter-checked by Charles L. Cook, the Vice-President of the firm, when it is given to the cashier for payment.

Palmer discovered that through the confidence reposed in him he could go the length of the street of Tiffany's to have bills for goods rendered, then checked by the head of the department using the 200's purchased by the bill collector thereon.

This has been doing, he told Chief Inspector Steers about five years. The discovery was accidentally made a few weeks ago through the failure of the cashier to check the bills against the name of one of Palmer's fraudulent bills.

Wire News in Brief. The captured catfishman from Fort McKinney camped at Brown Springs last night and expected to reach the railway to-day. No signs of a trapper attack.

PALMER WAIVES A HEARING.

Held in Default of $10,000 Bail for Robbing Tiffany & Co.

The Firm Claims that His Stealings Will Foot Up $50,000.

James A. Palmer, a manufacturer of gas fixtures and chandeliers at 312 West Twenty-sixth street, with a store at 13 East Seventeenth street, and who, as did his father before him, has made goods for the Tiffany's for years, was held in Jefferson Market court this morning in $10,000 bail charged with having obtained $240 from Tiffany & Co. on a fraudulent bill of goods on which he had forged the initials of an employee and a member of the firm.

While Palmer was charged with forgery on this bill of goods only, Manager Ralph M. Hyde, who appeared for the Tiffany's as complainant, informed the court that Palmer's stealings by means of similar fraudulent bills and forged endorsements would amount to $25,000 to $35,000.

Mr. C. T. Cook, a member of the firm, told an Evening World reporter that the full amount of Palmer's stealings has not yet been learned, but from the number of fraudulent bills being found he thought it would reach fully $50,000.

Although Palmer had confessed to Chief Inspector Steers as having examined him on his morning upon advice of his counsel, James W. McLaughlin, he remained in a cell from the time he was arrested, and McLaughlin said his clients would probably allow him to remain in jail today to go, thoroughly sobered and would then furnish bail for his release.

Palmer's wife, a slatternly, handsome brunette, and his half-brother, who appeared in court shortly after Palmer was brought over from the Hotel Hamilton, by Detective Bergs, Hildy and Murphy, who arrested him after a search of several days.

The meeting between husband, wife and mother was very affecting.

Palmer told the Evening World reporter he had nothing to say, except that the amount of his stealings was greatly exaggerated. According to his own confession, however, the stealing has been going on for four or five years.

Mr. Cook of the Tiffany firm, says that Palmer's father had been a warran and then foreman in their factory. When the Tiffany's abandoned the manufacture of gas fixtures and chandeliers the business was sold to James F. Palmer.

He enjoyed the full confidence of the firm which was likewise given to his son, James A. Palmer, who, upon his father's death, succeeded to the business and conducted it under the name of J. F. Palmer's Sons.

It is the statement of Tiffany's to have bills for goods rendered, then checked by the head of the department using the 200's purchased by the bill collector thereon. The bill is then counter-checked by Charles L. Cook, the Vice-President of the firm, when it is given to the cashier for payment.

Palmer discovered that through the confidence reposed in him he could go the length of the street of Tiffany's to have bills for goods rendered, then checked by the head of the department using the 200's purchased by the bill collector thereon.

This has been doing, he told Chief Inspector Steers about five years. The discovery was accidentally made a few weeks ago through the failure of the cashier to check the bills against the name of one of Palmer's fraudulent bills.

Wire News in Brief. The captured catfishman from Fort McKinney camped at Brown Springs last night and expected to reach the railway to-day. No signs of a trapper attack.

STERN ECONOMY FOR ITALY.

Report that She Will Give Up Her Possessions in Africa.

Deeming's Trial Postponed—General News by Cable.

ROME, April 22.—The Popolo Romano says that at yesterday's council of the Ministers it was decided to meet the deficit in the budget by effecting economies amounting to $3,000,000.

It was also decided to increase the taxation and to create a match monopoly, which it is expected will yield another $3,000,000.

The council discussed colonial affairs and, according to the Popolo Romano, came to the conclusion to limit the Italian possessions in Africa to Massowah.

It is stated in the Popolo Romano that the Italian Government has a population of about eighteen thousand inhabitants, of whom, exclusive of the garrison, about five hundred are Italians.

Church Dignitary Beaten and Thrown Into a River. VIENNA, April 22.—A despatch from Bohemia, in Austrian Galicia, says that while Dr. Dzerowicz, a high ecclesiastical dignitary who resides at that place, was walking in the vicinity of the town, he was suddenly set upon by two ruffians armed with cudgels, who beat him severely.

His assailants then carried him to the river and threw him in.

Passers-by heard his cries and rescued him. The two men made their escape.

Murderer Deeming's Trial Put Over Till April 26.

MELBOURNE, April 22.—The trial of Frederick Deeming for the murder of his wife, called in all the proceedings in Australia Mrs. Williams, that being the name Deeming assumed here, was today adjourned until April 26.

Deeming was at once taken back to the jail. A great crowd of spectators were disappointed at the court-room.

Forty-five More Anarchists Arrested in Paris.

PARIS, April 22.—Notwithstanding the fact that a number of leading Anarchists are in jail and others have been driven from the country, those at liberty are still active and hold secret meetings.

The police learned yesterday of a number of lodgings occupied by Anarchists. This morning a number of gardiennes made a descent upon the houses and captured forty-five men.

Death of Lieut.-Gen. Pelly, K. C. B., K. C. S. I.

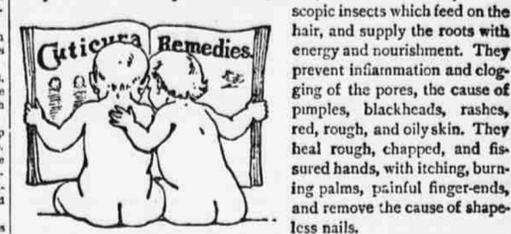

LONDON, April 22.—Lieut.-Gen. Sir Lewis Pelly, K. C. B., K. C. S. I., member of the House of Commons for the north division of Hackney, died to-day.

Gen. Pelly was the son of the late John Pelly, of Hyde House, Gloucestershire, and was born in 1825. He had a long and distinguished career, especially in India.

What Can Cuticura Do

For Baby's Skin, Scalp, and Hair

Everything that is cleansing, purifying, and beautifying for the skin, scalp, and hair of infants and children, the Cuticura Remedies will do. They afford instant relief, and a speedy cure in the most agonizing of itching and burning eczemas. They clear the skin of the most distressing of scaly, crusted, pimply, and blotchy humors. They cleanse the scalp of dandruff, scales, and crusts, destroy microscopic insects which feed on the hair, and supply the roots with energy and nourishment. They prevent inflammation and clogging of the pores, the cause of pimples, blackheads, rashes, red, rough, and oily skin. They heal rough, chapped, and fissured hands, with itching, burning palms, painful finger-ends, and remove the cause of shapeless nails.

Thus, from the simplest baby blemish to the most torturing and disfiguring diseases of the skin and scalp, even when complicated with hereditary or scrofulous taints, these great skin cures, blood purifiers, and humor remedies are equally successful. Everything about them invites confidence. They are absolutely pure, and may be used on the youngest infant. They are agreeable to the most refined and sensitive. They are speedy, economical, and unailing.

"ALL ABOUT THE SKIN, SCALP, AND HAIR" mailed free to any address, 64 pages, 300 Diseases, 30 Illustrations, and 100 Testimonials. A book of priceless value to every sufferer.

CUTICURA Remedies are sold everywhere. Price, Cuticura, the Great Skin Cure, 50c; Cuticura Soap, an Equisine Skin Purifier and Beautifier, 25c; Cuticura Resolvent, the greatest of Blood Purifiers and Humor Remedies, 5c. Prepared by FURTER DRUG AND CHEM. CO., Boston.

For Baby's Skin, Scalp, and Hair,

use that greatest of Skin Purifiers and Beautifiers, as well as sweetest of toilet and nursery soaps, the celebrated Cuticura Soap. The only medicated toilet soap and the only preventive of inflammation and clogging of the pores, the cause of pimples, blotches, rashes, rough, red, and oily skin. Sale greater than all other skin and complexion soaps combined. Sold throughout the United States. Price 25c.

DID HE DROWN HIS WIFE?

Canal-Boat Skipper Burns Charged With Murder.

James Burns, owner and captain of the canal-boat Annie Burns, now in the South Cove, Jersey City; William English, a laborer, and Jennie Smith were prisoners in Justice O'Donnell's court in Jersey City to-day, having been arrested on information given by William Shuppe, of Barrow street, at the Cove.

Shuppe reported to Police Supt. Smith yesterday that Burns had pushed his wife overboard, and that she was drowned in Gowanus Bay two weeks ago.

Jennie Smith and Engler were arrested on the boat, and Burns on shore near by. All three were drunk.

Shuppe testified that two men had told him they saw Burns push Mrs. Burns off the stern of the boat in Gowanus Bay. He couldn't tell who the men are. Mrs. Burns cannot be found, and Burns says she has been missing two weeks; that his bank book, showing a deposit of $1,300, her shawl and silk dress and $20 disappeared at the same time.

Shuppe was the brother of Burns's first wife. He says he brought the boat over from Gowanus Bay and put a watchman named Tracy in charge of it with Burns's consent.

The Jersey City police have made inquiries in Brooklyn and have failed to learn anything to substantiate the drowning story. No body or garments, so far as the detectives can learn, has been found recently in Gowanus Bay.

The examination was adjourned to give Shuppe a chance to find his alleged witnesses. The police think Mrs. Burns took her things and went to her friends to escape from her drunken husband.

LET THE YOUNG THIEF GO.

He Confessed in Court and Still Escaped Punishment.

Mrs. Esther Allen, wife of John Allen, formerly of the Hotel Hamilton, who with Fred C. H. Platt rode to California on horseback a year or two ago, was complainant in the Harlem Police court this morning against Theodore Hinmann, twenty-one, of 1407 Second Avenue.

Mrs. Allen was moving her furniture yesterday, and Hinmann was engaged to assist her. When her back was turned Hinmann stole a pocketbook containing $8 and a turqota stone.

He was subsequently arrested by Detective Patrick Gargan, of the One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street station. In court this morning Hinmann confessed his guilt and returned the pocketbook minus the $8.

Notwithstanding this Mrs. Allen withdrew her complaint and Hinmann was discharged.

New Small-Pox Cases.

Kate Palmer, five, was found with small-pox at 208 East Sixteenth street, where several cases have already been found. She was sent to North Brother Island.

The man found with small-pox at 1708 Third Avenue yesterday is Edward Londrigan, aged twenty-eight years.

Stationer J. L. Kelly Falls.

Joseph L. Kelly, general stationer at 391 Greenwich street, assigned to-day to John S. Fargolston, without preference.

Advertisement for A. H. King & Co. featuring 'THE LEADING AMERICAN CLOTHIERS' and 'Manufacturers and Retailers of FINE CLOTHING'. It lists various clothing items like 'MOTHERS! WE WISH to call your attention to our excellent and prolific display of BOYS AND CHILDREN'S CLOTHES', 'CHILDREN'S SUITS', 'BOYS' SUITS', 'MEN'S TROUSERS', and 'Gentlemen, these are our strong points!'. It also includes a list of prices for different styles of suits and trousers.

Large advertisement for A. H. King & Co. titled 'THE GREATEST SPRING SUIT AND OVERCOAT SALE EVER HELD IN NEW YORK, TO-DAY AND TO-MORROW.' It features a large illustration of a man in a suit and hat, and text describing the sale of suits and overcoats at various price points: '$10.00', '$12.00', and '$15.00'. The ad emphasizes 'Exquisite tailor-made CLOTHING at prices charged by other houses for ordinary Garments!' and 'Gentlemen, these are our strong points!'. It also mentions 'To-day and to-morrow are positively the last days of this big special Suit and Overcoat Sale.' and 'With the purchase of every man's Suit or Overcoat we give away free a STYLISH DERBY HAT OR FINE SILK UMBRELLA valued at $4. To-Day and To-Morrow Only! We close at 7 o'clock evenings, except on Saturday at 10 o'clock'.