

SAVES MAILING MONEY--A WORLD POSTAL CARD.

EXTRA LAST EDITION. SIT TONIGHT.

Republican National Convention Takes a Recess Till 8 P. M.

Credentials Committee Expects to Report Then on Contests.

Report that Harrison's Managers Will Try to Force a Ballot To-Night.

Increasing Probability that the Nominee Will Be a Man Not Yet Named.

The Platform Will Indorse High Protection and Straddle on Silver Coinage.

This Morning's Session of the Convention Adjourned in Less Than an Hour After Assembling.

the report of the Committee on Credentials, and a round of applause greeted Chairman Cogswell as he arose.

"The Credentials Committee is still at work," said he, "and has made diligent progress. It hopes to be able to report to-night at 8 o'clock, and asks for further time."

Ex-Gov. Sewell at once moved that a recess be taken until 8 o'clock in order to give the committee the necessary time, but yielded for a resolution of Senator Culbert, of Illinois, indorsing the World's Fair and recommending a National appropriation therefor.

This resolution was referred to the committee on Resolutions, and immediately thereafter an Illinois delegate introduced a resolution providing that all Grand Army men shall be admitted to standing room in the House and permitted to occupy all seats remaining vacant thirty minutes after the beginning of each session.

This resolution was referred to the Committee on Rules and Order of Business.

The question then reverted upon ex-Governor Sewell's motion for adjournment until 8 o'clock this evening, which was carried on a division.

THE STORY BY BULLETINS.

SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD BY DIRECT WIRE FROM THE CONVENTION HALL.

CONVENTION HALL, MINNEAPOLIS, June 9.—11 A. M.—The hour for the assembling of the convention has arrived, and not one-fourth of the delegates are in the hall.

The sensation of the morning is the recapture of the credentials committee by the Blaine people.

Report that Harrison's Managers Will Try to Force a Ballot To-Night.

Increasing Probability that the Nominee Will Be a Man Not Yet Named.

The Platform Will Indorse High Protection and Straddle on Silver Coinage.

This Morning's Session of the Convention Adjourned in Less Than an Hour After Assembling.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS. MINNEAPOLIS, June 9.—Bright sunshine was streaming through the colored windows in mellow rays, and the majestic folds of the Star Spangled Banner were gently swaying to and fro in the balmy breezes of a typical Spring morning, when the delegates to the Republican National Convention slowly strolled into the hall to-day. It required all the inspiration of the martial music of the band to dispel from the visages of the delegates the weariness that resulted from sleeplessness and ceaseless anxiety, but in the end soul triumphed over body, and when the band finally turned to the lighter opera airs the era of enthusiasm once more opened away.

It was nearly 11 o'clock when J. Elot Fassett, the ex-temporary chairman, but now a lay member of the New York delegation, marched into the hall; but that his popularity had not taken flight with his fleeting authority was amply evidenced in the warm ovation which greeted him.

A minute later a grey-haired and white-bearded man of dignified mien strode down the aisles with a precise military air. Cheers and a salute from ten thousand hands, welcomed the gallant Mahone, of Virginia. Quickly a good-natured rivalry sprang up, and in the vigor of the applause was measured the popularity of all the great party leaders. Senator Culbert, of Illinois, received a generous tribute from the Harrison forces, and a moment later the Blaine people responded with wild cheers of welcome to ex-senator Warner Miller.

The hall was oppressively hot today, for the first time. It was hardly the faint of the hall, however, for outside the suitcases was ten-fold more oppressive. Big fans were waving throughout the hall, and the delegates and spectators presented the appearance of a forest stirred by a breeze. The illusion was only to the eye, for not a zephyr was stirring except what was created by the constant swaying of the thousands of fans.

"Prayer will be offered by Rev. William Bush, Chancellor of the University of South Dakota," said Chairman McKinley when order was obtained.

After the prayer the Chairman called for the report of the Committee on Credentials, and a round of applause greeted Chairman Cogswell as he arose.

sagacity have been held out to wavering delegates. The Harrison leaders profess to be still firm in their resolve to win if they can, but to give up if their majority could be swung into doing so by the prolonged delay in positive developments having its effect on the more conservative men in the Harrison ranks, as well as in those of Blaine. The chief anxiety of the Harrison managers now is to force a ballot by order that a test of strength may be had and the result determined and anxiety of the week brought to a close. The policy of the Blaine managers remains one of procrastination and delay.

To the Harrison delegates of the State of Iowa the temptation has been held out that if the Harrison majority could be swung solidly into column for Senator Allison, there was a likelihood that the delegates from Delaware and scattering delegates from all over the country would rally to his support and give him a significant following on the ballot.

It is the evident intention of the Blaine managers to bring out as many favorite sons as possible in those States where otherwise the Harrison forces would have the best of the contest on the first ballot. In this way it is hoped that such a following might be gathered off the President as to place the Administration candidate so far short of a majority that it would result in his hasty retirement from the race.

Mr. Kurtz, of Ohio, was mean time occupied in frequent visits to the room of the Committee on Resolutions, where he conferred with ex-Gov. Foraker the progress of the negotiations.

Harrison delegates from several other States were also interrogated as to their disposition to furnish a dark horse in the race for Presidential honors, but the conference finally came to a close without arriving at any definite agreement.

At its conclusion it was noticeable that McKinley had in some mysterious way received quite an impetus, as the Governor's eligibility was freely discussed in all quarters.

LABORING OVER THE CONTESTS.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD BY DIRECT WIRE FROM THE CONVENTION HALL.) MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., June 9.—According to Senator Quay this morning the mysterious midnight meeting of the Blaine leaders was held for the purpose of going over the returns and figures to see how the fight stood and to compare notes.

"We find," said Mr. Quay, "that it all depends on the result of the credentials committee's action on contested delegations. The votes involved in these cases are sufficient to turn the tide in either direction if they are all decided one way. If all the cases are taken up it is possible that fifty votes may be changed."

The committee on Credentials reassembled this morning and is now going on with the consideration of contested seats. The throwing out of the Kellogg delegation in Louisiana by a vote of 23 to 25 indicated that the Blaine element had taken charge of things again, and it is said to-day that the committee may reconsider the Alabama delegates-at-large case in which the Harrison delegates were admitted, much to the consternation of Mr. Platt and his followers.

There seems to be very little probability that the committee will flesh its work in this respect to the convention when it assembles to-day, and in that event business will be blocked again. Everything now depends on the committee on Credentials, and this is where the anti-Harrison leaders have the advantage.

The indications are that the dietary tariff will be considered by the committee on Monday, and complete the list of the National Committee, which is incomplete. Appointments have yet to be made in Alabama, Delaware, Indiana, Louisiana, Minnesota, Nebraska, Nevada, North Carolina, Pennsylvania, Utah, Tennessee, Texas and Oklahoma.

Chairman Foraker, of the Committee on Resolutions, it is understood, has about finished the platform, which may also be presented before the report of the Committee on Credentials. The fact that the silver men have secured the introduction of a plank favoring bimetallic coinage is regarded as a proof that the Blaine leaders are ready to do everything to conciliate and hold the vote of the silver States.

In spite of this, however, California is said to be wavering, and a split in the delegation, resulting in some of the delegates going over to Harrison, is threatened to-day.

THE PLATFORM.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.) MINNEAPOLIS, June 9.—The Presidential situation took a very significant turn during the night—one fraught with possibilities of great importance. An extended conference, lasting nearly three hours, was held by the leaders of the Blaine forces in the crowded headquarters, and nearly all the chief politicians of the various State delegations were summoned from time to time to their presence.

In this meeting there were Chairman Foraker, of the National Committee; Senators Quay, Taylor, Woodard and Woodruff, and Delegate Higgins, of Delaware, and Charles Kurtz, chief lieutenant of ex-Gov. Foraker, who was compelled to be in attendance upon the Committee on Resolutions, of which he is Chairman.

At this meeting there was discussed at great length the advisability of taking measures to draw off the Harrison vote, and thereby effect the demoralization of his forces and result ultimately either in the nomination of Blaine or some one of the dark horse candidates who was to be encouraged.

Several Harrison men of the Iowa delegation were invited into the conference and a suggestion was delicately conveyed to them that if the entire vote of the State of Iowa should be cast for Allison, he would receive the vote of Delaware and possibly certain other scattering votes of different localities. The Harrison men of the Iowa delegation, however, did not receive this suggestion with any great enthusiasm, and appeared disposed to abide fully by the result of the afternoon's conference, wherein it was decided that Allison should not be brought out as a prominent candidate, at least until after the first ballot.

in the Convention should fail to effect a nomination.

Certain McKinley men of the Ohio delegation were also summoned to the presence of these party leaders, and the situation conveyed to them that perhaps the Blaine people might look favorably upon the candidacy of McKinley if the Ohio Harrison delegates would give him their loyal support on the opening ballot.

This suggestion was received with willingness, but to arrangement was postponed, as the one or two gentlemen summoned were unable to give authority for their Harrison colleagues of the Ohio delegation.

At its conclusion it was noticeable that McKinley had in some mysterious way received quite an impetus, as the Governor's eligibility was freely discussed in all quarters.

LABORING OVER THE CONTESTS.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD BY DIRECT WIRE FROM THE CONVENTION HALL.) MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., June 9.—According to Senator Quay this morning the mysterious midnight meeting of the Blaine leaders was held for the purpose of going over the returns and figures to see how the fight stood and to compare notes.

"We find," said Mr. Quay, "that it all depends on the result of the credentials committee's action on contested delegations. The votes involved in these cases are sufficient to turn the tide in either direction if they are all decided one way. If all the cases are taken up it is possible that fifty votes may be changed."

The committee on Credentials reassembled this morning and is now going on with the consideration of contested seats. The throwing out of the Kellogg delegation in Louisiana by a vote of 23 to 25 indicated that the Blaine element had taken charge of things again, and it is said to-day that the committee may reconsider the Alabama delegates-at-large case in which the Harrison delegates were admitted, much to the consternation of Mr. Platt and his followers.

There seems to be very little probability that the committee will flesh its work in this respect to the convention when it assembles to-day, and in that event business will be blocked again. Everything now depends on the committee on Credentials, and this is where the anti-Harrison leaders have the advantage.

The indications are that the dietary tariff will be considered by the committee on Monday, and complete the list of the National Committee, which is incomplete. Appointments have yet to be made in Alabama, Delaware, Indiana, Louisiana, Minnesota, Nebraska, Nevada, North Carolina, Pennsylvania, Utah, Tennessee, Texas and Oklahoma.

Chairman Foraker, of the Committee on Resolutions, it is understood, has about finished the platform, which may also be presented before the report of the Committee on Credentials. The fact that the silver men have secured the introduction of a plank favoring bimetallic coinage is regarded as a proof that the Blaine leaders are ready to do everything to conciliate and hold the vote of the silver States.

In spite of this, however, California is said to be wavering, and a split in the delegation, resulting in some of the delegates going over to Harrison, is threatened to-day.

THE PLATFORM.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.) MINNEAPOLIS, June 9.—The Presidential situation took a very significant turn during the night—one fraught with possibilities of great importance. An extended conference, lasting nearly three hours, was held by the leaders of the Blaine forces in the crowded headquarters, and nearly all the chief politicians of the various State delegations were summoned from time to time to their presence.

In this meeting there were Chairman Foraker, of the National Committee; Senators Quay, Taylor, Woodard and Woodruff, and Delegate Higgins, of Delaware, and Charles Kurtz, chief lieutenant of ex-Gov. Foraker, who was compelled to be in attendance upon the Committee on Resolutions, of which he is Chairman.

At this meeting there was discussed at great length the advisability of taking measures to draw off the Harrison vote, and thereby effect the demoralization of his forces and result ultimately either in the nomination of Blaine or some one of the dark horse candidates who was to be encouraged.

Several Harrison men of the Iowa delegation were invited into the conference and a suggestion was delicately conveyed to them that if the entire vote of the State of Iowa should be cast for Allison, he would receive the vote of Delaware and possibly certain other scattering votes of different localities. The Harrison men of the Iowa delegation, however, did not receive this suggestion with any great enthusiasm, and appeared disposed to abide fully by the result of the afternoon's conference, wherein it was decided that Allison should not be brought out as a prominent candidate, at least until after the first ballot.

starting new departments in platform building, with the exception of the bimetallic and food planks.

Certain McKinley men of the Ohio delegation were also summoned to the presence of these party leaders, and the situation conveyed to them that perhaps the Blaine people might look favorably upon the candidacy of McKinley if the Ohio Harrison delegates would give him their loyal support on the opening ballot.

This suggestion was received with willingness, but to arrangement was postponed, as the one or two gentlemen summoned were unable to give authority for their Harrison colleagues of the Ohio delegation.

At its conclusion it was noticeable that McKinley had in some mysterious way received quite an impetus, as the Governor's eligibility was freely discussed in all quarters.

LABORING OVER THE CONTESTS.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD BY DIRECT WIRE FROM THE CONVENTION HALL.) MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., June 9.—According to Senator Quay this morning the mysterious midnight meeting of the Blaine leaders was held for the purpose of going over the returns and figures to see how the fight stood and to compare notes.

"We find," said Mr. Quay, "that it all depends on the result of the credentials committee's action on contested delegations. The votes involved in these cases are sufficient to turn the tide in either direction if they are all decided one way. If all the cases are taken up it is possible that fifty votes may be changed."

The committee on Credentials reassembled this morning and is now going on with the consideration of contested seats. The throwing out of the Kellogg delegation in Louisiana by a vote of 23 to 25 indicated that the Blaine element had taken charge of things again, and it is said to-day that the committee may reconsider the Alabama delegates-at-large case in which the Harrison delegates were admitted, much to the consternation of Mr. Platt and his followers.

There seems to be very little probability that the committee will flesh its work in this respect to the convention when it assembles to-day, and in that event business will be blocked again. Everything now depends on the committee on Credentials, and this is where the anti-Harrison leaders have the advantage.

The indications are that the dietary tariff will be considered by the committee on Monday, and complete the list of the National Committee, which is incomplete. Appointments have yet to be made in Alabama, Delaware, Indiana, Louisiana, Minnesota, Nebraska, Nevada, North Carolina, Pennsylvania, Utah, Tennessee, Texas and Oklahoma.

Chairman Foraker, of the Committee on Resolutions, it is understood, has about finished the platform, which may also be presented before the report of the Committee on Credentials. The fact that the silver men have secured the introduction of a plank favoring bimetallic coinage is regarded as a proof that the Blaine leaders are ready to do everything to conciliate and hold the vote of the silver States.

In spite of this, however, California is said to be wavering, and a split in the delegation, resulting in some of the delegates going over to Harrison, is threatened to-day.

THE PLATFORM.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.) MINNEAPOLIS, June 9.—The Presidential situation took a very significant turn during the night—one fraught with possibilities of great importance. An extended conference, lasting nearly three hours, was held by the leaders of the Blaine forces in the crowded headquarters, and nearly all the chief politicians of the various State delegations were summoned from time to time to their presence.

In this meeting there were Chairman Foraker, of the National Committee; Senators Quay, Taylor, Woodard and Woodruff, and Delegate Higgins, of Delaware, and Charles Kurtz, chief lieutenant of ex-Gov. Foraker, who was compelled to be in attendance upon the Committee on Resolutions, of which he is Chairman.

At this meeting there was discussed at great length the advisability of taking measures to draw off the Harrison vote, and thereby effect the demoralization of his forces and result ultimately either in the nomination of Blaine or some one of the dark horse candidates who was to be encouraged.

Several Harrison men of the Iowa delegation were invited into the conference and a suggestion was delicately conveyed to them that if the entire vote of the State of Iowa should be cast for Allison, he would receive the vote of Delaware and possibly certain other scattering votes of different localities. The Harrison men of the Iowa delegation, however, did not receive this suggestion with any great enthusiasm, and appeared disposed to abide fully by the result of the afternoon's conference, wherein it was decided that Allison should not be brought out as a prominent candidate, at least until after the first ballot.

LABORING OVER THE CONTESTS.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD BY DIRECT WIRE FROM THE CONVENTION HALL.) MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., June 9.—According to Senator Quay this morning the mysterious midnight meeting of the Blaine leaders was held for the purpose of going over the returns and figures to see how the fight stood and to compare notes.

The committee on Credentials reassembled this morning and is now going on with the consideration of contested seats. The throwing out of the Kellogg delegation in Louisiana by a vote of 23 to 25 indicated that the Blaine element had taken charge of things again, and it is said to-day that the committee may reconsider the Alabama delegates-at-large case in which the Harrison delegates were admitted, much to the consternation of Mr. Platt and his followers.

There seems to be very little probability that the committee will flesh its work in this respect to the convention when it assembles to-day, and in that event business will be blocked again. Everything now depends on the committee on Credentials, and this is where the anti-Harrison leaders have the advantage.

MRS. BLUEBEARD HARRISON—Sister Ann, what do you see in the distance? SISTER ANN McKEE—Only a cloud of dust.

TO WITHDRAW THE IRISH BILL. Government's Purpose Announced by Mr. Balfour To-Day.

LONDON, June 9.—The House of Commons reassembled to-day after the adjournment recess. Mr. Balfour, the government leader, moved that government business have priority every day for the remainder of the session and that it be taken up at any hour.

The Irish Land Government bill, he said, would be withdrawn. The bill passed its second reading a few days ago.

Mr. Balfour's motion was adopted.

LONDON'S BANK FAILURE. New Oriental Depositors Only to Suffer From Delay.

LONDON, June 9.—The suspension of the New Oriental Bank, which was announced yesterday afternoon, had been to a large extent anticipated, but notwithstanding this it has exercised a depressing influence on the markets generally and is causing discussion regarding the depreciation in the value of silver and the position of other Eastern loans.

Another Baby in the Office. Nicoll Shakes Hands with Wellman Over a Family Event.

There was a smile on the face of Assistant District Attorney Francis L. Wellman this morning as he announced to his friends:

"I've caught up with the Chief. It is a girl, came last night and a beauty. You know, Mr. Nicoll's baby came only a few weeks ago. Yes, everybody's doing nicely, thank you."

MR. DURN ON THE WEATHER. If It Isn't Warm and Sultry To-Day He's No Prophet.

Local forecast official Dunn denied this morning that a hot wave was approaching the metropolis. He said, however, that the weather to-day would be warm and sultry with, but not over the coast and Sound.

$30,000 Factory Fire in Newark. (SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.) NEWARK, N. J., June 9.—The Curley Hat Company's factory, at 105 Summit street, was totally destroyed by fire this morning.

Special Train for Anti-Snappers. The delegates selected by the May convention to go to Chicago will leave this city in a special train on Saturday, June 18, at 7 P. M.

Stabbed by a Man Who Escaped. Edward Wright, a boatman, while engaged in night on Hudson street early this morning, was stabbed in the left arm by a man named Brady, who escaped.

Weather Forecast. (BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.) The next four hours ending at 8 A. M. Fair; rain, slightly warmer; southerly wind, light breeze; clearing tonight.

Stabbed by a Man Who Escaped. Edward Wright, a boatman, while engaged in night on Hudson street early this morning, was stabbed in the left arm by a man named Brady, who escaped.

Weather Forecast. (BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.) The next four hours ending at 8 A. M. Fair; rain, slightly warmer; southerly wind, light breeze; clearing tonight.

EXTRA LAST EDITION. OUTRAGE AND MURDER

Two Men Arrested To-Day for the Perth Amboy Crime.

Supposed to Be the Assaultants of Pretty Hattie Mary Anderson.

She Was Waylaid in the Woods and Her Throat Cut for Resisting.

Two men were arrested in Jersey City early this morning on suspicion of having been concerned in the murder of Hattie Mary Anderson, who was found dead last night in a strip of woods one mile north of Perth Amboy and Woodbridge under conditions which indicated that she had first been assaulted.

Chief of Police Murphy, of Jersey City, late last night received a despatch from Chief of Police Jackson, of Perth Amboy, requesting him to arrest two men who had just previously boarded a freight train there and successfully resisted the attempts of the trainmen to put them off.

Chief Murphy sent special Officer John Hill to meet the train, and he took the two men into custody. At the First Precinct station-house they described themselves as John Kearney, aged forty, a shoemaker, and James Devlin, aged forty-eight, a laborer, both of Philadelphia. A technical charge of disorderly conduct was entered against them, and they were locked up to await orders from Perth Amboy.

The two prisoners were subsequently arraigned in court before Justice O'Donnell. They said they came from Philadelphia in search of work, but refused to make any further statement. Justice O'Donnell remanded them for further examination. The two men are now locked up in separate cells. Their clothing will be minutely examined for traces of blood. The men will give no information as to why they were in Perth Amboy.

Perth Amboy, June 9.—Miss Anderson's body was found at 1 o'clock by Signman Max Probst, whose station on the Jersey Central Railroad is not far from Woodbridge Junction. Probst was on his way home, and took a short cut through a patch of woods. He first found some papers which had been dropped by the young woman, and then saw evidence of a struggle on the damp earth.

A little further on he came upon the body. He estimated that she was about twenty years of age, and that she was dressed in a blue dress and a white blouse. Her face was scratched and bruised, and she had a large gash in her throat from which her life-blood had ebbed to form in a big pool about her head. The features were distorted by death, and she had a mark upon the forehead as if she had struck with a blunt object. The fact that she was a young woman and so deep as to almost sever the vertebral Probst at once notified the authorities of Woodbridge and Perth Amboy.

The body was a servant in the family of C. W. Boynton, of Manvers, a hamlet near Perth Amboy. Mr. Boynton is the proprietor of the hotel and saloon of Perth Amboy. She was a handsome, well-rounded woman of twenty-eight, a faithful servant, but with no special skill in her work. She was a girl, came last night and a beauty. You know, Mr. Nicoll's baby came only a few weeks ago. Yes, everybody's doing nicely, thank you."

MR. DURN ON THE WEATHER. If It Isn't Warm and Sultry To-Day He's No Prophet.

Local forecast official Dunn denied this morning that a hot wave was approaching the metropolis. He said, however, that the weather to-day would be warm and sultry with, but not over the coast and Sound.

$30,000 Factory Fire in Newark. (SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.) NEWARK, N. J., June 9.—The Curley Hat Company's factory, at 105 Summit street, was totally destroyed by fire this morning.

Special Train for Anti-Snappers. The delegates selected by the May convention to go to Chicago will leave this city in a special train on Saturday, June 18, at 7 P. M.

Stabbed by a Man Who Escaped. Edward Wright, a boatman, while engaged in night on Hudson street early this morning, was stabbed in the left arm by a man named Brady, who escaped.

Weather Forecast. (BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.) The next four hours ending at 8 A. M. Fair; rain, slightly warmer; southerly wind, light breeze; clearing tonight.

Stabbed by a Man Who Escaped. Edward Wright, a boatman, while engaged in night on Hudson street early this morning, was stabbed in the left arm by a man named Brady, who escaped.

Weather Forecast. (BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.) The next four hours ending at 8 A. M. Fair; rain, slightly warmer; southerly wind, light breeze; clearing tonight.