

A GREAT MAY WALK.

Over 60,000 Little Children on Parade To-Day in Brooklyn.

Fine Weather for the Sunday-School Union's 63d Anniversary.

Dr. Talmage Heads One Division, Mayor Hood Reviews Another.

The clear sky, balmy air and genial sun meant more to the children of Brooklyn to-day than to any one else in the great metropolitan district.

GRAND MARSHAL CHARLES E. TEALE.

Sixty odd thousand little girls and boys were in eager preparation during the forenoon, for their appearance in the great demonstration of the afternoon.

Grand Marshal Charles E. Teale and William McCarrill, Charles C. Shelley, Dr. George W. Brush, Joseph P. Davenport, John M. Butwinckle and Miss M. Giddings, of the committee of Arrangements, had performed the duty of preparing the programmes for the twelve divisions of the great parade with such care that no hitch was possible.

Each division was in itself an independent parading party, having a parade ground of its own, a marshal of its own, a brass band of its own, and its own special gathering of admiring spectators, fathers, mothers and friends.

When the big bell in the tower of the City Hall gave the signal at 11 o'clock that the parade would take place and all the bells in the steeples of the churches in the Brooklyn Sunday-School Union rang out their responses, it was sweet music to the children of 170 Sunday-schools.

W. A. LOCKE, MARSHAL, CLINTON AVENUE DIVISION.

Upon Assistant Marshal Robert A. McFadden and Charles H. Brockport fell the duty of seeing to it that the programme was carried out to the letter. They were aided and assisted by the twelve division marshals.

To begin with the children were directed that the children of the 170 Sunday-schools assemble in the churches to which they were regularly assigned at precisely 10 o'clock.

In the churches the children participated in special exercises, including Scripture reading, prayer, singing and an appropriate offering. This was conducted at the end of exactly one hour with a benediction.

Then the sixty-seven assemblies formed into sixty-seven marching bodies of subdivisions and marched to the special parade grounds of their respective divisions.

The Prospect Hill division appeared 11,000 strong at 3 1/2 o'clock at Prospect Park where, marshaled by Lewis David Clark Healy, the children, paraded on the Long Meadow to the music of Luciano Conzatti's Brighton band, and Dr. Talmage rode at the head of his subdivision.

Here by far the largest crowd assembled, for, in accordance with a long-established custom, there was a review by the dignitaries of the city, Mayor Hood, Park Commissioner Brown, President Herriot, of the Board of Education, several of the judges and other invited guests being among the reviewing party on the grand stand.

The Clinton Avenue Division, W. A. Locke, Marshal, with 12,000 children of the ten and thirteen schools in the sub-division, each larger than a regiment of soldiers, paraded through Clinton Avenue and the Grand States Avenue. The Brooklyn Interurbane is in this division, and Rev. Dr. Talmage was seen for the address of the review of the Clinton Avenue parade, and Dr. Talmage rode at the head of his subdivision.

DAVID C. BEATTY, MARSHAL, PROSPECT PARK DIVISION.

Edward E. Wells marshaled 10,000 children from twenty schools in the Buxton Avenue Division, with F. N. Rowe, F. Wallace and A. J. Abbot Assistant Marshals, each in command of a subdivision. The appointed line of march was along Buxton Avenue to Stockton street to Madison street.

The 1,000 children of the ten schools in the Tompkins Park Division paraded under Marshal Philip W. Scudliffe, of Tompkins Park. Frank H. Dwyer and J. F. Keeler were the assistant marshals, and Alexander Henderson, T. Forster Vanderoff and E. Cummings the special aides.

The Bedford Avenue division marched through Gates Avenue in Franklin to Grand Avenue, under Grand Tompkins Avenue, with Ebor's Seventy-third Regiment Band in the van of 6,000 children representing thirty Sunday schools, all under command of Marshal Charles A. Lent and Assistant Marshals Orlando Harrison and Alfred Robinson.

Capt. William Kerby, of the Thirtieth

NO OPPOSITION TOT.

The Proposal to Change East River Park Concerts Discussed.

Commissioners Defer Action Until the Bandmaster is Heard From.

Judge Tappen Would Give Both Evening and Afternoon Concerts There.

WAITING FOR THE WORD.

The Heights division had for its Marshal Mr. Wright, a veteran in the business, with Albert Hiley and Herbert Stodwell for his assistants. It paraded along Clinton street to a reviewing stand at the corner of Remsen street. Seven thousand children from twenty-one schools were in this division.

Philip Evans commanded 1,800 children in the parade of the Ocean Hill Division on the old Young Men's Christian Association Athletic grounds, Atlantic Avenue and Sackinham Street.

The South Brooklyn Division, under Marshal H. L. Spencer, and Assistant Marshal J. L. Brown, with James Campbell, special aide, selected for a reviewing ground Third and Fourth avenues, Forty-seventh, Forty-eighth, Fifty-second and Fifty-third streets.

The Stuyvesant Avenue division, with 5,000 children from thirteen schools, selected Joseph Davenport for marshal and John W. Logan, John F. Hill and Frederick A. Van, assistant marshals.

William C. Smith is marshal of the Arlington Avenue division, with Charles F. Davis as his lieutenant and the children from eight schools as a contingent.

The Carroll Park Division, comprising six small schools, has Carroll Park for a parade ground, with James Armstrong for marshal and W. F. Eberhart and L. Lewis for assistant marshals and Charles H. Boyer special aide.

All of these little soldiers assembled made an array that is certain to be remembered for many years as the standing army of the United States, and no time as great as the National Guard of New York and Brooklyn combined.

SHE IS CAST OFF IN DEATH.

Victim of the Paris Tragedy Can't Lie in Her Husband's Tomb.

PARIS, May 22.—Mme. Delaporte-Lassimonne, husband of the woman who was killed by Mme. Reynold last Saturday night, while in the company of M. Reynold in a room of a house of questionable character in the Rue du Rocher, feels very bitter towards the dead woman for her betrayal of him and refuses to allow her body to be buried in the family vault.

He has bought a special grave in the Batignolles Cemetery and here the body will be interred.

Since the tragedy the mother-in-law of M. Delaporte-Lassimonne has been waiting for the return of the daughter of the dead woman. Yesterday M. Delaporte-Lassimonne went to his mother-in-law's house and demanded the girl. The mother-in-law refused to surrender the child until compelled by the police.

She declared that M. Delaporte-Lassimonne had never treated her daughter as a husband should have done, and that his jealous suspicions had driven her to commit the very sin that theretofore she had never contemplated.

The child will be taught to forget her mother.

There is still no trace of M. Reynold, and the suspicion grows that he has made away with himself.

Consul Williams Confident It Was O'Brien He Had at Havre.

HAVRE, May 22.—Mr. Oscar F. Williams, the American Consul at Havre, says relative to the arrest and escape of Thomas O'Brien, the American confederate man:

"The man captured by me denied his identity with O'Brien. He declared that his name was G. W. Barrett, and that he belonged in Austin, Texas. From the evidence in my possession I was convinced that I had made no mistake, and the consequent escape of the man from the French police confirmed my belief that he was none other than the notorious O'Brien.

"I returned to his hotel at 11 o'clock Sunday night, leaving O'Brien in the police office in the custody of detectives and a guard of gendarmes. When I returned in the morning the police told me that O'Brien had escaped."

Cyclist Zimmerman Smashes His Own Record in England.

LONDON, May 23.—A. Zimmerman, of the New York Athletic Club, the champion American cyclist, who recently lowered the English quarter-mile cycling record to 35.5 seconds yesterday in making the distance 1/4 mile quicker than ever before recorded, his time for the quarter mile being officially announced as 30.8 ft.

This feat was performed at the London county and Athletic Club grounds at Horse Hill, where Zimmerman first lowered the record.

The American record for a quarter of a mile is 35.5 seconds, made in Hartford, Conn., by E. C. Anthony.

Lewis Stroum yesterday beat Zimmerman's world record for half a mile by one-fifth of a second.

Anarchists to Resume the Practice of Demonstrating in Paris.

PARIS, May 23.—To-day it was announced that the Anarchists had decided to hold a demonstration in front of the residence of M. Beaurepaire, the Public Prosecutor, and also in front of the Ministry of the Interior, or the Palais de Bourbon.

STABBED A WOMAN.

Old Mrs. Springer Assaulted and Robbed by Her Lodger.

He Struck Her Down from Behind and Terribly Wounded Her.

Police Searching for Lithographer Lutz, Whom She Accuses.

An atrocious assault was made upon Mrs. Martha Lena Springer, an old German woman, who lives in three small rooms, one flight up, in the rear at 122 Park Row, about 9 o'clock this morning, as is supposed, by a lithographer named Lutz, who rented one of her rooms about a week ago.

Robbery was the motive for the crime, and she is seriously if not fatally injured. Lutz has escaped.

About 10 o'clock Mrs. Springer's son-in-law, Arthur Muller, a painter, whose shop adjoins her rooms, heard noises in her apartments, and went to her door to see what was the matter. He found it locked and heard the old woman loudly crying for help.

"What is the matter?" he shouted through the door.

"Lutz has killed me," she answered, and he ran into the street and brought Policeman John Shevlin, of the Oak street squad, into the house. Shevlin burst the door open.

He found the old woman drowned in blood, lying face downward on the floor. Blood was running from a great gash on the back of her head, and there were two clean cut stab wounds in her forehead, one over each eye.

The rooms presented a scene of the greatest disorder. Bureau drawers were turned upside down, water bottles and other contents scattered about in confusion. There was a wash bowl full of bloody water in the lodger's room.

Shevlin sent for an ambulance, and then turned the case over to Policeman Thomas A. Guernsey, of the Elizabeth street station, in which precinct the crime was committed.

In a feeble voice Mrs. Springer told her story. "I was at breakfast," she said. "My little boy and girl had just gone to school. Lutz came out of his room and attacked me when my back was turned. He knocked me down with a chair and kicked me. I fought him back, but I could not cry out. He seized my hand over my mouth and then made those cuts on my head."

"Did he use a knife?" she was asked.

"No. I think it was a lithographer's stone. Then he stole $20 out of my pocket, ransacked the rooms, and then went away and locked the door after him. I could not cry for help. I seemed paralyzed. I don't remember anything more until the police came," she concluded.

Both the woman's eyes were blackened, and she was very weak from loss of blood. She has a husband, who is in the insane asylum at Ward's Island, and three children, two girls and a boy.

The elder girl is married to John, white Berlin, a writer here, and Muller, aged ten, go to school and have been supported by their mother, who has eked out a precarious livelihood by renting one of her rooms. She has lived in the house about seven years.

She was taken to the Chambers street Hospital. No one seemed to know Lutz, and Mrs. Springer could not even tell his first name. Detectives of the Sixth Precinct are looking for him.

At the hospital Surgeon Stone sewed up fourteen scalp wounds in the woman's head. Some of them are very serious. Also found that she had suffered a compound comminuted fracture of the skull. This may result fatally.

The operation of trephining is to be performed this afternoon to relieve the pressure of the bone on the brain.

THE DAY IN WALL STREET.

National Corgage Leads a Small General Advance in Prices.

WALL STREET, Wednesday, May 23.—The bulls put in supporting orders for stocks at the opening and prices advanced 1/4 to 1/2 per cent.

American sugar declined about a point and subsequently regained part of the loss. National Corgage was buoyant and rose 1/4 per cent. for common and preferred, respectively.

The Quotations.

Table with columns: Name, High, Low, Open, Close. Includes American Sugar, National Corgage, etc.

It Wants "The World."

Y. G. Kosciuszko street.—What Brooklyn had needs is a World Building, which, like the Pulitzer Building, shall not only be the first objective point of every sightseer, the most complete and reliable information bureau in existence and an education to the thoughtless, but accept "The World's" motto and are shown the immense building from the great and busy promenade to the Observatory, east of the dome, but where, as in New York, the brightest, most alert and intelligent minds would congregated to give the constant supervision of the city's affairs, and for the purpose of leading to our city's sanitary condition, and the improvement of the city on the part of street cleaning and scavengers, and for the mental and moral uplift of the people of the city.

The Y. G. Kosciuszko street.—What Brooklyn had needs is a World Building, which, like the Pulitzer Building, shall not only be the first objective point of every sightseer, the most complete and reliable information bureau in existence and an education to the thoughtless, but accept "The World's" motto and are shown the immense building from the great and busy promenade to the Observatory, east of the dome, but where, as in New York, the brightest, most alert and intelligent minds would congregated to give the constant supervision of the city's affairs, and for the purpose of leading to our city's sanitary condition, and the improvement of the city on the part of street cleaning and scavengers, and for the mental and moral uplift of the people of the city.

RUN DOWN BY A BICYCLIST.

Spooner's Skull Was Fractured and He May Die of His Hurts.

Robert E. Spooner, of 625 President street, Brooklyn, while standing in the roadway at the corner of 7th and Broadway streets, was struck by a bicycle rider, who was riding down the street, and he was run over by the bicycle. He was struck on the head, and his skull was fractured. He was taken to the City Hospital, where it was found that he had sustained a fracture of the skull. He will probably die of his injuries.

STABBED A WOMAN.

Old Mrs. Springer Assaulted and Robbed by Her Lodger.

He Struck Her Down from Behind and Terribly Wounded Her.

Police Searching for Lithographer Lutz, Whom She Accuses.

An atrocious assault was made upon Mrs. Martha Lena Springer, an old German woman, who lives in three small rooms, one flight up, in the rear at 122 Park Row, about 9 o'clock this morning, as is supposed, by a lithographer named Lutz, who rented one of her rooms about a week ago.

Robbery was the motive for the crime, and she is seriously if not fatally injured. Lutz has escaped.

About 10 o'clock Mrs. Springer's son-in-law, Arthur Muller, a painter, whose shop adjoins her rooms, heard noises in her apartments, and went to her door to see what was the matter. He found it locked and heard the old woman loudly crying for help.

"What is the matter?" he shouted through the door.

"Lutz has killed me," she answered, and he ran into the street and brought Policeman John Shevlin, of the Oak street squad, into the house. Shevlin burst the door open.

He found the old woman drowned in blood, lying face downward on the floor. Blood was running from a great gash on the back of her head, and there were two clean cut stab wounds in her forehead, one over each eye.

The rooms presented a scene of the greatest disorder. Bureau drawers were turned upside down, water bottles and other contents scattered about in confusion. There was a wash bowl full of bloody water in the lodger's room.

Shevlin sent for an ambulance, and then turned the case over to Policeman Thomas A. Guernsey, of the Elizabeth street station, in which precinct the crime was committed.

In a feeble voice Mrs. Springer told her story. "I was at breakfast," she said. "My little boy and girl had just gone to school. Lutz came out of his room and attacked me when my back was turned. He knocked me down with a chair and kicked me. I fought him back, but I could not cry out. He seized my hand over my mouth and then made those cuts on my head."

"Did he use a knife?" she was asked.

"No. I think it was a lithographer's stone. Then he stole $20 out of my pocket, ransacked the rooms, and then went away and locked the door after him. I could not cry for help. I seemed paralyzed. I don't remember anything more until the police came," she concluded.

Both the woman's eyes were blackened, and she was very weak from loss of blood. She has a husband, who is in the insane asylum at Ward's Island, and three children, two girls and a boy.

The elder girl is married to John, white Berlin, a writer here, and Muller, aged ten, go to school and have been supported by their mother, who has eked out a precarious livelihood by renting one of her rooms. She has lived in the house about seven years.

She was taken to the Chambers street Hospital. No one seemed to know Lutz, and Mrs. Springer could not even tell his first name. Detectives of the Sixth Precinct are looking for him.

At the hospital Surgeon Stone sewed up fourteen scalp wounds in the woman's head. Some of them are very serious. Also found that she had suffered a compound comminuted fracture of the skull. This may result fatally.

The operation of trephining is to be performed this afternoon to relieve the pressure of the bone on the brain.

THE DAY IN WALL STREET.

National Corgage Leads a Small General Advance in Prices.

WALL STREET, Wednesday, May 23.—The bulls put in supporting orders for stocks at the opening and prices advanced 1/4 to 1/2 per cent.

American sugar declined about a point and subsequently regained part of the loss. National Corgage was buoyant and rose 1/4 per cent. for common and preferred, respectively.

The Quotations.

Table with columns: Name, High, Low, Open, Close. Includes American Sugar, National Corgage, etc.

It Wants "The World."

Y. G. Kosciuszko street.—What Brooklyn had needs is a World Building, which, like the Pulitzer Building, shall not only be the first objective point of every sightseer, the most complete and reliable information bureau in existence and an education to the thoughtless, but accept "The World's" motto and are shown the immense building from the great and busy promenade to the Observatory, east of the dome, but where, as in New York, the brightest, most alert and intelligent minds would congregated to give the constant supervision of the city's affairs, and for the purpose of leading to our city's sanitary condition, and the improvement of the city on the part of street cleaning and scavengers, and for the mental and moral uplift of the people of the city.

The Y. G. Kosciuszko street.—What Brooklyn had needs is a World Building, which, like the Pulitzer Building, shall not only be the first objective point of every sightseer, the most complete and reliable information bureau in existence and an education to the thoughtless, but accept "The World's" motto and are shown the immense building from the great and busy promenade to the Observatory, east of the dome, but where, as in New York, the brightest, most alert and intelligent minds would congregated to give the constant supervision of the city's affairs, and for the purpose of leading to our city's sanitary condition, and the improvement of the city on the part of street cleaning and scavengers, and for the mental and moral uplift of the people of the city.

RUN DOWN BY A BICYCLIST.

Spooner's Skull Was Fractured and He May Die of His Hurts.

Robert E. Spooner, of 625 President street, Brooklyn, while standing in the roadway at the corner of 7th and Broadway streets, was struck by a bicycle rider, who was riding down the street, and he was run over by the bicycle. He was struck on the head, and his skull was fractured. He was taken to the City Hospital, where it was found that he had sustained a fracture of the skull. He will probably die of his injuries.

B. ALTMAN & CO. will offer to-morrow, Thursday, May 26, 5,000 yards of Fine French Dress Novelties at the following Extraordinary Reduction in Prices.

98c. formerly $1.25 to $1.45 per yard. $1.75 to $1.90. 18th Street, 19th Street and Sixth Avenue. (18th Street Station Elevated Road.)

B. ALTMAN & CO. Are now offering a specially attractive line of LADIES' BLAZER and OUTING SUITS in the most desirable styles and materials and at Very Low Prices.

Also THE NEW and POPULAR EATON SUIT. 18th Street, 19th Street and Sixth Avenue. (18th Street Station Elevated Road.)

BARGAINS FOR THIS WEEK ONLY.

This Elegant Dining-room Set, all Oak, only $30; or with $50. Includes a chair, table, and sideboard.

ACCOUNTS OPENED. 263-267 6th Ave., cor. 17th St.

BROOKLYN GOSSIP. Louis Konrad is one of the very popular men in the Twenty-sixth Ward. He has lived there for nearly forty years and can tell many stories of the growth of that neighborhood.

DEATHS IN BROOKLYN. The following is the official list containing the name of every person in Brooklyn over ten years old whose death was reported to the Department of Health yesterday.

SOL HEYMAN & CO., 993 and 995 3d Ave., BETWEEN 50TH AND 60TH STS. Ladies Raise $5,000 for the Fair. Mrs. Knowles, wife of Edwin Knowles, of the Columbia and Amphion Theatres, and her daughter, Mrs. Frank Knowles, on the evening of Monday, May 23, at 8 o'clock, will give a free illustrated lecture on "The Typewriter, Its History, Use and Construction," at Frick Institute on the evening of Monday, May 23.

GUARANTEE CLOTHING CO. 3d Ave., Cor. 127th St. CO.

Special Sale of HAWTHORNE CHEVIOT SUITS. 12.00 SINGLE and DOUBLE-BREADED. Notwithstanding the exceptionally low price at which these goods are sold, our usual guarantee will accompany every sale, viz.: All clothing purchased of us will be pressed and kept in repair for one year free of charge.

JACKSON'S, 777 Broadway, BETWEEN 9TH AND 10TH STS. Big Bargains. BLACK DRESS GOODS. 44c. GRAY WOOL SUITING. 22c. WASH DRESS GOODS, In Dress Patterns Only. 6c.

FURNITURE! CARPETS! REGARDLESS OF COST! Parlor Suits. Chamber Suits. Folding Beds. Dining Room. CARPETS. WE POSSESS A COMPLETE LINE OF THE LATEST PATENT CARPETS AND ALL GRADES OF CARPETINGS AND MATS.

Derby Hats in new Shades. All the new styles of Derby hats at the same old price, $2. The Spring Derby in its various shades of maple, dove and russet, also the standard black in the latest blocks—equally stylish, equally low priced. Try our name and price in a hat.

HACKETT CARHART & CO., Broadway and Canal Street. Ladies Ahead in Brooklyn. The Drum and Bugle Corps of the Thirtieth Regiment will have its closing drill and annual picnic at Frick Institute on the evening of Monday, May 23.