

MAY SPREAD TYPHUS.

A Man Sick with the Disease Escapes from a Hospital.

Broke a Window While Delirious and Jumped Into the Yard.

Byrnes's Men and Sanitary Officers Searching the City for Him.

The escape of a typhus fever patient from the Reception Hospital at the foot of East Sixteenth street has caused grave alarm in the Health Department.

A vigorous search for the escaped patient, who may be spreading the dread disease broadcast throughout the city, is being made by members of Capt. Byrnes's force and the sanitary squad.

The name of the patient is Leo Rosenblatt. He is nineteen years old, and in the alarm sent out by the police he is described as being 5 feet tall and dressed in light clothes, with black braid across the breast. He wore a black hat which was spotted with pink paint.

Dr. Roberts, of the Bureau of Contagious Diseases, was notified yesterday of a case of typhus fever in the tenement, 21 Forsyth street.

Rosenblatt was found there sick with typhus in the apartments of his brother-in-law. He had been there twenty-four hours, having previously lived in a double tenement at 240 and 242 Cherry street, where a number of cases of typhus were reported early in the month.

Rosenblatt was taken to the Reception Hospital at 2:30 p. m. yesterday. He was last seen by the attendants at 4:45 o'clock in the afternoon, when he was lying on a cot with his clothes on. There was no other patient in the ward.

Ten minutes later it was found that Rosenblatt had escaped.

He had placed a washstand on his bed, put a chair on the washstand and smashed a pane of glass in the window.

Through this hole, about 15x17 inches, he crawled and dropped to the yard, a distance of about fifteen feet.

He was seen crossing the yard by a man on a Street-Cleaning Department tug.

It is said that Rosenblatt had been sick about six days and was slightly delirious. In fact, he was at the stage of the disease when it is most contagious.

The alarm was immediately sent out, and the regular and sanitary police began a search which was continued all night without success.

No trace of him has yet been discovered. The longer he is at large the greater is the cause for alarm, as there is hardly a limit to the number of persons he might affect.

Rosenblatt is five feet tall. He wore a light suit, with black braid on the coat, and his black hat was spotted with white paint.

Enterprise Council's Reception. The entertainment and reception of Enterprise Council, No. 217, Catholic Benevolent Legion, in Lexington Avenue Opera-house last evening, was largely attended, and an enjoyable programme was rendered.

The "faunt" was confined to the members and their friends, and each performer was liberally rewarded with flowers, a gold badge was presented to James J. McCarthy, one of the most energetic members of the council, by President McKay in behalf of his admiring friends.

RAN BLAZING INTO THE STREET.

Mrs. Abrogod Accidentally Sets Her Clothes Afire.

Mrs. Kate Abrogod, of 438 West Seventh street, narrowly escaped death from flames this morning. She took a night's nap and went into the bedroom to look for her daughter's dress, when suddenly one of her face curtains caught fire from the lighted lamp.

Mrs. Abrogod's dress took fire while she was trying to extinguish the flames. She ran out into the street in her blazing garments, screaming at the top of her voice for help.

A truckman who happened to be passing on his track at the time, saw the woman in flames. He ran to the woman's assistance and threw a blanket around her form, smothering the flames.

An ambulance was summoned from the New York Hospital, but Mrs. Abrogod refused to go to the hospital, she was in such a state of alarm that she would not be taken to the hospital, where it was found that she was badly burned about the body and hips. Little Maggie, her five-year-old daughter, who was burned about the head and neck.

The damage done by the fire was $1,000.

The escape of a typhus fever patient from the Reception Hospital at the foot of East Sixteenth street has caused grave alarm in the Health Department.

A vigorous search for the escaped patient, who may be spreading the dread disease broadcast throughout the city, is being made by members of Capt. Byrnes's force and the sanitary squad.

The name of the patient is Leo Rosenblatt. He is nineteen years old, and in the alarm sent out by the police he is described as being 5 feet tall and dressed in light clothes, with black braid across the breast.

Dr. Roberts, of the Bureau of Contagious Diseases, was notified yesterday of a case of typhus fever in the tenement, 21 Forsyth street.

Rosenblatt was found there sick with typhus in the apartments of his brother-in-law. He had been there twenty-four hours, having previously lived in a double tenement at 240 and 242 Cherry street, where a number of cases of typhus were reported early in the month.

Rosenblatt was taken to the Reception Hospital at 2:30 p. m. yesterday. He was last seen by the attendants at 4:45 o'clock in the afternoon, when he was lying on a cot with his clothes on.

Ten minutes later it was found that Rosenblatt had escaped.

He had placed a washstand on his bed, put a chair on the washstand and smashed a pane of glass in the window.

Through this hole, about 15x17 inches, he crawled and dropped to the yard, a distance of about fifteen feet.

He was seen crossing the yard by a man on a Street-Cleaning Department tug.

It is said that Rosenblatt had been sick about six days and was slightly delirious. In fact, he was at the stage of the disease when it is most contagious.

The alarm was immediately sent out, and the regular and sanitary police began a search which was continued all night without success.

No trace of him has yet been discovered. The longer he is at large the greater is the cause for alarm, as there is hardly a limit to the number of persons he might affect.

Rosenblatt is five feet tall. He wore a light suit, with black braid on the coat, and his black hat was spotted with white paint.

Enterprise Council's Reception. The entertainment and reception of Enterprise Council, No. 217, Catholic Benevolent Legion, in Lexington Avenue Opera-house last evening, was largely attended, and an enjoyable programme was rendered.

The "faunt" was confined to the members and their friends, and each performer was liberally rewarded with flowers, a gold badge was presented to James J. McCarthy, one of the most energetic members of the council, by President McKay in behalf of his admiring friends.

DEEMING ON TRIAL.

Again Said to Have Confessed that He's "The Ripper."

His Demeanor Much Changed on His Arraignment To-Day.

Depressed by the Judge's Decision Not to Grant Further Delay.

MELBORNE, APRIL 28.—The Standard says: It is in a position to announce with some reserve that Deeming has confessed to his lawyers and the doctors who examined him that he committed a majority of the "black-ripper" crimes in the Whitechapel district of London. The article has created a great sensation.

The demeanor of Deeming when he was arraigned for trial in the Central Criminal Court today presented a marked difference from his conduct at the inquest. Today he was quiet and depressed, and he looked very much disappointed when the Judge decided that no further delay would be granted, and that the trial should at once be proceeded with.

After the jury had been selected and the usual formalities completed with the Public Prosecutor began his speech, in which he arrayed with almost irresistible force all the facts in connection with the murder of the woman's wife.

Deeming had put aside the flippant air that characterized him at the previous hearings and he listened closely to the Prosecutor's speech, paying no attention to the crowd that thronged the courtroom, eager to see the criminal whose many evil deeds have brought him world-wide notoriety.

After the jury had been selected and the usual formalities completed with the Public Prosecutor began his speech, in which he arrayed with almost irresistible force all the facts in connection with the murder of the woman's wife.

Deeming had put aside the flippant air that characterized him at the previous hearings and he listened closely to the Prosecutor's speech, paying no attention to the crowd that thronged the courtroom, eager to see the criminal whose many evil deeds have brought him world-wide notoriety.

Deeming had put aside the flippant air that characterized him at the previous hearings and he listened closely to the Prosecutor's speech, paying no attention to the crowd that thronged the courtroom, eager to see the criminal whose many evil deeds have brought him world-wide notoriety.

Deeming had put aside the flippant air that characterized him at the previous hearings and he listened closely to the Prosecutor's speech, paying no attention to the crowd that thronged the courtroom, eager to see the criminal whose many evil deeds have brought him world-wide notoriety.

Deeming had put aside the flippant air that characterized him at the previous hearings and he listened closely to the Prosecutor's speech, paying no attention to the crowd that thronged the courtroom, eager to see the criminal whose many evil deeds have brought him world-wide notoriety.

Deeming had put aside the flippant air that characterized him at the previous hearings and he listened closely to the Prosecutor's speech, paying no attention to the crowd that thronged the courtroom, eager to see the criminal whose many evil deeds have brought him world-wide notoriety.

Deeming had put aside the flippant air that characterized him at the previous hearings and he listened closely to the Prosecutor's speech, paying no attention to the crowd that thronged the courtroom, eager to see the criminal whose many evil deeds have brought him world-wide notoriety.

Deeming had put aside the flippant air that characterized him at the previous hearings and he listened closely to the Prosecutor's speech, paying no attention to the crowd that thronged the courtroom, eager to see the criminal whose many evil deeds have brought him world-wide notoriety.

Deeming had put aside the flippant air that characterized him at the previous hearings and he listened closely to the Prosecutor's speech, paying no attention to the crowd that thronged the courtroom, eager to see the criminal whose many evil deeds have brought him world-wide notoriety.

Deeming had put aside the flippant air that characterized him at the previous hearings and he listened closely to the Prosecutor's speech, paying no attention to the crowd that thronged the courtroom, eager to see the criminal whose many evil deeds have brought him world-wide notoriety.

Deeming had put aside the flippant air that characterized him at the previous hearings and he listened closely to the Prosecutor's speech, paying no attention to the crowd that thronged the courtroom, eager to see the criminal whose many evil deeds have brought him world-wide notoriety.

TRACING A NEW JERSEY CLUE.

A Woman Resembling Mrs. Peckinpough Seen in Matawan.

Dr. Peckinpough Will Give $1,000 to Whoever Finds His Wife.

Dr. G. B. Peckinpough's friend, W. R. Fugate, took the early train this morning for Matawan, N. J., in order to follow up a clue to the whereabouts of missing Mrs. Peckinpough which was furnished last night by a dispatch from that place signed Julia C. West, who claims to be harboring a woman answering the description of Mrs. Peckinpough.

The sentence of life imprisonment was pronounced by Judge Ingraham this morning upon Anna Walden, convicted last week of the murder of her young husband James Walden, in October last.

The woman received the sentence of the Court with every appearance of indifference, and before it was uttered she made a long harangue to the Judge, in which she declared that she had been treated with gross injustice by the prosecution, and had not been accorded a fair trial.

"Many of the witnesses who testified against me," she said with a defiant shake of her head and a tone of bravado, "committed rank perjury, and their statements about me were false from beginning to end."

"Then some of my own witnesses were suborned by the District-Attorney, who would not put them on the stand, so that I was deprived of the benefit of their testimony. I am innocent of the crime charged."

She mentioned the names of several of the witnesses whom she accused of lying about her, and repeated her assertions several times in spite of the efforts of Mr. Howe, her counsel, to quiet her. In the end she worked herself up to a state of considerable excitement, and her usually pale face was flushed and her black eyes sparkled.

"The jury," she said, "is my friend, and I have taken an inviolable view of your act. They have given you the benefit of the doubt that you did not commit a willful, deliberate murder, and have treated you with all consideration."

"It is simply my duty to pronounce the sentence which the law imposes and which I do that you are entitled in the Penitentiary for the term of your natural life."

The judge, after a brief loss of the head and bowed over to the corner, where she had been sitting with four other women, among them Mrs. Dealing, her aunt, who did not show the slightest feeling or emotion, began chatting and laughing with her friends. But as she had done before she was called to the bar.

Deputy Sheriff Burke, who brought her down from the Tombs, escorted her back there. She will probably be sent to the Penitentiary for life.

Mr. Howe in his address to the Court before sentence was pronounced, proceeded against some remarks made by District-Attorney Williams in his summing up regarding his client's alleged custom of flushing his clients to make them scream, and made a motion for a new trial, which was denied.

Collected the Money and Kept It. Philip Wolf, expressman, 41 1/2 Broadway street, washed in $500 bail for trial, by Justice Dwyer in Jefferson Market Court today, on a charge of appropriating $100.50, which he had collected for Alexander Lamb, Jr., while sale meat dealer in the West Washington Market.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria. When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria. When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria. When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria. When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

ANNIE WALDEN SENTENCED.

Flip and Indifferent When Sent to Prison for Life.

Judge Ingraham Deales Mr. Howe's Motion for a New Trial.

The sentence of life imprisonment was pronounced by Judge Ingraham this morning upon Anna Walden, convicted last week of the murder of her young husband James Walden, in October last.

The woman received the sentence of the Court with every appearance of indifference, and before it was uttered she made a long harangue to the Judge, in which she declared that she had been treated with gross injustice by the prosecution, and had not been accorded a fair trial.

"Many of the witnesses who testified against me," she said with a defiant shake of her head and a tone of bravado, "committed rank perjury, and their statements about me were false from beginning to end."

"Then some of my own witnesses were suborned by the District-Attorney, who would not put them on the stand, so that I was deprived of the benefit of their testimony. I am innocent of the crime charged."

She mentioned the names of several of the witnesses whom she accused of lying about her, and repeated her assertions several times in spite of the efforts of Mr. Howe, her counsel, to quiet her. In the end she worked herself up to a state of considerable excitement, and her usually pale face was flushed and her black eyes sparkled.

"The jury," she said, "is my friend, and I have taken an inviolable view of your act. They have given you the benefit of the doubt that you did not commit a willful, deliberate murder, and have treated you with all consideration."

"It is simply my duty to pronounce the sentence which the law imposes and which I do that you are entitled in the Penitentiary for the term of your natural life."

The judge, after a brief loss of the head and bowed over to the corner, where she had been sitting with four other women, among them Mrs. Dealing, her aunt, who did not show the slightest feeling or emotion, began chatting and laughing with her friends. But as she had done before she was called to the bar.

Deputy Sheriff Burke, who brought her down from the Tombs, escorted her back there. She will probably be sent to the Penitentiary for life.

Mr. Howe in his address to the Court before sentence was pronounced, proceeded against some remarks made by District-Attorney Williams in his summing up regarding his client's alleged custom of flushing his clients to make them scream, and made a motion for a new trial, which was denied.

Collected the Money and Kept It. Philip Wolf, expressman, 41 1/2 Broadway street, washed in $500 bail for trial, by Justice Dwyer in Jefferson Market Court today, on a charge of appropriating $100.50, which he had collected for Alexander Lamb, Jr., while sale meat dealer in the West Washington Market.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria. When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria. When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria. When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria. When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria. When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

B. Altman & Co.

In addition to many reductions in PARASOLS will offer Friday and Saturday, ONE LOT OF GROS GRAIN SILK CLOSE ROLL COACHINGS, ASSORTED COLORS, WITH CASES, AT $2.25 each.

18th Street, 19th Street, and Sixth Avenue (18th Street Station Elevated Road).

A MEAN SORT OF SWINDLER. Men Out of Employment Were His Easy Victims.

Mores Rudrick, 174 Delancy street, was held for examination by Justice Taintor in the Essex Market court to-day to answer complaints of larceny made against him by a number of persons.

They charged that the accused had swindled them out of $5 and $10 each by promising to obtain work for them in a sugar refinery in Brooklyn. Rudrick kept an office at his residence, where he had made the unemployed men contracts he was unable to carry out.

When the men discovered that they had been swindled they demanded the return of their money. To their appeals Rudrick merely shrugged his shoulders and gave evasive replies.

The men then called upon Capt. Cross, of the Twenty-ninth Precinct, and the alleged swindler was arrested last evening.

When brought to court this morning he found himself confronted by Wm. Suterman, of 143 Eldridge street; Abram Blaskowitch, of 137 Mulford street; Louis Stach, 90 Willie street; Louis Beatz, 25 Norfolk street; and Wm. Weistner, 50 Clinton street.

Justice Taintor also ordered that a complaint be made against Rudrick for keeping an intelligence office without a license.

THE WEATHER AND STORM SIGNALS OF THE UNITED STATES WEATHER BUREAU will be found illustrated in THE WORLD ALMANAC for 1892.

NEWARK, N. J., April 28.—Mrs. Augustine, who lives on the second floor at the corner of Broadway and the Essex Market Court today, on a charge of appropriating $100.50, which he had collected for Alexander Lamb, Jr., while sale meat dealer in the West Washington Market.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria. When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria. When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria. When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria. When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria. When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

HANDSOME FOOTWEAR. "TREADWELL'S" ARE THE NAME SUGGESTS, ARE "NATURAL" TO BE GRACEFUL WE MUST FIRST BE NATURAL. TO DRESS THE FOOT GRACEFULLY IT MUST BE DONE NATURALLY. NOWHERE ARE THIS NATURALNESS AND GRACEFULNESS MORE "FITTINGLY" COMBINED THAN IN

"TREADWELL'S" WE MANUFACTURE ALL OUR OWN GOODS FROM ORIGINAL MODELS. YOU CAN BE FITTED TO OUR SHOES AND BE AS COMFORTABLE IN THEM THE FIRST DAY YOU WEAR THEM AS THE LAST, AND YET HAVE STYLISH SHOES.

"TREADWELL'S" CORRECT STYLES AND SHAPES IN Colored Oxfords... $1.50 Patent Calf Oxfords... $2.00 Low Cut Walking Shoes... $4.00

The Treadwell Shoe Mfg. Co., MANUFACTURERS AND RETAILERS, 6th Ave. and 16th St.

ATTEMPTED HIGHWAY ROBBERY. This Time an Officer Was on Hand and Caught One of the Thieves.

As John Watson, of 268 Seventh avenue, stepped out of a restaurant on Chatham square late last night he was attacked by two young highwaymen who made a desperate effort to get $68 which he carried in his pantaloons pocket.

In the Tombs Police Court this morning Watson recognized a young man who gave his name as John Cassin as one of the foot-pads. The attempted robbery was witnessed by a policeman, who gave chase and located Cassin in the tenement-house, 23 Mulberry street, and captured the alleged robber.

Cassin denied taking part in the attack upon Watson. He said he was an iron moulder by trade, and only came to the city a few days ago from Pennsylvania. He was held.

WAR VETERAN PHILLIPS ATTENDED THE GRANT MONUMENT CEREMONIES. Jacob Phillips, a New York boss truckman, residing at 223 Ogden avenue, Jersey city Heights, was found dead in bed early this morning. Death resulted from apoplexy.

Mr. Phillips was a war veteran and attended the Grant Monument corner-stone laying yesterday.

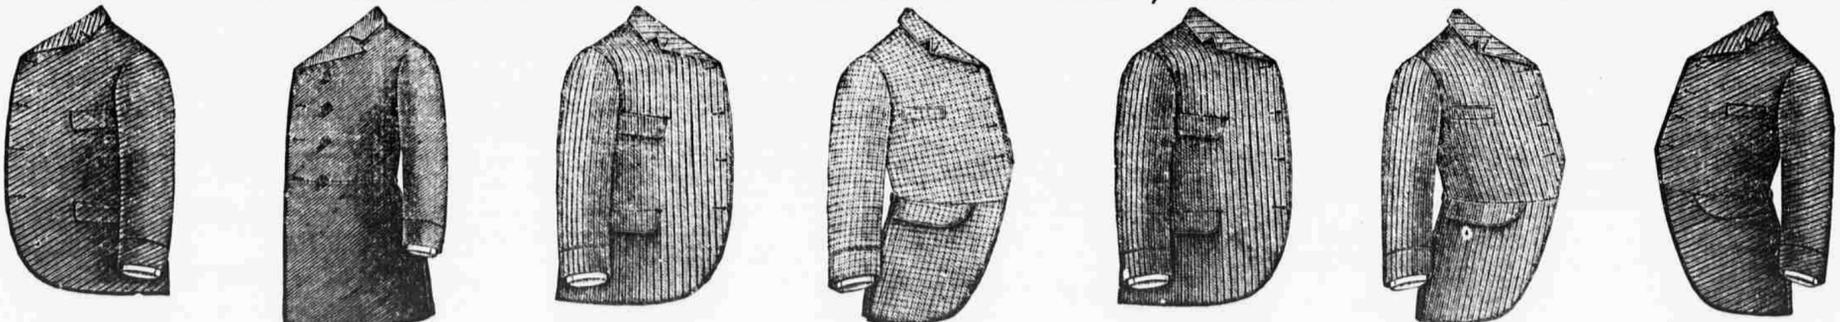

FEELING IN SCHAEFER'S BREWERY. Early this morning August Said, a brewer, was badly scalded on the body and both arms while at work near a vat in Schaefer's brewery, at Park avenue and Fifty-first street. He was removed to St. Luke's Hospital. He lives at 612 First avenue.

NEWARK, N. J., April 28.—Miss Ida Spear, teacher in the Morton Street Public School, reported to the police this morning that while standing on the corner of Charlton and West Kinney streets, last evening, she was approached by a well-dressed man, who snatched her purse and fled. The purse contained considerable money.

NEWARK, N. J., April 28.—Early this morning burglars broke into the residence of A. Kenneth, 107 Barclay street, and stole a diamond ring, a diamond ring, a gold watch and chain and other jewelry valued at $300. No clue to the thieves.

SPECIAL NOTICES. WHOLESALE—THE BEST—HICKORY. FAST FOOD; delicious; cooks in one minute. 25 cents all grocers. Health Food Co., 61 5th Ave. HARRY'S TELEPHONE REPAIRS. Carriage and harness, and prevents the hair from falling out.

MAGNIFICENT . SPRING . STOCK . OF . GENTLEMEN'S . AND . BOYS' . CLOTHING, AMOUNTING TO TWO MILLIONS OF DOLLARS, AND SPECIALLY MANUFACTURED FOR FINE TRADE BY THE LONDON & LIVERPOOL CLOTHING CO. 86 AND 88 BOWERY, COR. HESTER ST., BET. CANAL AND GRAND, WILL BE SOLD AT LESS THAN 50c. ON THE DOLLAR, COMMENCING THIS DAY.

50,000 Gentlemen's Suits in Sacks or Four-Button Cutaways. Morning Suits or Prince Alberts. We guarantee them to be made from the very finest foreign goods of our own importation, including Diagonals, Corkscrews, Worsteds, Scotch Cheviots, Bannockburn Tweeds, John Taylor's celebrated Cassimeres, Homespuns, &c. They are tailor-made and will compare favorably with any $50.00, $60.00 or $70.00 custom suit made in the world.

We have 10,000 different patterns to select a single suit from. They are silk and satin lined throughout. Back of vest also. We shall sell them at $9.65, $11.65 and $14.65 per Suit.

We give a Written Guarantee that the above are made from Foreign Goods, and will allow you to retain them 10 days, and if not satisfactory, money will be instantly refunded.

OUR BOYS' AND CHILDREN'S DEPARTMENT.

20,000 square feet on the ground floor devoted to Boys' and Children's Clothing, making one of the largest departments of its kind in the world. Ladies will find it to their interest to visit us during the sale.

86 BOWERY, 88

ONE BLOCK BELOW GRAND.

ONE BLOCK ABOVE CANAL.

BOYS' PLAY SUITS, $1.49.

BOYS' PLAY SUITS, $1.49.

BOYS' PLAY SUITS, $1.49.

BOYS' PLAY SUITS, $1.49.

BOYS' PLAY SUITS, $1.49.

BOYS' PLAY SUITS, $1.49.

BOYS' PLAY SUITS, $1.49.

BOYS' PLAY SUITS, $1.49.

LONDON AND LIVERPOOL CLOTHING COMPANY, 86 AND 88 BOWERY.